Dear Peanuts and Louise:

Well now, you two have every reason to be extremely proud of your accomplishments last evening. You did for us everything you said you would, and more. The "Concert To Conquer Cancer" was an artistic and financial success. The audience more than got its money's worth and the Cancer Society benefited in the dollar column.

We fervently believe around here that concerted volunteer effort is the one necessary ingredient to getting the fight against cancer won. You proved us right. Your contribution of time and talent raised needed monies for the Society to continue the battle. When the inevitable day comes that cancer is conquered you can proudly take your place in the line of volunteers who will say, "I helped."

The Executive Committee, our other dedicated volunteers and cancer victims everywhere join in this thank you. You're a couple in a million --

Best regards,

Clif Schmidt
