Council Plans Big Carnival Hallowe'en

COMMITTEES TO CARE FOR ENTERTAINMENT OF STUDENTS HAVE BEEN APPOINTED

The Students' Council has inaugurated plans and has begun making arrangements for the Hallowe'en All College Party to be held on the campus next Wednesday night, according to Buford Williams, President of the Students' Council.

According to announcement given out, the party will be a progressive affair, beginning in I Hall, and going from there to the Gymnasium, with plenty of excitement on the way.

Roy Johnson, chairman of the Entertainment committee, has announced that there will be a vaudeville show and carnival in the gym, ten bills having been prepared in connection with this feature. Those who have ever seen a program presented by Mr. Johnson will doubtless realize that this affair will be well worth seeing. "We plan to make this the Ideal Hallowe'en Party," declared Roy.

Although the event will not be strictly a costume affair, everyone is requested to wear a mask, and those who have costume should appear in them, to help give the night its proper atmosphere.

Admission will be ten cents, to help cover expenses of the party.

At present about fifty people are working on the plans that have been set down, including arrangements for entertainment, refreshments, decorations, and advertisement. These people are putting forth a real and earnest effort to make the party a success. The work is being directed by chairmen of the committees, who are as follows: Roy Johnson, entertainment; Hal Adams, refreshments; Ed Myrick, advertising; Robert Cobb Fling, decorations.

The Hallowe'en All College Party, something of a tradition with E. T., usually turns out to be an affair that is always remembered by the students. Everyone is requested to be present, in masks.

Notice Baptists

Beginning Wednesday night, October 31, the Prayer Meeting Services will be devoted to doctrinal lectures, delivered by our pastor, Rev. J. R. Hickerson.

Attendance at these lectures will be rewarded by B. Y. P. U. diploma seals. Besides the fact that these lessons will be of great cultural value, they will help defray our study course weakness in our B. Y. P. U. reports.

Baptist students, you cannot err in taking advantage of this opportunity to better inform yourselves in regard to your church doctrine.

A special section is reserved for students, and our goal is 250. Come and bring your friend.

ROBERT FLING TO BE PASTOR AT RIDGEWAY

Robert Fling, son of H. H. J. Fling, head of the Education Department in E. T., was licensed to preach some two months ago by the Baptist Church here, and last Sunday he preached his initial sermon to a large crowd at the Ridgeway Baptist Church. The subject of his morning sermon was "The Highway of Life," with the text taken from Hebrews 12:1. The evening sermon was "The Living Sacrifice," with the text taken from Romans 12:1.

As a result of Robert's sermons, the church called him to be their pastor, and he will preach there on the third Sunday of each month.

Sara Louise Taylor, Nobia Myers, O. C. Mulkey, and Dan Dansby saw "Lilac Time" in Greenville Sunday night.

ROBERT WHITLEY WORKING ON PH.D. IN NEW YORK U.

Mr. Robert L. Whitley is in New York University this year where he is working on his Ph. D. degree.

Mr. Whitley received a scholarship from New York University made possible by the Department of Sociology in that institution. There were seven scholarships awarded in the University to a group of young men who will do research work in the field of Sociology.

Relative to the work which these young men will do, Chancellor Elmer E. Brown, of the University said in the New York Times: "The $36,000 gift which made the fellowships and the Boys' Club study possible was contributed last year by the Bureau of Social Hygiene of New York, of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is president and Lawrence B. Dunham an executive officer. The directors of the Bureau are John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Colonel Arthur Woods, Raymond E. Fosdick, Winthrop W. Aldrich and John D. Rockefeller 3rd.

These fellowships are being given for the first time, and are available for a three-year period to senior and graduate students who are interested in participating in this study and in receiving a degree in the field of educational sociology. The appointments are made for one year only with the anticipation of rehewing appointments to successful candidates who show ability in this type of research. Selection was made on the basis of the applicant's record in academic work or research and recommendations presented from competent sources. The fund of $1,600 for the eight tuition scholarships was contributed by the school of Education of the University."

The New York Times in a recent issue has this to say relative to Mr. Whitley: Robert L. Whitley, A. B. East Texas State Teachers College; A. M. (in sociology), Texas University; Sociological training, Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos.

RAMBLERS PLAY IN CHAPEL THURSDAY

Through the courtesy of Charles Horton, of Greenville, the Rambler Orchestra of Greenville presented a most entertaining program in chapel Thursday morning.

The program opened with E. T. song, and the student body responded by rising to their feet in a very enthusiastic reception of the piece. Then followed a number of popular airs that kept the audience ready with their applause to the very end of the program.

WHITLEY RETURNS FROM DEDICATION AT CANYON

President S. H. Whitley has returned from Canyon where he attended the dedication exercises for the West Texas State Teachers College. The program was rendered Friday and Saturday, October 19th and 20th. The Education Building dedicated is to be used for the training school of the Teachers College.

Relative to the new building and the exercises dedicating it, President Whitley upon his return, said: "The West Texas State Teachers College and the officials of that institution are to be congratulated upon the completion of such an excellent education building to be used for training school purposes. It is one of the most complete training school buildings to be found anywhere in the United States. In fact, it is reported to be the third building of its kind in the United States that is built especially for training school purposes. The first one of these buildings was erected at Springfield, Missouri, some years ago, and the other at Ypsilanti, Michigan.

"The building at Canyon is constructed upon what is known as the unit plan of training school work. This plan means that each grade in

PICNIC ENJOYED BY A. B. C. CLUB SENIOR CLASS

The Agricultural Boosters Club were entertained by a picnic Tuesday evening at the City Park. About 150 agricultural students met on the campus at 6:00 and from there went to the picnic grounds, where an excellent supper of weiners, buns, bacon, fruit, marshmallows, and hot tea was had. After supper games were had that drove off the chill of a cool night. Later Raymon Dale and Jewel Kenimer were called upon to tell of their trip to Florida last summer, which they did in a very interesting manner, having been warmed up to the subject by a great bon-fire that had been built.

After a most enjoyable evening, the picnickers returned home, thanking Mr. Rix, the Club sponsor, for affording them such an entertaining evening.

RAYMOND MATTINGLY RECEIVES BROKEN NOSE IN SCRIMMAGE

Raymond Mattingly, one of E. T.'s most promising Lions, received a broken nose in football scrimmage Monday afternoon. Raymond was playing at center when he plunged through and somehow got the injury.

He is doing very well, and will possibly be back in action within a few days.

E. T. WARRIORS READY TO GIVE WEST TEXANS DECISIVE THRASHING

LINEUP USED AGAINST A. C. C. WILL LIKELY RESPOND TO FIRST WHISTLE TODAY

By E. T. Sports Representative
Eleven hungry gridiron warriors will be in the E. T. lineup when the referee signals for the melee between the Buffs and the Kings of Beast to open Saturday afternoon on the College lot.

The East Texans are extremely desirous of administering the well known Commerce branding iron to the hides of the Canyonites and send them back west reeking and groaning from electric likepain. The Lions are nursing a heavy grudge against Western football combinations in general, due to the fact that they were thrashed by the Abilene Christian College Wildcats last Saturday by the score of 17 to 6. The Lions and Christians meet no more until 1929, so the E. T. boys have decided that the best they can do in a revengeful manner is to lick the Abilene clubs closest conference neighbor.

There is a wild rumor galloping around the T. I. A. A. race track to the effect that the Commerce team has nothing but an overhead attack. It is true the Commerce gang reported almost entirely to forward flings in the Christian encounter, but they had a sound reason for doing so. The game was played on a field of loose dirt and line plunges would have not been advisable. Besides being unfirm one section of the grid could have easily passed for a "hog wallow."

More than likely the same lineup will be pitted against the Buffaloes that entered the contest against the A. C. C. club, in Abilene last week. Gardner, will play a double role in the skirmish. He will officiate as signal announcer, and also perform in the punting department. Myrick and Bledsoe are favored to start at halves, with "Spence" England filling in at full. Duncan and Wright can easily handle the outer positions, while J. E. Johnson, Ford, Scarborough, and E. Smith can be counted upon to complete the interior section of the forward wall. "Big Foster" will serve as the center cog in the Acker-Parsons machine and with such talent as has been mentioned above surrounding him the Commerce line should be almost immune from enemy thrusts and punctures. Plenty of reserve material can be had if needed and it might be well to mention that Coach Acker has reserve men of the class "A" variety, for instance "Red" Denny, "Bull" Copeland, "Signals" Bandy, "Gobe" Templeton, and many others.

"PLAYING WITH FIRE" GIVEN BY BUSKINS

The Buskin Club presented "Playing With Fire," a one act play by Percival Wilde, Tuesday evening at 6:30 in the old auditorium.

The three characters, Nora, Madge and Danny, were played by Lucille Marshall, Oline Erwin and Mildred Erwin. Each character was well portrayed, Miss Mildred Erwin taking the part of the boy, Danny.

The next play to be presented by the Club will be "Poor Madeline." Pierette will be played by Miss Dickson, Perriot by Valrie Davis, and Bum Boo by Oline Erwin.

Those interested are again invited to the meetings of the Club.

DORMITORY GIRLS PRESENT NOVEL CHAPEL PROGRAM

Mary Kennington, as chairman, presented a very interesting program in chapel Tuesday morning. The program was a revelation of dormitory life as it really is, and is doubtless authentic, being presented as it was, by dormitory girls.

Mrs. Langford paid a beautiful tribute to the House Mother, Mrs. Acker. Miss Jennie Mae Bruse gave a very beautiful interpretation of the "Indian Love Call." She was accompanied on the violin by Miss Elizabeth Shaw, and on the saxophone by Miss Bess Patterson. Alice Ruby King gave a delightful reading, "A Little Girl Watching a Dance From the Balcony."

The program was one of the most entertaining that has been presented this term.

Correction

In last weeks East Texan the score for the game with A. C. C. was given as 14-7. This was a mistake, and the East Texan takes this opportunity to correct it. The score was not 14-7, but 17-6 instead. We beg our readers' pardon for this error.

FIGHT 'EM LIONS!

YES?

Is the campus a place wholly surrounded by students who believe that the boundary of the athletic field is the end of the world? Has this narrow span taken its permanent set in college? For too many people complain that their worthy son or daughter cannot see beyond the confines of the college world upon graduation. True, the transition from college to the work a day world is great, but is it the fault of the student himself?

Upon spending four years in a college, does this change the man or woman to look at the world through a pair of narrow eyes that cannot see the outside? There is a great opportunity for the student to allow himself to think in terms of college and not in nation-wide status. Perhaps this is the fault of the education system. But it is a bit too true to be pleasant.

The adage goes, that there is no such thing as an old head on young shoulders. But can this statement be wrong? If, we, the present-day scholars, were taught to take this attitude by the curriculum of the modern college then it is time that the curriculum of the colleges be changed.

But if it is the fault of the student, then it is time that the student be given a chance to get out and see a bit of the world. For requirements of entrance for a school or college there should be a standard that the man who is to take a certain course prove that he has had one to three years' experience in that line of work in the outer world. Then the aspirant to a degree will have a broader view on life for which he is preparing himself. He will have a better idea of what he needs and then will apply himself to the courses which are pertinent to his work.

The trend of colleges is slowly and surely working its way to this end and some day this plan will take the place of modern-day standard of education. For the main purpose of education is to teach and not to idealize.—The Oredigger.

HONESTY A THING OF THE PAST?

The attention of the Editor has been called to an incident that took place in the College recently, that, while insignificant on the surface, is genuinely indicative of the attitude that the student body, at least in part, must have. A boy found a purse on the campus with a considerable amount of money in it. It would have been very easy for him to have taken the money out, thrown the purse away, and never have said anything about it. Financially, he would have been better off. But he did not do this. Instead, he delivered the purse to Dean Wray's office, where it was recovered by the owner.

We are reminded here of Shakespeare's deathless lines: "He who steals my purse steals trash." We cannot agree literally with the Bard of Avon in this, his philosophy, having to count our pennies as many of us do, but, going on with the observation, and finding the thief takes "that which enriches him not" if he takes another person's good name, it may be seen that a person may destroy his own name as well as another's, thus making himself poor indeed. A good name, as well as a well filled purse, is always convenient and quite desirable. Sometimes it seems that not everybody can succeed in being possessor of both.

All of which leads up to the very trite but very true observation that HONESTY IS A NECESSARY FACTOR IN SOUNDNESS. ANY INSTITUTION MUST BE CONDUCTED ON AN HONEST BASIS, AND CONSEQUENTLY A SOUND ONE. The fact that honesty and right attitude exists with the student body has been demonstrated by this one individual.

There is nothing prudish about fairness.

THE AIR OF PERSPECTIVE.

If you are getting "stale" and think you are about the most wonderful person who ever lived, take an airplane ride. Perhaps your father owns the whole town of Squashville and you, his only son, will inherit all that money, and property and prestige. But anyway take an airplane ride. Perhaps that will also but add to your egotism and conceit as you feel the people looking at you as you roar away and leave the ground. Then when you are far above the earth and the fields and little squares on a massive checkerboard, you are in position to forget your importance and all the land you own and all of the importance you attach to the rightful heir of Squashville.

The towns are but tiny dots with acres and acres of fields and timberland. Man has done but little on the whole scene, as yet. The country, the natural flora, the gullies, the hills are yet the works of someone higher than man and no man, even the scion of Squashville, deserves credit for it. From the air you get the correct perspective. You realize what a tiny part of the whole scheme one man is and how much he depends on the natural resources rather than on his own creations. Has he created anything, after all?

When you walk along the street, like the tiny dot on the earth that you appear when others see you from a plane, you are prone to look at the buildings you own, or the car you possess and because other men on the ground with you seem to

Tossers Of The Spherical Pill Have Begun Night Training

The call for basketball practice was made about two weeks ago. Practice has started a little early this year in order that the team may be in good shape when the season opens.

The boys will work under a slight handicap this year because of the new ruling in the T. I. A. A., which makes freshman ineligible for college sports. However, other T. I. A. A. teams will be handicapped as much as the Lion team. The ruling will go into effect January 1, 1928.

There are about twenty men out for positions on the basketball squad. Included in the number are several old letter men: Angelo Cruce, James F. Gardner, Buford Williams, Gordon Smith, Russel Duncan, and Presley Wright. Duncan was not in school last year, but had lettered in years previous. Wright has not yet reported for practice, but will be ready to go when the season opens. Several men from last year's squad are back again to add their strength to the team. These players are: McMillan, Stroud, Carr, Bond, and Pounds.

Parker, a former training school player is showing up well and will probably see lots of action this year.

The squad is working on an average of two nights a week. Fundamentals are being stressed now, with more points being added at each practice.

Prospects for a winning club this year seem good, with five letter men back, several squad men and some promising new material that is showing up well. The freshman ruling will doubtlessly hurt the team some, but even at that the Lions will not be as badly crippled as some of the other T. I. A. A. teams.

At present the work is lighter than it will be when football season is over. Several of the boys from the football squad are working out for the basketball team, and consequently the workouts are rather light.

WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB REORGANIZED

A group of geography students met Tuesday afternoon, October 9, 1928 for the purpose of reorganizing the World Affairs Club. Mr. Cates was elected temporary chairman, and Ola Williams Secretary. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution. It was decided that the members should be selected by the executive committee.

On Thursday, October 18, 1928 the Club met and adopted the constitution. The following officers were elected:

E. W. Wright..... President,
Hubert Leslie..... Vice-President
Sec. Treas..... Ola Williams
Corresponding Secretary and Reporter..... R. M. Heater
Mrs. T. T. Brann is the faculty sponsor.

Lay members of the executive committee are Miss Howell and Fred Covin.

The purpose of the World Affairs Club is to study questions of international relations for developing world citizenship. The Club is very enthusiastic about the work and with interesting problems always at hand intends to be one of the liveliest organizations on the campus.

Junior-Senior Picnic

One of the most delightful affairs of the season was the picnic given by the Junior Class in honor of the Senior Class Tuesday evening.

In spite of the fact that there had been some rain, the spirit of the crowd was not dampened, and the party went to the gymnasium. Here Katherine Eledsoe entertained with several popular numbers on the piano.

The real fun began when Mary Fowler suggested a game of "cross questions and crooked answers."

Following the games lunch was served piggy-wiggly style, (if you know what that is). Although Mr. Duck had declared that he was on a diet, there was not much to eat left when he finished.

The Seniors thanked the Juniors for this most enjoyable affair.

1st voice on phone: This is Jack. Do you love me, Peg.

2nd voice ditto: Of course I do, dear.

1st voice: You two-timer; this is not Jack, it's Paul.

2nd voice: You double crosser! This is not Peg, it's Mary.

acquiesce to the idea that you are important, you decide that you have done a lot in this old world.

But climb into a plane and roar up and up until the earth stretches away beneath you like the sea. And then try to pick up out the holdings of the heir of Squashville, and should you find them, and you are not too much of an egotist, you will wonder at the small amount of space they cover.

And when more and more people take flying as a matter of fact and see 50 miles at a single glance instead of a few blocks and begin thinking of greater scenes and enlarge their pleasure trips to hundreds of miles where they now number in tens, perhaps they may broaden their thinking accordingly and diminish the number of gossip bearers, egotists, and prudes.—Daily Texan.

WHITLEY RETURNS FROM DEDICATION AT CANYON

Continued front front page the training school has a part of the building set aside exclusively for its use. This consists in general of a class room, a work room, a teacher's office, a store room, a lavatory in each unit up through the fourth grade. The building at Canyon is constructed upon this plan so that each grade, especially in the primary section, occupies its quarters all day without any interference from any other grade or group of people.

"The building is three stories high, is constructed of reinforced concrete trimmed with a gray lueders stone and brick. In addition to class rooms for all the grades from the kindergarten through the high school, the building has in it an auditorium that will seat five or six hundred people, a gymnasium sufficient to take care of the needs of the training school, a library room for both elementary and high school students, and rooms to be used for boys' and girls' Scout work.

"The program was one of the strongest rendered at any Teachers College in the history of the State. Prominent educators both in the State and out of it took part in the program. Among the distinguished educators of the State may be mentioned President P. W. Horn, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas; President, L. H. Hubbard, College of Industrial Arts, Denton, Texas; President T. O. Walton, Agricultural and Mechanical College, College Station, Texas; President H. Y. Benedict, University of Texas, Austin; President R. L. Marquis, Teachers College, Denton, Texas; President H. W. Morelock, Teachers College, Alpine; President R. B. Cousins, Teachers College, Inglesville; Mr. Homer D. Wade, Manager West Texas Chamber of Commerce; Mr. A. P. Bourland, President West Texas Chamber of Commerce; and Mr. W. L. Hughes, of the Agricultural and Mechanical Colleges, who is now President of the Texas State Teachers Association. Governor Moody, as well as Doctor Bruce R. Payne, of Peabody, and Doctor J. D. Sandefer, of Simmons University, found it impossible to be present.

"The out of State educators taking part in the program were President W. P. Morgan, Teachers College, Macomb, Illinois; and Doctor John W. Withers, Dean of the School of Education of New York University. The addresses of Doctors Morgan and Withers were able and very interesting. Doctor Morgan discussed the place of the Training School in the Teachers Colleges and the sum and substance of his address was that no college should undertake to train teachers that is not provided with an efficient and adequate training school. Doctor Withers spoke on the place of the Teachers Colleges in the system of American education. He showed very clearly that if we are to have a sane, safe, and democratic government in which people will have normal reactions in intellectual efforts, moral efforts, and spiritual efforts, we must have the services of efficiently trained teachers.

"Two members of the Board of Regents spoke at the dedication exercises: Mr. J. O. Guleke, of Amarillo, spoke on the value of the West Texas State Teachers College, not only to West Texas, but to the entire State and Nation as well, and emphasized the importance of efficient teacher training. Mr. Henry Paulus, of Yoakum, Texas, reviewed the history of the establishment of the institution at Canyon and indicated some landmarks of progress that the institution has made since its establishment from 1910 up to the present time.

"President Hill is to be congratulated," concluded resident Whitley, "upon the rendition of this most excellent program."

"THE STORE THAT EXCELS"

Education Department

H. H. J. Fling, L. I. B. S., M. A., head of the Education Department in E. T., began his career as a teacher at the age of 15, in a one room schoolhouse in the mountains of West Virginia. The place was called "Wildcat."

Later he read an advertisement in the newspaper to the effect that Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. was offering a scholarship examination. He took the examination and won the scholarship.

From Peabody he came to Cookville, Texas as a teacher in the city schools, and while there he organized an independent preparatory college for the benefit of the boys and girls in that community.

However, the advantages of the institution were such that the number of boarding students soon grew to 60. Since then he has taught for nine years in high schools ten years in summer normals, and has been Professor of Education in E. T. for the past 14 years.

He took his L. I. Degree from Peabody College in 1895; B. S. from the University of Nashville, in 1896; B. S. from Peabody in 1920; M. A. ibid, 1920, and has done one year of graduate work in S. M. U.

E. H. Watson, B. A., M. A., has been connected with E. T. since 1921, at which time he was elected Professor of Education.

He began teaching in Cherokee county, in a one-teacher school. He taught there for two years, and went to Jacksonville, where he taught Latin in the High School. He was also connected with the Alexander College at that time, as an instructor in Latin.

After leaving Jacksonville, he came to Hunt county, and taught for 12 years in various high schools. He was elected Education Professor in E. T. in 1921, and was made Director of the Training School in 1928.

He graduated from the Alexander College in 1908; received his B. A. from E. T. in 1926; and received his M. A. from S. M. U. in 1928.

Arthur C. Ferguson, B. A., M. A., Dean of the Faculty, taught his first school in Erath county, near Stephenville, Texas. He was superintendent, teacher and janitor. He taught there for two years, and entered the academy at Stephenville as co-principal, in which office he served for four years.

Upon leaving the Academy, he entered State University as a student. After leaving University he went to Temple, as head of the English department, where he served for two years.

He was elected Principal of the Marlin High School, and three years later was made Superintendent. He served as Superintendent there for twelve years, before coming to E. T. as an instructor in Education. Four years ago he was made Dean of the Faculty of this institution.

Mr. Ferguson is co-author of a number of books, among them: "Merkeley and Ferguson, Composition and Rhetoric;" "Language Services," published in 1918; and "Spelling Series," published in 1925. He received his B. A. from State University in 1907, and his M. A., ibid, in 1908.

Miss Anne Workman received her A. B. degree in Winthrop, S. C. later attending Columbus Teacher's College, N. Y. She received her M. A. degree from George Peabody, Nashville, Tenn.

For several years she was rural supervisor in Wake County, N. C. After that she took the position of City Supervisor in Roanoke Rapids, N. C. She taught for two years in the demonstration school at Peabody and later became Principal of the Training School in Arcata, California. She has taught in the University of North Carolina and in Texas Christian University.

For three years Miss Workman has been Supervisor in the Training School at E. T.

Miss Mariann Phillips has for the last nine years been Supervisor in the Training School here in E. T. She received her A. B. degree at George Peabody College. Later she received her M. A. from Columbia Teachers' College. Miss Phillips taught several years in the public schools at Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Vera English received her A. B. degree from Mayo College with the class of 1919, which class was the second to leave Mayo College. She later received her M. A. degree from Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee. For two years she served as Supervisor of Rural Teachers in Nashville. With the exception of various leaves of absence, Miss English has taught in E. T. S. T. C. since 1919. At present she is doing work on her Ph. D., in the Extension Department of Southern Methodist University.

Mrs. Eula Carroll Wright attended Peabody Teachers' College where she received her A. E. degree in 1917 and her M. A. degree in 1918. While doing her work in Peabody, she taught English in the demonstration school. Mrs. Wright had also had considerable experience in public school work, having taught six years in Brenham High School, acting as Principal part of that time.

In 1918 Mrs. Wright accepted a position as English instructor in the Mississippi College for Women, where she also acted as dean. In 1919 Mrs. Wright came to E. T. where she has been teaching in the Education Department for the last nine years.

He: Fifty miles per hour! Are you brave?

She: (swallowing pound of dust), Yes, dear. I'm just full of grit.
