It was reported in the Feb. 23 issue of The East Texan that the ET Student Senate was circulating a petition to get names for the local liquor option election to be held in Commerce.

The petition the Senate is circulating is for the 18-year-old-right of majority, however.

Certain members of the Student Senate are working on their own with other ET students in getting names for the local option petition.

Yearbook To Be Changed To Four-Book Layout

The 1972 Locust will actually be four books instead of one, according to editor John Rhodes, but the price will still be the same as in the past years.

The books of the student yearbook will be smaller and will be contained in a reinforced plastic cover. The sections on sports, activities, organizations and theme will be in two separate books, 8½ inches by 11 inches. Two smaller books, 5¼ inches by 8½ inches, will contain faculty and administration, student identification photographs and the honors section.

"We are interested in making a yearbook with something to it this year and a book that says something, either very humorous or very serious, but most of all different," said Rhodes.

The expected delivery date is early in September. Payment of $7.88 entitles the purchaser to a subscription to the ETSU Special, a separate but college-produced magazine.

20 Election Candidates Seek Cheerleader, Center Offices

At the registration for candidates for the spring elections last week, three registered for president, two for vice president and five men and 10 women for cheerleader, according to Constantino Armas, chairman of the Election Commission.

The position of second vice president and the Student Center Board of Directors are no longer existent because of Dr. Bob Butler's action Friday of recalling the Student Center constitution. Ron Robinson, director of the Student Center, was

Students wishing to have their pictures taken for the Locust, student yearbook, may do so between 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Wednesday-Thursday, March 1-2, in the foyer of the ET Bookstore in the Student Center.

The charge will be $1.35 for eight prints.

Services Held for Mrs. Halladay Feb. 25

Private funeral services were held for Mrs. Elaine (Pat) Halladay, former wife of ETSU President D. Whitney Halladay, Friday afternoon, Feb. 25, in Commerce. Services were conducted by the Rev. James Garrett, pastor, First United Methodist Church, Commerce.

Mrs. Halladay's body was sent to Dallas for cremation and the remains were shipped to California for burial.

The former ET first lady was discovered about 12:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 24, by a maid in the presidential home, located about one mile south of Commerce on Highway 50. She was taken to Commerce Medical and Surgical Hospital but efforts to revive her were not successful.

Justice of the Peace Charles Walden ruled the official cause of death as carbon monoxide poisoning from suicide.

Dr. Halladay was attending a meeting in Arlington, Tex., at the time of the death.

Mrs. Halladay attended Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, and the University of Redlands, Redland, Calif. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church, Commerce, and lived in the Ponderosa Apartments.

Dr. and Mrs. Halladay were married on Aug. 21, 1941, while he was attending Pomona College in California. They were legally divorced Jan. 13, 1972.

The family requested that friends should send contributions in memory of Mrs. Halladay to the Commerce Humane Society, at the First National Bank of Security State Bank.

Survivors include a son, Lt. Steve O. Halladay, Peru, Ind.; a daughter, Mrs. Ernest Whitelaw, Magnolia, Ark.; a grandson, Steve Whitelaw, Magnolia; a granddaughter, Erin Whitelaw, Magnolia; her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Harry E. Owings, Santa Ana, Calif.; and a brother, Dr. Harry E. Owings Jr., University of Guam, Agana, Guam.

ET Self-Study Document Submitted for Evaluation

The information obtained and documented in two years of self-study by ETSU was recently published in a 540-page book and submitted to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools for consideration of continued accreditation of ET.

An evaluation team will be on campus beginning Sunday, March 5, to evaluate this report and visit the campus.

The self-study, required every 10 years for official accreditation of this school, was under the direction of Dr. Don Reynolds, history faculty, and a four-man steering committee. The study was documented by 12 committees which investigated the purpose, organization and administration, financial resources, faculty, library, student personnel, physical facilities, special activities, graduate program and research program of the university. A report of plans for the future was contained in the final 24 pages of the study.

The 12 committees were made of faculty, student and administrators, and they followed guidelines set up by the Southern Association in making up the study. Each department did a survey of its own strengths and weaknesses, and then each of the university's schools did a study of its own.

From the departmental and school surveys also came the information used by the "Planning for the Future Committee" to make projections and plans for improvements of weaknesses found in ET's educational system. There were 128 of these recommendations for improvements divided into three classifications: those to be implemented immediately, those as soon as financially feasible and those within approximately five years.

Center-Gov't Ties Severed by Butler

By Bobby Templeton

Dr. Bob Butler, dean of student activities, Friday severed the relationship of the Student Center with the ET student government by recalling the Center's constitution and, therefore, voiding it.

In a letter to Darrell Glueck, president of the United Students Association, Dr. Butler stated that because of increased student involvement, rapid growth, complexities in staffing and programming and accountability of substantial activity fees used in the Center, "that the existing governmental structure was not conducive to carry out effectively the basic role and scope of the Student Center."

Butler said that Ron Robinson, director of the Student Center, would "be charged with the responsibility of supervising the formulation of a system within the Student Center operation which will contribute to a more efficient governance." Also, he asked that the various student committees and elected officials remain in present capacities until the new system has been approved by his office.

Butler said the position of second vice president of the United Student Association was naturally dissolved because of his action. Tim York, second vice president, is also president of the Student Center. Darrell Glueck said that he would notify the proper persons of the action.

In a letter to Contantino Armas, Election Commission chairman, Glueck said that the Student Center Board of Directors no longer exists and that all registrants involved should be notified and registration fees returned. In the candidate story of this issue, Armas responded to the letter by not announcing the concerned candidates.

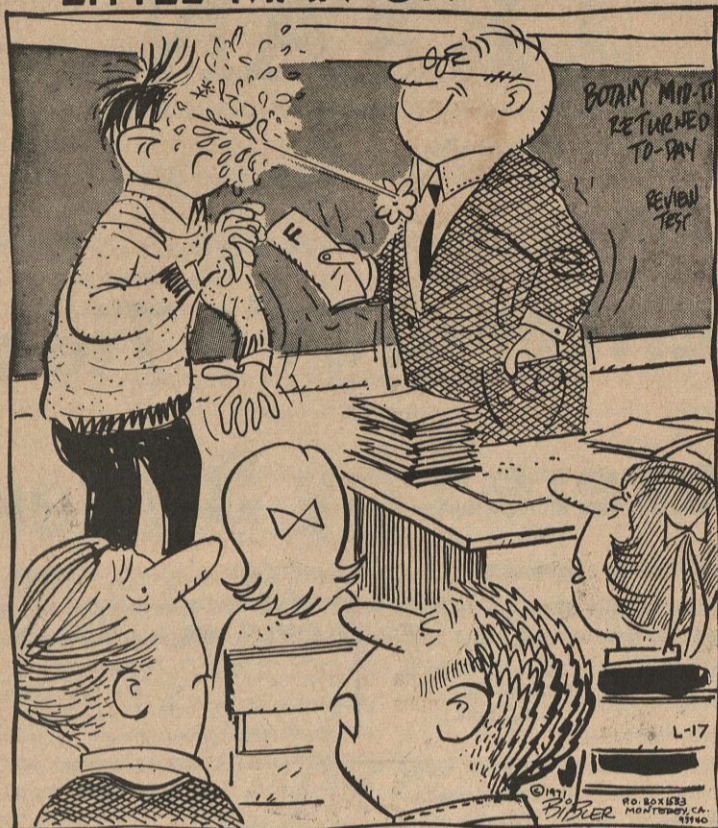

Commenting on the proposed change of student government, Glueck said that he saw no reason to call a general assembly of students concerning a new form of government, because "it has not worked in the past." He said, "Before, at a general meeting called by the freshman class officers, no one showed up, which shows the indifference of students."

The committee to reorganize the student government is considering modifications of its proposed council form of organization. Mike Ewell, Student Senate president, heard recommendations from students at the last senate meeting which he said would be considered. Tentatively, the issue of a new organizational form is planned to be brought before the student body through a referendum.

The committee is composed of David Hornack as chairman, Ron Daloia, Cheryl Belew, Shelia Nelson and Eddie Garcia.

EDITORIAL

A Pat on The Back

Every once in a while one feels like pausing and giving credit where credit is due. When you get right down to the facts, there are many things happening at ET on a somewhat regular basis that deserve credit.

Sunday night's concert by Sandy Baron and the Fifth Dimension was just such a happening. The concert was possibly the best held at ET in a long while. We are not, and will not pretend to be, a qualified critic, but on the basis of comments of others attending the concert, it was well received.

While the entertainment was of high quality, the group deserving the credit for the success of the concert is the program council of the Student Center. It was this group which put in the long hours arranging for the concert.

The program council is of course rewarded by the fact that the concert was a financial success, something that the previous concert could not be called. The council is also rewarded by the comments, of a positive nature, by those who attended.

Although it is the editor's personal philosophy not to discuss personalities in editorial copy, we nevertheless feel that George Maguire of the Student Center should be complimented for the hours that he devoted to concert arrangements.

The Student Center will find it hard to follow such an act at a later date. It will require many hours to prepare as impressive a show for students as was Sunday night's. The program council has proven that dividends can be high when it comes up with somebody that ET students want to see badly enough to spend money for the tickets.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

There has been a lot of talk around which says, if alcohol comes to Commerce the city will grow tremendously. How? By taxes? Alcohol causes $36.96 worth of damage for every $1.00 of alcohol taxes. The only one getting rich are those owning the outlets.

You say it will attract more students? I worked all summer recruiting students and after contacting more than 500 high school seniors never did I hear a student say he was going to a specific campus because it offered alcohol beverages.

One more complaint in this letter. The student government of ET is supposed to be representing the entire student body. How can they do this when they are the ones sponsoring the "wet" election?

Charlie Brown
 ET senior

To The Editor:

I would like to voice my wholehearted agreement with the sentiments expressed by the Rev. Mr. Murphy in your February 23rd edition. The Demon Rum must be kept from the youth of our town. In this changing world of ours not much has remained sacred. Wars and rumours of war abound. Children mock their parent—and why not? Those same parents, sitting in front of their television sets, watching the insane cavortings of half-nude women, swilling brew, cursing and reviling the benevolent government that has given them so much—yes, these mockeries of parents will deserve the contempt of their children. "It is a wise child who knows his own father..." and they do!

Every Thinking person knows that just one sip of alcohol, innocently taken, can lead to harder stuff. Ask any heroin addict, and he will tell you that alcohol figured prominently in his degradation. Let's protect our children from the harmful influence of this noxious substance. Parents, here is a chance to redeem yourselves. Save your children. Save our innocent pets—who might be run down by the drunken driver. Help keep our streets clear of unecological litter. Above all, save Commerce from the slimy sludge of progress. Vote dry!

Norman Zumwalt
 Bonham graduate

To The Editor:

In your recent editorial on Dr. Pope's statement, I think your comments were timely and helpful. But, the finding out of why he made such a statement would be much more important, finding out the motivation. I also hope you will send a reporter to the housing discussion on co-ed dorms too.

I find the paper particularly weak in directing itself to this level of reporting. Indeed, finding out the why of things is what reporting is, rather than the recording of history. Why doesn't this paper act like a paper and report (such as what's going on in the student senate) instead of being a scribe or secretary (such as the "reporting" you generally give on the sessions).

William Henning
 Arlington senior

To The Editor:

Somewhere along the line, several ET students and faculty members have been sold on the notion that "a wet town is a progressive town." Somehow they've become mistakenly convinced that the ready availability of "booze" is a good and noble virtue. "After all," they argue, "look how many ET students, faculty members, and Commerce residents currently make speed runs to Ladonia or Tawakoni for booze." The argument then nobly states: "By having booze around the corner we'd be keeping all those drunks off the road, and, just think of all the revenue it would keep here in Commerce." I suppose they'll next be arguing to make prostitution legal in Commerce—"After all you'll be able to control VD better." But why stop there? Why not set up an "Over-the-counter Drug Store?" A guy could groove on in, hop on up with a load of Horse, and then groove on his merry way. "Man," they might argue, "ole Commerce would be the swingiest town in East Texas." "After all," they might argue, "we'd have all the ingredients for PROGRESS—booze, sex, and drugs."

Right on, Daddy.

Art Exhibit Set March 6-10

An art exhibit showing the contributions of black Americans to Texas culture will be shown in the Student Center, March 6-10, according to Dr. James W. Byrd, English faculty.

The exhibit, borrowed from the Institute of Texas Culture in San Antonio, consists of 12 panels containing paintings, photographs and texts of black Americans, Dr. Byrd said.

'Write On' To Run Twice

The English Department's publication "Write On" will put out two issues this semester but will expand in the future, according to Edith Wynne, English faculty.

"Write On" is a collection of the best essays done by the members of the freshmen English classes. They are selected for publication by a board composed of four members of the English faculty.

'Performance' Set at Center

"Performance," starring James Fox and Mick Jagger, will be shown in the American Ballroom of the Student Center at 1:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday, March 2-3.

Set in contemporary London and filmed on location, "Performance" is a story of the underworld, a probe into the emotions of love and hate and their effects on human relationships.

Miss Floyd Poetry Finalist

Debbie Floyd, Longview junior, was one of six finalists in the poetry reading competition at a speech tournament at Southeastern Oklahoma State in Durant, Okla., Feb. 25-26. She read "The Box," a modern anti-war poem by Kendrew Lafcelles.

Student Teacher Registration Set

Students who plan to student teach in the summer or fall, must make application for approval in the Teacher Education Program by April 17, according to Mrs. Ann March, teacher education records clerk.

Applications may be obtained in

Robinson Named Director Of Entertainment Board

Ron Robinson, director of ET's Student Center, has been named to a top position in the National Entertainment Conference's Board of Directors.

According to Student Center officials, Robinson was named first vice chairman during the twelfth annual convention for the NEC held Feb. 13-16 at the Nuehlebach Hotel in Kansas City, Mo.

The former NEC Development Committee Chairman replaces Bob McCurdy, Carnegie-Mellon University, who will assume the position of chairman of the board.

More than 1300 delegates and associate members of the conference registered for the three-day convention which was held to exchange ideas about the programming industry.

YMCA Sponsors Swim Classes for Handicapped

Swimming classes for handicapped children will be held from 9 to 10 each Saturday at the Greenville YMCA. The classes will start on March 4 and will run through April 29.

Parents wanting to enrol a child may call the Greenville YMCA at 455-5405 to request an application. The forms must be completed by a parent or guardian, and a physical examination form must be completed by a physician.

The classes are sponsored by the Greater Blackland Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Greenville YMCA.

Room 225 of Education North, and additional information is available by calling Mrs. Marsh at 468-5112. Applications will not be accepted after the April deadline.

Students Must File for Graduation

Students graduating this semester must file for graduation before March 11 in the Records Office, according to Mrs. Thespina Lee.

Security Investigates Call On Cafeteria Incident

ET Security was summoned Wednesday afternoon to Watson Cafeteria where a woman reported she had been slapped by a man. She said an argument resulted over the fact that she would not sign an insurance form enabling him to receive a $10 fee.

A practical joke by friends Sunday night resulted in Security being called to Sikes Hall in response to an apparent theft. ET Security officer Bob Reynolds was notified that the resident reporting the theft had left his door unlocked and some friends had played a practical joke on him.

IRHC 'Super Dating Service' Cards To Be Sent to Halls

Completed cards for the Inter-Residence Hall Council's "Super Dating Service" are picked up and distributed to the proper halls every Thursday, according to Karen Mial, IRHC vice chairman.

Blank cards for the service may be picked up by students at the main desk of each residence hall, the same location where the "master file" is kept. Students may look through the master card file at any time to choose a person to call for a date. The cards list a student's major characteristics, including hometown, major and interests-hobbies.

TC Has Foreign Students

TEXARKANA—Students from 12 foreign countries have registered for the spring semester at Texarkana College, according to the TC Campus News, student publication.

"Students should be reminded that Thursday night is when women can call men," said Nancy Vause, IRHC member. "A lot of women hesitate to call, for fear the man won't know about this feature of the dating service." Dates made in this "Sadie Hawkins" manner are to be "dutch treat," each person pays his way.

Dr. Ellis Sandoz, head, Political Science Department, has a lead article, "The Civil Theory of Liberal Democracy; Locke and his Predecessors," published in the February 1972 issue of "Journal of Politics."

Two Reserve Systems Offered at Library

The University Library offers two types of book reserve systems for student use according to Miss Mary Cook, circulation librarian.

These systems include the restricted reserve system, where books are obtained from the circulation desk, and the open-shelf reserve system located on the first floor of the library in Room B.

Restricted reserve books have to be checked out whenever in use, whereas the open-shelf books are used only for copying purposes and cannot be removed from Room B.

According to Miss Cook, lists of books on reserve are available at each reserve location.

Paper Published by IRHC

The Inter-Residence Hall Council is publishing a paper entitled The Word.

The first issue came out Tuesday, Feb. 15. According to editor Joe Snyder, Richardson freshman, the paper will be published twice monthly.

The purpose of the paper, according to Snyder, is to publicize what IRHC is doing on campus and to discuss problems of dorm life at ET. All of the material and supplies for printing the paper are supplied by the ET Housing Office. The Word is distributed to residence halls and the Housing Office by IRHC members.

Snyder said that all 1,700 copies of the first issue of The Word were distributed.

Bill Murry, Gainesville junior, does the illustrations for the paper and and Rockie Smart, Garland junior, and Karen Mialkowski, Skokies, Ill. sophomore, are reporters.

ET Tracksters Finish Sixth

By Larry Jackson

Despite the seven individuals and two relay who qualified, ET tracksters could manage only six points and a sixth place finish at the Fort Worth Recreational Track and Field meet in Fort Worth Saturday, Feb. 26.

Injuries were a factor in ET's showing, as sprinter Larry McClelland suffered a muscle pull in the 220-yard dash and was unable to run the 100-yard dash finals or on the 440-yard relay team.

Half of ET's points came on Wayne Rucker's 14-foot pole vault, good for a third place.

The mile relay team, composed of Larry Jackson, Craig Manning, Dan Millhorn and Mike Fields won fifth, with a 3:23:0 clocking. The team, without McClelland, ran third most of the race behind Dallas Baptist College, which won the 10-team University-College Division. Dallas Baptist won the mile relay, with a 3:16:2 time.

All four ET hurdlers qualified for the finals but could manage only a fifth place as Mike Fields beat out teammates Jose Tellez and Mike Cronholm in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles. Mike Gordon qualified but did not place in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Manning, with a 51.0, and Jackson, with a 51.3, finished sixth and seventh, respectively, in the 440-yard dash as high winds and 40-degree temperatures slowed all times.

Jon Washington and John Mayo, in the discus and shot put, and high jumper David Pendland failed to qualify.

Lions Rip McMurry, HP

By Kenneth Brazzle

The ET Lions ended the 1971-72 season with their best showing since 1966 by defeating Howard Payne, 93-78, Monday night and McMurry College, 80-64, Saturday night.

Coach Jim Gudger and his Lions finished with a season's record of 12-15 and 7-11 in Lone Star Conference competition. It was the closest ET has come to a winning season since 1966-67, when the team fashioned a record of 15-12. ET wound up sharing sixth place in the conference with HP.

The win was also ET's third in a row and fourth in its last five games. ET won three of the four victories at home beating Tarleton, McMurry, and HP. The team split its last road trip, losing to Angelo State and winning over Sul Ross.

Asked what he attributed the last three wins to, Gudger said, "I think it was the 2½-hour workout we had in Alpine after the loss to Angelo. The players just got fired up. They knew we could win our last ball games," Gudger said.

Bob LaFevers, playing in his last ball game in an ET uniform, provided the spark for the Lions as he scored 24 points in the first half and finished the evening with 34 points. He also grabbed 13 rebounds for the Lions. Jim VanderPoel, a three-year senior letterman, placed in double figures with 17 points.

ET maintained the lead throughout the contest and had a commanding 27-point margin, 40-13, with 3:08 left in the first half. LaFevers provided the most damage to the visitors as he scored more than half of ET's 46-22 halftime lead.

The second half didn't prove to be any better for HP. ET built up a 29-point lead during the second half, and the closest HP came was 13 points, 91-78, with seven seconds remaining in the game.

"We ran well, but defense was the key to the ball game," Gudger indicated.

Bob LaFevers, Bill Bryan, and Dale Reed combined for 60 of ET's 80 points in the team's 80-64, victory over McMurry.

The 6-8 LaFevers topped all scorers with 26 points, while Reed and Bryan added 18, 16 points, respectively.

ET scored the first basket of the game on a jump shot from the circle by LaFevers, but McMurry then proceeded to reel off 12 points before ET could score again with 14:24 left in the half.

Down by 10 points in the half, the Lions began to capitalize on the shooting of Bryan and LaFevers as they pulled within two, 21-19, on a eight-foot-jumper by Bryan. ET then tied the score, 28-28, with Reed scoring from 20-feet out.

ET had probably its best shooting percentage from the field this season, with an astonishing 68 per cent during the second half and 80 per cent from the charity stripe. Overall the Lions shot 57 per cent from the field for the contest. The team also pulled down 40 rebounds while McMurry grabbed 24 missed shots.

For the most part, it was a close contest during the second period before ET began to coast to its eleventh victory of the season. The Lions biggest margin came with 3:38 remaining and the score 66-59.

McMurry placed four men in double figures for the night with Robert Hickman and Rick Penny scoring 14 points. Keith Sullivan and Kerry Campbell added 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Lion Notes . . .

Stephen F. Austin won the Lone Star Conference basketball crown by bombing Southwest Texas State 110-80, Monday night.

SFA will now go into the District IV NAIA playoffs against St. Mary's University of San Antonio, winners of the Big State Conference. The district playoff winner, in a best two of three series, will advance to the national NAIA tournament in Kansas City, Mo., March 13.

ET's women's extramural basketball team took its eighth victory of the season Monday night preceding the varsity game by downing Texas Wesleyan, 49-36. Glenna Grayson hit for 22 points to lead ET.

Grimes Wins at TWC

Pam Grimes won the consolation division in singles competition at the Texas Commission of Inter-Collegiate Athletics for Women Badminton Tournament Saturday, Feb. 26 at Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth.

Karen Edson, also an ET entry, and Miss Grimes, were among 16 entries.

Tennis Meeting Set Today

A meeting for all women interested in playing extramural tennis will be held at 4 p.m. today in Whitley Gym, according to Mrs. Sandra Weeks, health and physical education faculty.

The team will begin its season March 17-18 at an invitational tournament at North Texas State University in Denton, followed on April 7-8 by a district match in Wichita Falls.

Women Cagers Take Second

ET's women's extramural basketball team took second place in the consolation bracket at the 16-team Texas Woman's University Tournament in Denton, Feb. 18-19, running its season record to 7-5.

ET fell before first-ranked Sam Houston State University, 61-43, in the first game. High scorers for ET were Glenna Grayson, with 18 points, and Marilyn Glover, with 11. Mary Frymark and Toni Bradford each scored seven points.

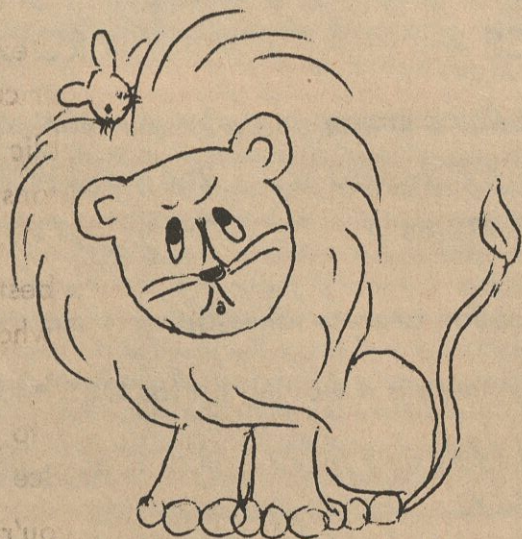

Texas Tech fell, 37-35, to ET in the second game. Miss Glover topped all scorers, with 13 points, while Miss Grayson added 12.

The women cagers were also victorious over Howard County Junior College, 45-44, in the third game. Miss Grayson was ET's high point woman, with 19, followed by Miss Glover's 10 points.

In its fourth contest ET lost to Texas A&I University in overtime, 54-51. Miss Grayson scored a tourney high of 33 points.

ET women cagers will journey to Fort Worth for the five-team district tournament Friday, March 3-4. The first and second-ranked teams in the tourney will represent the district in state competition.

SWT Students Seek Liquor

SAN MARCOS—Students at Southwest Texas State University have set up booths to obtain signatures for rights petitions, according to the University Star, student publication of SWTSU. The liquor-on-premises petition is an effort to have a special election called which would legalize the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages in Precinct 1 in San Marcos.

Insurance Premiums Cause Confusion Among Students

By Bobby Templeton

Several ET students, who have signed for life insurance policies, have reported that they have been victims of unclear premium payment terms, according to Dr. Bob Butler, dean of Student Activities. Dr. Butler would not release names of students or insurance companies.

According to The Talugram, official publication of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, college students should clearly understand that a debt occurs when deferred life insurance policies are bought. The publication stated that the Texas State Board of Insurance has issued new rules for the student's advantage.

The board said, however, that students occasionally do not understand that a deferred policy only delays the first year's premium until the student leaves school. The student

 Slated March 6-9 in Dorms

Two "coed living" discussions, a program on liquor-politics and a discussion of sex will be topics for the Related Subjects series. The Inter-Residence Hall Council-sponsored series is scheduled for Monday through Thursday, March 6-9.

Hubbell and Smith Halls will co-sponsor the first "coed living" discussion at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 6. Dr. John J. Koldus, vice president, Student Affairs, will be guest speaker in the Smith Hall Lounge.

Mike Ewell, United Students vice president, and Don Dalioia, Syracuse, N.Y., senior, will be guest speakers for the liquor-politics discussion. Sponsored by Whitley and West Halls, the program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 7, in the Whitley Hall lounge.

At 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 8, Sikes Hall will host Dr. James E. Nicholson, Greenville physician, for a discussion on sex.

Binnion Hall will present the final coed living discussion at 8 p.m.

Thursday, March 9. Dr. H. Don Pope, housing director; Dorothy LeMole, coordinator of women's housing; Dr. Robert Butler, dean of Student Activities and Dean of Women Janice King will make up the panel. The series will be informal, with questions encouraged.

Hay Ride To Be Feature Of April 'Rouser Week'

Inter-Residence Hall Council-sponsored Resident Rouser Week will be held the week of April 17-20, according to David Hornack, IRHC president.

Activities planned for the week include a "Sadie Hawkins" hayride, a street dance, a bike-hike picnic and an "improvisational play." The grand finale of the week will be the 5th annual "Grand Prix" go-cart race, which includes a Miss Grand Prix swimsuit contest and a women's tri-cycle race.

Tech Serves Diet Meals

LUBBOCK — Weight Watcher diet meals are being served in two campus cafeterias at Texas Tech, according to the University Daily, campus newspaper.

The Weight Watcher meals are prepared by dieticians in the Housing and Dining Department, and are offered to anyone who wishes to apply.

the most pressing problems facing the university and documented in the self-study project center around the rapid growth of the graduate program in the past few years.

"These problems are more critical in some areas and departments than in others, but in general our resources and faculty size have not kept up with the enormous growth in the number of master's and doctoral level students," added Dr. Reynolds.

Dr. Reynolds emphasized that the entire report is available to students and faculty and can be checked out from the ET Library, as can the individual department studies and school studies.
