Dickie, whose visit to the campus will be sponsored by the ET Department of Agriculture, is an international cooperation specialist in the Bureau of Technical Assistance Agency for International Development.

A native of Texas, Dickie holds a B.S. degree in agriculture from Texas

A&M and a master's degree in economics from North Texas State University. Prior to entering government service in 1961, Dickie operated a cattle ranch in Denton County. He also taught vocational school in McKinney and in the Denton County Vocational School.

From 1955-61 he served as president of the Texas Farmers Union, and he was a member of the National Farmers Union executive board from 1958 to 1961.

Dickie went to Washington in 1961 as administrative assistant to then U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough. He joined AID in 1965 as Congressional liaison officer and became director of the liaison staff in 1968. From late 1968 until assuming his present job in 1973, Dickie served with the AID mission in Nairobi, Kenya, as food-agriculture adviser.

As an international cooperation specialist in the Bureau of Technical Assistance he deals with requests for technical assistance from foreign nations that are willing to assume the cost of AID providing such assistance.

Over a three-year period ending last June 30, Texas manufacturers and suppliers received more than $160 million as payment for commodities shipped to foreign nations under U.S. foreign aid programs of AID. The nationwide figure was $2.4 billion, and another 3.5 billion in agriculture commodities was shipped to poor nations of the world in the same period under the Food for Peace program.

ET Special ED Center Changes

By Ellen McArthur

New ideas in the field of special education are reflected in the change and development of ET's Special Education Department.

The Texas Education Agency has begun a complete reorganization of special education in Texas schools in a program known as "Plan A," according to Dr. Michael Banks, special education faculty. He said, "This is one of the ways for providing funds to local schools for special services provided for the children."

Dr. Banks said the former method required classifying a child into a specific category, then finding enough children to justify employing a teacher in that specific field. He said Plan A requires that instructors realize that some children have special needs that must be filled for them to learn. He said Texas schools must be in a Plan A program by 1976, which is causing an increase in the need for special education teachers.

One facet in the development of the special education department is the Research and Development Center where ET students put "book learning" into practice, according to Dr. Harry Fullwood, special education faculty. He said, "The major goals of the center are to serve the needs of handicapped children and to train pre-teachers in reality therapy."

Susan Armentrout and Betty Martin are certified teachers in charge of the center. Miss Martin, in charge of the diagnostic class, said her task is to find out why a child is not learning and to find ways to help the child learn. She said she continues the child's basic studies so he will be on the same level as his classmates when he returns to regular classes.

Children in the diagnostic class stay for only 60 days, Miss Martin said. The number of children in her class varies. She said she has children at all levels and in all categories.

Miss Armentrout said she teaches 10 students this semester from age 3 to 33. She says all except one of them are participating on a functional trainable level. She said her main tasks include teaching self-help, pre-academic skills and pre-vocational training. Her class makes field trips to the fire station and to the post office. The class also plants and maintains a garden.

"My goal is to help the children so they can function in the community," said Miss Armentrout. "They need to be able to do minor jobs." She said some of her students will be able to function in society and are very responsible, while others will need special care all their lives.

Dr. Fullwood said the Research

Unisex Bowl Postponed

Misty weather and muddy field conditions caused cancellation of Sunday night's Unisex Bowl, according to Sue Zschoche, assistant director of Housing.

Saturday To Be Jump Day

By Scott Miller

Twelve ET students, members of the recently organized parachuting club, the ET Skyriders, plan to find out what it is like to fall 3,000 feet and still be able to talk about it.

Those members planning to make their first jump on Saturday Nov. 10, are Jim Russell, Gary Tilton, Marcia Belts, Pete McElroy, Lee Crawford, Paul Loflin, Wayne Sewell, Tracy Strube, Scott Miller, Butch Swiderski, Craig Bangston and Nancy Jesse.

Butch Swiderski, Cooper freshman, is the club instructor and president of the ET Skyriders. He spent four years in the Marines, two as a test jumper for the Marines Development Center in Quantico, Va. He also holds class D parachuting license with a jumpmaster rating and has logged over 278 jumps.

"The purpose of the club is for people to participate in jumping for the advancement of the sport," Swiderski said and that safety will be the prime and singlemost consideration. "Safety will be taught and practiced without exception," Swiderski said. The club doesn't want 'one time' jumpers just trying to prove they can do it or thrill seekers, according to Swiderski.

The club meets at 9 p.m. on Wednesday in the Speech and Drama Building, but plans to move the meetings to the Student Center this month.

After club business is conducted, the members begin jump training. Nomenclature of the parachute, parachute landing falls (PLFs), emergency procedures, packing a chute

Student Apathy Boasts Supporters

To The Editor:

The purpose of this missive is to publish our support of that respectable institution — apathy. We regard apathy as standard at ETSU, and any deviation from this norm should be treated as a disease and swiftly eradicated.

The alternatives would boggle the arrested imagination of even the most rudimentary troglodyte. Consider the photographs on the front page of the Friday, Nov. 2, issue of The East Texan. If it was not for apathy we are afraid that we would be forced to push our mugs through the mud, surrounded by wide-eyed, frothing greeks.

Football contests would dissolve into violent, religious orgies. Spectators under the spirit would whirl like evangelical dervishes and flop among the seats like limp salamanders, all the while being exhorted by a double-knit cretin screaming "BLOOD! BLOOD MAKES THE GRASS GROW!" (the ultimate atonement); and if we lose ... well, hell, we would have no recourse but to crucify a cheerleader.

Next Homecoming they may decide not to bother collecting firewood and simply use Sikes Hall as the bonfire. And imagine a ticker take parade through downtown Commerce.

Apathy keeps these passions in control and the frat rolls sparse.

To The Editor:

I am a senior sociology major at ET. This year I was nominated for Who's Who. I received the Who's Who questionnaire to fill out on Oct. 31. The form stated that the deadline for returning it was Oct. 9. Upon calling the Office of Student Development, I learned that the forms were mailed out the first of October. I live in university housing and the letter was addressed to my apartment number and not my box number at E.T. Station. I find it hard to believe that the personnel in charge of mailing these forms, are not aware that students in university housing must have a post office mailing address; and it is even harder to believe it would take a month from the time of mailing for a form to get to my post office box at E.T. Imagine, one month for a form to travel about 300 yards, I could crawl to the post office faster than that. My box number is on file in the records office and the Housing Office, but it seems that the Office of Student Development is unaware of where addresses can be obtained.

I was honored to have been nominated, but it does me little good if I am notified too late to be considered. If this university does not care enough to check and see that the proper forms get to the proper people on time, why should students even care to participate in university honors and programs. I for one am tired of this sort of inefficiency. I would rather not have been notified at all than to have been notified late. I wonder how many other students have been the victims of this sort of bureaucratic snarl.

To The Editor:

In regards to Jake Sandlin comments about the discourtesy of the Head Cheerleader.

It is my feeling that the SFA Band was the one being discourteous to E.T. If you fail to remember it was our homecoming not theirs. They played music so much it interfered with our cheers. I feel I had as much right to tell them to stop playing as did a coach from Howard Payne when he told our band to stop playing ... earlier in the year. I also will not, I repeat, I will not apologize to you or to anyone for my action concerning that event.

'Blue Gang' Shatters SR, 45-0

By Jake Sandlin

Grabbing six turnovers in the process, ET's "Blue Gang" defense recorded its first shutout of the season as the Lions zapped Sul Ross, 45-0, in a Lone Star Conference contest Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Lions exploded for four touchdowns in the second period, igniting ET to its biggest victory since the 54-0 thumping of Central (Okla.) State during the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics national playoffs last November.

Autry Beamon, Obie Wilson and Steve Wade were the top thieves for ET. Beamon picked off two Lobo passes, returning one for 27 yards. Wilson blocked a punt, which Wade grabbed and returned 30 yards for a touchdown. Wilson and Wade also each recovered a fumble.

Quarterback Jack Frampton led the Lion offense, connecting on six of 10 passes for 123 yards and two touchdowns. Tailback Craig Powell topped the rushing category, gaining 119 yards in 27 attempts and scoring one touchdown.

The Lions raised their season record to 5-4 and their LSC slate to 4-3. SR fell to 3-5 for the season and to 3-4 in the conference.

Beamon's first interception put the Lions at the ET four-yard line and started ET on a nine-play, 96-yard scoring drive. Frampton hit a diving Dudley Slice in the end zone from 13 yards away for the score. Leonard Allen's first of six extra points was good for a 7-0 Lion lead, with 14:23 left in the first half.

ET scored on its next possession, traveling 63 yards in seven plays. Frampton tossed a 43-yarder to wingback Bill Carroll at the goal line for the touchdown, with 9:16 remaining, and a 14-0 advantage.

Again, ET journeyed to paydirt on its next possession, going 35 yards in eight plays. Powell followed guard Lester Williams into the end zone for the two for a 21-0 lead, with 4:18 to go.

Defensive tackle Ronnie Gant crashed into Lobo quarterback Larry Cottrell, causing a fumble that Wilson recovered at the SR 23. ET could not move, and Allen came on to attempt a 36-yard field goal. The kick was wide to the right.

SR did not pass its 23 in the next three downs and the Lobos were forced to punt. Wilson broke through the line to block Cottrell's punt, and Wade plucked the ball out of the air at the 30, rambling in for the touchdown from there. Wade's score put the Lions ahead 28-0 with 1:23 remaining in the half.

Wade pounced on a Randy Moldenhauer fumble at the Lobo 31 to set up ET's next score, a 41-yard field goal by Allen. The kick was Allen's longest of the season and gave the

Will Cureton directed the Lions' next scoring drive of 85 yards in six plays. Tailback Aundra Thompson raced through defenders for a 30-yard touchdown run to increase the Lions' margin to 38-0, with 2:25 remaining in the quarter.

Bill Hill, ET's third-string signal caller, took the Lions 78 yards in 16 plays for the final score of the evening. Hill connected with Dannie Rogers from eight yards out for the touchdown, putting the final margin at 45-0, with 3:50 to go in the game.

The Lions take on Angelo State in San Angelo Saturday night and SR travels to San Marcos for a clash with Southwest Texas.

Howard Payne's David Jones and Abilene Christian's Wilbert Montgomery were the big stories Saturday, as the race for the Lone Star Conference title narrowed to two.

HP (8-1-0 season, 7-0 LSC) slaughtered Southwest Texas (3-5-0, 2-5), 33-7, in Brownwood, as tailback Jones scored twice on one-yard runs, caught a 57-yard touchdown pass and flipped a 15-yard scoring strike.

Montgomery ran for four touchdowns to break the conference scoring mark and lead ACC (7-1-0, 7-0) to a 49-7 thumping of Tarleton (1-7, 1-6) at Stephenville. Montgomery carried 21 times for 168 yards, scoring on runs of five, five, two and three yards. The freshman's four touchdowns gave him 134 points for the season, crushing the record of 114 points set by Marvin Brown of ET in 1952 and equaled by SWT's David Morrison in 1967.

Wildcat quarterback Clint Longley, leading the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics passing and total offense statistics, connected on 15 of 29 passes for 302 yards and two touchdowns.

ACC No. 4 in NAIA

Abilene Christian College and Howard Payne, co-leaders in the Lone Star Conference with identical 7-0 marks, have moved into the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics six top-rated teams, according to the NAIA's national ratings, released Wednesday, Oct. 31.

ACC is ranked fourth, with a 7-1 season slate, receiving one first place vote and 129 total points. HP, 8-1 for the season, is tied with Howard University of Washington, D.C. for fifth place, with 90 points.

Four of the top six teams will be selected for a playoff berth in determining the NAIA national champion. ET won the national title last year by defeating Carson-Newman College of Tennessee, 21-18. C-N is currently ranked seventh nationally.

ACC and HP will meet for the LSC crown, Saturday, Nov. 17, in Abilene.

In the latest NAIA statistical categories, ACC quarterback Clint Longley is way out in front of his nearest competitors, averaging 312 yards in total offense and 284 yards passing, to head both categories, Longley's closest rivals in total offense and passing average 231 yards and 239 yards, respectively.

Four other LSC quarterbacks are listed among the nation's top 30 total offense leaders. Noe Gonzalez of Southwest Texas is ranked 12th, with a game average of 163 yards; Rick Worley of HP is 23rd, with 150 yards per game; Lynn Leonard of Angelo State and Stephen F. Austin's Larry Mayer are tied in the 26th position, each with game averages of 144 yards.

End Richard Willams of ACC ranks first among receivers, with a game average of 104 yards. Billy Byrd of Sul Ross ranks 16th with 71 yards per game.

Freshman tailback Wilbert Montgomery of ACC is the nation's top scorer with 110 points on 18 touchdowns and a two-point conversion.

In team statistics, ACC leads the total offense department with 486 yards per game, with SWT and ASU ranked 22nd and 24th, respectively, averaging 342 and 341 yards per game.

ACC is also first in passing offense with a game average of 284 yards. ASU is 18th in the same category, averaging 166 yards per game. SWT is 30th in rushing offense with 220 yards per game.

Soccer Club Scores Win

George Nixon, chemistry faculty, scored the winning goal to lead the ET soccer club past Austin College-Sherman, 2-1, Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the ET intramural field.

Austin College scored first on a penalty kick in the first half. Ravi Tazim pushed across a goal during the second half to tie the score. Nixon's winning goal followed minutes later.

Women V'Ballers Place Third

By Holly Cooper

ET's women's varsity volleyball team captured third place in the Texas Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics for Women District II Tournament held at the Texas Wesleyan College campus in Fort Worth Friday and Saturday.

Mollie Rackley led the varsity to 15-4 and 15-12 victories over Tarrant County Junior College-SE, with six points scored in the first game and seven points in the second game.

Advancing to the winners' bracket, the Lions were swamped by the University of Texas at Arlington, 15-1 and 15-10. Joyce Brown scored the single point for ET in the first game and Elaine Rackley led the scoring in the second game, with four points.

Pushed into the losers' bracket, the Lions took 15-11 and 15-4 victories over Midwestern. Leading the scoring in the first game was Sarah Irving, with four points. Miss Brown came up with five points to lead the scoring in the second game.

ET defeated TWCC, 15-8 and 15-4, with Miss Brown's six points topping scoring in the first game and Becky Strane's four points leading the scoring in the second game.

The Lions advanced back to the winners bracket but were defeated once again by UTA. E. Rackley, with two points, was high scorer in a 15-6 loss in the first game. In a 15-3 loss in the second game, M. Rackley, with two points, was high scorer.

"Spirit Week", Oct. 2, was considered a "success" according to Coach Susan Andrews.

Joyce Brown was presented the "Miss Spirit" award, at the pep rally last Thursday for her promotion of spirit throughout the week. Miss Elizabeth Huggins was presented an award for being the faculty member who backed the team and promoted the most spirit throughout the week.

Marion Lockwood came in first place with the best poster, followed by Frankye Sessums, second place, Tonia Willis, third place and Pam Brockman, fourth place.

Billie Elrod, Shannon Ballard, Frankye Sessums, Pam Brocman, Janey Haynes and Chriss Sale served as cheerleaders for the occasion.

The "Miss Scrooge" award was not given because, in Miss Huggins words, "The response has been good, spirit high so we found no single person showed a lack of enthusiasm."

The same day, the varsity scrimmaged an ET men's intramural team, winning the first game, 15-8, as Becky Strane's seven points led the scoring. The men took over in the second game and defeated the varsity, 15-5. Elaine Rackley, with two points, led the scoring for the women.

In a second scrimmage, the Greenville YMCA took 15-12 and 15-13 wins over the varsity. Sarah Irving led the scoring in the first game, with five points, and Mollie Rackley, with six points, was top scorer in the second game.

IFC To Sponsor Child

In a unanimous vote last Wednesday night, the Interfraternity Council decided to sponsor a child in the free breakfast program of the Multi-Culture Center.

The council voted to give $10 to $15 per month to support a child in the program.

The IFC reached its decision after Nelson Robinson of the Center spoke to the IFC on the breakfast program. The program, which works out of the Commerce Mount Moriah Faye Street Baptist Church, has 30 children participating in it. Most of these children are from families in the Norris community, Robinson said.

Robinson said he hoped to have 40 children in the program by the end of the semester, including children of married students. He came to the IFC to get aid for the program from the council itself and from the fraternities. He said the program needs donations to keep running. It costs $200 per month and the program is currently working at a $70 deficit.

Donations, Robinson said, included money and time. He said fraternities could give cash for the program as a whole or sponsor a child by giving $5 or $10 or any amount to help pay the expenses of the food.

Fraternities can help out by sending someone to help with the work from 7 a.m. until 7:45 a.m. Monday through Friday, Robinson said.

and Development Center is a Plan A co-operative set up by the Commerce School District, the university and the special education department undergraduate program. He said ET students work with the center for 120 hours a semester. He said their duties include individual instruction with the children and also such tasks as cleaning up spilled food. Dr. Fullwood said the students meet the parents of the children and assist on field trips.

Student teaching is a basic part of the special education curriculum. Mrs. Viola Ellison and Mr. Bill Draughn, special education faculty, are supervisors for 25 student teachers this semester. Special education student teachers have a unique program that enables them to teach for four weeks in an elementary education classroom and four weeks in a special education classroom, according to Mrs. Ellison. She says this enables them to teach in both areas.

Mrs. Ellison said a supervisor works closely with the principal, the co-operating teacher and the school to make the student teaching a valuable experience for the student.

A three-year pilot program to prepare special education students to teach all types of exceptional children was started this semester, according to Dr. Della Todd, head, Special Education.

Changes call for programs to be based upon common factors of several disability groups. This is called the Generic Model. Teacher preparation should produce educators who can vary the instruction to individual children, Dr. Todd said.

BATON ROUGE—A student parking lot attendant decided to earn some extra money while he worked and took it upon himself to charge an unauthorized parking fee directing football traffic, according to the Daily Reveille, campus newspaper.

According to Campus Police Chief A. "Luke" McCoy, there has never been a fee and anyone who is charged should report it to the campus police.

and fundamental safety rules are covered in the training sessions.

A club member must join the United States Parachuting Association before he makes his first jump. The cost of the membership is $20 and includes liability insurance and a years subscription to the magazine, Parachutist. Club dues are $2.50 a month, but any interested person is permitted to attend any session or meeting without obligation, Swiderski stressed.

The ET Skyriders drop zone is in Hugo, Okla., 60 miles north of Commerce. Members usually jump on Saturday and Sunday mornings with either Swiderski or Lee Crawford, the club's vice president, supervising all final training and jump activities.

The cost of one jump from an altitude of 3,200 feet, after initial membership fees, is $2.50 which includes everything needed for the student to jump. The first five jumps are static line, where the chute opens automatically after leaving the plane. Swiderski estimated that about three training sessions would be needed by each student before his first jump, depending on his ability and progress in training.

Robinson Named Head

Ron Robinson, director of the Student Center, has been named chairman of the board of trustees and president of the newly formed Foundation for Educational Programming in Higher Education.

The purpose of the board, according to Robinson, is to generate money for national research and activities in the area of campus programming. The foundation was founded by Robinson and James Anders of Columbia, S.C.

The 15-member board includes nine persons involved with campus programming, two representatives of the programming industry, two university presidents, and U.S. Senator Robert Byrd of West Virginia.
