Graduation May 11; 866 File for Degrees

By Linda Mulkey

Commencement exercises will highlight the end of the spring semester at 7 p.m. Saturday, May 11, in Memorial Stadium.

Review Week is scheduled Saturday-Friday, April 27-May 3, followed by six days of final exams, beginning Saturday, May 4. The spring semester will officially close on Saturday, May 11.

A total of 866 have filed for spring graduation, according to Mrs. Kitten Lee, Records Office recorder. This total includes 607 bachelor's degree candidates, 244 master's, and 15 doctoral.

Of the bachelor's candidates, the College of Education has 193; Business 116; Language and Fine Arts; 147, and Science and Technology 151.

15 File for Doctorates

The 15 doctoral candidates are Charles James Ardoin, Octavio A. Ballesteros, F. David Cordova, Joseph L. Ellison, Gary Holmes Gilliland, Eddie C. Hadlock, Roy H. Hart, Marvin Dale Kuehn, Dorothy Copeland Lanier, Roy Lee Lazendy, Dorothy Cobb Lemole, Steve E. Lupcho, Kathryn Camille Coleman McCoy, Bettie Louise Tully, and Lester Yee-How Wei.

Prior to the presentation of the candidates and the awarding of the degrees, ET President F.H. McDowell will speak and W. Garland Button, chairman of the Board of Regents, will present four distinguished alumni awards to Henry Clay Cheek Jr., Dr. Raymond H. Fletcher, Dr. Ruth Riley Swords, and Dr. Helen White-side.

Dr. Stuart Chilton, chairman of the commencement committee, said that no main speaker has been scheduled for the graduation ceremony. Giving the invocation and benediction will be The Rev. Bill Morgan Smith, pastor of the United Methodist Church in Gainesville, according to Chilton.

The President's Reception honoring the spring graduates and their parents will be held at 3:30 p.m.-4:30 p.m. Saturday, May 11, in the Founder's Lounge of the Student Center.

University dorms will officially close at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 11, and re-open at 2 p.m. Monday, June 3, according to Dr. Don Pope, director of University Housing.

Watson Cafeteria will close after dinner Friday, May 10, and will remain closed until the fall semester, according to Charlene Wright, Food Service Office. Meal hours for Watson and the Student Center cafeteria for Friday, May 10, are 8 a.m.-9 a.m.; 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.; 4:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m. The Student Center cafeteria will be open on Saturday, May 11, from 8 a.m.-9 a.m.; 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.; and 4:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m.

Tentative hours during the summer sessions for the Student Center cafeteria are 4:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m. Monday, June 3.

Registration for both summer sessions will begin at 8 a.m.-4:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 5, with classes starting on Thursday, June 6.

Orientation for new students is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, June 4, in the University Auditorium.

Hours for the James G. Gee Memorial Library, during both summer semesters will be Monday-Thursday, 7 a.m.-10 p.m.; Friday, 7 a.m.-5 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.-12 a.m.; and Sunday, 2 p.m.-10 p.m., according to Mary E. Cook, acting director.

Miss Cook added that between semesters the library will be open on May 20-24, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; and May 27-31, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Henderson, Jackson Win USA Election

By Sondra Fowler

Steve Henderson, Belton junior, was elected president of the United Students Association and Byron Jackson, Marshall junior, vice president in the runoff election held Thursday, April 25.

A total of 1,270 students voted, according to figures released by Debi Daniel, Election Commission chairman.

In the presidential race, ballot count was Henderson 740 and Bahram Nouyan 449. For vice president, totals were Byran Jackson 658 and Richard McKinney 530.

The president-elect and vice president-elect will be sworn in at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 1, at the regular Student Senate meeting in Room 221, Business Administration Building.

The runoff election was delayed three weeks after the first general election because of a suit filed by the Election Commission against Nouyan for illegal distribution of campaign materials in residence halls without permission of personnel. The case was heard by the Student Court and the court recommended that the charges be dropped.

(The East Texan incorrectly reported in the Friday issue that the run-off was held four weeks after the original election instead of three weeks and one day - - - April 3 to April 25.)

Henderson, who will succeed Eddie Garcia as USA president, said he feels the campus needs a sense of unity.

"There are two main things I want to see happen. I want to see student government become more respectable by passing more legislation dealing with student life and academic affairs. And, No. 2, I want to make sure students who really care get involved in student government," Henderson said.

The main duty of the USA vice president is to preside over the senate at its weekly meetings. Jackson will replace Gary Stretcher, who was president pro tem and stepped up to the vice presidency following the resignation of Jim Hallock.

Asked how he felt about taking over the post, Jackson said, "I'm speechless."

"I didn't make any promises in my campaign. I just wanted to reform the system of student government. Basically, I want to see students properly represented. I want to have more activities and make the senate the backbone of all organization on campus to get everything coordinated," Jackson said.

Law Day Speaker Slated Today

Tom Johnson, editor of the Dallas Times Herald, will deliver the annual Law Day address at 10:30 a.m. today in the American Ballroom of the Student Center.

Johnson's career spans service in government, business and journalism. At 26 he became the youngest special assistant to the President of the United States when he joined the staff of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

He holds the bachelor's degree from the University of Georgia and the master's from Harvard University.

Johnson was selected as a White House Fellow in 1965 and served with Press Secretaries Bill Moyers and George Christian before being appointed to President Johnson's staff.

He has served as executive vice president of the Texas Broadcasting Corporation, the parent company of the Lyndon Johnson business enterprises.

In August 1973 he was named vice president and editor of the Dallas Times Herald. Johnson was selected as one of America's Ten Outstanding Young Men by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1974.

Special Ed Fellowship Available

Applications for five undergraduate fellowships in special education are being accepted in the Franklin House, according to Dr. Della Pepper Todd, head, Special Education Department.

Funded by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, each fellowship will provide a $100 stipend to a qualified student next fall. The fellowships are awarded for each fall semester according to the student's grade point average and financial need. All applications must be accompanied with an up-to-date transcript.

Student To Present Dissertation

Roy Hart, doctoral guidance student, has been asked to present the findings of his dissertation at the national convention of the National Association for Foreign Student Affairs to be held during late May, in Albuquerque, N.M., according to Dr. John P. McQuary, head, Student Personnel and Guidance Department.

Hart's paper, written under Dr. McQuary's supervision, deals with student personnel-related problems of international students in Texas' public community colleges.

Information from the study was recently presented during a national board meeting of the Institute of International Education in Houston.

Primary Voting Saturday

By Richard McKinney

Commerce residents and ET students will vote Saturday in the Democratic and Republican primaries to decide on the candidates in the fall general elections, and to resolve the pari-mutuel betting issue. A light voter turnout is expected by many politicians and political observers.

In the Democratic gubernatorial race, incumbent Dolph Briscoe faces challenger Frances Farenthold, a former state representative from Corpus Christi, Waco businessman Steve Alexander and Houstonian Bill Posey.

The Republican candidates, former Lubbock mayor Jim Granberry and Odell McBrayer of Fort Worth, have been stumping about the state attacking the Briscoe administration as much as each other. Granberry is considered by many to be the leading GOP candidate, after receiving several major newspaper endorsements in the last several days.

Democratic primary polling places for Commerce residents include the City Hall, for precinct 33, which includes the ET campus; Texas Power and Light Company, for precinct 31; the Chamber of Commerce office, for precinct 15.

Voting for the Republican primary will take place in the ET Student Center.

In the Democratic party, there are four other contested state races. In the comptroller's race, former state Secretary of State Bob Bullock is squaring off against Hugh Edburg of Austin, a former chief clerk on the Comptrollers office. Edburg received the endorsement of retiring Comptroller Robert Calvert.

Agriculture Commissioner John White is seeking re-election against Columbus rancher Herbert Schroeder. White has been in the agriculture post for 24 years.

81-year-old State Treasurer Jesse James faces a challenge from Houston lawyer Donald Yarbrough. James, accused of wasting state money by Yarbrough, has been in office 32 years. Yarbrough is no relation to either former U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarbrough or former Democratic gubernatorial candidate Don Yarbrough, also of Houston.

Mack Wallace, a former Briscoe aide, is seeking a full term on the Texas Railroad Commission. He was appointed to a vacancy on the com-

EDITORIAL

Semester-In-Review

The final week of the spring semester is here and so is the last issue of The East Texan. It's been a long semester, but an enjoyable one for each of us on the staff. It has also been an eventful semester.

It began in January with a record enrollment of 9,006 students on the main ET campus and at Texarkana.

In sports, the Lion basketball team won the right to represent the Lone Star Conference in the NAIA playoffs in San Antonio. Coach Jim Gudger was chosen "Coach of the Year" for the LSC. Sophomore O'Neal Tarrant was awarded the LSC "Most Valuable Player" award, and freshman Nate Granger was chosen as "Freshman of the Year."

In student government, USA President Eddie Garcia continued his running battle with the Student Senate. Early in the semester he sought to abolish the senate, was threatened with impeachment and was finally censured for spending USA funds without senate approval.

For the second year in a row, graduate student Bahram Nouyan was accused of campaign infractions in his efforts to be elected USA president. The Supreme Court dismissed the charges and Nouyan was allowed to enter the runoff for USA officers.

Following the runoff election last week, ET has a new student body president, Steve Henderson, and a new vice president, Byran Jackson.

This semester saw the traditional cheerleader elections abolished in favor of a new method of choosing the campus representatives. Plans were begun to eliminate Homecoming Queen, and the Miss ET Pageant was not held because of lack of funds.

The East Texan will have a new editor this summer, Corky Brown. The fall semester editor will be Sondra Fowler. They will be ready to answer questions and hear complaints.

This last issue will probably be criticized, just as the others were criticized this semester. We welcome your criticism. It is our job not to make the news, but to report it. We believe we have done so.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor:

During the recent University Beauty election there was a great lack of communication resulting in procedural violations. In an effort to create a more meaningful election in the future and alleviate future problem areas, the University Beauty Pageant Committee and the Election Commission have formulated several suggested guidelines for the 1974-75 University Beauty election. We will make every effort to follow these suggestions:

1) The 1974-75 University Beauty election and pageant will be in the fall semester. The eight beauties selected will reign during the entire 74-75 school year.

2) A committee comprised of representatives from dormitories and sororities will be formed to study policies for the University Beauty election and pageant. All election procedures will be openly discussed before the election, thereby standardizing communications between the Election Commission and candidates.

3) The Election Commission and the University Beauty Pageant Committee will closely coordinate their operations with the dean of student life. The dean will advise them on procedural policies relating to their duties as defined by the Election Code. An effort will be made by the Dean to initiate some degree of continuity of University Beauty election. However, decisions relating to the procedural process of elections will not be made by the dean.

Through a positive effort in opening the lines of communications and the successful initiation of these changes, I am anticipating a very successful fall 1974-75 University Beauty election and pageant.

Briscoe Expects Second Term

By The Associated Press

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Frances Farenthold completed their crucial campaign sweep of the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area Saturday with Briscoe confident he has a second term in the bag.

The governor, grinning and laughing from dawn to dusk, is exuberant and happy with his campaign reports.

Mrs. Farenthold, who led Briscoe in the two 1972 Democratic primaries in Jefferson and Orange Counties as well as Harris County, is enthusiastic, but not optimistic. She spends much of her time urging supporters to continue to work for the principles that prompted them to work for her.

Briscoe and Mrs. Farenthold aimed their campaign guns at labor, old age and college-age votes of the area, which often are deciding margins in close elections.

Briscoe spoke twice to the state convention of the Texas Senior Citizens Association in Port Arthur—to a reception and then a formal address Friday. His appeal to mobilize retired citizens in volunteer community efforts was applauded.

Sissy Draws Student Crowd

Mrs. Farenthold spent considerable time shaking hands at the convention and was introduced, but was told there was no time on the schedule for her to make a talk. She said it was wonderful to be there and sat down.

Mrs. Farenthold drew most response from a big crowd of students at Lamar State University. Several hundred jammed the student center lobby to cheer her and listen to two speeches.

Briscoe held a reception in the same building, just 15 minutes earlier, but far fewer attended—and only about half of those were students.

"You are vitally needed," Mrs. Farenthold told the students. "We are not going to have our government as we want it unless you do something about it."

Then she urged them to attend their precinct conventions after the May 4 voting. "Let us hang on to what we started with . . . we asked only an open Democratic party in this state and nation."

Jim Granberry, a Republican candidate for governor, said in a speech at Tyler that he would "hammer home the Texas position on oil and gas before the federal government" if elected.

"I would like to speak for Texas as governor and urge such measures as retention of an equitable depletion allowance and deregulation of natural gas at the well-head," Granberry said.

Bob Bullock, a candidate for comptroller, criticized incumbent Robert S. Calvert for distributing his written endorsement of Hugh Edburg among employees of the comptroller's office.

"I think it's time to give political freedom to the comptroller's employees. I think it's time to tell them they don't have to vote for the boss or his hand-picked crony or keep their jobs," Bullock said.

Calvert issued a statement saying Bullock was incorrect when he said Thursday that cities lack the legal right to sue for their delinquent sales taxes.

Precinct Conventions Meet Saturday

Texas Democrats meet in their precinct conventions Saturday to voice party harmony and unity while jockeying for position and delegates to the county conventions.

The lack of a presidential and a U.S. Senate race this year has toned down some of the political fanfare that usually accompanies the grassroots precinct conventions. But there still will be the continuing struggle for control of the state party machinery for both the "mini" national convention in December and for the 1976 presidential election year.

Three factions will be vying in the Saturday Democratic precinct conventions—the conservatives supporting Gov. Dolph Briscoe, the liberals and the backers of Alabama Gov. George Wallace for the 1976 presidential nomination.

State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest has issued the usual plea for harmony and unity and State Agriculture Commissioner Jhon White, who heads the state party's "affirmative action" committee, says the new rules will assure representation to minority factions.

The rules say that if a faction constitutes 20 per cent of those attending the precinct convention, then the faction is entitled to representation at the county convention.

But veterans of precinct conventions know that parliamentary maneuvering and a chairman with a strong gavel arm can be far more influential than the rules book.

La Raza 'Better Start'

Ramsey Muniz, the La Raza Unida gubernatorial candidate, said Friday the party is off to a much better start than in 1972.

Muniz, 31, a Corpus Christi attorney, told a group of University of Houston students that the greatest mistake he made in his 1972 race was appealing only to Mexican-Americans.

Although he gathered almost 215,000 votes, that appeal limited the base of La Raza, he said.

"In 1974 we are not going to get in the racial issue with everybody," he said. "We're not going to play the game we played in 1972."

He said the party is open to all people, blacks, whites and Mexican-Americans who have traditionally voted Democratic.

Since 1973, Muniz said, La Raza has placed in office six mayors, six school board presidents and has filled 18 positions as city council or school board members.

Seven Faculty Members To Retire

When seven members of the ETSU faculty retire from full-time teaching positions this year, they will leave behind a combined total experience of 226 years.

Retiring will be Mrs. Balma Taylor, literature and languages; E. W. Rowland, political science; Elizabeth Huggins, health, physical education, and recreation; Dr. Elton Johnson, accounting; Dr. John Wilkins, Jr., agriculture; Dr. Joseph Saylor, political science; and Dr. Everett Shepherd, educational administration.

The retirees were honored at a reception hosted by ET President F. H. McDowell from 2:30-3:30 p.m.

Walker Wins Tickets

Neil Walker, Dallas freshman, won two tickets to the Chicago concert in Dallas May 10 during Good Times Activities Night held at Sikes Hall Thursday, April 18, according to Steve Cash, chairman of the activities committee of Sikes Hall Student Government.

Preceding a drawing for the two concert tickets, approximately 100 ET students competed in nine concerts, with $150 in prizes being awarded to winners.

Winners of the contests were Keith Stretcher and Ricky Morrison, egg throw; Lee Meador and Sammie Thompson, three-legged race; Keith Stretcher, T-shirt decorating; Darwin Henson, "leg contest"; Dennis Murphy, shoe pile; Johnny Bryant, apple bob; Kelvin Bartz and Linda Corley, "string eating"; and Tony Huckaby and Elois Miles, piggy-back race and molasses pour.

Cash is hopeful that Good Times will become an annual spring affair at Sikes Hall.

Dispatcher School Set

A Communications School for Police Dispatchers will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., May 21-23 in the Albatross Room of the University Inn, according to Mrs. Patsy Holder, assistant to the dean of Continuing Education.

The 3-day school will be co-sponsored by the Department of Public Safety and the National Auto Theft Bureau for Police Dispatchers in conjunction with the Division of Continuing Education.

Computer Contest Winners Announced

Central Texas College in Killeen placed first in the Cobalt division and Kilgore College took the top award in the Fortran division, at the ET Computer Science Programming Contest held Saturday, April 20, in the Computer of the Business Administration Building, according to Dr. C.E. Rodriguez, computer science faculty member.

Other winners in the Cobalt division include Navarro Junior College of Corsicana, second; San Antonio College, third; and McLennan Community College of Waco, fourth.

Other winners in the Fortran division include Grayson County College of Denison, second; Kilgore College, third; and San Antonio College, fourth.

There was a total of 20 teams that participated in the two divisions.

Members of the ET computer science faculty, Dr. Rodriguez added, served as judges during the competition and the Association for Computing Machinery and Epsilon Delta Pi, computer science honor society members, assisted in the running of the contest.

Tuesday, April 23, in the Student Center.

Mrs. Taylor, who joined the faculty in 1946, holds the B.A. and M.A. from ETSU. The Paris native taught in the Commerce and Fairlie public schools before joining ET. Mrs. Taylor will retire at the end of the summer.

Rowland, one of three retirees who joined in 1937, holds the B.A. from Southwestern University and the M.A. from the University of Texas at Austin. Before coming to ET, he was a public school teacher, principal and superintendent.

Miss Huggins holds the B.S. and M.A. from George Peabody College. A native of Nashville, Tenn., she taught at Martin College in Pulaski, Tenn., and Hardin-Simmons University before joining the ETSU faculty in 1937. She started the intramural sports program at ETSU in 1951.

Dr. Johnson also joined the ETSU faculty in 1937. A native of Dayton, Iowa, he holds the B.B.A., the M.B.A. and the Ph.D. from the University of Texas at Austin. Prior to joining the ETSU accounting faculty, Dr. Johnson taught at Fredericksburg High School and at Amarillo College. Dr. Johnson served as head of the Department of Business Administration prior to the creation of the College of Business Administration in 1968.

Dr. Wilkins joined the ET faculty in 1952. A practicing veterinarian, he earned the D.V.M. from Texas A&M University. A native of Greenville, Dr. Wilkins is the former mayor of his hometown. He also served as director of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

Dr. Saylor, who joined the faculty in 1944, holds the B.A. from Southwest Missouri State College, the M.A. from Southern Methodist University and the Ph.D. from the University of Texas at Austin. A native of Miami, Mo., he has taught at Weatherford College, Tarleton State University and the University of Texas at Austin.

Dr. Shepherd joined the ETSU faculty in 1939. He holds the B.A. from Hardin-Simmons University, the M.A. from the University of Colorado and the Ph.D. from the University of Texas at Austin. In addition to his 35 years of service at ETSU, he also taught at McMurray College and North Texas State University and has served with the Texas State Department of Education in Austin.

Dr. Johnson will retire at the end of the spring semester. The others will teach one or both summer sessions before retiring.

Veterans Office Expands

By Steele Craver

In the past two years the ET Veterans Office has been expanded from a part-time to a full-time office to handle the ever-increasing load of returning Vietnam veterans seeking a college education, according to Bill Martin, Veterans Affairs Director.

The veteran's office began as part of the Financial Aids Office in January 1972 under Jerry Lytle, director of Financial Aids, with one full-time graduate assistant and three work-study employees. In January 1973 Martin, graduate assistant and Vietnam veteran, assumed the responsibility of directing the veterans' division of Financial Aids. Martin applied for and received funds from the Cranston Act, which pays a school at a rate of $50 per undergraduate veteran, which is to be used to maintain a full-time Office of Veterans Affairs.

Full-Time Office Set Up

In July 1973 a full-time Veterans Affairs Office was formed. Until that time the office handled only certification paperwork. ET qualified for $180,000, but Congress appropriated only $25 million and ET received 17 per cent, $32,228.07, of its share. "We have reapplied for the 1974-75 year which begins July 1," said Martin, "but many new schools are expected to apply so we are expecting less funding this year than last year."

With the present funds, the office employs a staff of eight Vietnam veterans and a secretary, the wife of a Vietnam veteran. "We feel we have a working knowledge of problems that veterans have since they have gone through the same thing," Martin said.

Vet Programs Varied

Programs beyond certification have been started since the office became full-time. These are veteran counseling under Don Wolff, who talks with veterans about their needs, educational and vocational goals, and personal concerns; a placement service for veterans under Judy Wright, which offers full and part-time job placement; tutoring program; an outreach program that keeps in contact with veterans being discharged and helps them get started in school; financial aids; information service of noneducational benefits; assistance in appealing other than honorable discharges; and the Veterans at East Texas State, an organization formed by veterans to help veterans.

"Texas has the third largest number of returning Vietnam veterans with 359,000. Several colleges and universities have organizations for veterans to help with the readjustment to civilian life, lack of a job, age differences and readjustment to school. The average freshman is 19 while the returning veteran is 26. Most veterans are away from school for three to five years," Martin said.

State Vet Program To Be Discussed

"We are going to meet with several other Texas schools to organize a state-wide veteran's organization. About 100 campuses in Texas offer some kind of veteran organization on their campus," Martin said.

Martin encouraged all veterans and dependents, regardless of periods of service, to stop by the office should any needs or questions arise.

Ho-Hum, ET Netters Win LSC Title Again

By Jake Sandlin

Lone Star Conference competition for 1973-74 came to a close with the annual spring tournaments Thursday-Saturday in Huntsville, and a familiar figure leaped the net of victory.

Dr. William Crabtree's netters claimed ET its 10th conference title in the past 11 years, earning the school its only first place finish in the spring meet.

ET's golf team brought home a share of the conference's fourth-place position, tying Howard Payne for the spot. The Lion thinclads hit the wire in seventh place in the LSC track and field race.

HP edged ET for the conference All-Sports trophy, earning 60½ total points to the Lions' 57½. The points system awards teams 20 points in each major sport (basketball, football, and track), and 10 points in each minor sport (golf and tennis).

In the annual spring meeting over the weekend, penalties were assessed to member schools including ET. ET, Southwest Texas and Tarleton were instructed to reduce scholarships for the coming year for exceeding the LSC limit.

Gordon McCullough, secretary of the LSC, explained that Conference schools are allowed 120 scholarships per year (120 each for room, board, tuition, books and fees) to be divided equally among semesters. As of last spring, each member school must have met the requirements and not exceeded one scholarship category or balanced out the categories by giving less in one sport and more in another, as was allowed before. Neither of the three schools complied during the past year.

The penalty for ET, according to McCullough, will be to reduce its overall scholarship limits for the coming year by four each for room, board and fees, and five for tuition. McCullough stressed that the schools' actions were not illegal, but the schools "didn't follow the letter of the law in reaching their scholarship limits."

Dr. H.M. Lafferty, ET's faculty LSC representative, said Monday that the mistake was "due to prior commitments" and what had happened were "bookkeeping mistakes."

Neither Dr. Lafferty nor Dr. Jesse Hawthorne, ET athletic director, reported any facts concerning the violation to The East Texan because they said that they had no information on where the violations had occurred or what the penalties would involve.

Lafferty said, "It would not be fair to the institution nor to the LSC to speculate on how the school will be penalized. We have to go to the LSC front office to get us itemized." Hawthorne said the information would be released later, when the facts were received.

McCullough reported that each knew what was involved and that Lafferty was in the meeting when the decision was reached.

Also, LSC officials placed Stephen F. Austin on two years probation in basketball, disallowing SFA to compete for the conference title or play in post-season games for the next two seasons. The action followed an investigation of recruiting violations concerning SFA All-LSC guard Archie Myers.

Firmin Downs Abid For Singles Crown

By Allen Hallmark
Mattie Firmin, an Escobedo, Calif. junior, led the way as the ET tennis team won the LSC title for the tenth time in 11 years last weekend in Huntsville.

The ET netters picked up 20 points in the LSC tourney to finish a whopping 25 points ahead of second-place Stephen F. Austin.

Firmin, who played No. 3 on the squad this season, "hit his peak during this tournament," according to tennis coach Dr. William Crabtree. Firmin spoiled the predicted meeting of Syed Naeem, Southwest Texas No. 1 player, and Syed Abid, ET's No. 1 player, by beating both of the brothers from Pakistan.

After defeating pre-tournament favorite Naeem in the second round, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, Firmin easily advanced to the semifinals to join three teammates, Abid, Bob Koch, and Steve Katz in a sweep of the top singles positions for ET.

Firmin said he got a psychological lift from beating Naeem that allowed him to batter Katz, Northridge Calif., senior, 6-0, 6-1, in the semis and to outplay Abid, 6-4, 6-4 in the finals.

ET didn't fare as well in doubles. The No. 1 team of Abid-Koch had just finished playing each other in a singles semifinals, with Abid winning, 6-7, 7-6, 6-2, when they were called upon to play Andy Joiner and Keigm Lanham, the No. 1 Abilene Christian doubles team in the semifinals. Koch said, "I felt very down after losing to Abid, and I played very bad."

Joiner-Lanham won that match, 7-6, 2-6, 6-3, and then went on to defeat ET's No. 2 doubles team of Firmin and Steve Barker in the finals, 7-6, 6-2.

Firmin said that the fast courts in Huntsville worked to help him defeat Naeem because the Pakistani relies mostly on defensive ground stroke play, and Firmin was able to get to the net and put the ball away before long rallies developed.

Firmin said that he expected Koch to win the tournament and was a little surprised that Abid beat him. Firmin added that Abid seemed "a little nervous and off his game" when they played in the finals. "I was lucky to win," he said.

Crabtree said that he was quite pleased with the singles play of his team. He said that it was his aim to have all of his players peak at tournament time, and that is the way it worked out. Crabtree added that any of his players could have won the tourney, "because there's not that much difference among the top four but Firmin just happened to be at the top of his form."

It was uncertain at press time whether ET will be required to play the Big State Conference champion in order to earn the right to advance to the NAIA National Tournament in Kansas City, Mo. June 3-9. Crabtree said he had not heard from NAIA officials concerning another match and had no idea who the Big State champion was.

Gordon McCullough, news director of the LSC, also did not know if ET would have a district playoff, but he said that the ACC doubles team of Joiner and Lanham and ET's entire team will represent the LSC in post season play.

Golfers Tie for 4th In LSC Competition

By Barbara Eickenhorst

After finishing sixth in the Sam Houston-hosted LSC Golf Tournament last weekend, ET wound up sharing fourth place with Howard Payne in overall LSC competition.

ET went into the last of four LSC tourneys in fourth, 25 strokes ahead of sixth-place HP.

ET golfer Glenn Sockwell ended up seventh in overall LSC medalist competition, posting a 671 total.

Angelo State retained its first place hold and finished the season with a 3,536 total, a 56-stroke lead over second-place SHS.

Both will play in NAIA district competition at the Lost Creek Country Club in Austin.

Other results were Stephen F. Austin in third place with 3,607; ET and HP, tied for fourth, with 3,671; Texas A&I, 3,685; Tarleton, 3,693; Southwest Texas, 3,731; Abilene Christian, 3,759; and Sul Ross, 3,760.

The LSC team title is awarded to the team with the lowest total after four tournaments.

Jim Mundell, ASU, took the LSC medalist title with a 628 total, and teammate Keith McCutchen finished second, 27-strokes behind.

Greg Antunes, SH, was third with 656, and John Piggs, SFA, was fourth, with 657.

Mundell won the title by posting the lowest score in LSC play, after being allowed to drop his highest 54-hole score of the four tourneys.

The top five LSC medalists are named to the LSC first team, and the second five make up the second team.

ET's Robert Parnell finished in a tie for 14th in LSC medalist competition.

ET's team score of 947 was 10 strokes behind fifth place SFA in the tourney at Elkins Lake in Huntsville, and Parnell posted a 235 for the best ET total of the weekend.

Sam Houston posted a 897 total to win the last LSC tourney by two strokes over ASU. Mundell was medalist, with a 214 total.

Hollar 'Bright Spot' For ET Tracksters

By Donald Kerr

Having to rely on just six men to furnish the points, the ET tracksters finished the LSC Spring Track Meet at Huntsville last week with a seventh-place, 29-point effort.

The bright spot for the Lions was, once again, Bobby Hollar, who won the 120-yard high hurdles. He went into the race with the LSC's best time this season, a 14.6, and he continued his string of placing in every meet entered this season. His winning time was 14.7. Teammate Jose Tellez, however, did not qualify for the finals. He had a best this season of 15.1.

Angelo State, riding the performance of Josh Owusu, who won three events and placed in another, won the meet going away, with a point total of 164. Defending champion Howard Payne was a distance second, with a 76 total. Other team totals were Texas A&I, 67; Abilene Christian, 59; Southwest Texas, 50; Sul Ross, 38; Stephen F. Austin, 16; Tarleton, 15; and Sam Houston, 2.

ET placed fourth in the meet last year.

The ominous tone for the East Texans was set early in the two-day meet. After Friday's field events and track preliminaries, the Lions ended up with five points to carry over into Saturday's finals.

In Friday's field action, Bill Carroll threw the javelin a distance of 195-3 to take fourth place. Carroll, who placed third last year, was just slightly under his season's best mark of 198-5. "Bill was in second place until the last throw of the event, when he was beaten by two others," assistant coach Butch Luce said. Eldon Tuttle of A&I won the contest, with a mark of 213-2.

ET high jumper Glen Machan, who went into the meet tied for the LSC lead with Randy Rea of ACC, cleared 6-6 for third. "Glenn was still bothered by a stiff neck," Luce said. In the SWT meet two weeks ago, Machan injured his neck during the event with a LSC record jump of 6-10½.

Jeff Young placed sixth in the shot put, with a toss of 43-11½. Tommy Klaerner of HP, the LSC leader all season, won the event, with a 52-3 mark.

"Really, I was disappointed in the weightmen," Luce said. Merrill Huckabee did not place in either the discus or the shot for the East Texans, and ET failed to place in the pole vault.

Craig Manning placed third in the 440 for the Lions, finishing with a season's best of 49.1. Rick Easley, the East Texan's other quartermiler, did not qualify.

Mike Gutierrez ran a 1:57.0 to take sixth in the 880, and the mile relay team placed sixth, with a time of 3:24.3, to round out the scoring for ET.

Owusu's triple jump effort of 51-7¼ surpasses his own meet record of 47-3¼.

Teammate K.O. Okyir, who won the 100 and 220, won the J.H. Shelton Award as the outstanding track man, and Owusu won the Oscar Strahan Award as the best field performer.

All in all, five foreign athletes, from Ireland as well as Africa, represented ASU. They scored 113 of the 164 total for the Rams.

There's no easy way for Charlie Nelson to become Dr. Nelson.

But there is a way to make it somewhat easier. Our way. The Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program. It won't soften the demands of your professors, or those you make upon yourself—but it may free you from those financial problems which, understandably, can put a crimp in your concentration.

If you qualify, our scholarship program will cover the costs of your medical education. More, you'll receive a good monthly allowance all through your schooling.

But what happens after you graduate? Then, as a health care officer in the military branch of your choice you enter a professional environment that is challenging, stimulating and satisfying.

An environment which keeps you in contact with practically all medical specialties. Which gives you the time to observe and learn before you decide on your specialty. Which may present the opportunity to train in that specialty. And to practice it.

You may also find some of the most advanced medical achievements happening right where you work. Like at the Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, Texas, long noted for its Burn Treatment Center. Or the home of Flight Medicine, the famed Aerospace Medical Division, also in San Antonio. Or the National Naval Medical Center in Bethesda, Maryland, recognized worldwide for its work in Medical Research.

And if you've read this far, you may be interested in the details. Just send in the coupon and we'll supply them.

Winos Take Division Title

By Wally Crawford

The Sangria Winos won Division II men's intramural independent slow pitch softball last Wednesday night, by defeating the Brewers, 11-4.

Ronnie Miller opened the game for the Winos with a triple, followed by a ground out pitcher Steve Waggoner and four singles by Mike Carpenter, Jim Roundtree, Darwin Henson, and Bobby Rigby. Ronney Ross then drove in Roundtree on a sacrifice fly.

Terry Johnson led off the Wino second with a walk, followed by sigles by Mike Rosamond, third baseman Miller and Waggoner. Carpenter then drove in Rosamond on a sacrifice fly.

Jimmy Mullins opened the third inning with a triple and scored on Florencio Saucedo's sacrifice fly. With two out in the third the Wino's Ross doubled, followed by singles by Karl Hibchen and Johnson, which scored one run. Rosamond walked and Miller singled to drive in two more runs, but Waggoner grounded out to end the inning.

The Brewers had their best inning in the top of the fourth, collecting two runs on three hits. Mike Lambert and Tony Interrante each singled and Trail unloaded a triple.

With two out, Brewer catcher Saucedo, unloaded a bases empty homerun in the fifth.

The Winos' added four insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth on three singles and two doubles to make the score 11-4.

Other action in slow pitch competition found the f-Stops closing out the season on a winning aperture by downing the Pub Club, 7-4. The Jock Squad raced past Alpha Phi Omega, 10-2, to win Division I, independent slow pitch. The Streal Fleakers, the Comets, and Sikes DC all won 7-0 forfeit games over the Morons, the Soul Striders, and the Tops, respectively.

The Memphis Navy beat Delta Sigma Pi, 9-8, in independent fast pitch competition to win the championship. The only other fast pitch game saw the Hilltoppers win a 7-0 forfeit game over the Wooley Dogs.

Fast pitch competition in the fraternity league, Thursday night, April 25, saw Sigma Phi Epsilon and Kappa Alpha win 7-0 forfeit games over Sigma Chi and Lambda Chi Alpha, respectively.

The Sig Eps won the fraternity fast pitch league, while Kappa Alpha won the slow pitch division.

Walker Pens Book On Pass Receiving

Jim Walker, ET football coach, has written a book, titled "The Art of Pass Receiving," that is being published in June.

Walker said he wrote the book because there are very few books written on the single aspect of pass receiving.

Tom Landry, Dallas Cowboy head coach, wrote the foreword for the book.

Martinez 'Swings' Into Championship

Tony Martinez defeated Steve Armstrong, 6-2, 6-4, to win the independent tennis singles championship, Monday, April 15.

Martinez, Wichita Falls sophomore, then teamed up with his brother Ralph to defeat Armstrong and his partner, Bill Bernard, in the independent doubles championship, 7-5, 6-3.

Gregg Gotses, representing Sigma Chi, won the fraternity singles championship by defeating Lynn Schoelerman, Pi Kappa Phi, 6-2, 6-1.

Mike Erwin and Tommy Johnson, representing Sigma Chi, teamed up to defeat Mark Grant and David Graves, who represented Lambda Chi Alpha 4-6, 6-3, and 7-6, to win the fraternity championship, Wednesday, April 24.

Women Stopped at State

By Holly Cooper

"We did well considering the two key injuries we suffered — everyone did as well or better than expected," was coach Dave William's feelings after the state track meet at West Texas State University in Canyon last weekend. ET totaled seven points in the meet.

Oratory Contest Winners Announced

Shirley Grote, Irving junior, won first place in the Annual DeJernette Oratory Contest here Wednesday, April 24, according to Dr. Cleburne L. Farr, speech faculty.

Speaking on "You Can Help Bring Peace in the World," Miss Grote received $25 in prize money.

Fred R. Colodny, Dallas senior, received the second-place award of $15 for his speech on "Racial Prejudice."

The third-place award of $10 went to Vernon Grote, Robstown senior, who spoke on "American Mistakes Which Led to Pearl Harbor."

The annual campus-wide contest is held each spring to promote student training in oratory.

Perry Wins IM Tennis

Kelly Perry defeated Cheryl Idom, 6-4, 6-2 Wednesday, April 24, to capture the women's intramural tennis singles division.

Loma Bray and Karen McElhannon won over Miss Perry and Susie Cauley, 6-2, 3-6, and 6-3, for the doubles division.

Jones, Neal Honored

The Rodeo Club presented gift certificates to the club sponsors, Dr. Charley Jones and Alton Neal, both agriculture faculty, at a cook-out.

In preliminaries, ET's 440-yard relay team, consisting of Mollie Rackley, Joyce Brown, Yalanda Jones and Grace Daniels, qualified for national competition, with a time of 50.05. The team will not participate in nationals because ET is not a member of the Association of Interscholastic Athletics for Women. In the finals of the event, ET's Sandy Small replaced Miss Jones, who was injured in the long jump competition. The team placed sixth in the finals competition, with a time of 52.01.

Debbie Johnson finished fourth in the mile run competition, with a time of 6:02, and Marion Lockwood eighth in the two-mile run.

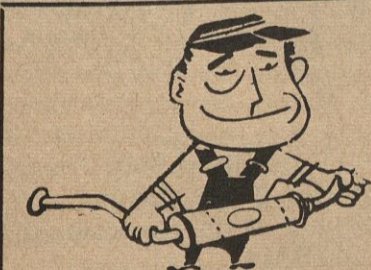

Bessie Cox placed fifth in the 400-meter hurdles and Debbie McDaniel placed seventh in the shot put. ET had to scratch its mile relay team because of injuries to Miss Jones and Miss McDaniel.

With a total of 16 teams entered into state competition, Texas Woman's University won the meet, with a total of 143 points, and Ranger Junior College captured second place, with a total of 128 points.

SAM Names President

Camelia McClenny has been elected the first woman president of the Society for Advancement of Management. Other officers elected were Ellen Kanazawa, first vice president; John Reinart, second vice president; John Horn, treasurer; Mickie Gilmore, recording secretary; and Ronald Holland, corresponding secretary.

Phi Kappa Theta

George Tindell, Copperas Cove freshman, received the Louis Zaleski Brother of the Year award of Phi Kappa Theta, social fraternity, Saturday, April 27.

Tindell was also named Athlete of the Year.

Vickie McMullen, Winnsboro freshman, was named fraternity sweetheart. Debe Windham, wife of chapter president Doug Windham, was honored for her work for the fraternity with a rose.

Guest speaker was Mart Bisek, ET alumnus, Shreveport.

International Students Association

There will be an informal meeting of the International Students association at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 1, in the Founders Lounge of the Student Center. All foreign students and advisers are invited to discuss the $1,000 gift to a female graduate student of ET, and to decide the future standing of the association at ET.

Four rare books and a rare magazine volume have been added to the Mary Beth Malone Memorial Collection in the ET library by friends, former students and colleagues of the English faculty member, according to Dr. Thomas A. Perry, literature-languages faculty.

The books added to the collection are all first editions and include Matthew Arnold's "On Translating Homer's Last Words," Lord Byron's "The Corsair, A Tale," Tennyson's "Terresias," and "Boonastiel: Pennsylvania Dutch" by T. H. Harter. A rare volume of Arthur's Home Magazine, edited by T. T. Arthur was also contributed.

The original collection established after Miss Malone's death in 1973, includes a large number of books from her private collection, Dr. Perry said.

Honors Instructor Selected

Gene Lockhart, music faculty, was named Honors Instructor of the Year at the University Awards Luncheon Friday, April 19. This is the first year that the award has been given.

Students in the Honors Program selected Lockhart for the award.

Moss To Attend Symposium

Dr. John Moss, special education faculty, will attend a Texas Association for Children With Learning Disabilities meeting entitled "Youth in Trouble: The Learning Disabled Adolescent Symposium" to be held May 2-3, at the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

Students from the Audio-Visual Education Department will video tape the symposium, which should attract approximately 500 law enforcement personnel, social workers and other representatives of community service organizations.

Johnson at Geographers' Meeting

Dr. John A. Johnson, geography faculty, is attending the annual meeting of the Association of American Geographers April 28-May 1 in Seattle. He is participating in a workshop devoted to the "High School Geography Project," one of the National Science Foundation curriculum projects.

Byrd Elected TFS Director

Dr. Jim Byrd, English faculty, was elected to a four-year term on the board of directors of the Texas Folklore Society during its recent state convention in Abilene.

Byrd said he is the first director of the Texas Folklore Society ever elected from ET. He served as the society's president in 1968.

Byrd and Don Watson, ET graduate, gave a lecture and reading on "Black Militant Poetry" at Texas College in Tyler Sunday, April 21.

Watson received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from ET and has studied Negro folklore and black literature at both the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Kelteborn at Math Meeting

Dr. Bonnie Kelteborn, math faculty, attended the national meeting of the National Council of the Teachers of Mathematics, April 17-21, in Atlantic City, N.J.

Kelteborn said that her main reason for attending the convention was to find teaching concepts and material for an in-service course that she will teach this summer. Kelteborn also said that the national convention was composed of seminars and several rap sessions among mathematics teachers from various colleges and universities.

One course she attended was a teaching methods course in which they discussed the effect the teacher displays upon the student, and how to make a course creative and interesting. Kelteborn was the only member of the ET faculty to attend.

Richards on Commission

Dr. James E. Richards, head, Music Department, was elected as the state-supported college representative on the Commission on Academic Standards at a meeting of the Texas Association of Music Schools in San Antonio.

In the past, Dr. Richards has served as president, a member of the board of directors, and on several committees for the Association.

Harvey Attends TAGS

Dr. William J. Harvey, German faculty, and Barbara McCord, University of Texas at Austin Texas Summer German Camp director, presented information on the 1974 Texas summer language camp program for high school students to representatives of German Teachers' organizations and German-American clubs at a recent meeting of the Texas Association of German Students held in Arlington.

The 1974 summer language camp will be held on the Texas Lutheran College Campus in Seguin.

Harvey recently attended the 1974 conference on Twentieth Century Literature in Louisville, Ky. sponsored by the University of Louisville. At the conference, he served as chairman of a comparative literature section which studied and discussed such authors as John Updike and Francois Mauriac.

Zander Receives Grant

Dr. Arlen Zander, physics faculty, has received a $4,300 grant from Research Corporation for the determination of proton-induced ionization cross sections of selected metals.

The grant was made under the New York foundation's Cottrell Research Grant Program.

Research Corporation, a foundation for the advancement of science, was created in 1912 by Fredrick Gardner Cottrell as a nonprofit institution for bringing inventions into public use and directing the proceeds to the support of scientific research.

"Just a Little Better Selection"

By Richard McKinney

A ruling by Attorney General John Hill could force all state colleges and universities to lower the mandatory student fees charged at registration each semester, according to a report published in Austin last week.

Hill, ruling on an amendment to 1973 House Bill 83 says that according to the provisions of the bill, "only those students enrolled for the maximum number of hours normally permitted by the institution can be charged the full amount of a compulsory student services fee."

HB 83 reads, in part: "All compulsory student services fees charged and collected shall be assessed in proportion to the number of semester credit hours in which a student registers."

The ruling was handed down following an inquiry from state Auditor George McNeil, after his office concluded its annual audit of all state colleges and universities.

State Senator O. H. "Ike" Harris, Republican representative of District Eight in Dallas, will speak at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 1, in the American Ballroom of the Student Center.

Harris, 41, served as president pro tem of the Texas Senate during the 63rd Legislature and was installed as "Governor for a Day" Dec. 1, 1973, becoming the first Republican governor of Texas in 99 years.

The state senator is a graduate of North Texas State University, receiving a bachelor of science degree in political science there in 1954. After a 3-year stint in the Air Force, Harris attended the Southern Methodist University School of Law in 1957 where he served as president of the Law School and the student body simultaneously. He received his bachelor of law degree from SMU in 1960.

Harris was elected to the house of representatives in 1962 and to the senate in 1967.

undergraduate student is 18 hours, exclusive of physical activity courses. The maximum graduate student load is 15 hours. The "normal" loads for undergraduate and graduate students are 15 hours and 12 hours, respectively.

The university, however, could lower what it considers to be a maximum load, and then charge the full fee to students taking that number of hours.

At present, ET charges the maximum student service fee, $30, when a student is registered for nine or more hours, with a $3.50 per hour pro-rated fee for students enrolled for less than nine hours.

Under the terms of the attorney general's ruling, only students registered for 18 or more hours could be charged the maximum $30 fee, while students registered for less than 18 hours would be charged a $1.66 pro-rated per-semester-hour student services fee.

Administration Not Notified

ET President F. H. McDowell indicated Monday that he had not been officially notified by the attorney general of the ruling and that he would have no comment until he had studied the ruling.

Administrative Vice President W.L. Kelley said that he "couldn't say" what effect the ruling would have until he had studied it, but indicated that ET would lose "substantial income directed to non-academic activities."

A number of student activities and services could be cut back or eliminated if income loss is severe. The student government, health service, women's athletics, intramurals and student publications could face loss in revenue from lowered students' fees, and no new services could be added.

Related to the ruling is the recent controversy at The University of Texas at Austin, where the UT System regents recently lowered the mandatory student services fees to exclude student government, the student newspaper, and all inter-collegiate athletic programs.

The action was prompted by a UT System law office ruling which stated that HB 83 granted "relief to part-time and graduate students taking less than a full load. The attorney general's office had also been urged by The Daily Texan, UT student newspaper, to rule in the case.

The ruling will require, according to The Daily Texan's report, every state university to no longer charge students who are taking "less than the maximum number of hours a student may schedule before he must receive permission from his department chairman" the full student services fee.

Sengbush, Dickey Chosen To Instruct at Camps

Bill Sengbush and Gerald Dickey, ET cheerleaders, have been selected by two cheerleader associations to instruct at camps this summer.

Sengbush, a Grand Prairie senior, who was nominated for Cheerleader All-American this year, has been asked by Dynmaic Cheerleader Association to instruct at different colleges on the east coast for 10 weeks following a week's training at Kansas City, Mo.

Dickey, a Dallas senior, will spend 4 weeks teaching at various Texas colleges including Cisco Junior College, Lamar University, Texas Lutheran College and also Perkinstan University in Mississippi.

Sengbush has been head cheerleader at ET for the past two years and has recently been elected for another year, as has Dickey, who has just completed his first year as cheerleader.

Faculty Senate To Meet

Approval of candidates for May graduation and the election of officers for the 1974-75 school year will be on the faculty senate agenda at 3 p.m. Tuesday, May 7, according to Dr. Nancy Lenoir, senate secretary.

Also on the agenda are the General Studies Program, the Junior English Usage Exam, proposed changes for physical education requirements, implementation of the faculty workload policy and annual committee reports.

According to Dr. Lenoir, this will be the last regular senate meeting until the fall semester.

Coordinating Board Approves ET Programs, Construction

Several academic programs and the construction and rehabilitation plans for a number of facilities on the ET campus were approved by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, at its quarterly meeting April 19.

A doctorate and three master's degree programs in the area of adult/continuing and vocational-technical education were approved for the Federation of North Texas Area Universities, made up of ET, North Texas State University and Texas Woman's University. All three will be degree-granting institutions.

Also approved for ET was a master of fine arts degree. According to Vice President for Academic Affairs Richard Meyer, the M.F.A. will be a two-year degree program which will be "highly individualized to allow for specialization in many areas."

The board also approved a bachelor of science degree in health care administration. Dr. Meyer explained that the program is designed to build on the previous training of those in the health care professions such as nurses, technicians, etc.

The degree emphasis is on preparing those already in the health care field for managerial or administrative positions.

Construction plans were also approved by the board for a library addition, an early childhood education facility, conversion of Henderson and Binnion Halls and a physical education center complex.

The academic programs approved will be authorized at a future date, Dr. Meyer explained. The procedure of the board is to approve programs at one meeting and the authorize the programs at a subsequent meeting, he added.

ET Coed Selected Miss Tall Texas

Gail Frantz, Dallas junior, was crowned Miss Tall Texas in a pageant held Saturday, April 20, at the Villa Inn West Convention Center in Irving.

The 5-foot-11 coed will receive an all expense-paid trip to California where she will participate in the Miss Tall Universe pageant which will be held July 9 in San Francisco.

The Irving contest was sponsored by Tip Toppers, a club for tall persons. According to Miss Frantz, membership requirements are a height of at least 5-feet-10 for women and 6-feet-2 for men and all members must be at least 21 years of age.

The 22-year-old Miss Frantz, a speech and hearing therapy major and a psychology minor, is a member of the East Texas Students Hearing and Speech Association.

ET Students Seek Posts

Locally, five ET students are involved in election contests. Robert T. Mansker, Greenville doctoral student in business, is seeking the Democratic nomination for state representative, to replace retiring Rep. James Cole of Greenville. Mansker, who has run for the legislature before, faces opposition from Greenville attorney Smith Gilley, insurance agent J. L. Green, and Sulphur Springs law student Jay Brim.

Mansker received the local endorsement of the AFL-CIO.

Ronnie Adcock, Greenville freshman, is running for county Democratic chairman, and Marshall junior Byran Jackson, president of the ET Young Democrats, is seeking the precinct 33 Democratic chairmanship. George Sheffler, Dallas doctoral student, is seeking the county GOP chairmanship, and Gary Frauman, Dallas junior, is running for precinct 33 GOP chairman's post.
