Senators, Officers Elected; Two Run-offs Next Week

Five hundred and forty-nine ET students cast ballots in the Tuesday, Oct. 3, student government election to elect 43 senators and 25 class officers.

A run-off election for two freshmen senate positions has been tentatively set for Thursday, Oct. 13, according to Harry Haley, chairman, Election Commission, to bring the number of senators in office up to 45.

The run-off election for the freshmen senatorial positions will be between Pam Bunford, Richard Grieves and Pam Schellenberg.

Senate vacancies were apportioned according to the official enrollment figures to include eight freshmen, seven sophomores, nine juniors, nine seniors and twelve graduates.

The newly elected student senators were to be sworn into office at the Wednesday, Oct. 4, meeting of the Student Senate.

Election Commission Chairman Haley has released the following election results:

Student Senate

Freshmen senators: Carol Bandt, Karen Boyd, Yvonne Chomhelm, Cindy Marshall, Karen Reed and Patty Wood.

Sophomore senators: Tommie Dodd, Rebecca Graham, Johnny

Hicks, Christy Jernigan, Ann Malory, Becky Stapp and Lonnie Tucker.

Class Officers

Freshmen: President Steve Dixon, Vice President Chris Yeager, Secretary Janice Young, Treasurer Trudy Ann Pitts and Reporter Temple Naland.

Sophomore: President Steve Barker, Vice President Mike Wilcox, Secretary Dege Castle, Treasurer Georganna Stewart and Reporter Cindy Narramore.

Junior: President Robert Cozart, Vice President Cindy Cantrell, Secretary Cindy Brady, Treasurer Lynn Street and Reporter Becky Northcutt.

Senior: President Jim Richardson, Vice President Dee Miller, Secretary Sheila Nelson, Treasurer Reba Graham and Reporter Tracey Wolfe.

Graduate: President Jerry Rhodes, Vice President Ken Holbert, Secretary Erich Rexroad, Treasurer Bernard Solazar and Reporter Steve Lupcho.

Nine of the 12 graduate students elected to senate positions had not formally filed to run for office.

Nouyan, Mansker and Sheffler, all voted into graduate senate positions, were the only graduate senators elected whose names actually appeared on the ballot.

The remaining nine senate positions apportioned to the graduate class were voted into office by the "write-in" method, by which their names were added to the official ballot.

The offices of graduate secretary and reporter were also named by the "write-in" method as no one officially filed to run for these positions.

'Teeth' Play Adds Two Performances

Two additional performances have been added to the Oct. 18-24 run of "The Skin of Our Teeth," first play of the semester to be presented by the Speech Department.

A 2 p.m. matinee will be presented Sunday, Oct. 22. A performance at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 24 has also been scheduled with the regular 8 p.m. performance.

A student or faculty member wanting tickets may go to the University Playhouse box office in the Speech-Drama building, present his Forum Arts card and obtain a reserved seat ticket for the performance he wishes to attend.

Individuals should do this "preferably a day in advance so that we can accommodate everyone in the theater," according to Grady James, Business Manager, University Playhouse.

City Ups Gas Rates, Tables Zoning

By Jim Stanford

The Commerce City Commission Tuesday night granted a raise in gas rates, increase pay of police dispatchers from $200 to $300 a month, and tabled a controversial business zoning request for the 1500 block, on Live Oak Street.

Jack Dickerson, city manager, told the commission that the dispatchers were working about 200 hours per month and that their salaries were about $100 below that paid by other area law enforcement agencies for similar duties. The vote was unanimous.

The gas rate increase to Lone Star Gas Co. had been requested in order to recoup a deficit of $12,374 reported by Lone Star Gas. The increase will mean about 38 cents increase to the average residential customer in Commerce.

The commissioners authorized the issuance of $775,000 in general obligation refunding bonds to replace a like amount of outstanding certificates of obligation to save $277,908 in interest charges. The original bonds were issued in March 1972 to pay for a contract for the acquisition and installation of electric generating equipment and acquisition and installation of an emergency water pipeline. The general obligation bonds will reach full maturity in 1995 and will be issued in the amount of $5,000 each.

Bids were opened for a contract on remodeling the old post office for use as the city library; however, the library committee said that even the lowest bid was too high. The low bid was submitted by Charles H. Berry, general contractors. Berry bid $25,552 with a completion time of 70 calendar days. The library committee will meet on Oct. 5 to reevaluate requirements.

The rezoning question brought before the commission had been referred by the planning and zoning commission after hearings during the summer in which the zoning commission refused to recommend approval of a petition for a zone change from residential to general business.

Property owners who own land on the north side of the 1500 block of Live Oak Street had petitioned to have the zoning changed from residential to general business.

W. Y. Goff, owner of a corner lot on Live Oak and Monroe, said that the block facing Live Oak consisted of a vacant lot, a doctor's office and two deteriorating houses and that they faced a general business area on the south side of Live Oak.

"We have no choice," Goff said, "We can't build anything on that north side which will bring any revenue into the city because we were zoned residential property only."

Goff said, "We have no secret plans, we are just trying to get ourselves in a position so that if something comes along that would be worthwhile to us, the community and neighborhood we would be in a position to act."

Jess Hawthorne, 1510 Ash, said that if the petitioners would request neighborhood service zoning, the other property owners in the area would agree to it. He pointed out that the zoning commission, in turning down the request, had suggested the petitioners reapply for neighborhood zoning.

Hawthorne said that neighborhood service zoning allows for almost every kind of business allowed in general business zoning. Hawthorne told the city commissioners, "I can't see anything else on this list which will offer much more profit except something that would be a detriment to our community. If you think

Homecoming To Include McDowell Inauguration

ET will inaugurate F. H. (Bub) McDowell as its seventh president during the annual Homecoming celebration Saturday, Oct. 28.

The inauguration ceremony at 10 a.m. in the University Auditorium will be followed by an inauguration luncheon from 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. in the University Field House.

Kickoff for the Homecoming game—a Lone Star Conference clash between ETSU and Southwest Texas State University—will be at 2 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. An inaugural reception will follow the game in the Student Center.

During the morning ceremony, Thomas B. Steely, Paris, Tex., vice chairman of the Board of Regents, will deliver the inaugural address, and Regent Chairman W. Garland Button, Dallas, will officially install the new president. Dr. Otha C. Spencer, journalism and graphic arts faculty, will preside over the inauguration, and Dr. David C. Butler, retired ETSU faculty member, will give the invocation.

The platform party will include the ETSU regents; two former ETSU presidents, Dr. Arthur C. Ferguson and Dr. James G. Gee; inauguration officials; ETSU's three vice presidents; and the deans of the university's four colleges and Graduate School.

McDowell is only the seventh administrator to head ETSU since its founding in 1889 as East Texas Normal College by its first president, William Leonidas Mayo. The new president holds two degrees from ETSU and has served under four ETSU presidents since beginning his career at the university in 1938 as assistant business manager.

During the inaugural ceremony, ETSU's library will be dedicated as the James Gilliam Gee Library in the presence of the university's fifth president for whom it was named.

In addition to Dr. Gee, President McDowell also served under ETSU's third president, Dr. Sam H. Whitley; its fourth president, Dr. Ferguson; and its sixth president Dr. D. Whitney Halladay.

McDowell advanced from assistant business manager to chief fiscal officer in 1951, to comptroller in 1966, to vice president for administration in 1968. He was unanimously elected as the seventh president by the Board of Regents on May 12 when Dr. Halladay resigned to become president of Texas A&I University at Corpus Christi.

McDowell and the university's regents said they chose Homecoming Day for the inauguration so that many of the alumni and friends of ETSU who might not be able to attend otherwise could be present.

Houston for 11 years and also worked for B&J Sales Co. in Dallas as a store manager for 7 years.

He was a member of the First Christian Church since childhood. Other organizations to which he belonged are the Commerce Masonic Bodies, the Commandery and the Hella Temple Shrine of Dallas.

EDITORIAL

A Motive Re-examined

"It doesn't matter who you vote for, just get out and vote!" Sound familiar? It's one of the oldest campaign ruses in the world, and a fairly well-meaning one at that. It at least makes the candidate using it look conscientious in the eyes of the voters. But it's not really that good. It doesn't say enough; it's too idealistic. You know as well as I do that it does matter who you vote for.

There were a lot of people interested in this week's student election, people interested enough to make their names, platforms and opinions known prior to the election so that equally interested voters would have added basis for informed, intelligent voting.

They were also genuinely concerned to the point that they would willingly concede their places to other candidates in the event of their defeat, provided that they could feel assured that the winners exhibited the same interest, knowledge and enthusiasm which they, the losers, felt for student government.

It's been suggested that the list passed out by this group who called themselves "progressives" was detrimental to their cause, giving voters the impression that they desired a block vote. I don't think that this was their intention at all, and it's too bad that the effort came across like it did. But that's not the point.

The point is that if some of the voters had such a negative reaction to the prospect of a block vote FOR progressives, why then did they block vote AGAINST them? Now this isn't true in the case of every class, but it does have the earmarks of some intensive (and last minute) organization against the group. The fact that one ballot had a majority of write-in winners shows just how effective such organization is in politics. Somebody obviously felt pretty threatened . . .

Now I'll be eating a lot of crow if the senate jumps right into a smoothly functioning state of affairs with the personnel elected Tuesday (although there have already been six students enjoined from holding offices, one class election recalled and a run-off required in another), and I'll be more than glad to do it if it would mean some positive action in student government this semester. And I think I can safely say that all the defeated candidates would agree with me. And, too, who can be sure that they were the best choices for the job after all.

Still, I have my reservations about the whole thing. It has undertones of votes made AGAINST rather than FOR. Motive is still at stake, and what kind of a motive is that? And the reasons behind it? Are they any more noble?

I hope so; I hope the impression I get of the situation is wrong. I hope you, whoever and how few you may be, haven't sacrificed a chance for an effective student government just to fulfill some personal vindication or gratification, leaders and followers both. I sincerely hope you haven't perpetuated the ineffectuality of the senate for whatever reasons. I hope you haven't cut your own throats.

Armstrong Recital Set Oct. 9

The Music Department will present Richard R. Armstrong, music faculty, in a voice recital at 8:15 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 9, in the Concert Hall of the Music Building.

Armstrong will be accompanied by Mrs. Curtis Pope on piano and harpsicord.

The first section of the recital, Armstrong said, will be "Herr nun lasst du deinen Diener," a solo cantata by Dietrich Buxtehude. Armstrong will be accompanied on this number by Ulrich Bauman, violin, William Rees, flute, and Thomas Seay, bassoon.

The second section of the recital will consist of a cycle of love songs by Antonin Dvorak, Armstrong said.

The last group of songs will be French operatic arias and will include "Elle ne croyait pas" from the opera "Mignon," by Ambroise Thomas, "Salut! demeure chaste et pure," from the opera "Faust," by Charles Gounod, and "Vainement, ma bien-aimée," from the opera "Le Roi d'Ys" by Edouard Lalo.

Armstrong said that the three operatic styles include Comique, Tragique, and Lyrique, and that he was particularly anxious to do a group of songs from the French opera Lyrique style.

Armstrong, who is working on his doctorate from the University of Southern Mississippi, received his M.A. at Catholic University of America and his B.A. from the University of Alabama. He sang with the Washington D.C. Opera Society from 1958 to 1962 and was in the Army Chorus for four years.

Plucker To Give Report

Frank Plucker, Commerce graduate, will present a research report on "Arsenic in an Agricultural Community" to the Texas Geochemistry Group meeting Oct. 6 and 7, at the University of Texas Marine Science Institute in Port Aransas.

The paper is co-authored by Dr. Moses Attrep, chemistry faculty, Stuart Tribble, Stamps, Ark., graduate, and Wes Eford, Texarkana graduate.

The research has been conducted over the past two and one half years by Dr. Attrep's research group investigating group arsenic in air, soils and water samples of this area.

Wilson To Display

James Wilson, Fort Worth graduate, will be displaying his multimedia show in the Little Gallery of the Art Building this week and part of next week.

The show is a sculpture composed of a screen responding to taped music.

Benefits Plan Book Required

Gee Library has acquired a copy of Benefit Plans in the American Colleges by William C. Greenough and Francis P. King, according to Donald Kerr, head, catalog department.

Published by Columbia University

Press in 1969, the book offers a brief history of college staff benefit planning, and a careful discussion of the philosophy of benefit plans appropriate to the purposes and goals of educational institutions. Also included is statistical information on the benefit plans now in effect in institutions of higher learning.

The volume is located in the reference services department (Ref. LB-2334.G72).

Acquisitions Buys Books

The function of the acquisitions department of the Gee Library is to acquire books for the library and the university community, according to Arthur Hendrix, head of acquisitions.

Hendrix said that the department purchases books that are not issued on a continuous basis, and is restricted to purchasing books that are printed in English.

A library committee allocates funds to each of the library's departments for new publications. The departments then submit their request to acquisitions. Utilizing a computerized ordering system, acquisitions purchases books through a state contractor that contracts for all state institutions. Medical, foreign and law books require a separate contractor. Books not available through a contractor are obtained from other sources.

He said the department uses its allocations internally to fill any gaps that may exist in a set or series of publications.

The largest single purchase made by the department was a $20,000 microfilm collection of the American Civilization series.

The department also assists organizations in obtaining materials and publications. The department is currently trying to get materials for the George Jackson Memorial Cultural Center.

Scientist To Explain 'Interstellar Smog'

Dr. George H. Herbig of the University of California will deliver an address on "Interstellar Smog" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 18, in Room S-138 of the Hall of Sciences.

Dr. Herbig comes to ET through the Society of the Sigma Xi and its affiliated society, the Scientific Research Society of America.

According to the professor, interstellar space contains scattered clouds of dust and gas that are the birthplaces of new stars. He notes that recent developments in molecular astronomy have given new insights into the role interstellar smog has played in stellar and galactic evolution.

Born in Wheeling, W.Va., Dr. Herbig received his A.B. from the University of California at Los Angeles and his Ph.D. from the University of California at Berkeley.

The astronomer has been a staff member of Lick Observatory since 1949 and professor of astronomy and astrophysics/astronomer there since 1966.

He is a member of the International Astronomical Union, the American Astronomical Society, the National Academy of Sciences, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a foreign scientific member of the Max Planck Institut fur Astronomie (Heidelberg).

LEEP Aids Lawmen at ET

More than 80 area law enforcement officers are enrolled in courses at ET and receiving loans or grants under the Law Enforcement Education Program.

According to Miss Dana Johnson in the Financial Aids Office, these law enforcement officers are in the ETSU Security force, Commerce police, other city police forces, or the Highway Patrol.

Under the LEEP program full-time employees of publicly funded police, correction agencies or the courts who are enrolled either full or part-time are eligible for up to $300 per semester depending on their tuition and fees.

According to a pamphlet from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration these loans or grants may be used to study any subject that would improve an officers "ability to perform his current job or a prospective job in his law enforcement agency." However, the program of study must be approved by an official of the officer's law enforcement agency.

LEEP grants require that the officer sign a promissory note agreeing to return to his employing law enforcement agency for two years. If he fails to honor this commitment, he must repay the full amount of the grant.

Loans under the LEEP program are cancelled at the rate of 25 percent per year of service in law enforcement.

LEEP recipients are eligible for other programs of financial aid, said Miss Johnson, because the LEEP funds "aren't enough to pay for everything, but they help."

CVAE Offers Certificate

A provisional teacher certificate is now available through the Coordinated Vocational Academic Education program to anyone with five years experience and a high school diploma or equivalent certificate, according to Dr. Webb Jones, secondary and higher education faculty.

Each applicant for the certificate must attend two consecutive summer terms to take training courses.

If a student is presently enrolled at ET and has two years work experience in a special field of work he could possibly find a job upon graduation.

Many of the persons in the program have never been to college and half of them are craftsmen, said Dr. Jones.

Putnam Listed in Directory

A biographical sketch of Dr. Howard Putnam, sociology and anthropology faculty, will appear in the next issue of "Contemporary Authors," a book described as a "bi-bibliographical guide to current authors and their works."

The Equivalent Of 7 Hiroshima A-Bombs Are Being Dropped On Indochina Each And Every Month

And that's after six years of protest!

Explosives equal to 420 Hiroshima A-bombs have already been dropped on Vietnam.

Millions of men, women and children have been killed, maimed or left homeless as a result of the bombing.

—and this is what President Nixon calls a policy of "great restraint"!

He tells us he is winding down the war — and then says that unless North Vietnam accepts his terms, there will be no reduction of the bombing. (As a matter of fact, there will probably be a further escalation.)

"Those who have had a chance for four years and could not produce peace, should not be given another chance," Nixon, October 9, 1968.

On this October 9th, it will be four years. Can our conscience stand the guilt of another four years of this kind of immorality under Richard Nixon?

What are the justifications we are given for this wasting of Vietnam and its people? To protect the people of South Vietnam from communism? To maintain democracy?

The regime we are defending suspends elections, muzzles the press, jails and tortures its political opponents. The people we are supposed to be saving are being systematically killed.

To the survivors, our fight to contain communism in Southeast Asia (at the same time that we are making business deals with communist countries) can only be viewed as hypocritical fanaticism, indistinguishable from that which we have sworn to oppose.

Even as the bombing and killing have been escalated, most Americans appear to have tuned out on what's happening in Indochina. The Nixon Administration is counting on the American conscience to care only about U.S. casualties, not about the lives of Vietnamese.

Do we really not care about the people we kill?

Americans will not always be able to ignore the consequences of our actions. We will be asked: How could it happen? Where were you? What did you do?

Just protesting is not enough.

Voting your conscience is not enough.

Your dollars are crucial. Your dollars can stop the killing. Make it possible for George McGovern to awaken the people before November 7.

President McGovern would end the war.

People of conscience must make this final sacrifice: contribute your utmost!

This is our last chance to make a difference.

Dear Senator McGovern:

PO 195

I too feel compelled to do my utmost to end the war in Vietnam — and I know that requires the sacrificial giving of dollars to help you awaken every American. Enclosed is my contribution of $25 (or the closest to that figure I can manage).

Peace.

LSC ROUNDUP

Johnson Top LSC Player

At 6-2 and 240 pounds, ET's LeRoy Johnson isn't the person to pick a fight with in a lonely dark alley. Howard Payne's quarterback Alex Williams must have felt as if he had made Johnson mad Saturday night, although all the action occurred on a brightly lighted football field before 8,000 spectators.

In the process of making Lone Star Conference "Defensive Player of the Week," Johnson had nine unassisted tackles, four assists and one fumble recovery. He also had four clean "drops" of Williams as he dropped back to pass in ET's 35-15 upset win over the Yellow Jackets.

Johnson, a tackle on ET's "Blue Gang" defensive unit, came to ET this year, via Corsicana High School and Navarro Junior College.

Angelo State's Jerry Austin, the LSC's rushing leader in 1970 and 1971, was named "Offensive Player of the Week" for his effort in the Rams' 28-7 win over Tarleton. Austin churned for 174 yards on 27 carries, including two touchdowns. He had missed Angelo's first two games of the season and saw only limited action in the Southwest Texas game a week ago.

Opponents know the "Blue Gang" is tough and stingy in giving out yardage and the Lone Star Conference statistics prove them right.

ET is either first or second in every defensive category, and, contrary to what some pre-season polls indicated, the offense is first or second in every team category, too.

In total defense, the Lions lead the LSC, limiting opponents to only 192.5 yards-per-game. Second-place A&I has allowed opponents 226.5 yards-per-game.

In team rush defense, ET is rated first, allowing 112.5 yards-per-game, while the Lions are second in team pass defense, giving up 80 yards-per-game. SFA is first in the pass defense category, allowing only 61.5 yards-per-game.

On the offensive ledger, ET is second in total team offense, averaging 356 yards-per-game, while first place Angelo averages 404 yards-per-game. Averaging 221.8 yards-per-game rushing and 134.2 passing, the Lions hold second place in rushing offense and passing offense, respectively. Angelo, with 297.5 yards-per-game, tops the LSC in rushing, while SFA, with 163.7 yards-per-game, leads in the passing category.

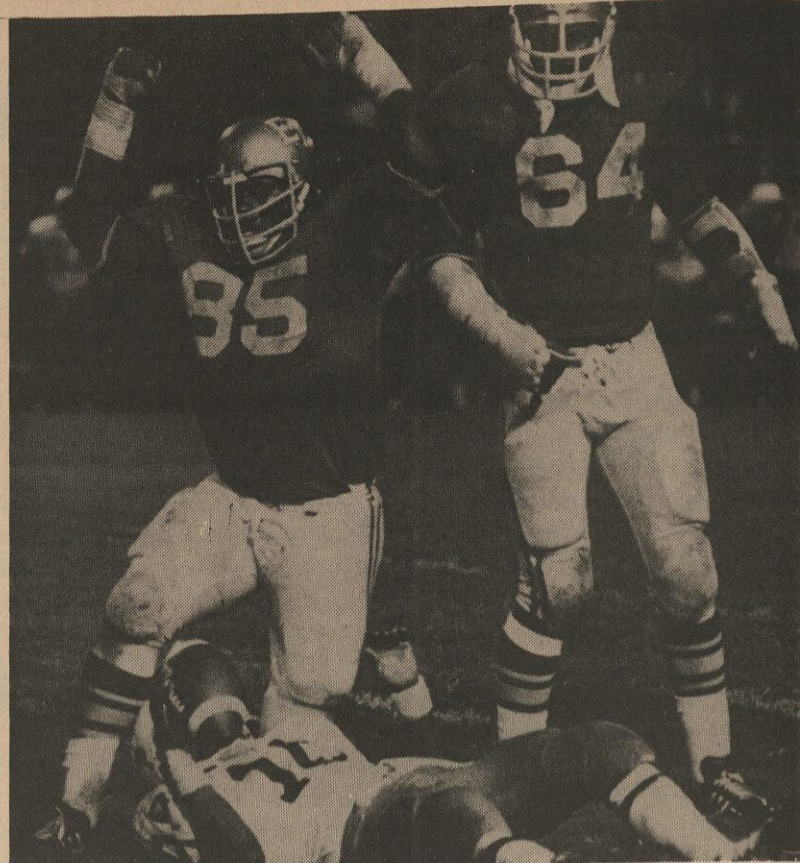

Tarleton State's Alfred Knox and Angelo's Charley Franklin are fighting it out for the individual rushing leadership. Knox has picked up 442 yards on 71 carries in four games, while Franklin has netted 436 in 66 carries in four games. ET's Parks ranks sixth, with 341 yards in 61 carries.

SWT's Noe Gonzalez and SR's Larry Cottrell share the individual total offense lead, each averaging 176 yards per-game in three contests. ET's Cureton is third, with an average of 125 yards-per-game in four games.

Slice has almost twice as many catches as his closest rival in the pass receiving department. His 20 catches have been good for 262 yards and three TDs. SFA's Roland Lytle is second, with 11 catches for 95 yards.

SFA's Steve Spearman and Will Cureton rank No. 1 and 2 in individual passing stats. Spearman has averaged 127.5 yards per game, completing 23 of 62, while Cureton has a 126.5 average, with 41 of 89 completed. Spearman has thrown three interceptions and Cureton, six.

LeROY "NOONIE" JOHNSON had some night against Howard Payne last Saturday. Johnson demonstrates the joy of dumping quarterback Alex Williams for a loss. The 6-2 and 230-pound defensive tackle had nine unassisted tackles and one fumble recovery. For his performance Johnson earned the LSC "defensive player of the week."

A&I Poses Tough Test for Lions

By Ken Brazzle

If the Texas A&I Javelinas unleash their potential and expectations this weekend, it could turn out to be a tough football game for the ET Lions.

The game is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 7, in Memorial Stadium. A&I leads the series between the two teams, 12-7-1.

Javelina head coach Gil Steinke said that this year's club is not the best he has coached but things are beginning to shape up. "We are shaping up a little bit, but we still haven't reached our potential. We've made too many mistakes. The team has been winning, but it's not a solid ball club yet. The real test should come this weekend," Steinke said.

"Potentially they are as good as any team A&I has had. Right now they are playing young inexperienced players, so they haven't reached their peak," ET head coach Ernest Hawkins indicated.

Although the Javelinas haven't reached their full potential, the team has fared well enough to post a 3-1 record for the season and 1-0 in conference competition.

Steinke said that offensively there have been some problems on his squad. "We have had several of our quarterbacks hurt. Marion Danna, our quarterback last season, has an ankle injury. Mike Morrison, a sophomore, is doing about as good of job as expected for a young player. We haven't been able to be consistent."

One of the big players on offense for the Javelinas this season has been Ruford Huff. Huff, 5-9 and 175-pound halfback, is averaging 88 yards-per-game. He has picked up 353 yards for the year. Clarence Alberts and Henry Glenn are also among the leaders in individual rushing standings.

Split end Jerrald Taylor, who is listed as the No. 3 receiver in the conference, could be a man to watch, although Steinke indicated that his team's passing game hasn't been effective this season. "We haven't been able to pass as effectively as I would like to, but I think that will improve, too," Steinke added.

If the A&I head mentor could place his finger on his team's success this season, chances are the defensive team would get the credit. The defense features two outstanding prospects in Ernest Price, 6-6 and 235-pound defensive end and Levi Johnson, 6-4 and 190-pound safety.

"Defense has been our most consistent play. We have relied on it and our kicking game in clutch situations. With ET's strong offensive team, we will see how strong our defense really is," Steinke said.

Hawkins countered, "Up to now, A&I will be probably the best defensive team we have faced. This bunch lines up on the line and physically whips you. They are big and quick. They play good technique and are hard to block."

After a 35-15 victory over Howard Payne, Hawkins said that practices haven't been up to par. "Our players are in somewhat of a letdown. They are not working as hard as last week. If we don't perk up, we could be in for a tough time."

ET showed signs of offensive spark last week in its upset victory over HP. The Lions had two drives of 86 yards in the contest. This prompted Hawkins to say, "We didn't make the mistakes that we have been making, and it was definitely an improvement on the part of our offensive team."

Like all the other opposing coaches who have watched ET this season, Steinke was impressed with the Lions' size and experience.

"ET's size and experience is solid. The offense is pretty well-balanced between the running and passing game. They have an outstanding team," Steinke said.

By Kenneth Durham

The Soul Striders scored their fifth straight shutout Monday with a 27-0 victory over Baptist Student Union.

Al Lawton passed 30 yards to Arthur Cook for the Striders' first score and then to Ronald Clark for the PAT. Late in the second quarter, Lawton threw an 11-yard TD pass to Samuel McClellan, and Cook added the PAT.

James Hatley's 30-yard run and Lawton's nine-yard gallop wrapped up the scoring for the Striders. Clark made the PAT.

Horns 32, KA Pledges 0

The Horns stamped the KA Pledges, 32-0, Monday night.

Cary McDonald scored twice for the Horns on pass receptions of 10 and 20-yards from quarterback Darrell Penny.

Halfback Terry Hedrick scored on runs of 20 and five yards, while Billy Barrett tacked on the last TD on a 32-yard pass interception.—JIM ANDREWS

Delta Sigs 15, West Hall 12

Delta Sigs squeezed past West Hall, 15-12, Monday night in intramural football.

Quarterback Bill Lawler tossed a 40-yard touchdown pass to Dan Walls for Delta Sigs' first TD. Delta Sigs came right back to score on a safety. West Hall took the lead in the third period, as Danny Hunt scored on a 45-yard run and a 20-yard pass play. Both PATs failed.

Delta Sigs scored in the final period, when Walls connected with split end Billy Roberts on an 80-yard pass. The PAT was good.—IKE WILLIAMS

Brand X 6, Hubbell 0

Brand X scored on a 65-yard touchdown bomb in the first quarter from quarterback Rich Wagner to Mike Bomar and, after the PAT failed, put up a stingy defense the remainder of the game to shut out Hubbell Hall Monday night, 6-0.—DAVID CLARK

Sikes 6, Berry 0

Sikes Hall ran its string of wins to five Monday night with a 6-0 shut-out over Berry Hall.

The only score came in the third period, when wide receiver Freddy Johnson caught a 25-yard touchdown pass.

Sigma Chi Trips Sig Eps

By Ike Williams

Sigma Chi defeated Sig Eps 13-0 Tuesday night to take over sole possession of second place in the fraternity division of intramural football.

The first half was unproductive for both teams as defense prevailed. Sigma Chi did manage to mount a threat on the Sig Eps' five-yard line, but the Sig Eps' defense stiffened.

Larry Westerfield broke the ice in the final period, when he ran in from 20 yards. Jerry Rider also scored with 15 seconds remaining in the contest. Keith Cargill passed to Mark Rice for the extra point.

AGR Forfeits

Alpha Gamma Rho forfeited its game with Lambda Chi Tuesday night.

AGR's record now stands at 0-5. Lambda Chi upped its record to 2-3 for the season.

KAs 33, Pi Kapps 0

Frank Fireneno fired two touchdown passes and ran for two more to lead Kappa Alpha to a 33-0 pounding over Pi Kappa Phi Tuesday night.

Early in the first period, Fireneno connected with Terry Davis on a 25-yard pass for the first score. The second TD came on a 13-yard pass from Mark Anglin to Drew Barrett, which was set up by a Larry Scott interception.

Fireneno accounted for two more touchdowns in the second period, when he threw a 20-yard pass to Ken Little and ran in from two yards on a quarterback keeper.

After a scoreless third quarter, the KAs scored a safety on a bad snap from center that went out of the end zone. Fireneno scrambled six yards for the final TD. The extra point attempt was good, as Anglin passed to Little.—JENNIE SARTAIN

Delts 32, Delta Chi 13

Delta Tau Delta won its second game of the season with a 32-13 victory at the expense of Delta Chi.

Delts' quarterback Murray England tossed for three touchdowns and two extra points, while running the ball in twice to score. England connected with James Wagoner for two TDs and with Larry Travis for one.

Delta Chi's touchdowns came on passes from quarterback Alan Everett to Ben Clayton.—SAM WALKER

60 Costume Changes Required

By Jan Ward

Costume changes, approximately 60, are the order of the day for the cast of "The Skin of Our Teeth."

The problem of coordinating these costume changes belongs to Kay Butler, speech-drama faculty and instructor in costuming.

"The Skin of Our Teeth," is also a Forum Arts program, and will run Oct. 18-24 in the University Playhouse. Performances are at 8 p.m. with a 2 p.m. matinee Sunday, Oct. 22 and an additional 1:30 p.m. performance Tuesday, Oct. 24. Reserved seat tickets for the play may be obtained from the University Playhouse box office in the Speech-Drama Building.

"Costuming should be a visual statement of what the play is trying to convey," said Mrs. Butler. "We're going to try not to reproduce 'The Skin of Our Teeth' exactly as it was on Broadway. We want to use our own creativity," she said.

Mrs. Butler is also utilizing her costume class to help design the costumes. "Basically, my students are doing the designing and the work," she said. "This is the first time in years that the Speech-Drama Department has offered a class in costuming. It's been a learning experience for myself as well as the class," said Mrs. Butler.

The second act of the play, according to Mrs. Butler, "Will be a costume spectacular. A modern-day Sodom and Gomorrah is represented by lots of color, action and dazzle," she said.

"A lot of teamwork is required for a big production like this," she stressed. "So much has to be accomplished in such a short amount of time that it couldn't possibly be done without hard work and dedication," she said.

Mrs. Butler has been at ET since 1965 when she began work on a M.A. degree. She received her M.A. and worked as a part-time faculty member for four years. She is now a full-time faculty member.

Senate Sets Committee,

By Gordon Davis

In first Student Senate action Wednesday, Oct. 4, following Tuesday's general election, Senior Senator Tracey Wolfe was named president pro-tem, United Student President Ron Daloia's cabinet was approved and a temporary Rules and Judiciary Committee was appointed to consider Supreme Court vacancies.

Sven sophomore class senators, two senior senators and four graduate senators were not permitted to take the oath of office administered Wednesday night because of separate controversies involving their appointment.

The sophomore senators were not sworn into office because the name of Richard Kincy, senatorial candidate, was misspelled on the ballot, which will justify another vote for the sophomore positions.

Lonnie Tucker, Ed Garcia, Bob Walker, Janna Green, Bahram Nouyan and Libbey Williams, accused of excessive absences in last year's Senate, were not permitted to take an oath of office until the Election Commission checks into the legality of their holding office.

The appointment of Robert Mansker as graduate senator has been questioned by the commission because of the recent rulings by the ET Supreme Court forbidding him from holding office.

Senators appointed to the temporary Rules and Judiciary Committee included Tracey Wolfe, Reba Graham, Cactus McGirk, Becky Conklin, Raoul Halaby, George Shef-

Knight Earns 100 Points At TCU Debate Tourney

David Knight, Sulphur Springs freshman at ET, was one of four speakers to receive 100 speaker points at the Texas Christian University Debate Tournament, Saturday, Sept. 30, in Fort Worth, according to Dr. C. L. Farr, speech faculty.

Two teams represented ET. They were Wayne Floyd, senior, and Lee Everett, junior, first team; David Knight, freshman, and Duane Peck, sophomore, second team.

Dr. Farr said that there were more than 70 participants and Knight was one of four speakers who received 100 points for excellence in speaking.

Knight also was recognized in an assembly of all contestants.

fler, Carol Bandt, Danny Reid and Kristi Waters.

The committee, which will report its findings at the Oct. 11 Senate meeting, will consider the appointment of Kurt Strenge, James Beaudry, Ken Johnson and Lenere Kuhn Jr. to the ET Supreme Court.

Graduate Senator John Grattan was the only senator absent from the Oct. 4 meeting.

The Senate approved the following cabinet appointments: Ed Garcia, secretary of academic affairs; Eleanor Harrison, attorney-general; Debbie Fink, secretary of public relations; Constantino Armas Jr., secretary of research; Dave Roland, secretary of organizational affairs; Barbara Eirhenhart, secretary of leadership; and Vicki Palmar, comptroller.

A run-off election will be held Thursday, Oct. 12, for Richard Grives, Pam Bunford and Pam Schellenberg to determine two freshman senate vacancies.

Senate President Gary Stretcher postponed the appointment of Senate standing committees until Senate elections are completed.

COMMISSION . . .

Commerce needs that type of business out there, I'd like to tell you something about your responsibility."

Mayor Thomas Young said that since Commissioner Eddie Moore was not present, the commission would table the matter "for the time being." The commission did not set a date for another hearing on the matter.

The commission did call, however, for a public hearing on a similar request regarding the 1600 block of Live Oak on which the zoning board on Sept. 28 could not agree. The hearing is set for Nov. 7.

City Tax Assessor Claude Sturgeon, reported that tax rolls are being updated and that the 1972 tax rolls show a total of $18,351,908 of assessed property.

Sturgeon said that the 1971 rolls reflected a rendition of $16,579,927. He said that by counting only the new building permits, the city had added $979,356 to the tax rolls but that during the updating of records kept by the city, $719,625 had been added by finding property not previously listed on the rolls.

Sturgeon said that this increase will probably eliminate the need for a tax increase next year.

Business Policy 439 To Be Required

Management 439, a business-policy course offered by the School of Business, will be required for all business majors next fall, according to Dr. Robert E. Holmes, assistant dean of business. The course has been required only for management and marketing majors, Holmes said.

Holmes attended the Business-Policy Workshop Conference at the University of Georgia in Athens Sept. 20-22. The reason for the conference was to improve techniques for teaching the course because more and more universities require it and to find ways to better coordinate information gathered between all disciplines of the business department, Holmes explained.

The present course is divided into two divisions; a case study and a management simulation game. A case study involves an actual written financial and managerial description of a company's history. In management simulation students are divided into teams and participate in managing the simulated business by making decisions regarding its operation. These decisions are then punched onto IBM cards and are processed with a computer program. As a result students receive a computer print-out showing the financial status of their firm.

A possible addition to the required course, Holmes added, is that "students may be required to contact area businesses to find out what problems they are encountering then suggest ways to improve them." Holmes continued, "but it isn't certain at this time that the addition will be added."
