Meal Schedule Changed

A change in meal times for Saturday, Dec. 9, was announced by Bill Smith, senior director of dining services. Breakfast will be served from 7:45 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. Lunch will be served from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and dinner will be served at the regular time, 4:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Classes will be dismissed at 11 a.m. Saturday to allow time for students to eat before the ET-Carson-Newman Championship game at noon.

COMMUNICATIONS GAP

Madge chides father and son for not communicating in the ET production of "Philadelphia, Here I Come" which opened Wednesday night and will run through Dec. 12. Pictured are (left to right) Grady James, Sherman graduate student, who plays Gareth O'Donnell; Nancy Jessee, Paris senior, as Madge; and Oscar Garza, Commerce graduate student, as S. B. O'Donnell. ## SAB Center Decorating

Party Scheduled Today

The Community Relations Committee of the Student Activities Board will sponsor a Christmas decorating party from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. today in the Student Center, according to George Maguire, program director at the Center.

Hot chocolate, coffee and Christmas pastries will be served to those students helping with decorating the Center.

According to Maguire, the decorating party has become an annual event of the Student Center.

The decorating party was originally scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 9, but was moved up one day so that it would not conflict with the ET-Carson-Newman game.

Carol Service Will Feature Combined Department Efforts

The 56th annual Carol Service will be at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 12, in the University Auditorium.

The service will begin with a professional in which the 300 participants, singing "O Come All Ye Faithful," will enter with lighted candles. The Commerce Elementary Choir,

NAIA Reception, Dance

To Be Hosted by Center

The Student Center will host a reception and dance Saturday, Dec. 9, in coordination with the ET-Carson-Newman game for the NAIA title here.

From 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. the Center will host a National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Reception in the Founder's Lounge. Visitors to the campus, students and faculty members are invited to attend the reception, according to George Maguire, program director of the Student Center.

A dance will be held from 8 p.m. until 12 p.m. in the American Ballroom of the Student Center. The group that will be playing for the dance has not been announced.

Consultant Says Schools Should View Adolescents Differently

By Janette Chenault and Bob Stewart

The adolescent should be looked at in a new way, according to Thomas A. Fitzgerald, social studies consultant at the Aurora (Colo.) Public Schools.

Fitzgerald showed the film, "The Invention of the Adolescent" and asked a Tuesday, Dec. 5, afternoon Forum Arts audience to gather into groups of four or five to discuss three questions that he felt the film raised.

The questions were: Do schools shelter children from the realities of life (birth, death and human sexuality); do some young people drop out of society or are they pushed out by adults; what can the schools do about these problems?

One idea put forth by the audience was that more community-related programs should be sponsored through the schools. Through field trips, the student could become more involved in the mechanics of business, one member of the audience said.

Concepts, such as government, philosophy and sociology, should be taken out of the conceptual stage into something students can grasp and work on, another student said.

directed by Mrs. Linda Acker, will echo "Adeste Fidelis" from the balcony of the auditorium.

The guest choirs for the service include the John Tyler High School Choir, directed by Herbert F. Coursey; the Marshall High School Choir, directed by Michael Brock; and the Paris High School Choir, directed by Patrick Dillon.

"The Childhood of Christ," a Christmas cantata by J. S. Bach, will be performed by the ETSU choir, orchestra and dancers. The orchestra and choir will perform the music while the University Dancers interpret the traditional Christmas story.

David Rigney, speech faculty, will read the Christmas Story, according to St. Luke, and Mike Trussell, Cleburne senior, will sing "O Holy Night."

The University Brass Choir, conducted by Conrad Baushka, music faculty, will play Christmas music before the service, and John Burkett, music faculty will play organ preludes.

The Carol Service will be coordinated and conducted by Richard R. Armstrong, music faculty.

Another idea put forth by the audience was that greater responsibility for children's education should be returned to the parent and that education should not be decreased, but more diversified.

Fitzgerald summed up audience responses in three points: That schools should promote a feeling of trust, should seek a greater feeling of divergence and should avoid the paternalistic attitude taken toward students at all levels.

The film was the different role the adolescent is assuming in society today. According to the film, children of the 16th century were active-

639 Apply For Degrees

By Gordon Davis

A total of 639 students are candidates for degrees at commencement exercises to be held at 10 a.m. Friday, Dec. 22, in the University Auditorium.

The graduation ceremony will be the last of a number of activities scheduled to take place before the semester officially closes on Friday, Dec. 22.

A Christmas decorating party and craft class, a dance, coffeehouse performances, review week and final exams are among the activities planned before the semester's close.

The week of Dec. 11-15 has been designated by the University as review week. Final exams will begin on Monday, Dec. 18, and will continue through Thursday, Dec. 21. Teachers grade reports will be due in the Records Office at 4 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 22.

The University dorms will close at 2 p.m. Friday, Dec. 22, and will reopen for the spring semester at 2 p.m. Monday, Jan. 8. The University cafeterias will serve the final meal of the semester at noon on Dec. 22.

Registration for the spring semester will begin at 7:30 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 13, and will conclude at noon on Saturday, Jan. 15. Orientation for new students will precede actual registration.

The library is scheduled to remain open during its regular hours through Thursday, Dec. 22, but on Dec. 22 will begin the following hours of operation: Dec. 22, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Dec. 26-29, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Jan. 2-5, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Jan. 8-12, 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Regular hours of operation will begin on Monday, Jan. 15.

The 639 candidates for graduation include 475 bachelor degree candidates, 157 master's degree candidates and seven doctoral degree candidates.

Last December 645 candidates filed for graduation.

The graduation ceremonies will include remarks to the graduates by ET president F. H. McDowell, with the invocation and benediction scheduled to be given by the Rev. Walter Lazenby, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Commerce.

Degrees will be presented to the candidates by Garland Button, chairman of the ET Board of Regents.

Candidates for doctor of education degrees are Algia G. Allen, Jon Derry Baker, Paul White Harris, George Allen Henry, Wadie Myrel Moore, John Durwood Phillips and Elvin Lee Sparks.

Christmas activities at the Student Center begin Friday, Dec. 9, when the Student Activities Board (SAB) sponsors a decorating party. George Maguire, program director of the Student Center, said that students are invited to decorate the Student Center. See DEGREES, Page 8

Faculty Senate Asks Remedial Requisites

The Faculty Senate in a quarterly meeting Tuesday approved a committee recommendation, to be sent to the university administration, requiring two groups of students to take Psychology 111 (developmental reading) and requiring two other groups to participate in special academic remedial programs.

Also recommended to the administration were proposals for a President's Honor Roll for students with 4.0 (all "A") averages, leaving the Dean's list for students with 3.25 to 3.99 averages, and the addition of Economics 230 to the list of acceptable courses in the behavioral science section of General Studies.

Required to take Psychology 111 would be early admission students with low entrance scores who are permitted to enroll during a special summer program and all students with Cooperative Reading Test scores in the lower 25 per cent.

Any student enrolling on scholastic probation or re-entering school following academic suspension would be required to submit to an evaluation and to participate in a study skills, tutorial or other remedial

Spring Special in Making

The January issue of the ETSU Special, student magazine, is scheduled to go on sale at Jan. 11 registration for the spring semester, according to Ralph Dice, editor.

Features to be included in the January Special will be advantages and disadvantages of the coed dorm, Berry Hall, the NAIA championship game, a photo essay on tarot cards, fortune-telling cards and wine making.

The Special will sell for 25 cents.

program. A student receiving a "D" or "F" mid-semester slip would report immediately to his faculty adviser for a conference and possible referral to special remedial programs.

A recommendation from the Graduate Council for implementing a new satisfactory - unsatisfactory grading option by combining "Q" and "W" grades to make room on computer-processed grade reports was sent to committee. The senate also approved candidates for graduation at Winter Commencement on Dec. 22.

City Commission Studies Annexation, Depository

The Commerce City Commission heard discussion Tuesday night, Dec. 5, on the annexation of 10 acres at the future site of the University Inn south of Commerce on Highway 50.

The commission also decided to negotiate with the First National Bank of Commerce for a two-year contract to authorize the bank as the city depository.

A public hearing to discuss the rezoning of A&P supermarket on Live Oak Street was set for Tuesday, Jan. 2.

A proposal was made to set up a $25 fee for exceptions to the zoning ordinance. This fee will cover the cost of certified mail and stationary.

The commission also passed resolutions authorizing City Manager Jack Dickerson to apply for a federal grant concerning the city sewer plant and to authorize bids for a new pickup truck for the water department.

During the discussion on the annexation of the University Inn, the possibility of water and sewage being run to the site was brought up. L. G. Dickson, spokesman for himself and the other three owners of the property, was asked by the commission to provide field notes for the commission to study so that the annexation ordinance could be presented at the next meeting of the commission.

Speech Tests Scheduled

Registration for the speech proficiency tests will be held in Room 101, Speech Building, beginning Monday, Jan. 15, until Friday, Jan. 19, 1973. The test, a requirement for entrance to the teacher training program, will be given from Monday, Jan. 22, through Friday, Jan. 26.

Security Gets 'Okay'

Of the many departments on the ET campus, few receive more criticism and less praise than the Department of Traffic Safety and Security.

The Security force is often looked upon with suspicion, dislike, anger and disrespect—most of it false and developed by rumor and hearsay.

Seemingly, there is some belief that Security is "out to get" students for a variety of unfounded reasons such as general attempts at student harrassment, filling ticket quotas and using ticketing to bring money into the department.

Nothing could be further from the truth. While Security personnel do give citations and handle police investigations (they are licensed Texas law enforcement officers), they also aid students and faculty in other capacities.

From Sept. 1 to Nov. 30, Security personnel made 737 motorist assists, starting stalled autos, retrieving locked-in keys and the like. They transported 47 people to the Infirmary, carried 87 others to various locations (the Commerce Hospital), made 20 miscellaneous service calls and delivered 18 emergency messages, all at no cost to those involved. Last year 1,162 motorist assists were made.

Much of the time these services are done in rain, cold and any undesirable weather when cars stall or require aid.

The Security Department has its faults, and some complaints are justifiable. But the staff and officers deserve a pat-on-the-back for the many beneficial duties they perform day-in and day-out.

They deserve some good words for a job well-done.

Reflections on Fall '72

We've finally made it to the end, but whether or not it has been in one piece is debatable. There hasn't been much "in-between" this semester.

Controversy raged and the factions squared off in a series of student government eruptions and Supreme Court cases concerning a revised student constitution. In spite of the schism, however, the Student Senate finally met and maintained a quorum.

The George Jackson Memorial Center sponsored a successful series of local services including a free breakfast program for Commerce children, pest control in the Norris community of Commerce and the diffusion of information about sickle cell anemia around the town and campus.

Reorganization brought the abolition of the deans of men and women and saw the substitution of the Office of Student Development. Later, Dean Roger L. Brooks, College of Liberal and Fine Arts, moved to the presidency of Howard Payne College; Dr. Frank Smyrl, history faculty, was this week named acting dean.

ET held inauguration services along with Homecoming '72 for the installation of its seventh president, F. Henderson McDowell. ET student voters echoed the trends of national and state balloting when Richard Nixon defeated Democratic candidate George McGovern in a landslide election.

Visitation privileges were extended in some dorms, not to mention the appearance of legal alcoholic beverages in others. Another first was the naming of Dr. Johnye Sturcken, English faculty, as dean of the Graduate School, the only woman in ET's history to hold the office.

Western Week and Sigma Chi Derby Day came off with no more than average casualties. Other odds weren't so commendable, as traffic accidents were responsible for the deaths of several ET students during the semester.

Ending on a good note though, the ET Lions have scored another first as they move into the final playoffs in the NAIA Championship this weekend here against Carson-Newman College from Jefferson City, Tenn. We have already held national titles in golf, tennis and basketball. The game is scheduled for noon Saturday, Dec. 9, in Memorial Stadium. Here's urging everyone to make it out there.

Saturday will pretty well wrap up the season, sports fans, and there will be one more edition of The East Texan (next Wednesday) to report the game. Have a fun, safe holiday and a good next semester.

As for me, this is where I came in . . .

New Course for Spring

American Fiction as History will be a new course offered at 3B this spring at ET, according to Dr. John Carrier, history faculty.

This course is jointly sponsored by the History and Literature-Languages departments and will be team-taught by Dr. Carrier and James W. Neatherlin, Literature-Languages faculty.

No prerequisites are necessary. The course will be listed as English-History 398.

"We are going to read novels such as 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' by Harriet Beecher Stowe, 'Huckleberry Finn' by Mark Twain, 'The Grapes of Wrath' by John Steinbeck and 'The Invisible Man' by Ralph Ellison," Dr. Carrier said. "We are going to try to combine literary values with historical ideas, information and interpretations."

Cinemedia To Star Hoffman

The Student Activities Board of the Student Center will feature the film, "Little Big Man," starring Dustin Hoffman and Chief Dan George, at 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10 in the American Ballroom. The movie is the story of a young man torn between his white heritage and the Indian way of life after spending years among the Indians. Admission is 50 cents.

Journalism Makeup Seminar Set

The film, "Mirror, Mirror On the World," will be shown at a J-100 journalism makeup seminar at 1:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11, and at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 12, in Room 104 of the Journalism Building. The film will also be shown at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 12, in Room 101 of the Journalism Building, according to Dr. E. S. Lorimor, seminar coordinator.

This will be the last J-100 makeup seminar offered this semester, according to Dr. Lorimor.

Ecology Article in Library

"Ecology Books in the 70's: a Critical Review" is the title of an article in the October 1972 issue of Choice, a book review journal. The article consists of annotations of recent publications dealing with ecology. A Gee Library count revealed that the library has 34 (44 per cent) of the 77 titles listed. The library is presently in the process of ordering highly recommended works which are not in the ETSU collection.

'Amigo' To Hold Pinata Party

"Project Amigo," ET Spanish student and faculty community service project, will hold a pinata party at Mrs. Eddie Smith's Kindergarten Play School at 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14, according to Dr. Margaret McClear, literature-languages faculty and director of the service project.

The project's purpose is to introduce Spanish to the kindergarten-age children who attend the school at the First Baptist Church. Dr. McClear and her students meet with the children 20 minutes daily and teach them Spanish songs and games. Dr. McClear said there has been a trend in the United States to introduce foreign languages to children at primary and elementary ages.

The United States is the only country in the world that considers a monolingual person to be educated, according to Dr. McClear. She said the younger one starts to learn a language, the more quickly and surely he or she will learn it.

"Project Amigo gives ET Spanish students a sense of purpose," Dr. McClear said. She said there are several possible plans for future service-teaching projects if this one proves to be successful.

Chem Papers To Be Presented

Six chemistry papers authored by ET chemistry faculty and students will be presented at the Southwest Regional Meeting of the American Chemical Society on Dec. 5-8 in Baton Rouge, La.

The papers include, "Geometric Isomers of 6-Phenyl-3, 5-Heptadiene-2-one" authored by Dr. Richard Clevenger, and Lawrence Puckett, Tyler graduate, and "Bond Energy Terms for Organosilicon - Nitrogen Compounds" by Dr. Dennis Quane.

A co-authored paper, "Mass Spectra of some Trithiocarbonates," by Dr. Larry Bone, and Douglas Carisle, who received a master's degree from ET in August, 1972, will also be presented.

"The Reaction of Methylmagnesium bromide with dimethyltrithio-carbonate" authored by Dr. S. L. Razniak, and Charles Cooper, who received a master's degree from ET in August, 1972, will be included in the papers to be presented.

Other papers to be presented include "The Radiochemical Separation of Copper from Natural Uranium" co-authored by Dr. Moses Atrep, and Larry Inglet, who received a bachelor's degree from ET in June and "Anation Reactions of Cobalt (III) Porphyrins" authored by Dr. Ken Ashley, Meirong Cheng, Taiwan graduate, and Miss Margot Berggren, Greenville graduate.

Groups Plan Xmas Activities

Gamma Phi Beta

Gamma Phi Beta, social sorority, will go Christmas caroling at Oak Manor Rest Home in Commerce Monday night, Dec. 11. Following will be a tree decorating party at 9 p.m. in the Gamma Phi house for members, pledges, and their dates. The "Big and Little Sister" Christmas party will be held Thursday night, Dec. 14, in the house.

Alpha Delta Pi

Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority, will go Christmas caroling at the Commerce rest homes Tuesday, Dec. 12, followed by the annual "Big and Little Sister" Christmas party in the ADPi house. On Friday, Dec. 15, the Alpha Delta Pi alumnae will have a formal dance at the Sand Hills Country Club in Commerce for the chapter and their dates.

Junior Panhellenic

Members of Junior Panhellenic will hold a Christmas party at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 13, in the Student Center. Attending will be the pledges of the seven sororities on campus.

BSU

The Baptist Student Union will host a caroling party for children of the Norris community at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11.

Members of the BSU will take the children to campus dormitories to carol.

A party will be held at the BSU following the caroling.

Persons interested in participating may contact the BSU at 1612 Lee St.

BSU

The Baptist Student Union choir is preparing a rock-opera called "Encounter," according to the Rev. Dean Mathis, director of the BSU.

The choir has already preformed the opera at churches in Greenville, Garland and Commerce.

According to the Rev. Mr. Mathis, the choir hopes to preform the opera on campus next semester.

Delta Sigma Theta

Delta Sigma Theta, social sorority, will hold its third annual Christmas Toy Benefit dance Saturday, Dec. 9, at the Riverside Village Clubhouse in Fort Worth.

Each person attending the dance has been asked to bring a toy, which will be given to the Crossroads Community Center in Dallas.

Circle K

Members of Circle K, national service organization, are preparing for their annual Texas-Oklahoma district convention which will be held during the spring semester at the North Park Inn in Dallas.

Membership in Circle K is open to students interested in improving their campus and community. A meeting for prospective members will be held at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 17, in the DeVaca Room on the third floor of the Student Center.

Delta Chi

Delta Chi, social fraternity, initiated nine members Sunday, Dec. 4, at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. Initiated were Sherman Burns, Mark Chapman, Mark Fusco, Brad Johnson, Tom Maris, Danny Nash, Richard Loughry, John Sedwick and Roland Turner.

Pi Kappa Phi

The Alumni Association of Pi Kappa Phi, social fraternity, will sponsor a Founder's Day Party at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 9, at the Melrose Hotel in Dallas.

The Pi Kappas will have their Christmas party at 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11, in the fraternity house.

Pi Kapps initiated Lynn Schoelerman, Kip Clark and Tim Hunter on Friday, Dec. 1, in Commerce. A party in Greenville followed the initiation ceremony.

Pi Kapp "Little Sisters" initiated Susan Larson on Wednesday, Dec. 6. The Little Sisters will prepare a 6:30 a.m. breakfast for the Pi Kapps on Monday, Dec. 11.

ETA Epsilon

Eta Epsilon, home economics organization, will meet at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 12, in the Home Economics with stories, carols and refreshments. "Secret pals" will be revealed. Mrs. Jenifer Askew, home economist for Texas Power and Light from Paris, will also present a program of Christmas ideas.

Christian Newman Association

The Christian Newman Association will go Christmas caroling at 6:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 11, at Commerce's two nursing homes.

The Christmas party will be at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14, at the Parish Center.

Midnight Christmas Folk Mass will be held Saturday, Dec. 16, at St. Joseph's Church, 2302 Monroe. The music will begin at 11:30 p.m. The public is invited.

Graphics Arts Club

The Graphic Arts Club, technological service organization, and the Commerce Jaycees will sponsor a merit badge program in printing for local Boy Scouts, according to Frank Shrode, club adviser.

Members of the Graphic Arts Club will offer instructions to the Boy Scouts in the offset and letterpress processes. The program will consist of two or three Saturday sessions to be held in January.

Art Work Chosen for Tour

Works by seven ET artists are among those selected by the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts for a touring exhibition that will appear on college campuses throughout the Southwest through January 1974.

Included in the touring exhibit are works by ET art faculty members James Allumbaugh, Lee Baxter Davis, Richard A. Johnson, Charles McGough, J. C. Sheppard and Karl Umlauf. A pencil drawing by David Wallin, ET senior art student from Dallas, is also part of the touring exhibit.

A total of only 60 works by 50 artists, nine of them by the seven ET artists, were selected for the 19th annual exhibition and subsequent tour.

"Metallic Formation #8," a sten-cil-air brush work by Umlauf, received the Dallas Art Museum League Purchase Fun Award, one of only four major awards given at the exhibition. It will become a part of the permanent collection of the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.

The touring exhibit is scheduled to appear on the ETSU campus between next April 23 and May 14.

Medical Fund Open

By Tony Booth

Students from ET are eligible to try for some 5,000 scholarships offered nationwide dealing with education in a variety of medical professions, according to Lt. Col. Norman Richardson, aerospace faculty. "The scholarships are provided by the Uniformed Services Health Professions Revitalization Act of 1972," said Col. Richardson.

"Participants will receive all educational expenses including tuition, fees, books, laboratory expenses, payments for education services, and a monthly stipend of $400," he said. Each will serve some active duty with a military unit.

The requirements for those ET students interested in the scholarships are: (1) be a citizen of the United States; (2) be accepted for admission to, or enrolled in, a designated health profession course of study; (3) agree to complete the program, accept an appointment in the military service, and, if offered, participate in appropriate internships and residency programs.

Finally, the active duty obligations for participation in the program will be a minimum commitment of two years and a maximum commitment based on one year of active duty for each academic year in the program. Time spent in intern and residency training will not be credited toward the commitment.

"If a student is interested in receiving information, he or she could write or call the Armed Forces Health Professions Scholarship Program at Randolph AFB, Texas. The phone number is 562-3456 and the area code is 512. We do not have complete information at the ET ROTC building. It would be best for the student to contact the air base directly for more details," Lt. Col. Richardson said.

Organizations Elect Officers

Chi Omega

Melanie Blakely, Commerce junior, has been elected president of Chi Omega, social sorority, for 1973.

Other officers elected were Candy James, vice president; Merrilynda Jeter, secretary; Susan Crutchfield, treasurer, and Marcia Munson, pledge trainer.

Alpha Delta Pi

Debbie Damron has been elected president of Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority, for 1973.

Other officers elected include Kathy Ammerman, second vice president, scholarship, and standards; Peggy Clarke, pledge trainer; Jeri Tyner, recording and corresponding secretary; Glenna Ward, treasurer; Sandy Jones, membership; Diane Milliken, rush chairman; Libby Dannelly, house and guard; Debbie Helms, chaplain; and Sherry Rice, registrar.

Alpha Delta Pi pledges conducted an egg sale Monday, Dec. 4, in Commerce to raise money for their pledge project. A Christmas tree trimming party was held in the ADPI house Tuesday, Dec. 5.

Gamma Phi Beta

Sherry Evans has been elected president of Gamma Phi Beta, social sorority. Other officers elected for 1973 include Lynn Street, vice president; Vickie Storey, corresponding and recording secretary; and Jerilyn Hoskins, treasurer.

November 27-30 was Gammy Bug Week in the Gamma Phi house. Each day the pledges left surprise gifts for an active member, and on Thursday, Nov. 30, at the Gammy Bug party, the actives had to guess who their Gammy Bug had been.

Delta Tau Delta

Vickey Maddison has been elected president of the Little Sisters of Delta Tau Delta, social fraternity, for 1973.

Other officers elected include Christy Jernigan, vice president; Karen Reid, secretary; Pam Harris, treasurer; Karis Hammons, parliamentarian; and Melanie Blakely, historian and reporter.

Alpha Phi

Nancy Meadows, Texarkana sophomore, has been elected 1973 president of Alpha Phi, social sorority.

Other officers elected were Georgeanna Stewart, first vice president; Pam Bell, pledge trainer; Jackie Sparkman, scholarship chairman; Kathy McGuffy, rush chairman; Jennie Sartain, corresponding secretary and activities chairman; Marsha Caudle, social chairman treasurer; and Denise Smith, song leader.

Crescents

Christie Ownsby has been elected president of Crescents, little sister organization of Lambda Chi Alpha, social fraternity, for 1972-73. Other officers include Debbie Damron, secretary; Pam Yantch, treasurer; and Pam Bell, pledge trainer.

Crescent pledges for the fall semester are Danita Bronson, Carmen Drew, Claire King, Elaine Leslie, and Chris Yeager.

Angel Flight

Pam Yantch, Dallas sophomore, has been elected commander of Angel Flight, women's service organization for Air Force ROTC.

Yantch, Angel of the Month for September and October, was Angel Flight comptroller.

Other officers include Andrea Wangler, executive officer; Susan Dehan, administrative officer; Paula Hubig, comptroller; Carolyn Cockrell, operations; Rosie Salinas, pledge trainer; Linda Daniels, information; Darlene Panter, corresponding services.

Also, Sherry Wagoner, historian; Heather Burnett and Lois Thompson, liaison; Alethia Meads, merit-demerit; and Patty Stewart, uniform.

Chairmen include Alice Thompson, social; Nancy Burchett, financial; and Vicki Hinson, service.

Omega Psi Phi

Omega Psi Phi, social fraternity, initiated Jerry Evans, Bril Smith, Charles Brown, Mike Nichols, Clarence Littleton, Don Daniels, and Roland Givens Friday, Dec. 1, in Binnion Hall. After the initiation a party was given in the Westgate Party Room for the new members.

A testimonial dinner was given Wednesday for Curtis Wester, Omega Psi Phi member. Wester was recently elected as Newspaper Enterprise Association's second-team All-America guard.

Hen Waste Recycle May Improve Ecology

By Ron Barker

The future problems of food shortages and the ecology of animal feed lots may be partially solved as a result of a study being done at ET.

William Y. Yarborough, graduate student at ET, is studying the value of dehydrated and heated poultry waste in the rations of commercial egg-laying hens.

The Houston Livestock Show granted the Agriculture Department at ET $7,000 for the project under the direction of Jimmy D. Wolf, agriculture faculty.

According to Yarborough, the disposal of animal waste has become a greater problem as the production units become larger and old methods of spreading the waste on pasture or cultivated land are, because of air and stream pollution, becoming unacceptable.

Yarborough hopes to show in his study that if the poultry waste could be fed back to the laying hens, a substantial savings in feed cost could result and the pollution problem from poultry manure could be lessened or possibly eliminated.

The program is also investigating the possibility that heating and grinding of the waste material eliminates all the organisms or diseases that could be transported by it.

Before the waste is fed back to the layers, it is supplemented with additional feed and the waste only makes up 10 to 20 per cent of the total feed. Yarborough will finish with the testing in December but will not know the full results until January. He believes that even though the test will be a success the federal regulations and public acceptance will be a hindrance to immediate use of the program. He also said that the value of the program will be in the future and that if there is a food shortage a feeding process of this nature would help.

Yarborough attributed much of the success of the program to the Home Economics Department. Dr. Marybeth Tuck, director of a special nutrition project, and five home economics students are helping by determining whether the finished product, the egg, is up to standards. The women are weighing, measuring and cooking the eggs to compare them with eggs produced by layers under normal conditions. The department has also organized a taste panel to determine taste differences, if any. The women from the Home Economics Department involved with the study are Mary Strickland, Judy Anderson, Judy Spring, Margaret Averett and Lu Ayne Shearer.

Yarborough says that the next taste panel will be Dec. 11, and all volunteers are welcome. This will be the last of the tests.

Santa's Working Conditions Include Having Wet Lap

By John Self

One out of five children who sit in Santa's lap wet their pants, a Dallas psychologist has told potential Santa Clauses.

Leonard Sloan, senior industry and technology major, did not know about that aspect of the job when he volunteered to be a Santa.

In fact, Sloan admits there is a lot about the job he didn't know then. Other troubling aspects include pulled whiskers, some runny-nose child asking for a box of tinker toys and a baby brother, or a child screaming, "You're a phony!"

Sloan got the job by accident. He went into the Sears store in Town East Center in Mesquite trying to get a bicycle donated for a Sigma Tau raffle.

"I made my pitch," Sloan explained smiling, "And when I finished the guy just said, 'How would you like to be a Santa Claus?'"

Surprised, Sloan said he hedged with an answer at first. But when the side benefits were explained — working with a bounty of beautiful girls dressed in "very short" red skirts, plus making $3 per hour — he quickly accepted the offer.

"I figured that if I scatched his back, he would do the same for me," Sloan said.

Of course, that was before he knew little children had trouble controlling their emotions in Santa's lap. "I'm just glad we have a few extra pairs of red velvet pants — just in case . . .," he said.

Being a Santa is not as easy as it sounds. First there is a "training school." And that is where ET's answer to St. Nick learned all the bad parts about being Santa.

"Man. It was something," Sloan explained. "They had a psychologist there along with a minister to give us background material. After all, we get some pretty tough questions from children," he said knowingly.

The psychologist told potential Santas to hedge an answer if a child asked for a particular toy. "Don't promise them anything at all," Sloan said in recalling his one-day training school. "If they ask for a baby brother or sister for Christmas, we are supposed to say, 'I'm only in the toy business.'"

The minister, according to Sloan, tried to provide a religious justification for both a Santa Claus and a Christ. "He didn't do a very good job though," Sloan said smiling. "I didn't quite understand his point."

Armed with the facts and a Santa Claus handbook to stimulate his memory, Sloan faced the next problem—the biggest one of all.

"I don't even look like a potential Santa," he lamented. He is 5-feet-9 and weighs 158 pounds. I am the "smallest Santa in the Dallas area," Sloan said proudly.

To simulate Santa's big stomach, store officials provided Sloan with an inflatable rubber stomach which hangs around his neck over his stomach. "If some kid gets curious and pulls my plug, all you'll hear is one big swoosh!"

While on duty—six nights a week—Sloan is stationed in a shed-like building in the Sear's toy department listening to children spill out their every desire for Christmas.

To date, all has gone well. "The money is good, but the suits are hot and I just don't know how I'll react when I feel that certain wetness," he said.

When the going gets rough and his knees get tired, "I take heart that it is only seasonal work."

'Philadelphia' Enters In Theater Festival

"Philadelphia, Here I Come," the current University Playhouse production, is ET's entry this year in the American College Theater Festival.

During the campus run of the play, judges from universities not participating in ACTF will view the production and judge it with other plays in the five-state region. If selected, "Philadelphia, Here I Come" will compete at the Scott Theater in Fort Worth to represent the region.

The play opened Wednesday, Dec. 6, and will continue through Tuesday, Dec. 12. Curtain time is set for 8 each night except a 2 p.m. matinee Sunday, Dec. 10. Reservations may be made by calling the University Playhouse box office at 468-2669.

Tickets are $1 a person.

The top 10 plays from the 13 regions in the country will be performed at the Kennedy Memorial Center in Washington, D.C.

William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life," ET's festival entry in 1971, was selected to go to Washington as one of the 10 winners.

Concerning "Philadelphia, Here I Come," Dr. Curtis L. Pope, head, Speech-Drama Department and director of the play, stressed that this play is aimed toward college youth. "It portrays the sensitivity of a youth who doesn't understand why older people around him seem so cold and insensitive," he said.

Wildlife Society Meets

Nine members of the Texas Wildflower Preservation Society met Nov. 16 on campus.

At the meeting the group officially approved its name and established a constitution and by-laws for the organization.

Those attending were Society President Mrs. Charles Davis, Hughes Springs; Mrs. Bennett Hill, Linden; Mrs. Vernon Crossland, Daingerfield; Mrs. J. D. Graves, Gilmer; Mrs. Carl Owens, Avinger; Mrs. Peggy Emerson, Mount Pleasant; Mrs. James Hargett, Linden; Mrs. Mike McKaughan, Dallas; and Mrs. W. E. Thomas, Daingerfield.

Also attending were Drs. Arthur Pullen and Evan Roberts of the ET biology faculty and Miss Gail Wallace of the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation.

At the meeting Dr. Roberts was named to the society's board of directors.

Barchard Writes Review

Dr. Frank Barchard, history faculty, wrote a book review on "Richelieu and His Age" by Carl J. Burckhart which was printed in the November, 1972, issue of Choice, a publication of the Association of College and Research Libraries.

ET Cagers To Play SWT Saturday Night

While most of the ET student body prepares for the big NAIA championship contest between Carson-Newman and ET, coach Jim Gudger's cagers will be on the road trying to improve on their 2-4 season's slate.

ET is scheduled to play Southwest Texas State at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 9, in San Marcos. The Lions were scheduled to start Lone Star Conference action Thursday night with a game against Texas A&I.

The Bobcats, who finished last season with a mark of 19-9, are having their problems this season. SWT is 0-2 for the season. Coach Vernon McDonald's Bobcats have dropped consecutive losses to St. Mary's, 70-51, and St. Edward's, 59-52.

Center Bruce Featherston, 6-11 and 220 pounds, will be the tallest man the Lions will have faced all season. Featherston is averaging 10 points per game and 10 rebounds. Supporting Featherston on the front line is all-LSC performer Travis Cornett. The 6-6 215-pound junior who averaged 18.1 points and 10.5 rebounds last season, is off to a slow start, averaging only 10.5 points per contest and nine rebounds.

McDonald said that if he could get more points from his guards, it could help some. "It's too much pressure on our big men for our guards not to score more than 30 points a game between them," McDonald said.

On the other side of the table ET will be led by forward Bill Bryan who is the 18th leading scorer in the conference. Bryan is throwing in 12.7 points per contest. He had 23 points against Missouri Southern last week.

O'Neal Tarrant heads up the backcourt, along with Dale Reed. Tarrant is averaging 11.5 points per contest and Reed, 8.2. Otis Cobb and Hugo Cabrera complete the starting five for the Lions.

Lion Notes . . . The ET Junior Varsity saw its record drop to 0-5 by virtue of losses to the East Central State (Okla.) Junior Varsity Wednesday, Nov. 29, and to Eastfield Junior College Thursday, Nov. 30. The JVs lost to East Central, 80-59, and to Eastfield, 75-70.

After holding a 23-17 lead, with 11:41 remaining to play in the first half, the JVs were outscored 23-4 as the Oklahomans took a 40-27 half-time lead. Kenneth Williams, 6-6 forward from Texarkana, led the JVs in scoring with 22 points. Bruce Kerr, 6-11 center from Des Plaines, Ill., added 13, and Mark Weir, 5-10 guard from Sulphur Springs, scored 12.

The JVs had approximately 30 turnovers against Eastfield, according to Coach Danny Tharpe. The tallest man that Eastfield had on its squad was only 6-1. Kerr and Mike McKay, 6-11 freshman center Revelstoke, British Columbia, Canada, both got into early foul trouble, and the JVs did not get any post play to speak of, according to Don Boen, assistant JV coach.

Leading scorers for the JVs in the loss to Eastfield were Williams, 26 points and Weir, 18.

The next game for the JVs will be against Hill County Junior College, Monday, Dec. 11, in Hillsboro.

O'NEAL TARRANT, a 5-10 and 165-pound spark plug for the Lions, brings the ball up court against East Central (Okla.) State's Augie Peterson (14). ET won the contest, 66-62. Tarrant is the Lions second leading scorer on the team, with 11.5 points per game.

LSC ROUNDUP

Simmons LSC's Top Shooter

Hoegie Simmons, a 5-7 and 170-pound guard from Texas A&I, is the first Lone Star Conference basketball "Player of the Week" for 1972-73.

Simmons, who tops all scorers in the conference with an average of 28.5, produced 83 points last week as the Javelinas upped their season mark to 5-1.

In his debut against Texas Lutheran, Simmons scored 40 points. The following night, he hit 28 points and, in other games, hit 29, 24 and 30 points.

The LSC's most accurate team from the field is Tarleton with a .512 percentage (98 of 191). SFA is next, shooting .505 as a team. Angelo leads free throw shooting with a .759 per cent, while McMurry is second at .728.

Archie Myers of SFA, the nation's all-time junior college scorer from Howard County Junior College, has a firm lead in the field goal percentage category. Myers, in four games, has made 13 of 21 from the floor for a shooting percentage of .619.

Keith Whitaker of McMurry is second, with a percentage of .595, followed by Ennis Watson of Tarleton, .568. Gords and Simmons are fifth and sixth respectively, in the shooting percentage department.

As expected, three of the leading basketball scorers from last season are fighting for the top position again. Robert Gords and Pete Harris of Stephen F. Austin and James Lister of Sam Houston State are the second, fourth and fifth leading scorers, respectively, in the league. Gords has a 23.8 average, Harris, 18.3 and Lister, 18.5.

A new name that has popped up as the third leading scorer in the conference is Marc Case of McMurry. Case has a game average of 21.0

Harris, who won the conference rebounding crown last season, still has a firm lead in that department, with 69 rebounds in four games. Harris is pulling down 17.3 missed shots per contest.

Bob Kershaw of Howard Payne, is second, with 15.2 rebounds per game, and Lister is third, with 14.5.

Eight of the 10 teams competing for the 1972-73 LSC cage title are whipping their opponents on the boards by grabbing better than 50 per cent of the missed shots. Three teams are getting better than 60 per cent of the rebounds.

Howard Payne pulled fown 63.2 per cent as the league leader. SFA has 60.7 per cent and McMurry has 60.4 per cent.

SFA rates best in team offense, averaging 89.9 points per game and whipping opponents by an average margin of 14 points. The stingiest defense belongs to Howard Payne, allowing only 61.7 points a game, followed by ET, 62.8 points.

The individual free throw shooting competition in conference play is topped by Bill Buck of Angelo State. Buck is hitting 1.000 per cent, with 10 for 10 on the charity line.

Freshman O'Neal Tarrant from ET has a percentage of .913, hitting 21 of 23 from the line. Mike Davis of Sul Ross is third in the department, hitting 25 of 28.

Lions, Carson-Newman Await Saturday's Noon Showdown

By Kenneth Brazzle
and Jake Sandlin

The place is Memorial Stadium in Commerce, Tex. At stake is the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) championship. The big shootout begins at high noon Saturday.

The two hambres in the shootout are a high-flying Carson-Newman (Tenn.) Eagles and the ET Lions, who have been roaring louder each day since ripping apart Central State (Okla.), 54-0, two weeks ago.

Carson-Newman will come into the game with a season record of 9-1-1, including the 7-7 semifinal tie with Livingston State (Ala.). The Eagles were declared winners by virtue of penetrations, 2-1.

Head coach Dal Shealy echoed the sounds of most coaches the Lions have gone up against this season. "ET impresses us with its size and ability to move the ball. I have to say that their offense is one of the best we have played.

"If we hope to win, we have to stop Parks (Kenneth) for one. ET's offensive line will be the best we've faced. They come off the ball real well. Cureton is the most accurate passer we've seen. Seems like every pass he throws is on the mark. With an accurate passer and an offensive line to establish the running game, it has our concern," Shealy said, adding, "We must be ready to stop the run and stop the pass. If our smaller defensive team can contain ET's offense, we feel like we can move the ball against them."

The Lions' "Blue Gang" defense also leaves a tough imprint in Shealy's mind although he thinks his Eagles might be able to run against ET. "The defense is probably the biggest we have played. I will say that we've been able to rush pretty fair during the course of the year. I feel like we can move the ball on anybody, but no one has played us with so many outstanding players on defense as ET has," he explained.

If the Eagles' ground game fails to click, Shealy emphasized that he wouldn't hesitate to go to the air. On the receiving end of most of the Eagles passes this season has been Tim George. George, who stands in at 6-4 and 210 pounds, led the NAIA in the receiving department with 51 catches. George's height could present a problem to the much smaller ET defensive backs, but Shealy does not consider it a major advantage, although it could be a factor in the game. "I don't think we can base our game plan on throwing to George because he's against a back smaller. This may end up being a factor, but we can not expect to base our offense on it," Shealy indicated.

Lions' defensive coach Bobby Fox believes that the Eagles rushing game is "offensive" enough. Fox's concern centers over Wishbone backs Skip Johns, Vince Dial, Clarence Sharp and quarterback Tim Sulivan.

Dial is the team's leading rusher with 643 yards on 105 trips and four touchdowns. Sharp has rushed for 463 yards. Johns rushed for 99 yards on 16 carries in the semifinal game against Livingston and was named the game's outstanding back.

Tickets for the ET-Carson-Newman NAIA Championship Bowl game are on sale in the Field House and at the Student Center Information Desk. The game is slated for Saturday, Dec. 9, in Memorial Stadium.

Student tickets in advance will be $3, General Admission to the east side will be $4 and reserved non-student tickets $5. Tickets bought the day of the game will be increased $2 except student tickets which will jump to $7.

"When a team runs the Wishbone, you've got to overload to stop the run. Also when the receiver runs his route, he holds the linebackers," Fox added.

"One will always have trouble with a Wishbone offense when a defensive player doesn't follow his assignment," Fox continued.

"Our analysis of their quarterback is that he can throw and run the ball. He would rather throw the ball forward or pass it back or give it to his fullback, but he will run it when absolutely necessary. We hope we can discourage him from throwing it forward. We will give him some difficulty," Head coach Ernest Hawkins added.

The real key to Carson-Newman's success, though, is the offensive line. ET's front four of Harvey Martin, LeRoy Johnson, Phillip Bangs and Rod Watson will have its hands full.

"They're the most experienced part of Carson-Newman's young squad," Fox said. "They rely on quickness and one-on-one play. They line up in splits of two yards and make it hard for you to control the line of scrimmage."

Neither coach is concerned about injuries as Hawkins indicated that a few of his players have the flu this week, but he expects them to be ready come game time. Shealy said that injuriously his team is in the best shape it has been in a few weeks.

The general feelings on both sides about the NAIA game is the same. "This is about the biggest thing that has happened in Jefferson City in quite a while," Shealy added.

The talk around Commerce is that the game is the biggest happening since the town went wet.

Sigma Chi, Delts Sikes IM Leaders

In the race for the Intramural All-Sports trophy, Sikes Hall, with 335 points, leads the independent division, while Delta Tau Delta and Sigma Chi are tied for first in the fraternity division, each with 240 points.

Others in the race include: Independent Division — Horns, 282½ points; Tops, 230; West Hall, 207½; Hubbell Hall, 175; Alpha Phi Omega, 150; Delta Sigma Pi and Soul Striders, 110; Math Department, 100; Over & Out, 85; Berry Hall, 70; and Baptist Student Union, 65.

Fraternity Division — Omega Psi Phi, 215; Kappa Alpha, 210; Pi Kappa Phi, 190; Lambda Chi Alpha, 145; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 135; Delta Chi, 125; Acacia, 50; Alpha Phi Alpha, 25; and Alpha Gamma Rho, 0.

The fight for points will resume in the spring semester, with intramural basketball as the first sport.

ET Adds to Impressive Stats

ET's 54-0 romp of Central Oklahoma two weeks ago in the NAIA semifinals simply added more to an already impressive list of offensive statistics compiled by the Lions along the way to a 9-2 season.

Kenneth Parks (who else) continued to lead every category that a runner could be expected to lead after statistics were compiled for ET's eleventh game.

His 1,548 yards rushing leads ET ball carriers and passers in the total offense department and rushing category.

Quarterback Will Cureton ranks second in total offense, with his net of 1,384 yards — 1,403 passing and a minus 19 rushing. Cureton leads Lion passers, hitting 102 of 225 for eight TDs and 11 interceptions.

Behind Parks in the rushing category comes John Paul Jones, with 556 yards, and Nelson Robinson, with 540.

Parks, who has passed the 100-yard rushing mark in seven games this season, including three 200-plus-yard games, is averaging 140.7 yards per game—a total that some teams would be proud to have.

Dudley Slice has a wide lead in pass receiving over his nearest rival, Calvin Harris. Slice has grabbed 51 aerials for 776 yards and six touchdowns, while Harris has gathered in 21 for 338 yards and one TD.

His 15 jaunts this year give Parks the lead in scoring, with 90 points, while his nearest rival, Jones, has 44 points on seven TDs and one two-point conversion.

Autry Beamon, ET's premier sophomore, has led a tough defensive secondary with 10 interceptions, eight more than his four nearest rivals, Tim Collier, Ricky Earle, Doug Walker, and James Talbot. Beamon returned the interceptions for 318 yards.

In the kickoff return category, Collier holds the leadership, with 13 returns for 276 yards, while Beamon is tops in punt returns, with 18 for 162 yards.

ET's kicking game, sometimes less than impressive this year, has been handled by Jon Washington, who has booted 52 times for an average of 33.3 yards per kick. On field goal attempts, Washington has hit four of 11, including a crucial one in ET's 32-29 win over Southwest Texas. He has kicked 30 of 38 extra point attempts.

As a team, the Lions averaged 393.3 yards per game total offense, 133.9 via the airways and 259.4 on the ground.

The "Blue Gang" defensive unit held opponents to 251.8 yards per game total offense, 93.2 on passes and 158.7 on the ground.

Outscoring its opponents 308 to 133, ET scored more than 20 points in every contest, except the opening game against Abilene Christian, which ET lost 14-12.

Jowers Nominated For Hall of Fame

SAN MARCOS — Southwest Texas State University athletic director Milton Jowers is one of 12 persons nominated for the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

A committee from the Texas Sports Association will select three of the 12 for induction into the Hall of Fame in January.

Jowers has been athletic director at SWT since 1959 and served as basketball and football coach from 1946-1964. His Bobcat basketball team compiled a 287-105 won-loss record, winning four LSC titles, two co-championships and the 1960 NAIA tournament. Jowers posted a 48-18-2 mark as football coach and won the LSC crown in 1963.

"When a team runs the Wishbone, you've got to overload to stop the run. Also when the receiver runs his route, he holds the linebackers," Fox added.

"One will always have trouble with a Wishbone offense when a defensive player doesn't follow his assignment," Fox continued.

"Our analysis of their quarterback is that he can throw and run the ball. He would rather throw the ball forward or pass it back or give it to his fullback, but he will run it when absolutely necessary. We hope we can discourage him from throwing it forward. We will give him some difficulty," Head coach Ernest Hawkins added.

The real key to Carson-Newman's success, though, is the offensive line. ET's front four of Harvey Martin, LeRoy Johnson, Phillip Bangs and Rod Watson will have its hands full.

"They're the most experienced part of Carson-Newman's young squad," Fox said. "They rely on

Senate Asks Solons For Age 18 Majority

By Robert Varley

The Student Senate passed resolutions Wednesday night asking the state legislature to lower the age of majority to 18, asking the university to give students academic credit for extra-curricular activities, and asking University Housing to allow co-op housing residents to have options on meal tickets.

The senate sent to the Texas Legislature a resolution calling for the lowering of the age of majority to 18. If the legislature passed a bill in favor of this it would mean the legal alcoholic drinking age would be 18.

Senior Senator Janna Green introduced a resolution asking the university to study the possibility of students receiving academic credit for extra curricular activities. She said several students give time for meaningful activities and could earn credit hours for their endeavors. She said an intensive study would be necessary to decide what type of out-of-class work would earn credit hours.

The senate sent a resolution to the Housing Office asking that residents in the men's and women's co-op housing have meal ticket options. West Halls has the meal ticket option now.

It was pointed out that co-op housing had kitchens that were not being used and if housing agreed they would be put to use by several of the residents.

In other business the senate sent to educational affairs a resolution asking the university to figure the student grade point average with only courses taken at ET. Graduate Senator Robert Mansker said students should be judged on their performance at ET only because of different requirements at other universities. Some senators disagreed, saying students want to know how they have attended more than one.

The senate passed a resolution suggesting the renaming of Memorial Stadium to McDowell Stadium in honor of President F. H. McDowell. Robert Mansker, who sponsored the resolution, said the reason for it was because of McDowell's contribution to ET athletics.

Center for the holiday season. He said that refreshments will be served from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. in the American Ballroom of the Student Center for those helping with the decorating efforts, and that prizes will be awarded to the most original decorators.

The Arts and Crafts Committee of the SAB will sponsor a Christmas Craft Class at 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 6, in the Bluebonnet, Friendship and Pecan rooms of the Student Center. Workshop participants will learn how to wrap gifts and make bows creatively.

A Christmas dance sponsored by the SAB Dance Committee will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14, in the American Ballroom of the Student Center. Big Rock and Grey, both rock groups, will perform at the dance. Admission to the event will be $1.

Chez Cafe, ET's coffee house, will hold its final performances of the semester at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Dec. 15-16. Scott Bishop, Paul Pendry, and Tim York, all local entertainment, will be the featured performers.

Admission test for all new students who have not submitted scores to the Division of Admissions and Records will be given at 8 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 6, in the Testing Center of the Student Services Building.

The first meal of the spring semester will be served in the Student Center Cafeteria at 5 p.m. Monday, Jan. 8, following the 2 p.m. opening of the university dorms.

Orientation for all undergraduate students enrolling at ET for the first time will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 9-10, in the University Auditorium.

Spring semester classes will begin at 7:30 a.m. Monday, Jan. 14.

Film History Class Offered for Spring

Avid movie fans can indulge their yen for the cinema while earning academic credit during the spring semester at ET.

The Department of Literature and Languages will once again offer a three-semester-hour course in the history of films, from silent to contemporary films.

The course, first offered in the fall, 1971, is an outgrowth of a film study done in 1970 on a faculty research grant to Dr. William Jack, who teaches the course.

During the semester the students will see 15 films ranging from "Birth of a Nation" to a contemporary film to be chosen by the class.

"Our approach will be historical," said Dr. Jack. "Each film shown has been chosen to represent a particular point of development in the art of film making," he explained.

Films will be shown which represent the various film genre, such as gangster and cowboy movies, said Dr. Jack.

Dr. Jack said that the class will study the aesthetics of films, including techniques of film making, the language of films, critical approaches to films and the sociological implications of films.

The class will meet for an hour on Mondays and Wednesdays. The films will be shown on Wednesday nights and will be followed by a class discussion.
