ET No. 1 in NAIA Land

By Kenneth Brazzle

Yes, Virginia, it's really true. The ET Lions are National Association of Intercollegiate Athletes (NAIA) champions for 1972. Yes, it all happened in the small town of Commerce last Saturday before a crowd of 4,539 on a foggy, wet and cold day.

ET took the crown with a 21-18 victory over Carson-Newman, who was ranked No. 2 in the NAIA polls at the end of the season. The Lions, who were a six-point favorite over the visiting Eagles, had a rough go of things as Carson-Newman went ahead of the Lions twice in the contest.

Strong safety Ricky Earle, a 6-1 and 195-pound senior from Big Springs, killed all hopes for an Eagles victory with 6:22 remaining in the game when he intercepted a Carson-Newman pass in the end zone. Carson-Newman had the ball on the Lions' 11-yard line and was driving to what could have been the winning score.

Earle was just one of the many heroes for the Lions on defense. Safety Atry Beamon picked off two passes, including one that came with 0:45 left in the game. Ivan Thompson had one interception, and cornerback Tim Collier recovered two fumbles for ET.

For the most part, it was the nine turnovers that contributed to the Eagles loss, as ET converted three of the visitors' mistakes into touchdowns. Carson-Newman lost the ball four times on interceptions and five times on fumbles.

The Lions got a break early in the second period after Eagles' quarterback Jim Sullivan fumbled on a handoff and defensive end Harvey Martin recovered for the Lions on Carson-Newman's 11. It only took the Lions three plays to score, as fullback Nelson Robinson carried the ball in from three yards out. Jon Washington came on to kick the extra point, and ET led 7-0.

After the kickoff, Carson-Newman got the ball on its 36 and preceded to go 64 yards in 11 plays, capping the drive on a two-yard jaunt up the middle by fullback Skip Johns. David Ward's extra point attempt sailed wide to the left, and the Eagles were down by one, 7-6.

Sullivan sparked the first scoring drive with passes of eight, five, six and 16 to the NAIA's leading pass receiver Tim George. George, the 6-4 and 210-pound senior split end from Alcoa, Tenn., caught six passes for 112 yards, while crossing the goal line twice. He was named the game's "Outstanding Lineman."

Carson-Newman came right back on its next possession to score on a Sullivan to George combination that clicked for 47 yards. George caught the ball on the Lions 15, side-stepped Beamon at the five, and rambled into the end zone. The scoring drive covered 71 yards in three plays. The visitors went for the two-point conversion but failed on the attempt when Sullivan fumbled.

During the first half action, the Eagles contained Kenneth Parks to only 31 yards on 17 carries. Carson-Newman keyed on Parks long enough to allow Robinson to pick up 35 yards on six trips. Parks, who was to be named the game's "Outstanding Back," topped off the day with 165 yards in 49 jaunts. Robinson had 56 yards on 11 carries.

Four plays following the second half kickoff, ET got the football when Van Fillingim fumbled after a 12-yard pickup around right end. Earle separated the ball from Fillingim, and Collier pounced on it at the Lions 31.

Quarterback Will Cureton then went to work on the Eagles' defense by handing the ball off to Parks. The 5-9 and 190-pound senior from Winston-Salem, N.C., using the blocks of Curtis Wester, Jackie Woods, Jim Talley, and Kenneth Brown, moved the ball down to Carson-Newman's one-yard line. Robinson and Parks tried to buck the Eagles' defensive line, but it took a quarterback keeper around right end from Cureton to get on the scoreboard. Washington's kick was good and ET led once again, 14-12.

'Dead Week' in Deep Freeze

By Bobby Templeton

With the closing of classes at ET on Monday and Tuesday because of iced-over streets and below-freezing temperatures, the campus has for once really been dead during a "Dead Week."

Usually the week prior to final exam week has been set aside as a review period for final exams. However, students have joked that some instructors have previously crammed

Classes To Meet Friday; Free Day Next Semester

ET students will not get Friday's holiday planned in celebration of the NAIA grid championship win over Carson-Newman here Saturday, but they can expect one day off next spring instead.

Classes, not held Monday and Tuesday because of an ice storm, will meet Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Dr. John Koldus, vice president, Student Affairs, said Tuesday after a telephone call to ET President F. H. McDowell, who was attending a meeting in New Orleans.

The final examinations schedule (See Page 2) will be followed as published, Dr. Koldus said.

Because it was not possible to give the "free day" promised for Friday, President McDowell plans to set aside one day next semester as NAIA Champions Day on which classes will be dismissed, Dr. Koldus said.

all material not covered during the semester into dead week.

Dr. John Koldus, vice president for Student Affairs, said Monday that classes are definitely cancelled for Monday and Tuesday." He did not say if any other class days would be suspended.

Weather forecasts Monday called for more ice Monday night and Tuesday. The Texas Highway Department Monday reported iced-over highways over a large part of the state.

Friday had already been declared a holiday because ET won the NAIA Division II national football championship, but that might be cancelled, Dr. Koldus said. "I will have to study the legal aspect of recalling a holiday and the number of days higher education institutions must meet before any conclusions can be drawn." He said the official decision would have to be made by President F. H. McDowell, who on Monday was attending a conference in New Orleans.

Classes were also suspended because Lone Star Gas Co. in Commerce cut back the amount of gas usually piped to ET.

The only activity seen on campus Monday was a student or two who braved the bad weather and frolicked on the slippery ice. Students could be seen sliding on makeshift sleds down the hillside leading into the circular mall next to the Student Center. Of course the usual scenes of sliding cars and falling persons were prevalent.

Not all persons, however, could skip out on jobs because of the bad weather. Administrators, some faculty and some students had to be on the job, such as The East Texan staff, which had to put out this last issue for the semester.

Of course, other persons had to keep working to keep telephones ringing and electricity flowing. Law enforcement agencies such as ET Security also were busy helping stranded persons whose cars were hampered by the icy roads.

Hawkins Floats on Championship Air

By Kenneth Brazzle

Head coach Ernest Hawkins didn't receive a call from President Nixon Saturday, but that's all right with Hawkins—he's still floating on air about his Lions capturing the NAIA football championship.

"I am still tight from the game. I haven't really realized yet that we are national champions. The game was too close for comfort," Hawkins said, immediately after the game.

It was a close one for Hawkins and his crew as they just shaved Carson-Newman (Tenn.) College, 21-18. ET fell behind, 12-7, at half-time but took advantage of the Eagles' miscues in the second half to come up with the win.

Carson-Newman committed nine turnovers, which figured heavily in the game as the Lions converted three into scores. The nine turnovers prompted Carson-Newman head coach Dal Shealy to comment, "We believe that if we can get four turnovers from a ball club we can win the football game. But we cannot give up the ball, and we sure gave the ball up. It's hard to beat a good high school team if you are going to give the ball up nine times."

Although the Eagles were without

Non-Resident Tuition Case To Be Heard by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday, Dec. 4, to rule on higher tuition fees for out-of-state college students—an issue that could have heavy impact on fees paid by all students at state-supported colleges.

The case accepted for review next spring comes from Connecticut. There, a 3-judge court held that students who had set up permanent residence could not be charged the higher fees for the full length of their academic careers.

Possibly riding on the outcome is the $200 million to $400 million collected by the states in non-resident tuition each year. If the justices agree with the panel in Hartford, all students in state colleges may wind up paying higher tuition.

The Connecticut system was challenged by two students. One married a University of Connecticut student and moved into the state from California. The second was a graduate student who moved from Ohio.

The fees, established by the state legislature last year allow local residents to attend the university at Storrs for $175 a year, but charged out of state students $975.

The 3-judge court in Hartford, in striking down the system last June, said that even if a higher tuition is reasonable at the start it is wrong to charge this higher rate throughout the student academic career.

Connecticut appealed. It told the Supreme Court the Constitution gives states "a wide range of discretion in enacting laws which affect some of the residents differently from others."

Although not involved in the Connecticut case, the new law extending the vote to 18-year-olds has deepened the problem of non-resident tuition. If a state grants a student the right to register and vote in his college town many educators see this as a prima facie evidence of residence in the state which would carry with it exemption from the higher non-resident tuition.

the services of five black starters, Carson-Newman kept the Lions in check most of the game. "I think the five people who played in place of the five who started did about as well as we would want the job done," Shealy indicated.

"There is no way of knowing how much different the five players would have made. I thought they (Carson-Newman) played well."

The five players were suspended when they failed to report for practice last Wednesday. Shealy explained that it was a team rule for a player to be suspended for one game when he missed a practice session without an excuse.

Carson-Newman's defense was able to hold Kenneth Parks to only 31 yards on 17 carries in the first half. See HAWKINS, Page 6

Lions NAIA Champions!!!

Everyone was happy. The wet cold didn't even hurt any more because ET was the new champion of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The slim 21-18 win over Carson-Newman (Tenn.) College Saturday wasn't easy.

Head Coach Ernest Hawkins was happy over his 50th win as ET's head coach.

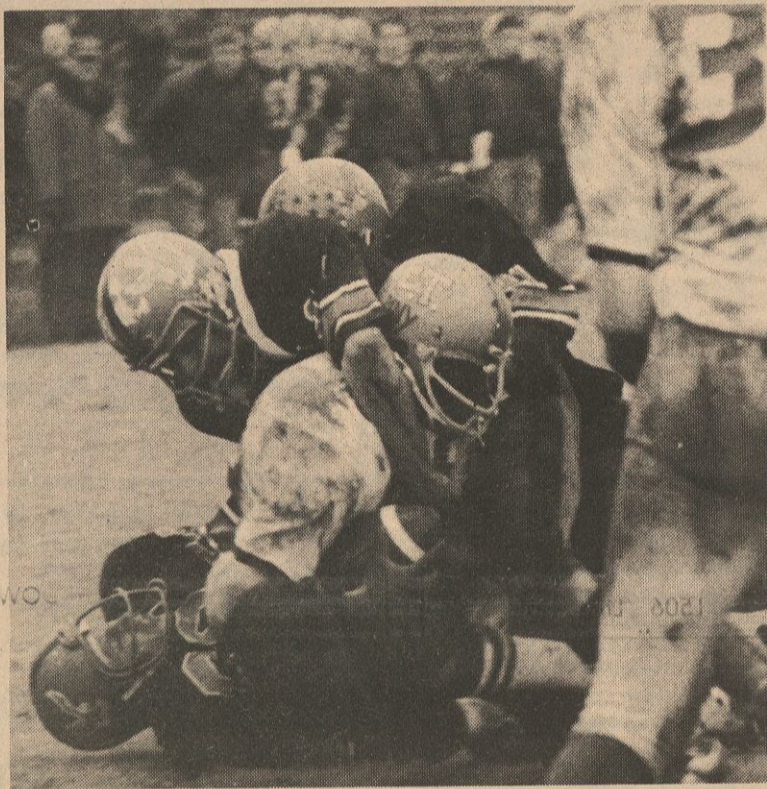

Tailback Kenneth Parks was happy with his NAIA Champion Bowl record of 49 carries. He also gained 165 tough yards, his eighth 100-plus-yard game in ET's 12-game season.

Quarterback Will Cureton was happy with his 10 of 18 pass completions for 126 yards, four of them to split end Dudley Slice, who ran his total catches to 55 for the season.

The "Blue Gang" defensive unit was happy, led by free safety Autry Beamon, who made seven unassisted tackles and intercepted two Carson-Newman passes.

ET's offensive line of Jim Talley, Curtis Wester, Jackie Woods, Denver Crawley, Kenneth Brown and Calvin Harris was happy because of the holes it opened to allow Parks and fullback Nelson Robinson to gain 223 yards on the ground.

TAILBACK KENNETH PARKS (40) slashed through small openings Saturday to gain 165 yards on 49 carries. ET Little All-America guard Curtis Wester moves linebacker Tony Rigdon (68) as center Jimmy Talley (hidden) and guard Jackie Woods (68) tie up Carson - Newman's linebacker John Thomas (43) and tackle Richard Painter (78).

TWO UNIDENTIFIED Carson-Newman tacklers put a grinding stop to a short gain by ET's Kenneth Parks in the Champion Bowl game Saturday. ET fullback Nelson Robinson (35) is in the foreground.

JIMMY SULLIVAN, Carson-Newman quarterback, is crushed by ET free safety Autry Beamon (44) and linebacker Ivan Thompson (90) after a six-yard gain in ET's 21-18 win Saturday.

CORNERBACK TIM COLLIER (21) made sure Carson-Newman All-America receiver Tim George (86) didn't catch this pass deep in ET territory. George caught six passes for 112 yards and two TDs.

Lions Reflect Winning Attitude

By Jake Sandlin

Amidst the smiles of a winner and the cheers of a champion, the ET Lions settled in their dressing room with the NAIA title safely tucked away.

"It's lovely man," Kenneth Parks, the game's outstanding back, said. "Whoopie. You don't know how lovely."

"It's a helluva good feeling," offensive tackle Denver Crawley said. "We're number one and we're going to stay that way. They were the toughest defensive team we've played against this year. They were a little better than I thought they'd be."

Recapping the game, quarterback Will Cureton said that the Carson-Newman defense "did about what we expected."

"They just played with a helluva lot of enthusiasm," Cureton said. "They had a great ball club. They had to key Parks and they keyed well. That's why our fulback gained some yardage."

Power-running fullback Nelson Robinson picked up 56 yards on 11 carries and scored ET's initial TD.

"It felt good," Robinson said. "Our offensive line did beautiful. All I had to do was walk through them. And I did."

Parks had the shock of his life when it was announced his parents had been flown in from North Carolina for the game.

"It was a surprise," Parks said afterwards. "It almost broke me down, man. I became weak, you know, surprised. But I pulled out of it. I haven't seen them since summer. They've never seen me play in college before."

The game featured the NAIA's top two receivers for the season in Tim George of Carson-Newman and Dudley Slice of ET. Slice explained what the Eagle secondary had planned for him.

"They played a three deep zone on me, but we went into our divide, or post series," Slice explained. They put a linebacker in front of me and cut my legs from under me."

Offensively Carson-Newman attempted to split ET's defense out wide and run dive plays up the middle, according to Lion defensive end Harvey Martin.

"We started holding that down, and they started to go wide," Martin said. "And the only reason they got out wide was that the guys (ET) didn't do their assignment. They were a good team though."

"They had a confusing offense," defensive tackle Phillip Bangs added. "They hit here and there. Didn't just run one thing. But we just all at once got together at one particular time, and boom, there it was."

The "boom" was nine turnovers by the Eagle offense. Safety Ricky Earle led ET's "Blue Gang" defense with two fumble recoveries and an interception in the Lion end zone that stopped Carson-Newman late in the fourth quarter and started ET on its last drive, a time-consuming 78-yard march.

"We just tried to eat it up," quarterback Cureton said. "I think that's what won the ballgame for us. That long march. About four minutes I think. That's what kept us going."

One clutch play on that drive was a third and eight catch by tight end Calvin Harris.

"That was a 26 key-four pattern with wide cross," Harris remembered. "It's a play designed to tie up the linebackers on the inside and put two men on the inside, me and the wide receiver."

Safety Autry Beamon led the Lions' pass thievery with two interceptions. Beamon was injured early in the third period but returned to put the game away, intercepting with 26 seconds on the clock.

"Man, they were trying to put me out," Beamon said. "The dude hit me from behind on my ankle. Twisted my ankle and my knee. My ankle didn't bother me later because they taped it up. My knee bothered me. They would have had to kill me to put me out."

This is the fourth NAIA championship ET has won, the only NAIA school to hold championships in four different sports.

"Like we've got a tennis banner and a basketball banner in the field-house. Now we've got a football," Beamon said, proclaiming, "We're not putting it on the bottom either. We're putting it on top of all of them."

HAWKINS . . .

Parks came back in the second half to gain 134 yards in 32 trips as the Lions began to move the football.

Asked if his team was keying on Parks during the first half, Shealy commented, "We just played our basic defense. We don't believe one guy can beat us. Parks moved the ball better in the fourth quarter, but when you are only playing 11 guys on defense who have played defense as long and hard as our guys played, you can put an eighth grader out there and give him the blocking that Parks had and he can move the ball."

What did happen to the ET offensive crew in the first half? "The Eagles were controlling the line of scrimmage on us early. Their patterns on defense were hard to pick up. We knew that we would catch them sooner or later in their stunts. Finally, in the last quarter we caught them in some inconsistency and were able to capitalize on it," Hawkins said.

Shealy had nothing but praise for the ET team after the contest. "Let me say this: They have the biggest, most talented personnel that we have ever faced. They were able to make mistakes defensively, recover and make the play better than anybody I've seen. ET had guys who should be playing on pro teams, and I am sure they will be. They had mistakes that normally would be turned into scores, but they recovered so fast."

Chandler Cook fumbled, but the Eagles' Bucky Meade intercepted a Cureton pass intended for tight end Calvin Harris three plays later. Carson-Newman took advantage of ET's misfortune and drove 78 yards in later fumbled on its 29. Earle was on the ball for ET.

Dudley Slice, the Lions' leading receiver during the season, got 15 yards on a reception from Cureton with three defenders hanging around his neck on first down. Three plays later Parks went in from three yards out. Washington kicked his third extra point with 8:17 remaining in the contest.

The Eagles took the kickoff and drove to ET's 11, where Earle came up with his key interception. ET was able to consume 5:04 before turning the ball over on downs at Carson-Newman's four. But it was too late for the Eagles, as Beamon came up with his second theft of the game at the visitors' 40.

nine plays, with the TD going 18 yards to George from Sullivan. Coach Dal Shealey again decided to go for the two-point conversion, and again it failed as Sullivan's pass was intercepted by Beamon in the end zone.

Things began to look a little more foggy than the weather for ET when Thompson intercepted a Sullivan pass, and the Lions could not push the ball over from three yards out on fourth down. Carson-Newman took over on downs but four plays
