U.S. House Passes Vets' Benefits Bill

By Steele Craver

U.S. House of Representatives action on a bill to increase veteran benefits by 13.6 per cent has passed and been sent to the Senate. The bill will be beneficial to eligible veterans attending ET under the GI Bill, according to Bill Martin, Veterans Affairs director.

The legislation is in the form of a package deal that will increase the pay for a full-time single veteran or dependent from $220 to $250 a month, from $261 to $297 for the veteran with one dependent, $298 to $339 with two dependents and $20 for each additional dependent.

Also included in the bill is an extension of the delimiting date from eight to 10 years. "This means veterans whose delimiting date in June 1, 1974 will have until June 1, 1976 to use their benefits," Martin says. "This extension will benefit 10 to 15 per cent of ET's veteran enrollment," he added.

A reduction in the disability requirement from 30 to 10 per cent for the Vocational Rehabilitation Program is also included as is an increase in the number of hours a Veterans Affairs work-study student can work. This is an increase from 100 to 200 hours per semester in which the veteran student can earn up to $500, Martin said.

Having passed the House, the bill still has to go through the Senate, where little opposition is expected, Martin says, because the Senate has proposed more liberal legislation for veteran benefits. "The only real obstacle that remains until final passage is that President Nixon proposed only an eight per cent pay increase," Martin said. "Since the House passed the bill by a vote of 382 to 0, and the Senate is expected to do about the same, the final passage of this legislation seems to be promising," he said.

If the bill is fully approved by the Senate and signed by the President the pay increase will become effective the first day of the second calendar month which begins after the date of enactment or June 1, 1974, Martin said. The remainder of the bill will become effective the date of enactment, he added.

"I would like to commend the work Veterans at East Texas State, ET's veterans organization, has done in the area of supporting and trying to improve veteran legislation. Hopefully, many signed the petition VETS installed this past semester for increased benefits," he said.

CAMPUS SCOPE

Weather Seminar Scheduled

A Weather Watch Seminar will be held from 7-10 p.m. Tuesday, March 19, in Room 138, Hall of Sciences, according to Mrs. Patsy Holder, assistant dean, Continuing Education.

The free seminar will be taught by Dr. Willard McDaniel, meteorologist and head, Earth Sciences Department. He will be assisted by Mike Moon, student member of the American Meteorological Society.

Included in the presentation will be slides of tornadoes which will show how to distinguish between actual and false alarms and films of action to take when a tornado occurs.

Computer Programmer

Capt. Grace M. Hopper, U.S. Naval Reserve, will speak on different aspects of computer programming at the first Computer Science Conference supported by the Federated North Texas Area Universities in an alternate Forum Arts program at 3 p.m. Tuesday, March 26, in the American Ballroom of the Student Center.

Next Issue March 22

Next week will be Spring Recess for ETSU teachers and students, with classes being dismissed after this week's instruction and resuming at 7:30 a.m. Monday, March 18.

The next issue of The East Texan will be published on Friday, March 22.

Senate To Review USA Legislation

The Student Senate approved resolutions Wednesday night to study United Students Association's legislation, the university physician's office hours, employing experienced officials for intramural games, and granting physical education credit for participating in intramural sports.

Senate Resolution No. 36, approved by the senate, calls for a selected committee to review the constitution and legislation of the USA and draft recommendations to revise the laws. The resolution calls the legislation "meaningless and permanent" and in "dire need of revision." The constitution is criticized for being "no longer reflexive of the legitimate concerns and realities of student life and government."

Senate Resolution No. 5 requests the ET physician "to maintain his posted office hours daily" and appoints the chairperson of the Student Life Committee to determine whether the physician keeps his office hours and whether or not he maintains another practice of medicine. The person will report his findings to senate and the vice president for Student Affairs.

Sen. Richard McKinney said a person had found the physician absent from the clinic during office hours 14 out of 17 visits.

The men's intramural director is requested to study hiring experienced officials for intramural activities in Senate Resolution No. 34. A member of the Southwest Football and Basketball Official Association could be hired to officiate three games a night for $17.50 by requiring fees of participating intramural teams.

The question was raised as to whether small independent teams could pay the fee.

Sen. McKinney said the senate was "simply asking for a study by the intramural director."

Senators approved Senate Resolution No. 40 recommending to the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Department that credit for required physical education be granted for participation in intramural sports.

Sen. Mike Sampson said similar programs were in effect at Grayson County, Henderson County, and Paris junior colleges.

Senate Resolution No. 37 was approved appointing Gary Stretcher, senate president, to arrange an open meeting of the student body to hear the platforms of candidates for USA office.

The East Texan is requested to print a platform statement of each candidate of less than 500 words.

It was suggested by Sen. McKinney that the open meeting could be a Forum Arts alternate and be held on Monday prior to the Wednesday, March 27, elections.

Any bill or resolution requiring a role call vote will be posted on the senate section of the Student Center bulletin board with the results of how each senator voted, according to Senate Resolution No. 39.

In other action, senators approved Senate Bill No. 17 officially changing the name of the Committee of State, National and International Af-

Commission Approves Budget

By Tom Rogers

The Commerce City Commission Tuesday night adopted a 1974-75 budget and authorized the gathering of engineering data and materials for federal funding of city sewage system improvements.

The $1,757,820 budget calls for a 41.3 per cent hike in city electric rates, as yet unapproved, and a salary increase for some city employees.

Norris Needs Not Budgeted

No immediate funding for street, water and sewage improvements in the Norris community is provided in the budget. A combination of local and federal funds is expected to complete the sewer improvements by 1976 or 1977.

"This is just a bare budget," said Mayor Thomas Young. Under the new budget, the city will not be financially able to meet any major emergencies.

Hennington, Durham and Richardson, Inc. will produce the engineering information for approval by the Environmental Protection Agency, which is expected to fund 75 per cent of each phase of the sewage program.

Rasor Explains Sewage Steps

A long-range facility plan, an environmental assessment, a sewer system evaluation, and a preliminary user charge system are included in the Step One phase, according to C. Frank Rasor, vice president of the Dallas-based engineering firm.

Step Two will concern the design and preparation of detailed plans, with Step Three involving the actual building of the sewage treatment plant.

He estimated that work on Step One would be completed by Sept. 1.

Rezoning Hearing Set

Responding to a recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Board to rezone 44 acres within the city from an agricultural and duplex area to a light industry area, the commissioners called for a public hearing to discuss the matter at 4 p.m. Friday, March 22.

Following discussion with the Zoning Board, the commissioners directed City Attorney James Faires to present a new ordinance regarding the parking of mobile homes in areas other than mobile home parks.

In undesignated areas mobile homes can be parked only on land zoned for general business or heavy industry.

Approved were resolutions authorizing Mayor Young to execute contracts with Audley Moore and Sons, contractors, and designating three 15-minute parking spaces in front of the new tax office on Main Street.

Dickerson Studies Rates

Commissioners authorized City Manager Jack Dickerson to investigate the costs involved in making a study of regulations concerning electric-rate and service-charge increases.

The last change in rate and service charges was made in 1951, according to Dickerson.

He said that rising fuel prices have caused the need for increase in electric utility service for the city.

Reed To Speak April 3

Rex Reed, movie critic, will speak on "Rex Reed at the Movies" at the semester's final Forum Arts program at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, April 3, in the University Auditorium.

His reviews are syndicated throughout the country and appear in publications such as Esquire, Holiday, Cosmopolitan, Harper's Bazaar, and The New York Times. He is also a regularly featured guest on most of the major television talk shows.

Reed graduated from Louisiana State University where he was the general campus critic and editor of the literary magazine.

This Forum Arts program will be sponsored by the Journalism Graphic Arts and Literature-Languages departments, according to Dr. Margaret Wheat, chairman of the student-faculty Forum Arts committee.

Classes will be dismissed for this program and a student must present a Forum Arts membership card at the doors for admission.

A student enrolled in Forum Arts who missed some of the regular programs may attend one alternate program to make up for each absence. Attendance cards will be issued for each alternate program. To make a grade of A, a student must attend five regular or alternate programs.

Alternate programs scheduled for the remainder of the spring semester are a band concert at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, March 7; a poetry reading by Cynthia MacDonald at 7:30 p.m. Thursday March 21; Grace M. Hopper, U.S. Naval Reserve Captain, speech on aspects of computer programming at 3 p.m. Tuesday, March 26.

University Choir concert at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, April 23; Tom Johnson, executive editor, Dallas Times Herald, speech on "Law Day USA" at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 1.

Work-Study Jobs Open

Several typing positions in the Work-Study Program are open, according to Connie Burrell, assistant director of Financial Aids. A student may apply in the Financial Aids Office.

To qualify an applicant must show financial need and good academic standing.

A student in the Work-Study Program who plans to continue working next year should renew his application as soon as possible in the Financial Aids Office, she said.

Radio Personnel To Speak

Mark Stevens, disc jockey with Fort Worth radio station KFJZ, and Ray Potter, the station's program director, will be featured speakers in a free radio-television-journalism seminar at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday,

Continuing Ed Slates Firemen's Program

The Division of Continuing Education will sponsor Firemen's Basic Certification School, a 25-hour course to be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays March 18-May 10, according to Mrs. Patsy Holder, assistant dean, Continuing Education.

The school will include classroom studies as well as practical exercises, covering subjects from first aid to arson detection.

Upon graduation, a student will have completed all of the necessary hours and classes required by the Texas Commission of Fire Personnel Standards and Education for Firefighter Certification.

CORRECTION . . .

The East Texan in Wednesday's issue incorrectly identified Harry Thomas, candidate for city commission as a night club operator instead of the operator of T & S Vending Co. In issues before the April 2 city election The East Texan will be interviewing Thomas and other candidates for more detailed information about their backgrounds and their platforms.

FACULTY NOTES

Rohrer Resigns As Chemistry Head

Dr. Charles Rohrer, head, Chemistry Department, has requested that he be relieved of his duties so that he may return to full-time teaching duty. The request will be effective in August.

A search and screen committee to find a new head for the department will be headed by Dr. Arthur N. Pullen, head, Biology Department. Other members of the committee will be Dr. Rohrer, Dr. L. D. Neff, chemistry faculty; Dr. John V. Godbold, secondary and higher education faculty; and Laurance Puckett, a doctoral student in the ET College Teaching of Chemistry program.

The committee is to recommend three to five candidates for final consideration from the applications which it receives. Dr. Pullen said the committee hopes to have completed its duties by May 1.

Rohrer has been head of the ET chemistry department since 1958 when he came from Indiana University to join the ET faculty.

Two Report to TJCT

Dr. Jim W. Tunnell, director of the Center for Community College Education, and Ken Wallace, associate director of Admissions, reported on a study entitled "Faculty Status in Texas Public Community Colleges," at the 27th annual convention of the Texas Junior College Teachers Association which was held in San Antonio on Feb. 21-23, 1974.

The study, which represented 75 per cent of the faculty members in the Texas public junior colleges, involved items such as teaching loads, class size, age distribution of the faculty, degree status of the faculty, professional growth requirements, tenure, fringe benefits and salary information.

Bedgood Attends Conference

Dr. Dale Bedgood, head, Mathematics Department, attended a conference on "The Mathematics Majors as Viewed by Business and Industry," Feb. 22-23 at Baylor University, Waco.

The purpose of the conference was to provide interaction between mathematics departments and businesses and industries which hire mathematics majors. According to Bedgood, one-half of the senior colleges in Texas were represented at the conference. He also said that the conference provided some information on the type of training mathematics majors would need or that would be preferred in business and industry fields.

Tuerk Article Published

An article written by Dr. Richard Tuerk, English faculty, is part of a symposium on Ralph Waldo Emerson's poetry to appear in the May issue of the "American Transcendental Quarterly."

The article, entitled "Emerson's Darker Vision: 'Hamatreya' and 'Days', will be in the symposium edited by Carl F. Strauch, Lehigh University, Tuerk said.

McQuary on ACPA Committee

Dr. John P. McQuary, head, Student Personnel and Guidance, has been appointed to Commission XII of the American College Personnel Association, a graduate program in college student personnel services.

McQuary will start committee work on April 8, when the American College Personnel Association meets in New Orleans, La.

Commission XII, a 14-member national committee, writes position papers about graduate education, publishes directories of graduate programs in college student personnel and publishes annual listings of dissertations completed in this area.

Brewer Paperback Due

Dr. J. Mason Brewer, English faculty, has been informed that a paperback edition of his anthology entitled "American Negro Folklore" will be distributed in April by Quadrangle Press, a New York Times publishing company.

The anthology was first published in 1968 and has been published in three hardcover editions, previously.

Zander at Oak Ridge Meet

Dr. Arlen Zander, physics faculty, represented ETSU at an Atomic Physics Consortium Conference held at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

ETSU and the Universities of Georgia, Tennessee and Connecticut, North Texas State University, the University of Texas at Arlington and the State University of New York at Corland were invited to become charter members of the Consortium. These charter members agreed to draft a joint proposal seeking approximately $100,000 in research funds from the Atomic Energy Commission.

Pryor Biography Listed

The biography of Dr. Mildred G. Pryor, marketing-management faculty, has been listed in the 1974 edition of "Personalities of the South," published annually by the American Biographical Institute in Raleigh, N.C.

Perry Selected To Write

Dr. Thomas A. Perry, literature-languages faculty, has been selected to write the Romanian entries for the revised edition of the "Columbia Dictionary of Modern European Literature," a primary reference literature book published by the Columbia University Press.

According to Perry, he has been assigned to Alexandru Macedonski and Ion Barbu, both poets; Eugen Lovinescu, critic; and novelists and short story writers, Ion Agarbiceanu, Zaharia Stancu and Marin Preda.

Grover's Essay Published

An essay written by Dr. Dorys C. Grover, literature-language faculty, will be published in the May issue of American Literature, a journal published by the Modern Language Association.

The essay, "Garland's Emily Dickinson-A Case of Mistaken Identity," explains that Hamlin Garland did not meet Emily Dickinson in 1902 as he recorded in his book "Companion on the Trail." According to Grover's essay, Dickinson had been dead for several years by 1902.

LIONS LOSE, 77-69

Tournament Hopes Over

By Jake Sandlin

Their dream bubble burst and their Kansas City vacation cancelled, ET's young Lions returned to Commerce Wednesday morning somewhat older-experience-speaking.

The Lions lost their shot for the NAIA national tournament in Kansas City, Mo., March 11-16, as St. Mary's University slipped past ET, 77-69, Tuesday night in San Antonio, to claim the NAIA District IV title and the tournament berth.

ET had won the first of the best-of-three series, 84-79 in Commerce Saturday, and dropped the second, 85-61, in San Antonio Monday.

Averaging less than 20 years in age as a team, the Lions fielded two sophomores and three freshmen for most of the series and started that combination in the final contest against St. Mary's.

O'Neal Tarrant, 19-year-old sophomore guard, poured in 66 points during the three game series, including a high of 30 in the opening win.

Freshman Nate Granger, the youngest of the Lions at 18, tallied 52 points in the series and led the team in rebounds, with 26. Twenty-year-old sophomore Hugo Cabrera wound up with 49 points and 24 rebounds against the Rattlers.

Granger played Tuesday's game with a heavily taped left arm, resulting from an early morning operation. Granger was bitten by a brown spider two weeks ago and his left elbow had become infected Monday night. The minor operation was performed Tuesday.

Freshman Pat Laue, 18, and David Laurence, 19, round out the list that saw the most action. Laue hit 17 points in Tuesday's loss, while Laurence scored eight points and grabbed 12 rebounds in his three-game appearance.

ET's only senior, center Dean Thomas, played his final game for the Lions Monday. Thomas did not suit up for Tuesday's game, because of an ankle injury sustained in Monday's game.

In the final contest of the season,

ET trailed by one, 38-37, at half-time, but fell cold for the first 4:30 of the second half as the Rattlers built a 44-37 advantage. The Lions never came closer after Laue broke the cold spell to trim the score to 44-39.

The Rattlers increased their lead to 12, via the outside shooting of All-American Gary Tomaszewski and Dave Bulik. Tomaszewski connected on 12 of 15 shots from the field corner.

ET fought back to within six, as Tarrant scored, with 1:38 to go, putting the score at 71-65. The Lions then stole the ball back but an errant pass returned possession to St. Mary's.

The Rattlers scored twice to keep a distant 10-point advantage at 75-65. Granger hit a bucket to trim the margin to 75-67, with 50 seconds left, then added another two points to bring ET within six, 75-69, with 15 seconds remaining.

St. Mary's scored once more as time ran out, for the final margin, 77-69.

Tomaszewski led scorers, with 25 points. Tarrant had 22 for the Lions. Laue scored 17, Cabrera, 14, and Granger, 12.

Robert Taylor added 15 for the Rattlers, and Bulik scored 10.

Tarrant finished the regular season with 602 points to set a season scoring mark at ET, breaking the record of 580 set by Clarence Lynch during the 1954-55 national championship season.

The 5-10 Brooklyn, N.Y., product also set a season mark of 488 field goal attempt, snapping Jim Miller's mark of 483 set in the 1954-55 season.

The Lions finished the season 16-13 overall, after claiming the Lone Star Conference tri-championship with Howard Payne and Southwest Texas, each with a 12-6 slate.

St. Mary's stands at 21-7 for the season, advancing to the national tourney, which begins Monday. There are 32 teams entered in the tournament, and it will take five wins during the six-day competition to win the national title.

LSC ROUNDUP

Granger Takes Honor

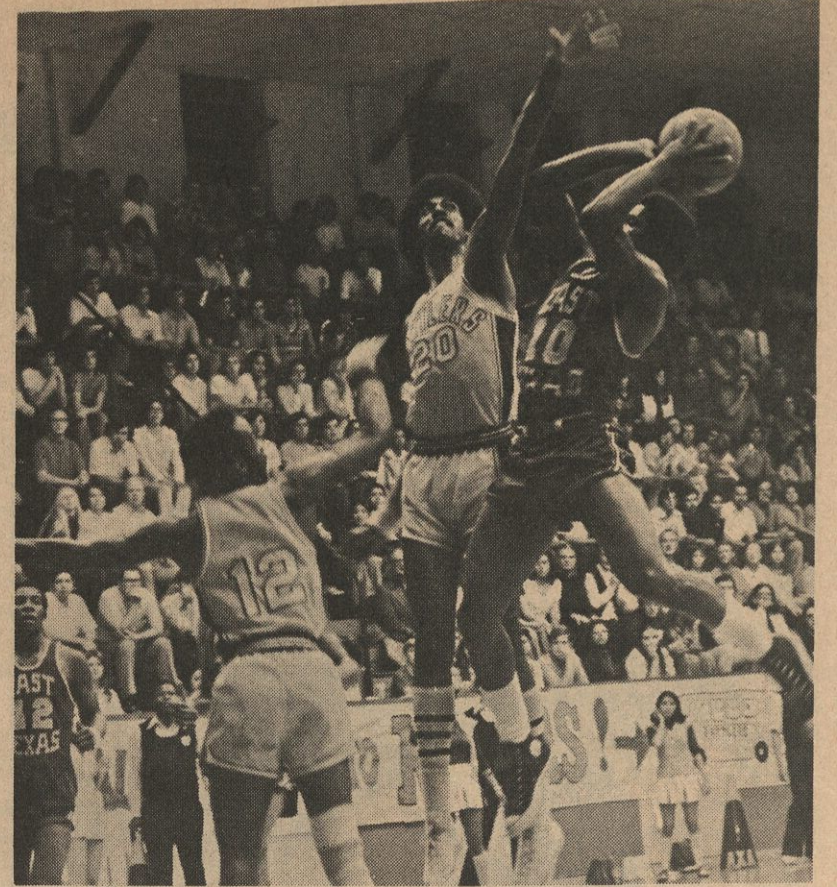

ET freshman forward Nate Granger has been named the Lone Star Conference "Player of the Week" for his season finale performance against Howard Payne, Thursday, Feb. 28.

The 6-5 Granger pumped in 33 points—a career high—including 20 in the second half in ET's 78-66 victory over the Yellow Jackets to give the Lions a tri-championship with HP and Southwest Texas for the conference's 40th title.

The Newark, N.J., product also swept the backboard for 14 rebounds in the win.

It was the second such honor for the freshman, who earned "Player of the Week" laurels during the week of Jan. 29.

Baylor Bears Rip Lion Netters

The Baylor University Bears, led by Stan Smith (not the American Davis Cup ace), overpowered the ET tennis team, 8-1, Monday in Waco. Only Dallas sophomore Bob Koch could manage to crack the win column against the stubborn Bears, beating Chuck Dorrity, 6-3, 6-4.

The Lion netters were scheduled to open Lone Star Conference play Wednesday in Denton against Angelo State. As well as counting toward LSC point standings, the match is part of the North Texas State University Tournament March 6-8, which includes NTSU and Oral Roberts University in a four-team round robin tournament.

ET's No. 1 player, Syed Abid, extended Smith to three sets before losing, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3. No. 3 player Steve Barker and No. 5 Steve Katz also took their opponents three sets before losing. Barker lost to Doug Harvert, 6-3, 5-7, 6-2, while Katz was beaten by George Moncado, 6-7, 6-2, 6-4.

Matt Firmin, ET's No. 2 man, lost in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1, to Baylor's Danny Dobbs. Bubba Cardwell, No. 6, lost to Terry Pereman, 6-3, 7-6.

In doubles ET's three pairs fell into the same rut. Each won the first set only to drop the last two. Syed and Firmin lost to Smith and Harvert, 2-6, 7-6, 7-6. Barker and Koch fell to Dobbs and Moncado, 5-6, 7-6, 6-4, while Katz and Cardwell were beaten by Dorrity and Pereman 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Going into the NTSU tournament, ET had a record of 1-2 on the season, losing to two Southwest Conference teams, Texas Christian University and Baylor, and beating the University of Texas at Arlington. The team's first home match comes against UTA at 2 p.m. Tuesday, March 26.

Lion Golfers Enter S. Houston Tourney

With hopes of improving their wind-hampered scores at San Marcos, the Lion golfers will take part in the Sam Houston State University Invitational Tournament, Friday and Saturday at the Elkins Lake Course in Huntsville.

Qualifying for the tournament, after shooting 54-holes this week, were Glen Sockwell, Rob Parnell, Steve Proffitt, Mike Mayo and Brad Willshire. Sockwell shot a 13-over par 229 with a low round of 76 at San Marcos, with Mayo shooting a 234 total; Parnell, 247; and Proffitt, 244.

Willshire did not qualify for the San Marcos tourney and will be seeing his first competition of the season. Bill Montgomery and Bill Berry, who both qualified for the San Marcos tourney, did not qualify this week.

Coach Boley Crawford said the competition at SH will be much tougher than at San Marcos, where the Lions grabbed second place against "good" teams from Houston Baptist, McNeese (La.) State, Stephen F. Austin and St. Thomas of Houston.

Intramural Softball, Tennis Deadlines Set March 21-22

Intramural Fast and Slow Pitch Softball entries will begin on Monday, March 18 and end on Thursday, March 21. Entries may be submitted to the Men's Intramural Office in the Field House, and play will begin Monday, March 25.

Deadline for entering the faculty and staff intramural tennis tournament has been extended to Friday, March 22.

Currently there are only two faculty entries, and, if more entries are not obtained, the faculty-staff competition will probably be cancelled.

Women Aim for District

By Holly Cooper

With hopes of bringing home the district championship, coach Susie Knause said, "It's going to take a tremendous effort on everyone's part to get the job done." The district basketball tournament will be held Thursday through Saturday, March 14-16, at The University of Texas at Arlington in Arlington.

In preparing for district, the women held their regular two-hour workouts Tuesday through Thursday of this week and will return Tuesday, March 12, to continue workouts through Thursday, March 14, when they leave for the meet. "In workouts, we are going to work on our offense and sharpen our defense," coach Knause said.

Defeating UTA and Texas Wesleyan College, then losing to Tarleton and Texas A&M in the North Texas State University last weekend in Denton, the women's varsity came in sixth place.

"We could have done better in the tournament," coach Knause said. "We were as good as A&M and Tarleton, but we just couldn't get everything together."

In the first round of the NTSU Tourney, the Lions defeated UTA, 47-42. UTA held a six-point lead at the end of the third quarter, but ET came back in the fourth quarter.

Betsy Glover was high scorer for the Lions, with 14 points, followed by Yolanda Jones' nine points. Jeanette Hood chalked up eight points for the Lions, followed by Loma Bray, with six points, and Joyce Brown, five points. Grace Daniels scored four points, and Bessie Carter scored one.

In the second round of the tourney, Tarleton built a five-point lead at halftime and held on to that lead to defeat ET, 42-37.

Once again, Miss Glover was high scorer for the Lions, with 13 points, followed by Miss Brown's 12 points. Miss Daniels scored five points for ET, while Miss Jones scored three points. Miss Bray and Miss Carter scored one point each.

Moving into the consolation bracket, the Lions defeated TWC, 52-43.

ET's 'Mummy' Eyes Pro Boxing

By Issac Williams

Fans who attended an ET football game in the last four years more than likely saw the "Mummy" in action. It wasn't a mummy in the true sense of the word; it was only the nickname of ET's stellar defensive end who has spent a great part of his life in a contact sport.

Phillip Bangs, who picked up his nickname because of the amount of tape worn during games, is a 6-2, 235 pounder from Dallas (South Oak Cliff). His "big moment" as a starting member of the "Blue Gang" defensive unit did not come in 1972

(the year that ET won the NIAA national football championship) but in 1973, when he leaped up to grab a deflected punt and returned it 22 yards for a score.

Bangs, the senior physical education-English major, has been assaulted by guards, molested by full-backs and sliced by ends in his football career; therefore, it is no big surprise that he was a Dallas Golden Gloves novice and open heavyweight champion in 1970-71 and a recipient of the Rocky Marciano Award.

"Mummy," or "Power Package" as he was called in his Golden Gloves days by Dallas sportswriters, was trained by Curtis Cokes, world's welterweight champion for five years, and Doug Lord, Cokes' manager. During the course of his four-year career, Bangs fought 40 fights, winning 39 (mostly by knockouts) and losing one by a split decision.

Concerning his future plans, Bangs, who took time out from practice on the punching bag in the ET Field House, commented, "If I can get back down to 210 or 215 pounds, I will consider going back into fighting as a professional. If the opportunity presents itself I will start working out with my cousins, Cookie Wallace and Fred Wallace, who have just returned from sparring with world heavyweight champion George Foreman," Bangs explained.

March 20, in the Journalism Auditorium.

Last semester Stevens was a guest of ETSU and spoke to a class in radio announcing.

Potter, a graduate of Eastern New Mexico State University, is a member of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, and is in charge of the programming and planning for KFJZ and KWXI-FM in Fort Worth.

The two will speak jointly on the broadcasting industry in general, the "Top 40" disc jockey in particular and specific phases of programming and formatting for a radio station.

Registration Continues

Couples who missed the first class on the Lamaze method of natural childbirth which began Tuesday, March 5, at ET can register by contacting the Division of Continuing Education.

The course is being taught by Freda Green, R.N. She said the course will condition the woman both physically and mentally for childbirth.

The course is open to couples only at a cost of $25 a couple.

Graduate Recital Slated

A graduate recital featuring David Miller on piano will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 26, in the Concert Hall of the Music Building.

Miller will play "Prelude and Fugue No. XXI" by J. S. Bach, "Sonata in F Minor" by Beethoven, "Prelude" by Rachmaninoff and "Piano Concerto No. 2" by Rachmaninoff.

He is a student of Ken Frerichs, music faculty.

Career Day Set March 28

Juniors and seniors from more than 200 area high schools have been invited to ET's annual Career Day Conference, Thursday, March 28, according to Mrs. Janice King, coordinator of the conference. She is expecting more than the 850 participants of last year.

The assistant academic deans of colleges are working with the various departments in coordination of shows, booths, and displays.

The tentative schedule for the Career Day Conference will focus on the Academic Fair from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the second floor of the Student Center. Other activities will include a jazz ensemble at 9:30 a.m., a general assembly at 10 a.m., and a multi-media show about ET at 10:10 a.m.

A science show slated from 11 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. and Coffeehouse entertainment from 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. are among other Career Day activities.

Free Ditto Services Offered

Free mimeographing and ditto services are being offered by the Office of Student Development, according to Mrs. Roberta Whitener, assistant head, Student Development.

A student needing copies must bring a mimeograph stencil or a ditto master typed, along with paper to the Activities Desk in the Student Center.

To reproduce copies of an original, the office can make an electronic copy stencil for $1.

Services will be provided on a first-come, first-serve basis, according to Mrs. Whitener.

Wine-Tasting Course Set

A course in wine-tasting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 19, in the Student Center. Avery McClurg, literature - languages faculty, will conduct the sessions, which are scheduled also for March 26, April 2, and 9.

Participants will taste, discuss aging and the selection of wines. The session will cover aperitifs, white, rose', and red wines. There will be a $2 registration fee. Interested persons can contact the activities desk at the Center, or call 468-5131.

Boxing Sessions Scheduled

Anyone interested in learning how to box may do so by signing a registration form and attending the Leisure Learning sessions to be held from 6:30 p.m.-8 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, March 19, 21, 26, and 28 in the Field House.

The registration form can be obtained at the information desk at the Student Center. The course will be taught by Philip Bangs, Dallas senior physical education major, and Mike Riley, Mesquite biology major.

Philip Bangs, an ex-Golden Gloves fighter, was the only Dallas regional fighter to win the Rocky Marciano award for winning the high school, novice and open championship classes in successive years in Golden Gloves.

Mike Riley was a contender in the 1971 and 1972 Tylor Regional Golden Gloves. He also taught boxing in the spring of 1973 at Lufkin Recreation and Parks Department.

The Leisure Learning boxing course was set up by Steve Favors, assistant director of Student Development and George McGuire, program director for the Student Center. All equipment needed will be supplied, according to Favors, except a mouthpiece.

"The course will mainly concern the fundamentals of boxing, exercises and training," Riley said. Safety will be stressed, he added, with headgear and 16-ounce sparring gloves to be used during the workouts.

Inner Peace Session Set

Dennis Phelan, a national leader with the Inner Peace Movement, will conduct an introductory session on inner peace at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 20, in the Student Center.

According to Phelan, inner peace is designed to help persons organize their lives spiritually, physically, and mentally. There will be a $1 charge per person. Interested persons can contact the activities desk at the Student Center or call 468-5131.

fairs to the External Affairs Committee so the business of Commerce and Hunt County can be considered.

Rules were suspended in order to approve a $4.80 senate expenditure for the printing of posters announcing the USA spring elections.

Senate Bill No. 13 recognized the University Service Council as a campus governing body consisting of campus service organizations.

The senate voted to recommend to the Texas Student Education Association Convention that the 1974 district convention be held at ET in Senate Resolution No. 33.

Sen. Sampson said ET was in competition with Baylor to host the event.

Senators voted to congratulate the basketball team, coaching staff and cheerleaders for attaining the Lone Star Conference championship, in Senate Resolution No. 32.

New senators approved were Steve Hinkle, Fort Worth junior, Candice Smith, Dallas junior; "Dock" Dockery, Dallas junior; and Jeannie Wheeler, Sulphur Springs sophomore.

Marriage Seminar To Begin March 20

The University Counseling Service will conduct two Leisure Learning Sessions on "Marriage and the Family" at 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 20, in the Coffeehouse of the Student Center.

The sessions will include panel discussions on dating, courtship, marriage and divorce. Panel members will be Dr. Joe Oliver, Greenville psychiatrist; Joann Oliver, psychiatric social worker; Dr. Michael Jamail, university counselor; Dr. Wade Birch, director, University Counseling Service; Steve Favors, assistant dean, Student Development; Paulene Blackburn, doctoral student; Michael Glick, university counselor; and Gail Burris, ET student.

The third session will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 3, in the Coffeehouse of the Student Center on "Human Sexuality: the Physical and Emotional Problems."

The fourth session will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 10, in the Coffeehouse of the Student Center on "Family Life: Togetherness and Individuality."

ISA Presents Tapestry, Certificates to ET, Clubs

A Persian tapestry with scenes depicting the life of poet Omar Khayyam was presented to ET President F. H. McDowell by the International Students Association at a Feb. 27 reception marking the first anniversary of the ISA.

The tapestry was presented by Bahram Nouyan, ISA president, who said the gift was a token of the association's appreciation for the international cooperation and understanding that the university has demonstrated and assistance given to the ISA since its founding a year ago.

Certificates of recognition "of services offered to the association and contributions toward goodwill and understanding" were presented to President McDowell, United Students President Eddie Garcia, the Rotary Club of Commerce, and the Altrusa Club of Greenville. Also honored with certificates of recognition were the past officers of the ISA.

Another Year Has Gone

What in the Hell went wrong

Fellow Students:

As a member of the President's Cabinet of ETSU, I need your support and help in order to tryto achieve the following objectives, which will enable us to build a better ETSU:

1. To allow 18 year olds to have full adult rights (optional housing, optional meal tickets and optional alcoholic beverages).
2. To have an indoor swimming pool and a university bowling alley.
3. To reduce the parking fine fee.
4. To establish a comprehensive health program on campus.
5. To abolish the English usage test.

Faithfully yours,
Bahram Nouyan
