ET Enrollment Record Expected

A record enrollment totaling more than 8,500 students is expected for the spring semester, according to Donald Johnson, associate director of Records.

The records office had processed 8,331 registration packets by 4 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 21, and Johnson said the final figure will probably set a new record for spring enrollment at ET. The standing record spring enrollment is 8,526 set in 1969.

The final date to register is Saturday, Feb. 1. Johnson added that some of the student body usually register late.

The record fall enrollment and the success of ET's extension programs are largely responsible for the expected record spring enrollment, according to Johnson.

John commented that registration Thursday-Saturday, Jan. 16-18, was one of the smoothest that he had ever seen. He added that the various groups that participated in handling registration, such as faculty members, Student Center staff and members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, were largely responsible for the efficient registration.

Don Pope, director of housing, said that 1,750 students are living in single and married housing this semester and that this is about the same number of residents as last spring. The number of campus residents has decreased slightly from the fall semester, as usual, he added.

Pope said that he does not expect a drop in the number of students living in university housing. He commented that there may be a need for additional married housing in the future since more married students are attending ET. According to Pope, married students can not beat the price offered by the housing office.

Scholarship Founded As Ross Memorial

A memorial scholarship has been established in the name of part-time advertising design teacher Daniel Ross, 30, who died Monday Jan. 13, in a Dallas hospital. Funeral services for Ross, who owned a design firm in Dallas, were held Wednesday, Jan. 15, in Dallas and burial took place in Carthage.

Ross had taught his first semester at ET in the fall and had planned to return to teach advertising design in the spring, according to Charles McGough, head, Art Department.

The Daniel Ross Scholarship Fund is being handled through the Office of Planning and Institutional Advancement. According to Dr. Gideon Dean, vice president for planning and institutional advancement, Ross's family, friends and relatives are contributing to the fund established by his wife, Mrs. Ann Ross.

ET Radio Stations Near Broadcast Dates

By Allen Hallmark

One of the two planned radio stations of the Speech-Drama Department's Communication Teaching Facility is scheduled to go on the air beginning Feb. 3, but KETR-FM will not begin broadcasting until March 24, according to Phil Ebensberger, station manager.

Both the FM station and the other station, to be carried as the audio portion of TelePrompter, Inc. cable-TV Channel 3, were scheduled to go on the air by Feb. 3. However, Ebensberger said that new requirements for qualifications for an annual grant of $18,000 caused the delay in the kickoff of KETR-FM.

The Corporation for Public Broadcasting (CPB) which administers federal money for use by public broadcasting stations recently changed its requirements from three to five permanent fulltime employees for a station to qualify for the grant.

The Communications Teaching Facility at present has three fulltime employees: Ebensberger; Jerry Erickson, station engineer, and Carolyn Redwine, traffic and promotion director. Ebensberger said he expects to hire a program manager and a news director soon.

The broadcast facility is located in Room 111 of the Journalism Building pending construction of the new Speech-Drama Building.

The cable-TV radio station will feature a top 40 and news format, according to Kris Miller, Amarillo senior and student program director for the station. The station will be available only to those with access to television sets hooked up to the TelePrompter cable and will not be heard on radio receivers.

Robert Sanders, radio-TV faculty, said that all of the 49 students who have signed up for the one-hour radio practicum course will work in some capacity for the cable station, in programming, news gathering or announcing, or sales. Sanders emphasized that while KETR-FM will be a non-profit public broadcasting station, the cable station will be a commercial venture and advertising will be sold.

Ebensberger said that the delay in the start of KETR, to be broadcast at 88.9 MHz on the FM band, was not caused by lack of equipment. Most of the essential equipment, valued at more than $39,000 has been installed in the studios or at the broadcast tower, located just west of the campus off of Culver Street.

Auditions were conducted this week to choose students who will be directly involved with the on the air broadcasts during the first weeks of the cable station's existence.

Ebensberger said that the station is tentatively scheduled to be on the air six hours per day from about 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays. The students who get the most experience on the cable station will be moved in most cases to the FM station when it begins broadcasting, Ebensberger said.

Sanders said that there has been a greater demand for radio-TV courses this spring than previously. "Interest, enthusiasm, and enrollment are all looking up, we're covered with students," he said. Sanders added that the promise of the new radio stations going on the air may have been a factor in attracting the heavy enrollment.

Sanders encouraged students outside of radio-TV to consider applying for summer positions with the FM station, which will be on the air approximately 18 hours per day, 365 days per year. There will be more paid positions open during breaks between semesters and during the summer months.

Ebensberger said that with the grant money from CPB, expected to be available in July, he would like to purchase extra equipment for the facility. Included would be a carrier current system to broadcast the cable station through the wiring of the university so that it could be picked up by AM radio receivers almost anywhere on campus. The carrier current system would cost about $5,000, according to Ebensberger.

Semester Forum Arts To Open With Canadian Dancing Troupe

The 1975 Spring Forum Arts Series will open with the Contemporary Dancers of Canada at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 13, in the University Auditorium, according to Dr. Margaret Wheat, director of Forum Arts.

The Contemporary Dancers of Canada are called Canada's leading professional modern dance company. The group's performance consists of a two-hour modern dance theatre.

Dr. Ernest Dichter, founder and president of the Institution of Motivational Research, will speak on Motivational Behavior at 9:30 a.m. Monday, Feb. 17, in the University Auditorium. Dr. Dichter is responsible for Exxon's slogan "Put a Tiger in Your Tank."

Anthony Burgess, author of "A Clockwork Orange," will speak on "Literature and Film as Art Forms" at 9 a.m. Thursday, March 6, in the University Auditorium. Burgess has been a teacher, composer, pianist, translator, reviewer, and a participant in the theater world.

Three Forum Arts programs have been scheduled for April with the first program featuring Mark Russell, political satirist. The program, in collaboration with the Sam Rayburn Symposium, will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday, April 1, in the University Auditorium.

Dr. Wheat explained that originally Jeremiah Collins was to impersonate former President John F. Kennedy in a mock press conference for the April 1 Forum Arts time slot. However, she said that Collins has reportedly died since the booking, and Russell will replace his performance.

The Shreveport Symphony Orchestra, supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency, combined with the ET Chorale, the Stephen F. Austin A Cappella Choir, and the Kilgore College Chorale will perform Beethoven's Ninth Symphony at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, April 15, in the University Auditorium. "This is the first time Beethoven's Ninth has been performed in Commerce," Dr. Wheat said.

Dr. Harry E. Harlow, psychologist and director of the Primate Laboratory at the University of Wisconsin, will speak on the affectional system in monkeys in a speech entitled "Love Created, Love Destroyed, Love Regained," at 10:30 a.m. Monday, April 21, in the University Auditorium.

A Forum Arts cards is required for admission to all Forum Arts programs, according to Dr. Wheat. Freshman and sophomore students may register for cards in their English classes Monday, Jan. 27, and Tuesday, Jan. 28. Juniors, seniors and graduate students may register for cards in their major departments on Wednesday, Jan. 29, through Friday, Jan. 31. Students may also register for Forum Arts cards in Room 212 of the Social Sciences Building through Saturday, Feb. 1.

Applications Being Taken For 11 Senate Vacancies

The Student Senate will begin the spring semester with eleven vacancies, according to United Students Association President Steve Henderson. In addition to the eleven senate seats, which include four graduate, two senior, three junior, and two freshman, the Student Supreme Court has two vacancies.

Students wishing to fill a court or senate seat may apply in the USA office on the second floor of the Student Center. Friday, Jan. 31 is the deadline for filing an application for any of the vacant seats.

All applicants must be in good standing with the university.

Burglaries, Accidents Reported

Three apartments occupied by ET students at Ponderosa Apartments were reported burglarized during the Christmas holiday, and ET students were involved in five minor traffic accidents reported to Commerce police since Monday, Jan. 13.

A tape player, digital clock, radio, 8-track cartridge tape and a pink comforter were reported taken from Apartment No. 6007, occupied by Charlotte Smith. The total value of the objects reported taken was listed at $175.

Mary M. Aslan reported that a 15-inch television, a pair of pajamas, dress, 22 caliber rifle with shells and 22 caliber pistol were taken from her apartment between Dec. 22-26.

A digital clock valued at $15 was taken from the apartment occupied by Gloria Owens. A pair of channel lock pliers was used to enter the apartment, according to police reports. The means used to enter the other two apartments is unknown at this time.

All three burglaries are under investigation by the Commerce Police Department and no arrests have been made.

Deborah Garland, ET student, driving a 1973 Chevrolet was involved in a wreck with John Moore in a 1965 Dodge Monday, Jan. 13. The accident took place on Avenue A on the ET campus.

Harold C. Todd Jr., ET student in a 1963 Chevrolet Nova, was in collision with a 1970 Chevrolet, driven by Joe Neeley Gauden Tuesday, Jan. 14, on Bonham Alley.

Arhibold Yupak Siu, ET student, driving a 1967 Camero was in collision with a 1968 Ford driven by Donna K. Bullard Thursday, Jan. 16, on Culver St.

ET students Wendell Harris, driving a 1969 Volkswagen, and Pamela Jo Gibbons, in a 1974 Chevrolet Vega, were involved in an accident Friday, Jan. 17, on 800 Park St.

Frank Gordon Jones, ET student, driving a 1974 Mustang and Charlotte Smith, student, in a 1971 Chevrolet were involved in a wreck at the Ponderosa Apartments parking lot Monday, Jan. 20.

Speech Test Registration To Be Held Feb. 3-7

Registration for Speech Proficiency Tests will be conducted Monday, Feb. 3-Friday, Feb. 7, in the Speech Building, according to Dr. Anthony Buckley, speech faculty.

The tests will be conducted Monday, Feb. 10-Wednesday, Feb. 12, in the Speech Building. A student is required to take the test for entrance into the Teacher's Training Program.

Plans Call for Action

The beginning of a semester brings with it the usual problems of schedule changes, searches for books (preferably used), and generally getting back into the swing of things. This semester is no different. But along with the usual problems of getting a new semester started, we are faced with much more serious issues.

With this semester comes problems left over from last semester, last year, the year before, etc. Suggestions, plans, proposals, committee studies—all have become part of life at ET—a custom of sorts. But the sad thing is that instead of being the means to ends, many of the plans and proposals have become means without ends. Very seldom do any of the worthwhile, meaningful plans result in actual concrete action. Supposedly made to benefit the students and the campus, the plans more often simply provide committees, administration personnel, and student politicians with something to do—something to consider, study, sometimes pass on to someone else, and then lay aside, along with hundreds of other proposals that died from the bureaucratic ax.

The administration, student government, and the various campus committees are heard to meet at various times for the purpose of constructing plans and projects to benefit students and the campus. And good ideas often arise. But ideas are what they stay. Worthwhile projects that students would appreciate are somehow lost in committee hearings, paperwork, the all-too-familiar run around, and in offices that delay approval for so long that the whatever-it-was is forgotten, or outdated.

Administration inefficiency? Student apathy? Poor student government? Whatever the problem is, a remedy must be found—and not next semester or next year—now, spring 1975. All the good ideas and proposals must begin to take shape in constructive action. The possibilities for a better university are here, but all the planning must begin to produce concrete results.

The Student Senate has the power to take constructive action on many proposed projects, if it can avoid getting bogged down in its own parliamentary procedure. Worthwhile projects such as a shuttle bus system, a teacher evaluation system that would be available to students, student-operated coops, and other projects that would directly affect students have been discussed in senate meetings. Unfortunately, that is about as far as they have gotten. Other such plans on every level of the administration and in various committees would be equally as beneficial if they ever took shape.

Now is the time for action—concrete results that students can see. Ideas are not worth the effort if they cannot be fulfilled. Let's put forth all our efforts this semester to end the bureaucratic entanglement and begin actual production. —SJM

Phone Co. Offers Reply To Complaint

The Commerce district manager of the Gulf States-United Telephone Co., in a reply to a letter complaining about poor telephone service written to the company by United Students Association President Steve Henderson, has invited the Student Senate to tour the telephone company facilities.

Henderson wrote the letter after the General Assembly, a special meeting of the Student Senate when all students of ET are allowed to participate, passed a resolution on Dec. 4 calling upon Henderson to write the letter to protest the difficulty in placing phone calls, especially from on-campus to off-campus numbers and vice versa and the noise level on the telephone service here.

Bobby Black, Gulf States district manager, in his letter replying to Henderson's letter, invited the Student Senate to take a tour of the Commerce phone company's facilities "as my guests . . . at any time."

Black wrote that when a person placing a call hears no dial tone, this means that all circuits "between the campus and our other office are busy." He said action was being taken to alleviate this problem.

The company sends two to five service men to campus daily, according to Black, to solve service problems. He said that the noise problem is caused by a need for additional switching equipment maintenance. "We plan to accelerate our routine (maintenance) program during coming weeks to combat this noise problem," Black said.

Harry James Band To Appear Feb. 11

Harry James, jazz trumpeter and bandleader, and his New Swingin' Band, will present a concert co-sponsored by the Student Activities Board and the Commerce Rotary Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 11, in the University Auditorium, according to Barry Mangels, Student Activities Board program director.

Mangels said that tickets for the concert are $3 in advance and $3.50 at the door, and can be purchased at the student activities desk in the Student Center or from any Rotary Club member.

Harry James began his career playing with the Benny Goodman Band, but in 1939 he quit Goodman, and backed with money from Goodman began his own band, Harry James and his Music Makers. They gained fame with a rendition of "You Made Me Love You."

Married to Betty Grable, World War II's Number One pin-up girl, James has also acted in such movies as "Springtime in the Rockies," "Two Girls and a Sailor," and "Best Foot Forward." He has also done dramatic roles in several television series.

Dr. Tice To Resign As Dept. Head

Dr. Grady G. Tice, head, Department of Secondary and Higher Education, has requested that he be relieved of his administrative duties and permitted to return to full-time teaching at the end of the spring semester.

ET President F. H. McDowell approved Dr. Tice's request and has appointed a seven-person committee to seek and screen qualified applicants for the department head position.

Dr. Tice joined the ET faculty in 1956 following a number of years as a public school teacher. Immediately prior to his arrival at ET he was an instructor at Ranger Junior College.

Dr. Tice holds the B. S. degree from ET, an M.A. from Same Houston State University, and a Ph.D. from Louisiana State University.

In announcing Dr. Tice's decision to step down as department head, President McDowell commended him for his "exemplary service to the University."

Dr. Glenn Fournet, psychology faculty, has been named director of the Office of Independent Studies, replacing Dr. Robin Rudoff, history faculty. The directorship operates on a three-year rotation system.

During his stay as director, Dr. Fournet said, he hopes to strengthen support of the program. One way to accomplish this is "to establish esprit de corps among honors students," he said.

Dr. Fournet said that he would like the Office of Independent Studies to be more than a place where students go for academic advisement. Hopefully, through the program a student can form closer relationships with faculty and other students, he explained.

Dr. Fournet said that he favors the establishment of a "university-wide" honors program. To do this, he hopes to add new honors courses in departments such as guidance and counseling and education, which have not previously offered such courses.

The Honors Program, according to Dr. Fournet, has two purposes. It provides students with a closer relationship to an instructor in a smaller class situation. Secondly, it allows an undergraduate student to do graduate-like research in his interest area.

The program's flexibility is its strong point, Dr. Fournet said. A student can choose the honors courses he will take and, in some instances, the instructor.

Dr. Fournet has been involved with Independent Studies for several years. He has worked with the honors program through the Psychology Department by advising students working on honors theses and by serving on the Committee of Independent Studies.

The Committee of Independent Studies acts to oversee the program, to solve any problems, and to approve applications for graduating with honors. The committee is composed of two faculty members from each college, college deans, and Joe Helton, director of Testing and Orientation.

Independent studies is divided into two parts, the honors program which has 283 students and concurrent enrollment which has 17.

The honors program is open to students scoring a minimum of 25 on the ACT test or 1140 on the SAT test. Instructors may also recommend students for the honors program. Students select their honors courses from various general studies courses offered as honors courses. These classes are smaller and more specially designed than regular classes.

During his junior year, a student may apply for graduation with honors. This requires three semester hours of individualized reading and three to six hours of thesis or research work. Then the student must present a defense of his thesis before representatives of his department and representatives of Independent Studies.

The honors program also includes University Colloquium, although it is open to all students and provides a student with the opportunity to interact with different instructors.

Concurrent enrollment is open to a high school junior with a B average, who is permitted to take two courses per semester. By the time a student graduates from high school, he can have as many as eight university courses toward his college degree, according to Dr. Fournet.

Social Groups Schedule

Rush for New Members

Social fraternities on campus began rush Monday, Jan. 20, and social sororities have scheduled their rush to begin Monday, Jan. 27.

Both rushes will continue throughout this semester. Any student interested in participating in rush can sign up at the Office of the Associate Dean of Student Life in the Student Services Building.

According to Debra Milton, Panhellenic adviser, a new social sorority, Zeta Phi Beta, is now on campus.

Over-all grade-point averages for the 13 social fraternities have been completed with Delta Tau Delta having the highest average of 2.65. Alpha Gamma Rho was second with an average of 2.60 and Delta Chi third with 2.54.

26 Leisure Learning Courses To Be Offered During Semester

Twenty-six hobby, self-improvement, and intellectual interest courses are being offered to ET students during the spring semester through the Leisure Learning Program, according to George Maguire, Student Center director.

The program is jointly sponsored by the Student Center Office and the Office of Student Development. The Student Activities Board is financing the program with a $1,000 appropriation for the 1974-75 academic year.

The number of courses offered for the spring semester has been increased over the three or four courses offered during the past fall semester, Maguire said. He said that the program had been de-emphasized last semester because of a change in the Office of Student Development and concentration on Homecoming activities, but the program was being rejuvenated for the spring semester.

Students must pre-register in person for courses in the Activities Center on the second floor of the Student Center between 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Registration fees for Modern Dance, Beginning Guitar and Folk Guitar must be paid when registering.

The courses, times offered, and locations are: Better Living through Behaviorism, 7-8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 20-March 13, DeVaca Room, Student Center; Career Development, 3-4 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday, Feb. 4-13, Trinity East, Student Center; Contemporary Organizational Behaviour, 7-9 p.m., Mondays, Feb. 3-17, Room 251, Business Administration Building; Drug Rap, 7:30-9:30 p.m., April 2-9, location to be announced; The Metric System: Football and Apple Pie, 7-9 p.m. Wednesdays, Feb. 11-25, Room 258, Business Administration Building; and Muscle Relaxation Group, 1:30-2:20 p.m. Wednesdays, Jan. 29, Counseling Center.

Other courses include Science Fiction Interest Group, 7:30-9 p.m. Tuesdays, beginning on Jan. 28, Sabine Room, Student Center, Self-Improvement Through Transactional Analysis, 7-9 p.m. Mondays, March 3-24; Sell Your Organization, 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, March 4, location to be announced; Shakespeare Film Festival, 7-9 p.m. Thursdays, Feb. 27-March 13, American Ballroom; Tablesettings for the Contemporary Bride, 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, March 4, Shibui Gallery, King Plaza; Weight Control Group, 3-4 p.m. Thursdays, Feb. 6, University Hospital; Basic Floral Design, 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 4, La Salle Room, Student Center; and Beginning Guitar, 6-8 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, March 25-April 15, Caddo Room, Student Center.

Also included in the list of courses are Folk Guitar, 6-8 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday, April 17-May 1, Caddo Room, Student Center; Picture Framing, 7-9 p.m. Thursdays, March 6-13, Country Studio Farm Shop; Conditioning for Men and Women, 7-9 p.m. Wednesdays, Feb. 5-March 12, location to be announced; Modern Dance, 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 4-March 11, Caddo Room, Student Center; and Structure Fishing Using Depth Finder, 7-8 p.m. Monday, Feb. 24, Rio Grande Room, Student Center.

Ten or twelve other courses will also be offered later in the semester, but plans for them have not been finalized yet, according to Barry Mangels, Student Center program director. He said that the other courses may include basic instruction in tennis, wine tasting, viewing Europe tourists' slides, and camping.

Students, faculty and staff members and their families are eligible to participate in a Leisure Learning course. Those with ideas for other courses should see Mangels or Pat Turner, director of Student Development.

Credit-Free Courses To Be Offered

Thirteen courses will be offered to ET students and area residents by the Division of Continuing Education for the 1975 spring semester, according to Mrs. Patsy Holder, assistant to the dean of the Division of Continuing Education.

Mrs. Holder explained that course enrollment can be made at the Continuing Education office, corner of Monroe and Lee streets, any time prior to the class date, or at the time of the first class meeting.

A class in natural childbirth, instructed by Mrs. Freda Green, opened the first of the courses on Tuesday, Jan. 21, from 7-9 p.m. in the De Vaca Room of the Student Center. Enrollment is still available for the six-session course, with a fee of $25 per couple.

Beginning in February, courses will be offered in guitar instruction, needlecraft, karate, survey of the creative process, sign language, basic clothing construction, antiques, body and figure control for women, gymnastics and tumbling for children, interior decorating, wine tasting and real estate principles.

Starting Monday, Feb. 3, courses will be offered for beginning guitar instruction and needlecraft.

Instructed by Dr. Harry Fullwood, guitar lessons will be held for ages six through 14 from 6:30-7:30 p.m., and for ages 15 and up from 7:30-9 p.m. in Henderson Hall. The course will include 10 sessions and a $25 fee.

Needlecraft, consisting of knitting and crocheting, will be held from 7-9 p.m. in the Student Center Trinity East and West Rooms. Instructed by Vicki Seale, the course includes eight sessions and a $15 fee.

Courses in karate, survey of the creative process, sign language, basic clothing construction, and antiques will begin on Tuesday, Feb. 4.

Sessions in karate for beginners will be held from 6-7:30 p.m., and for advanced students from 7:30-9 p.m. in Henderson Hall. Lasting all semester, the course is instructed by Bob Beasley and there is a $25 fee.

Survey of the creative process, a course on the ideas and examples of creative people of the past and contemporary artists, will be held from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the Mockingbird Room of the Student Center. Dr. Lee Dacus will conduct the six-session course and the fee is $25.

A basic clothing construction course will be held in the Home Economics Building Clothing Room from 7-9 p.m. The course consists of 10 sessions instructed by Sharon Lee and the fee is $25.

A sign language course used by hearing impaired persons, and instructed by Bevan Turner will be offered from 7-8:30 p.m. in the Student Center Board Room. The 15-week course is limited to 25 persons and a book fee of $7.88 is required in addition to the $20 registration fee.

Classes designed for the selection and care of antiques will be held from 7-9 p.m. in Room 113 of the Home Economics Building. Instructed by Debbie Norsworthy, the six-session course fee is $20.

Beginning Wednesday, Feb. 5, a course for body and figure control for women, and a gymnastics and tumbling course for children will be offered.

The figure control class will be held from 7-8 p.m. in Whitley Gym. The six-session course will be conducted by Joyce Bankston and the fee is $6.

New Learning Center Concept Introduced To Stress Motivation

A new concept in undergraduate instruction outside the normal curriculum, will debut later this year under the direction of Dr. James Reynolds.

Dr. Reynolds, literature-languages faculty, said the new program—called the New Center for Learning—will seek highly motivated and mature students to participate in an exciting, slightly unorthodox approach to college studies.

Stressing that students would not be restricted in career or educational pursuits, the program focuses on three main areas: a variety of on and off-campus studies, individualized degree plans, and interdisciplinary seminars.

"Actually, the NCL seminar format is fairly simple," Dr. Reynolds explained. "Each course begins with normal reading and writing assignments, and then we guide the students into small groups for problem-solving projects. Throughout, the subject seminars are made relevant to their individual purposes and values."

A unique aspect of the program will be the "team teaching" concept, in which professors from different departments instruct at the same time, rather than in sequence.

"Our efforts will be directed toward what we see as an increasingly diversified student body," Dr. Reynolds continued. "We also want to provide a degree of educational flexibility and freedom which the motivated student needs."

The first classes are scheduled to begin for the fall semester at ET, and Dr. Reynolds hopes to have about 35 students participating initially. He added that a comprehensive admissions and interview process will be necessary before admission to the program.

5 Apartments Destroyed In Local Fire Jan. 18

Five apartment units occupied by ET students at Seven Arrows Apartments, 907 Chestnut, were destroyed by fire Saturday night, Jan. 18, according to Bob Wiggins, Commerce fire marshal.

Damage to the apartment complex was listed at $50,000-$75,000. A sixth apartment received smoke and water damage.

According to Wiggins, the fire started in the central heating units of either Apartment No. 3, occupied by Tom Pursefull, or in No. 4, which was occupied by Larry Wright.

An unidentified woman visiting in apartment No. 3 jumped from a second-story window at the complex. She was treated and released at Commerce Medical and Surgical Hospital.

Other ET students who occupied apartments damaged by fire were Robert Jordan, Charles Garrett, Michael Anderson, Anthony Harris, Kay Mize, and Mrs. Sonny Hess and her two children.

SAB Committee Planned For Married Students

The formation of a Student Activities Board committee to plan activities and programs for married students is being planned, according to Barry Mangels, Student Center program director.

Married students on campus, especially those with children, need entertainment and activities they can attend as a family, Mangels said, and these needs can be met through a committee consisting of married students as part of the SAB.

Mangels said that one or two married people were needed as chairman or co-chairman and a few members to form the committee. A member of the new committee will also serve on the SAB Program Council.

Mangels said that the SAB has sponsored activities and programs for married students with children in past semesters, particularly during the summers, but that with a committee of married students, more of these programs could be offered.

CAMPUS SCOPE

'Cabaret' Set for Sunday, Jan. 26

The Academy Award winning movie "Cabaret" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 26, in the American Ballroom of the Student Center.

Admission to the SAB-sponsored film is 75 cents with a student ID. The movie stars Liza Minnelli with Michael York and Joel Gray. Rated PG, the film is set in pre-World War II Berlin and deals with the life and loves of a cabaret singer.

Movies scheduled for the semester include "Sleeper," "Soylent Green," "American Graffiti," "Executive Action," "Camelot," "Carnal Knowledge," "Westworld," "The Way We Were," "Portnoy's Complaint," "Class of '44," "Last Tango in Paris" and "Hitler's Last Ten Days."

Program To Feature Zander

Dr Arlan Zander, physics faculty, will appear on WFAA-TV's "At Issue: UFO's" at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 1, in a discussion with William Dexter of St. Marks School, and a studio audience. Dr. Zander teaches a class entitled "UFO: A Scientific Debate," Physics 397.

The show will be videotaped at 6:30 Monday, Jan. 27, for the showing later in the week. Tickets are available for the taping by request from WFAA-TV in Dallas.

Students Present Paper

Three ET chemistry graduate students and three faculty members presented papers at the 30th Annual Southwest Regional Meeting of the American Society held at Houston last month.

Shun Au-Young, Ned Ammari and Matthew McDowell presented papers on the college teaching of chemistry. Dr. Janice Barton presented a paper on protein chemistry while Drs. Kenneth Ashley and Richard Clevenger discussed new programs in the ET Chemistry Department.

Dr. Ashley's topic was Computer Assisted Instruction and Dr. Clevenger discussed the Forensic Science Program.

Comic Opera Set

"Cosi fan tutti," a comic opera by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, Feb. 24, 25, and 27, in the Music Building Concert Hall.

William Abbott, music faculty, will be the musical director. Stage direction will be by Dr. Anthony Buckley, speech faculty. Brenda Hass, Mesquite freshman, will provide the accompaniment.

Members of the cast include Pam Rothlisberger, Fierdiligi; Jeanmarie Bonifield, Dorabella; Joe Bennett, Guglielmo; Mike Trussell, Ferrando; Ernestine Richard, Despina; and Phil Seawell, Don Alfonso.

Tickets are $1 and will go on sale later this month in the Music Building.

Quilting Class Slated

Anyone interested in learning the art of quilting can do so from 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 29, in the Caddo Room of the Student Center. Pre-registration will be at the Activities Desk in the Student Center.

Cost of the craft class is 75 cents with all materials being supplied except fabric. Instructors for the class are Susan Davis and Roxie Valteau, Student Center program adviser.

Concert Scheduled

A free concert featuring the Arlington High School Wind Ensemble is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. today in the Concert Hall of the Music Building.

Videotape To Be Shown

"The Best of Ernie Kovacs," a free videotaped film, will be shown continually from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday-Friday, Jan. 27-31, in the Founders Lounge of the Student Center.

'Banner Night' Set for Jan. 27

Banner night for the ET basketball team will be Monday, Jan. 27, according to ET cheerleaders. Any interested organization is invited to put up a sign in the gym before the game begins at 7:30 Monday night.

Library Tours Set

Tours at Gee Library will be conducted every hour on the half hour from 10:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Monday-Tuesday, Jan. 27-28, according to Dwayne Schrag, head, Library Reference Department. A librarian will meet those taking the tour near the library entrance.

Play Tickets Available

Tickets for the play "Inherit the Wind" at the Dallas Theatre Center on Feb. 21 are being sold by the Student Activities Board at a reduced price for ET students in the Activities Center on the second floor of the Student Center, according to Student Center Program Director Barry Mangels.

The price of the tickets is $1 with a student identification and $2 without identification. The cost of the

Wilson Named To Serve
As Acting Dept. Head

Dr. Judy Wilson, home economics faculty, has been named acting Home Economics Department head, according to President F. H. McDowell.

Dr. Wilson succeeds Dr. Wathena Temple, who died in November in an Oklahoma hospital after a lengthy illness. The ETSU Home Economics Building was named in Dr. Temple's honor at the Nov. 8 Board of Regents meeting.

A native of Dallas, Dr. Wilson holds both the B.A. and M.A. from ET and the Ph.D. from Texas Woman's University.

A search and screen committee to seek a permanent replacement for Dr. Temple has been appointed by President McDowell. Dr. Arthur Pullen, acting dean of the College of Sciences and Technology, heads the committee.

President McDowell expressed his desire to make the selection of the permanent head from the committee's recommendation by the first summer term.

tickets would be $2 for students, but the SAB is subsidizing them through the Cultural Outreach Program, Mangels said.

This program is an SAB project to help ET students go to the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex for events of "interest and educational value." There is a limit of 30, or possibly 60, tickets available.

Ditto Service Offered

A free "ditto" service is being offered to students by the Office of Student Development on the second floor of the Student Center, according to Nelson Robinson, assistant director of Student Development.

A student should provide paper and typed stencils, allowing at least five days for mimeographing. Robinson said the service was begun last semester, but that few students were aware of it.

ET To Meet LSC Leader

Southwest Texas brings the top scoring defense and the leading rebounding team in the Lone Star Conference to Commerce as the Bobcats put their unblemished conference record on the line against ET's Lions at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Field House.

Sporting a 6-0 LSC mark, SWT will be meeting ET, 4-3 in the LSC, for the first time this season. The two are ranked first and second in the LSC East Zone.

ET, currently riding a three game losing streak, suffered its first loss at home Monday night, falling to SFA, 82-78.

While SWT is tops in the LSC in scoring defense, team field goal percentage, and team rebounding, ET rates third, third, and fifth in those categories. The Bobcats have allowed only 73.3 points per game and ET has given up 79.1 points an outing. Each team has averaged 83.8 points a game on offense, tied for third best in the conference.

Nate Granger and O'Neal Tarrant are running third and fourth in the LSC scoring. Granger is sinking 23.3 points a contest while Tarrant is hitting 22.5 points a night.

The Bobcats' Eric Bartlett and Richard Bryant are both pumping the nets for 18.1 points a game.

Bryant comes into the ET game on a scoring spree. The 6-5 junior had 48 points and 15 rebounds in SWT's last two games.

In LSC action on Monday, Jan. 20, SWT defeated Texas A&I 96-79; Abilene Christian beat Sul Ross, 96-74; Angelo State drubbed Tarleton, 77-64; and Stephen F. Austin squeezed past East Texas, 82-78.

The only Saturday night games are SWT at East Texas and Sam Houston at SFA. Monday night action will see Tarleton State at Abilene Christian, Texas A&I at East Texas, Howard Payne at Sul Ross, SWT at Sam Houston, and Trinity at Angelo State.

Chairmen Named At Senate Meeting

Although the Student Senate was unable to reach a quorum at its first meeting of the semester Wednesday night, Jan. 22, Senate President Byran Jackson did appoint chairmen to two committees. He also announced that there were senate and senate committee vacancies.

Jackson appointed Bertrand Maxwell as chairman of the Student Life Committee and Ann Linwood as chairperson on the Educational Affairs Committee. Senator Walter Cumberly was appointed as member of Fiscal and Governmental Operations Committee.

According to Jackson, there are two freshman, three junior, two senior and four graduate senate vacancies.

Jackson also proposed that the senate consider meeting twice monthly rather than meeting every week. The senate committees might meet during the other two weeks, he said, and be better prepared for senate meetings.

The senate will meet next week at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday Jan. 29.

Intramurals Slated To Begin Jan. 28

By Merle Ward

Men's and women's intramural activities are now being organized, with men's basketball beginning next week and women's activities starting in February.

Spring competition for men's intramurals will begin Tuesday, Jan. 28, with a single round basketball tournament including independent, fraternity, and faculty-staff leagues.

Independents will play on Mondays and Wednesdays, fraternities on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and the faculty-staff league on Fridays.

Fraternity competition will include "A" and "B" divisions, while independent teams will comprise "A" and "B" divisions and a "six-foot-and-under" division.

Anyone interested in participating can contact Barney Iles, men's intramural director at the Intramural Office in the Field House.

The spring semester for women's intramurals sports will begin Monday, Feb. 10, with competition in archery, followed by table tennis beginning Feb. 17, softball starting March 24, and tennis April 14.

Representatives from sororities and independent organizations will meet at 4 p.m. Monday, Jan. 27, in Whitley Gym to discuss plans for the spring semester.

Interested participants may register by contacting Carolyn "Scooter" McQueary, women's intramural director, at the Intramural Office in Whitley Gym or by calling 468-2509.

Lions Suffer 3rd LSC Loss

By Rod Paasch

After spotting Stephen F. Austin's Lumberjacks a 17-point first-half lead, ET's Lions staged a comeback, but fell short by four, dropping the Lone Star Conference game, 82-78, Monday night at the Field House.

It was the third straight LSC loss for the Lions and the first loss at home in 13 contests, stretching back into last season. Coach Jim Gudger's cagers hold an 11-8 season mark and stand 4-3 in LSC action.

The Lions are in third place, behind Southwest Texas (6-0), and SFA (6-1), in the LSC's East Zone. The 10-member conference divided into two zones for basketball action this season. Howard Payne leads the West with a 4-2 LSC slate.

In the Tuesday, Jan. 14 outing, ET fell to Angelo State, 102-91. O'Neal Tarrant burned the nets for 34 points in the contest and Nate Granger added 13 to pace ET's scoring.

Hugo Cabrera, 6-7 junior, had the finest night of his career in Monday's SFA game, leading all scorers with 26 points and pulling in 10 rebounds, despite suffering muscle cramps during the second half.

SFA boasted a successful one-two scoring punch in Gary and Andria Brown. The two brothers poured in 22 and 21 points, respectively, and combined for 15 rebounds. One other Lumberjack, Jimmy Weaver, hit double digits with 18 points.

Down by 9-0, four minutes into the game, ET found the SFA defense too tight to crack in the early going. At one time the 'Jack lead was stretched to 20 points and it was not until freshman playmaker Larry McGhee rallied the Lions in the second half that the lead dissolved.

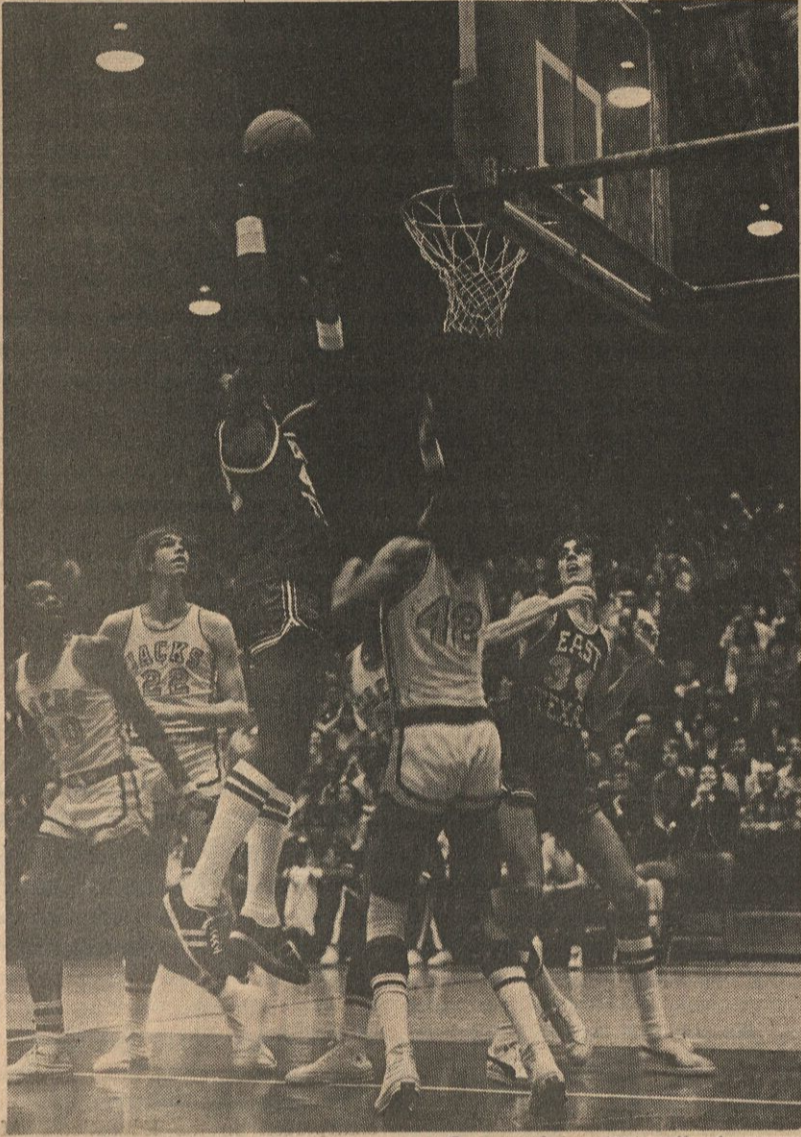

With McGhee's ballhandling and passing, the Lions melted the SFA margin to nine points, 65-56, with 12:59 left in the game before scoring 10 unassisted points to take the lead for the first time, 66-65. With the packed stands thundering approval, ET battled the 'Jacks bucket for bucket until SFA pulled to a five-point lead with 44 seconds remaining on the clock.

ET's usual playmaker, O'Neal Tarrant, found himself in foul trouble early and spent much of the second half on the bench. Tarrant, the conference's "Most Valuable Player" last season, bucketed an ET career low of eight points in the game.

Outscoring the visitors in the second period, 42-29, the Lions also hit more field goals, 35-33. Charity shots made the difference with SFA sinking 16 of 24 while the home team netted only eight of 12.

Through 19 games the ET season results are as follows: ET 78-East Central (Okla.) 75; ET 73-Central State (Okla.) 66; ET 84-Ouachita Baptist (Ark.) 69; East Central (Okla.) 84-ET 74; ET 101-UNC-Asheville (N.C.) 78; Western Carolina (N.C.) 83-ET 80; ET 103-Sul Ross State 79; Memphis State 100-ET 89; ET 85-Austin College 55.

ET 101-Dallas Baptist 91; Bishop College 86-ET 83; UT-El Paso 72-ET 62; ET 76-Southern State (Ark.) 69; ET 103-Angelo State 83; ET 78-Tarleton State 75; ET 86-Abilene Christian 74; Howard Payne 79-ET 65; Angelo State 102-ET 91; and Stephen F. Austin 82-ET 78.

Lions Defeat Shamrocks 52-25

Although still out of shape from three weeks of "mom's home cooking" during the semester break, ET's women's varsity basketball team returned to action to defeat the Richland Shamrocks, 52-25, Tuesday night in Dallas.

Taking a 23-16 lead to the dressing room at the half, the Lions bounded back on the courts the second half and only allowed the 'Sham's nine points.

Shooting improved from a 25 per cent, 10 out of 40, in the first half to 46 per cent, 14 out of 30, in the second half.

"We came back in the second half and were shooting better and our defense was working better," coach Susie Knause said concerning the game.

Ripping the net for seven of 17 attempts, Yalanda Jones, with 14 points, took high scoring honors for the Lions.

The Lions will next face Eastfield Junior College in a home game Tuesday night, Jan. 28 in Whitley Gym, and then travel to Stephenville, Friday, Jan. 31 to participate in the Tarleton Tournament.

City Hears Sewer Plan

The Commerce City Commission Tuesday night discussed plans to improve city sewerage facilities, the state highway thoroughfare program, and extending the sanitation contract.

Robert Scalf, representative of Henningson, Durham and Richardson, Inc. of Texas, presented a status report to the commission on the firm's research and recommendations for improving the city's sewerage facilities and water treatment plant.

After studying environmental conditions, the firm abandoned its proposal for a new water treatment plant and instead recommended constructing additional facilities at the present water treatment plant. The plan also calls for additional and improved sewerage service for the Norris Community.

Scalf estimated that the project would cost $2,328,000, with 75 per cent to be paid through a federal grant. Construction of the project is expected to begin next spring and be completed within 18 months.

Representatives of the Texas Highway Department explained to the commission the State Highway Thoroughfare Program, a federal-state cooperative effort. The program allows cities to receive assistance in upgrading streets that feed traffic into state highways.

The commission instructed City Manager Morris Howard to work with the representatives and the Commerce Planning and Zoning Commission in establishing guidelines for the program to be enacted locally.

The commission tabled action on extending the sanitation contract that allows for city garbage pick-up, and instructed City Manager Howard to negotiate with the firm on terms of a new contract. The present three-year contract expires March 31.

In other business, the commission denied a request made by Jim Thigpen, local bicentennial chairman, for $1,500 to be allocated in the 1975-76 city budget to match state bicentennial funds. The funds would have been used to build a local Bicentennial Memorial Park. The commissioners agreed that the allocation could not be made since they had not yet studied next year's budget.

Following a request from the Commerce Water District Board, the commission voted to approve City Manager Howard as the official city representative.

Grant Awarded for Study Of Strip Mining Effects

A grant for study of the effects of soil reclamation following coal strip mining has been awarded to ET by the electric consortium of Texas Power & Light, Dallas Power & Light and the Texas Electric Service Company.

According to Dr. Moses Attrep, chemistry faculty, the consortium is providing a $9,776 grant to Glen A. Austin, chemistry faculty, for a study of the Monticello lignite mining area in Titus County. Austin will analyze soil before and after strip mining and will also examine changes caused by the mining and resultant reclamation efforts for one year.

4 Seminars To Feature Tatum

The Journalism-Graphic Arts Department will sponsor four photographic seminars presented by Mike Tatum, manager of the professional services photographic branch of Honeywell Enterprises, according to Joseph Costa, journalism faculty.

The seminar will be held on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 27-28, in the Journalism Auditorium. All photography students are required to attend. The seminars will count as four separate J-100 seminars and the public is invited, Costa said.

Tatum, formerly vice president and manager of the Technical Services branch of Ethol Photographic Chemical Company, is a member of the American Society of Magazine Photographers. His syndicated radio talk show "Camera Talk," is broadcast by more than 300 stations, and his newspaper column "Camera Techniques" is printed in more than 300 newspapers.

The Honeywell photographic seminar will be given in four different areas of photojournalism:

3:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 27. "The European Approach to Photojournalism." Approximately 75 minutes.

8:30 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 28. "Small Camera Shooting, Printing and Lab Techniques." Approximately three hours, with a coffee break midway.

2 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 28. "Exposure and Development of the Miniature Negative." Approximately three hours with a break midway.

8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 28. "The Photographer: His Obligations, His Awareness, and the Development of Photo Vision." Approximately 90 minutes.

Colloquium Series To Begin Monday

Orientation Meeting Set To Aid Older Students

Two ET faculty members invite any older students at ET who may be having problems adjusting to college after being away for an extended time to meet with them at 12:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 29, in the Student Center snack bar.

The faculty members, Dr. Deborah Ohanesian, counseling faculty, and Dr. Bonnie Kelterborn, mathematics faculty, are interested in forming a discussion group with students who want to discuss the problems or fears that they have been experiencing while adjusting to college.

According to Kelterborn, people who wait between high school and college, sometimes for many years, often return to college fearful that they are no longer able to study and learn.

The Wednesday meeting is designed to start a discussion group that would work to find solutions to these problems and fears.

Older students interested in the program may contact Dr. Ohanesian by calling 468-6102 or Dr. Kelterborn at 468-2558.

MCC To Sponsor Activities Jan. 29-31

An open house will begin spring activities at the Multi-Culture Center from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Wednesday-Friday, Jan. 29-31.

The purpose of the open house will be to acquaint new students with the center's facilities, which include a library, TV room, music room, and information about foreign countries.

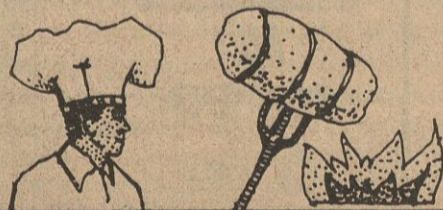

The center will also sponsor a Cultural Week, Feb. 4-8, planned to acquaint different cultural groups. Dr. Juan Gamez, literature and languages faculty, will be guest speaker.

A Black History Week has been planned for Feb. 11-14, highlighted with a performance by a dramatic group from North Texas State University Feb. 13, in the University Auditorium.

The Second Annual Miss Multi-Culture Pageant will be held April 3. A $150 scholarship will be presented to the winner. Prizes will also be awarded for first, second, and third runners-up.

Other events planned by the Center include a Minority Talent Show to be held either in late April or early May, and two musical performances co-sponsored by the center and Mach III.

All activities are open to the public, and use of the center for after-hours use may be acquired by groups by appointment, according to Dorothy Wilson, MCC Director.
