Canyon Buffaloes vs. Lions Here Friday

This Week BY J. LEON THURMAN

Again the writer is in discussion but in a somewhat different manner however it is still concerning his future. Recently this is a topic of growing interest and by all means should be settled in the near future so as to determine whether the writer is wasting his time or not. It has been frequently rumored that the writer of This Week will never amount to anything of note or even come up to the standard. This Week is certain that a lady would not make such an accusation without possessing proof of the veracity of the statement. But This Week is going to take the liberty of assuming that this is a debatable question and suggesting that the question be stated thus: "Resolved that J. Leon Thurman will never amount to a thing worth mentioning." Of course it will be a conceded principle that Mrs. Dodd shall have the affirmative side of the question.

Few of the students who remained in the vicinity of E. 1. campus can really appreciate the benefits of the victory over the North Texas Eagles of Denton. But the four or five persons or maybe it was more who went to Denton to see the Lions win the Eastern title of the TIAA and the title of the champions after the old fond from the west are added as (and another) quiet to the list of North Texas. That was some game.

It seems that only the organized forces will be able to withstand the attack of the members of his realm of the school. It is at least what the band thinks. By the way the members were administering the stripped leather to portions of that organization on the way to Denton. The initiation was a success as far as the three members were concerned. That is probably the beginning of an organized force for the year throughout the ages.

Since the downfall of the Eagles there has been considerable discussion as to the thing that was done off the court. And since there has been so much discussion it is probable that it would be hardly fair for This Week to decide the question. So attempt to prevent any bad feelings toward anyone. This Week has decided to let the students judge for themselves.

Students Hear Upshaw's Address

The first and most noteworthy of the firm grip on the body which has some Mr. Acker has been under a bit about his body in an inverted manner. It is this!

Then there is the story about the player who sat by the Coach and the fact that the Coach was imported to Denton from somewhere else. But his importation is his part as far as the superstitious side of it was concerned. When that could not be done, a hard enough then this much

Dope Bucket Due to be Kicked Over

The second game of the playoff series for the TIAA Championship, which is being played by the East Texas Lions and the Canyon Buffaloes will be played Friday night at the East Texas State Teachers College gym.

The lads from the West have one game lead in the series, taking the opener, Friday the Lions 51-32. This score would indicate a loose game on the part of the Easterners, which in this case was wrong for the contest was a thriller from the start for man in every other grade were in there fighting every minute of play. The Lions at one time during the game drew up to within six points of the Buffaloes, then the lions showed their true character in the west is not a true criterion of the game they are capable of playing, and will not doubt play Friday.

One Man Team

The balance of power in the Western machine is vested in one man, their lengthy center, Hortonberry, who towers some six feet seven inches in altitude. Hortonberry is probably the greatest center in the State, but this one fault is that he is just sitting sit to rough at his play—his fault is in favor of the locals. For enough rough play would eliminate the lion. From the contest, and E. T. can more than match the Canyon aggregation. The lion played in every other grade of the game. In fact the Lions have a great scoring machine in the three string boys, Castleberry, Yarborough and Smith—and the dope bucket, which favors the Westerners over another victor is liable to get kicked out, when these boys get their hands on the Lions.

S. H. Whitley Returns From Detroit Meet

Dr. S. H. Whitley, president of East Texas State Teachers College, has returned from the meeting of the American Association of Teachers Colleges, held in Detroit, Michigan, which he has been attending at the meeting of the national group.

Students Hear Upshaw's Address

A representative group of the students of the East Texas State Teachers College assembled this morning at the chapel for the hearing of Upshaw's address on "Students Who Win."

The message was well received and much favorable comment accorded the speaker's address on an order. It is said that Mr. Upshaw has done great work for the students of America and that his message this morning was inspirational and helpful to all present.

Marlin Pharr, singer, who is in charge of the choir, was the recipient of loud applause.

Is Honored

Dr. S. H. Whitley, president of the college, was cited for his educational work, and it is the opinion of the friends of Dr. Whitley here and elsewhere that the National Association of Teachers Colleges which held a meeting in Detroit last week. The announcement created a great deal of interest and favorable.

Lions May Place More Than One Man on the All-Conference Five

Harlow to Get Try-out in Texas League

After looking over the record of players in the TIAA conference this year, one would come to the conclusion that the East Texas Lions have a good chance of placing at least one player in the Eastern half of the conference. The Lions have lost but one conference game this season and are the winners of the Eastern half of the conference. It is due to a large degree of handling a regular in the Lions aggregation that should be placed on the all-conference five. The performance of the Lions aggregation last night against the strong Denton Eagles was such as to lead more than one of the Lions to believe that they are capable of placing more than one player on the all-conference five.

Preparation

A college student, who had failed in all of his subjects and who was apprehensive of what might happen to him when he reached home, wired to his brother who was living with this father, "Failed in all five. Prepare Papa."

Next day, he received a wire which read, "Papa prepared. Prepare yourself."

Urged Patrons Get Basketball Tickets Early

K. Smith, business manager of the East Texas State Teachers College, who has charge of the ticket sales. Mr. Smith continued "this is one of the most important basketball games of the season and I wish to urge that every supporter of the local team be on hand."

Three Problems Of Association

Friars Have Regular Meet

Friars met in regular session last Tuesday evening in their hall in the Educational building. The Friars and "Doc" Friars were given degrees in Priarhood, Draper receiving the fifth and Frank the second. These ranks had been given circles and the club members enjoyed a social function of the year. Plans were discussed. It is the belief that the Friars will finish the present year with the best record that they have yet been able to witness. Each member was in the best of spirits and each expressed his ideas as to the Friar dance this Spring, which is to be their biggest social function of the year. Plans were also discussed as to methods of raising of funds for their project to be effected on the campus. After a meeting of almost two hours the Friars called the meeting to a close until next Tuesday at the same time and place.

A little chap of six having fallen and broken his leg, it was decided that he should be taken to a hospital.

"Want I go to a hospital?" inquired the doctor as the little boy lay in the ambulance.

"Don't worry, you'll be all right," said the doctor. "But, doctor, if I have to go to a hospital, I want a baby—I want a pup." (Exchange)

Survey of teacher training in the United States by the United States Office of Education at Washington, consisting of the third big problem before the Association. While it is true that the survey will be made by the United States Office of Education at Washington, it is also true that the survey cannot be won, anything unless the teachers colleges cooperate with the Commissioner of Education and with the committee of eleven which has been appointed by him to supervise the survey. The Association has before it other problems for consideration. Action was taken at the Detroit meeting looking toward the establishment of a magazine which will be the official mouthpiece of the Association. This problem will be worked out within the near future and the teachers colleges of the United States will soon have a publication of their own which will serve also as a medium through which the year book will be issued. Question of affiliating other teacher training agencies throughout America with the American Association of Teachers Colleges is another problem presenting itself for solution. A committee will be announced soon whose business will be to work out a plan by which all the associations engaged in the study of teacher training problems may have an opportunity to become affiliated with the American Association of Teachers Colleges.

ber of reasons why the boys did not do so good at Canyon but there is one thing that we do know and that is that there was who probably had his mind off was one member on the team the game because of a certain message of encouragement that he received before the game which read: "Get a Buffalo skin to wrap the little Strangers in. We don't know what this skin means or what it cost to send a telegram of this sort from Commerce to Canyon but anyway it went."

This Week has been told that Commerce was sure to get all in the near future but this week so near at hand or quite so did not know that the boom was dangerous. At any rate there is one professor who is not so bent minded and looks into the future with the Boy Scout motto in view. It is probably with this in mind that Miss Bowman finds the campus heavily armed with some type of modern type of firearm. This Week is still under the impression that this part of the faculty has not grown dangerous yet but this Week is not in a position to make any definite assertions as to the future.

The Other CAMPUSES

(From the Campus Chat Division)
 There is no doubt that a fighting Eagle team lost to a better and more finished group of basketballers when they went down in defeat in Commerce. The Myr-solens simply faced a team that couldn't be beat because they wouldn't be beat. A group of polished basketballers that represent the very best in the state basketball talent. Of course we hated to lose to our old rivals. We had rather have won that game than any other one on the schedule. It was a hard game to lose. However the splendid sportsmanship of the Commerce players helped to soften the sting of defeat. The team could hardly have asked for better sports than those East Texas lads.

Yet this spirit on the part of the players was slurred to a great extent by the poor actions of the fans at the game. Especially the fans at the game. Expectantly can the band be established. A splendid group of music makers who installed great zest into the game seemed entirely unversed in the fundamentals of fair play.

The Eagle squad lost several field goals because of this fact. From the time that the Eagles got the ball until they lost it there was a terrific din upon the part of the band. Loud blasts of brass and the bass beats of the drum and distracting yells added to the nervousness of the Denton players. These actions were dangerous. At any rate there is one professor who is not so bent minded and looks into the future with the Boy Scout motto in view. It is probably with this in mind that Miss Bowman finds the campus heavily armed with some type of modern type of firearm. This Week is still under the impression that this part of the faculty has not grown dangerous yet but this Week is not in a position to make any definite assertions as to the future.

We want it understood however that we are not offering an alibi for the defeat, for we realize that we were roundly outplayed. We do want the students of E. T. S. C. to accept this as a friendly criticism and suggestion regarding the treatment of rival teams.

TOANONOWE HAS FORMAL PROGRAM DANCE

The Toanonowe club entertained Saturday night, February 21, with its annual formal program dance.

The Club Gym was beautifully decorated in crepe paper of the club's colors, pink, green and orchid. Long streamers reaching to the floor outlined the space for dancing. The ceiling was gringed with other streamers which reached to the heads of the dancers. The front of the gym enclosed by screens was arranged as a very pleasing living room where fruit punch, the refreshment during the evening. The orchestra section was outlined by an arch decorated with colored paper and ferns. The background was of screens. Colored lights further made the room attractive.

Programs for twelve dances were printed on gold edged cards trimmed in pink, orchid and green sandwiches were served hand of gold cord. Pink and green sandwiches were served during the intermission, further carrying out the color scheme.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Graduates, five-piece orchestra from Greenville which was making its first appearance on the campus. This is one of the most pleasing and entertaining group of musicians that has ever played for a college dance.

Commerce Students Appear in Recital

Misses Miriam Young, Billie McClusson, and Pauline Bailey and L. C. Mitchell students of the Morrell School of Music together with several Greenville students of both voice and dance with Mr. Morrell and Margaret Wyrte Jackson were presented in private recital in the studios at 2114 Park street Greenville Tuesday evening.

The Commerce student used as numbers on this program the same numbers which were sung in the costume recital given here recently. After a very interesting program given by Greenville artists Mr. Morrell presented Miss Pauline Bailey who sang a group of Irish songs. The quality of her voice was of outstanding loveliness.

L. C. Mitchell, tenor, brought to the audience two of Kipling's well known poems. His interpretation of the excellent song "The Drummer" was especially noteworthy.

Billie McClusson, in Scotch ballads showed her versatility in her group of Scotch melodies. She received much comment on her splendid control and beautiful mezzo voice.

Miss Margaret Young coloratura soprano, concluded the program with two songs by old English composers. Miss Young handled her voice with delicacy and much brilliancy.

Miss Cora Mae, a talented pianist of this city accompanied the students, displaying excellent musicianship and skill as an accompanist.

Misses Willo Mullens and Maurine George presided at the coffee table where coffee and tiny Shamrock waters were served to 75 guests.

Mrs. W. E. McClusson and Mrs. Bailey of this city attended the recital.

Basketball

It was a peppy crowd that accompanied the Lions over to the Eagles' gym Friday night for a bit of strategy or dip, but it was a hysterical group that filled with joyous happiness and hearts of contentment who journeyed back to Comptone during the wee hours of the morning. Coach on the other and a dis-pected and it ran true to form according to the way our games have terminated over three for the past three or four years. The Lions always drift about through the first period of the contests, then by making a grand rush for the finish pull out ahead and leave the Eagles fluttering behind. The only difference between this year and the more recent previous years is that the Stringer Bros. were the ones to chunk the leather through the basket instead of a one-well pleased and had expressed "Freedom" Wright who had been playing that part for the Lions. Preley wore a Lion uniform for his last time in the 1000 metre game with the Eagles and he certainly did do a neat job of it. His was a very dependable performer.

With their success at Denton Delta County and hadn't been giving the Lions the same as the Eastern Division of the TIAA and settling them to go on a power of Mr. L. I. Smith and "caught a west-bound train" in search of their prey Sunday at Rattan community, or thereabouts, but all too late, the train of Lion warriors had already pulled out. To overcome the best luck, Dean was dispatched via road ball to Canyon, but after it proved our downfall. We were unable to get by the hand of Lady Luck so the Buffs handed us a setback, 51-32. The boys as well as the Coach did their part to keep things going through every detail of spookism before leaving Lion City. Some wore special shirts despite their soiled condition, others wore socks wrong side out and just ask some of the boys which side of Coach Acker's undergarments were turned out.

Despite the fact the game is decided a one-sided affair, it was quite contrary. The half found a close contest, 19-11 and had the boys been accustomed to the near-heaven altitude the final score would probably have been different. Never-the-less, we'll see when the Herd invades Comptone on Friday and Saturday nights. We're not offering any odds for the defeat, but just going to show the West Texas boys how a real ball club functions when playing anywhere near an equal basis.

Quite an interesting article appearing in the Dallas Morning News gives some of the publisher's opinions concerning the East Texas aggression. "The East Texas outfit snatched the championship of the TIAA race by drubbing the Eagles and in so doing displayed a brand of basketball which the Dallas observer thought was superior to the Southwest Conference' best. That of course is a matter of opinion. But it was pretty to watch this fellow Oliver Stringer, Comptone star, in action and to see a gang of sure-enough basketekers who could hit 'em from all parts of the court. The East Texas tribes, by the way, defeated Southern Methodist earlier in the season."

With this kind of a record behind them and their downhill start on their home court, they cannot fail to come through in their encounter Friday night.

The trip out to Canyon cost us the first sock in the eye all right, but it must have been worth it for the experiences the team got in return. We at least learned never to play the Canyon boys any farther north than the freezing line again and Smith said he saw one thing that he was proud of. Standing in the gym door up there he saw several hundred miles over across the U. S. line into Canada. "Blue Ridge" Stringer saw some of his old friends, and does feel his wife but he might have seen some of his old gals, too. Sheriff Simpson said it sure was easy riding on a train, quite a lot better than riding a mule down through the lanes of Van Landry County.
