This Week

This week has noticed the great number of stray dogs on the streets. Little dogs, short dogs, big dogs, long dogs—every kind of a dog known to man and some not known so man, prance about the streets of Commerce. With the increase in population brought along with the coming of the hundreds of students, the canine inhabitants will suffer from the overcrowded condition. Something really should be done to help the poor, hungry dogs, for there will be consumed by the students themselves.

For several days there has been a great buzzing and humming coming from the direction of the reading room in the library building. Upon investigation by the writer, it was discovered that the sound was being made by small electric floor waxing machines. On the first floor of the school house at P. O. dock.

THIS WEEK'S LEAVES DROPPING—

"Say, did you get your grades?"
"Yes, didn't you?"
"Heck, no, I didn't. What do you suppose is the matter?"
"Well, do you owe any fines at the library?"
"None."
"Well, have you turned your test books into the teacher?"
"Oh—no, I forgot all about that!"

CURTAIN

"Say, where are you going?"
"I'm going over to the pharmacy, why?"
"How about writing in my Log?"
"Heck, bebbey. Where's a pen?"
"Oh—no, I don't know you could write like that!"

SECOND CURTAIN

Albert P. Whitley, noted orator, when asked to make a statement for the press, said: "I have written an unpublished statement concerning the present business depression. Chief Editor Bates says are just around the corner!"

It is rumored that a temperamental "T" model coupe, tagged "Gai" has made her debut in the city.

For particulars concerning her merits and origin of her name, this week refer to our King and Evelyn, Khalip, skipper and make respectively.

The inevitable has happened! An Orca morskog!

The morskog is held by the very attractive and unimpeachable Miss E. O. Home, Corsicana, Tex.

This week observes the situation of our dog disagreeable on the part of both parties concerned.

The date of the dog's disappearance has been learned; four "into" later.

New Chairs For Library Have Arrived

Seven hundred new chairs arrived Tuesday morning, and are to be used in the rooms of the new library building. The chairs are made of dark wauk, and are extremely suitable for use in the rooms to which they have been assigned. Yesterday afternoon a crew of boys was busy carrying the new chairs to the library room.

New Faculty Fills Places Of Absentees

In the absence of Professor Taylor Brown, who will attend Peabody College this summer, Miss Preston will have charge of the geography department here this quarter. Miss Preston has recently obtained her M. A. from Columbia University, where she specialized in Geography.

Miss Lutz, from Dallas, who has been teaching French and English in S. M. U., will teach French in the place of Miss O'Brien, who is leaving for Europe this summer. Miss Lutz has an M. A. from S. M. U.

In the Dean of Women's office, Miss Barbara Flanagan from the Woodrow Wilson High School in Dallas, will take the place of Miss Rubel, who is abroad with Miss O'Brien. Miss Flanagan has been teaching Latin in Dallas.

To fill the place of Mrs. Urridge, head of the Department of Business Administration, Professor Paul W. Milam of Fayetteville, Arkansas, and Professor Ralph Wheeler will be here.

Stringer And Barkley Wed

Last Friday morning, immediately following the graduation exercises at East Texas State Teachers College, Harold Stringer, member of the 1913 graduating class of that institution, and Miss E. E. Barkley, Texas pastor of the First Methodist Church of Commerce, performed the ceremony in the Methodist Church.

The bride and bridegroom, both of whom are graduates of the College, will make their home at El Paso, Texas. They have many friends on the campus and in the city with them to the greatest of happiness and success.

History Club Awards Prize

Miss Maude Grace Sewell of Dallas, who was recently graduated from East Texas State College, has won a $25 prize offered by the History Club.

The History Club, sponsored by Dr. C. F. Pruett, offers an annual prize for the best paper on some topic of local history. The subject of the award was "The subject of the prize was 'The Trail in the Civil Courts of America.'"

"Smilin' Through," one of the most delightful plays ever presented at our Little Theatre, will be repeated Friday evening of June 19, with several members of the original cast. Norma Clayton will play John, the part he did so well three years ago. Sarah Louise Taylor again will have the double part of "Kathleen," the sweetheart of the present day, and "Moon-ey," the bride of fifty years ago, whose tragic death forms the motivation of the play.

Margaret Muller will be "Mary," "Moon-ey's" sister. It is expected that Mrs. L. D. Parsons will be here to take her old role of "Ellen." The other members of the cast will be announced later.

The play opens in 1914. John Cartaret is objecting to Kathleen's suit, but she insists that she loves him. When she insists upon his giving a valid reason, he tells her that her lover is the son of the man who has ruined his life. He begins the story of June 19, with several members of the original cast. LEGISLATURE Griffith And Appropriates Allen Married E.T.S.T.C. MONEY

East Texas State Teachers College has been appropriated by the legislature $278,450 for the coming year, and $288,450 for the year after next. Unless the measure is vetoed by the Governor, the money is practically assured.

Morgan Griffith of Bogota, Texas, and Miss Elizabeth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Allen, Church street, Commerce, Texas, were married May 26, 1914, in Ohio, Oklahoma.

Mr. Griffith is a junior in the E. T. S. T. C., and also a young preacher. He is very popular among the students.

Miss Griffith is a graduate of the Commerce High School and has lived in Commerce all of her life, and has a host of friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith will attend the college this summer. After which they will be home in Bogota, Texas, where Mr. Griffith will teach in the school. The many friends of the couple wish them much happiness.

Golf Counts As Phys. Ed.

Students who wish to substitute their golfing for Physical Education may do so if they sign up for the game. Last year during the summer term quite a number of students got credit for their golf in this manner.

WHITLEY Mrs. Wortham TO DELIVER Attends E. T. ADD-RESS

Dr. E. B. Whitley has received an invitation by Arnold College of New Haven, Connecticut, to deliver the commencement address at that institution. It is not known whether Mr. Whitley will accept the invitation, but it should be accepted, he will leave Commerce on the evening of June 3.

Among the former East Texas students, notably applauded, was the former Mrs. Louis J. Wortham, who is here in New York City for a B. S. degree from Columbia University. Mrs. Wortham plans to visit her mother in the city for a few days, and then return to Columbia where she will receive her degree this summer.

Another uppermost landed squarely on the jaw of the widely heralded depression this week when the East Texas was jarred for the first time in its history, carrying ten pages, each of which exceeded the traditional sixty per cent page lineage of advertising.

The advertising staff of this publication venture so congratulate their patrons on their faith in Texas advertising, and their appreciation of the local spirit, and on their general spirit of co-operation with the Texas displayed throughout the past year.

Postoffice Closing Time

Postmaster Dave Young announces that in accordance with instructions from the Postal Department, doors of the lobby at the postoffice will from now on be closed at 7:00 o'clock p. m. The reason for this is that the building cannot be left open after the employes have all left, any they will have earlier now since the evening trains have been discontinued.

All mail will be collected and proper distribution be made of same before closing. For the convenience of people having a letter to be placed in a mail box, the doors of the lobby will be kept open until 6:00 a. m.

LOCUST BIDS DUE JUNE 12

According to Victor L. Bowers, Business Manager of the 1913 Locust bids, it has been set aside as the date upon which any and all bids for the printing and carrying of the many forms will be considered. Each company will be expected to send its representatives at that time.

LEFT FOR PEABODY

Miss Juanita Hockett, Spring term student, left for Peabody Tuesday along with Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Brown, for Nashville, Tennessee, where they will attend Peabody this summer.

Miss Hockett is taking work on her M. A. degree, and Mr. Brown is working for his Ph. D.

Organization Plants Roses

Sigma Tau Delta, English fraternity, is planting a flower bed on that plot of the campus between the Library building and the oval in front of the Education building.

In the ceremonies of Sigma Tau Delta many roses are used. Members of the organization have had considerable difficulty in securing roses for their ceremonies, and for that reason have decided to plant the rose bed.

Since the season is too early for the planting of the roses, the organization has decided to plant Verbena until next fall when the members intend to have a rose planting ceremony. The bed is in the shape of the letter Delta.

1931 LOCUST GOOD ANNUAL

The 1931 "Locust" proved to be a very excellent book, and many favorable comments have been offered concerning the edition. The 1931 publication is bound in red with a ribbon. Prof. W. Mayo in the upper right hand corner of the front cover, the name of the volume, as in the old private school of W. L. Mayo, and incidents from the life of the founder. The staff of the "Locust" is to be commended for such excellent work.

FRIAR CLUB BEAUTIFIES DRIVE WAY

At the entrance of the drive way, on McGee street, the Friar Club, boys' organization at the college, has recently completed the brick work of two sign book columns. These beautiful structures are to be surrounded by a spherical light, and are to be decorated with hand wrought iron. It is said that the plants are to place two garlands between the columns.

E. T. Students Use Auto Much

Modern day methods of transportation have been praised for their aid in rushing wounded, or sick persons to medical or surgical aid, but little has been said of their help in bringing the school and the student closer together. The students of East Texas State Teachers' College are greatly aided in their scholastic efforts by the motor car.

Every day there are one hundred and seventy automobiles passing through the city, from out of town. Out of that, there is a great portion which is used by the students. Twenty-five and thirty miles from this city, two girls, residents of New Town, Tex., Commence every two days, their own automobile, and that city is fifty four miles from the Teachers' College.

Besides the students who drive their own automobiles to college, there are dozens who buy the buses from their door step to the front door of E. T. This is one of the ways in which we live today in a world of comfort, especially in transportation. The modern motor coach and passenger car are vastly different from the means of conveyance used by our fathers when the only means of conveyance on fine roads was the horse-drawn wagon. It was lucky if he possessed a pair of good, water-tight boots to wear in bad weather.

Kairs Elect New Officers

The Original Klair Klub met for the last meeting of the Spring term with Nevada Hyde as hostess—June England, Secretary—Katherine Hedcock, Treasurer—Christine Carr, Reporter—Katherine Gayton.

The Klairs will not have their next meeting through the summer, but these officers will have charge at called business sessions.

OUT OF TOWN FIBES EAST TEXAN AD SERVICE

Greenville advertisers have taken a forward step in selecting the East Texas State Teachers' College as their advertising medium. This issue of the East Texas is the first step to receive out of town advertising, and both the advertiser, and publication are making a forward step.

There follows a list of the Greenville firms advertising with the week—A. J. Advertising Co., A. C. Jones, Ladies' Apparel, Orphan Page, Dr. C. O. Young, Dr. J. B. Barker's Department Store, Dr. Lillian H. Jones, Optometrist.

New Fad Is Now Being Taken Up By Both Towns People And College Student Body

Recently passersby at the Fire station were surprised to see the valiant members of the Fire Department sitting about in little electric, silent, and with arms folded, peacefully shifting a base-ball alley-sucker in their mouths. One onlooker watched for several minutes, and, as the end of that time elapsed, he investigated the condition. He stepped up boldly to one of the players, stuck out his hand, and inquired the meaning of all the queer looking things protruding from the mouths of the Firemen. The fireman looked up at the intruder, and said: "That's the sucker from his mouth, or unloading his arms, he granted his Chief was tanked, 'guy."

The passersby, insulted at such treatment, justly apologized, and went his way down the street. When or friend, the innocent inquirer arrived in front of a certain service station he was introduced at the sight of the employees of that business house sitting about on the front of their automobiles, folded their arms, and started looking at their faces, and the convention sucker stick pointed skyward. Y-e-a-ds; What was the strange matter that had enticed his friends about their many? Our friend fled down the street pulling his hat, and rushed into the alley-sucker tank to buy a baseball alley-sucker.

Our friend having bought a nice, round alley-sucker, placed it into his mouth and peace and tranquility played across his face. He quickly reached for the sucker, and in a twinkling slipped it up, and changed into high. Strange indeed are the fads which take hold of man's soul. When football season is here, the alley-sucker takes on the form of a football. When basketball season rolls around the forms of sucker stick pointed skyward. There is only one thing which bothers the writer at present—What are we going to do if medicine ball comes into its own? The suckers will be so large we cannot say there isn't what they are really worth, and the manufacturers will have to charge one dollar each for them.

WELCOME

The Regents, faculty, and officers of the East Texas State Teachers College extend a cordial greeting to the summer school students of 1931.

Some of you have attended this institution previous to this summer. To such students is extended a most cordial welcome to return to our campus. Many of you are here for the first time. To all new students the college extends a most hearty welcome, and hope that you may feel at home here on our campus.

The East Texas State Teachers College is anxious to serve you. It will do all within its power to serve you.

It must be recognized, however, that the college has certain limitations. The amount of money available for the summer school this summer is not as large as it has been in previous summers. This means, of course, that some classes will be larger than they ought to be and that conditions will be crowded somewhat. Each and every one of you is asked to co-operate with the college in making the summer work just as pleasant and profitable to all as may be possible.

There are thousands of ex-students of the college scattered throughout the length and breadth of Texas and the Nation, and all join the administration of the college in wishing for you this summer the finest opportunities possible.

Sincerely,

S. H. Whitley

NINE REQUESTS

From the Daily TEXAN (Austin): Any organization spending into the millions of dollars each year should have an attorney to counsel the directors, but the University of Texas has in the past had no such an attorney. It has had the potential use of the Attorney General's office, but the routine of getting advice is such that the effectiveness is lost to a great deal.

Regents have asked that there be appropriated money to employ a full time attorney to attend to the business of the University. For the past several years the members of the Board of Regents, who were lawyers have attended to the legal business of the school. But the increased amount of business which must be attended to is taking too much time from these men, who must con-

No one believes that the members of the Board are opposed to rendering their services for the good of the school, but it is too much to ask any man to devote such a large part of his time. Especially in the case of the lands of the University, is the advice of an attorney needed.

The request for the sixth of minor submitted to the legislature by the Regents states that the attorney should always be under a kind of supervision of the Attorney General, and that he could bring suit in the name of the University only with the consent of that office.

The logic of the matter is clear. A school dealing in funds amounting to millions of dollars, and owning property worth many times more, should have the advice of a competent lawyer. No business man with even a ten thousand dollar business would attempt to be without a lawyer. Even if an assistant attorney in the Attorney General's office should be assigned to the duty of attending exclusively to the affairs of the University. The main point should be that the University needs an attorney to advise immediately and at all times concerning the welfare of the school and its business.

RETIREMENT FUND FOR TEACHERS

From the DAILY NEWS: The Texas school teachers are seeking a state tax for a "retirement fund" for educators. Under the plan, as we understand it, the teachers would be pensioned when they had reached a certain age and length of service. Certainly teachers are rendering a great service to the state. Their influence is unsurpassed, and we must see that teachers are well provided for.

But there is a much better plan to pay the teachers well now, instead of providing any pension for them. If there is ever to be an old age pension, it should apply to every individual, no matter what his profession is. To provide a pension for teachers would open the doors to such a pension for other state employes. There would be no end. Let's pay the teachers well, and advise them to get on with their profession, and stick and accident policies for their own benefit.

THE BEAUTY OF OUR CAMPUS

The campus of East Texas State Teachers' College is, no doubt one of the most beautiful in the Southwest. Many visitors to the college have commented upon its outstanding beauty, and those visitors have seen many campuses with which they compared the one at East Texas.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever—if the beauty lasts forever. There is only one thing which can destroy the beauty of the campus at E. T., and that is the student body. Mr. Latta, along with his helpers, has worked diligently to keep the campus of our college well arranged, and free from trash. We have recently finished a term which was not marred by any record number of students, but we are now facing a crowded condition, and one which, if it is not controlled, may mean the undoing of all for which Mr. Latta and his help have worked.

Hungry ?

Well, so was G. Washington at Valley Forge. But that was before the Oasis Soda-Grill had opened.

Night before last there were two fellows stopping off at the Grill imparting flavormous gossip concerning George.

George has the country kidded worse than the Republican party. "Yeah." "Sure! Why he never rode a horse at all... he smoked a pipe!"

However bad that may sound on the boy don't let it worry you. A good chicken fried steak will wash away worse gossip than that.

Then there is the old cherry tree case. Just how he got started no one knows. It is a proven fact George was looking for a telephone number at the time of the supposed crime. It is recorded that he found the number but the phone was out of order.

There are lots of other things we know about George down here at the Grill. And while we can't keep our customers from occasionally talking a little dirt... it is a recognized fact that none has been seen here.

The Oasis Soda-Grill "Where Knowned and Zaded"

Let us watch our step this summer. Let us not cut the corners of the campus. One person who walks across the campus does not hurt it much, but there will probably be 2500 students here this summer, and with each one of them, or even half of them cutting the campus, the grass will be worn away and leave a lasting scar across the beauty spot of which many visitors have spoken words of praise.

Dear Sir: Enclosed please find a check for $10.00, which I wish to contribute to your building fund. I am very interested in seeing your worthy institution rise to a very high peak and am showing my interest by this slight contribution.

As it will be a most anonymous contributor, I am leaving the check unaddressed as well as this letter.

Sincerely,

PROPHECY

OF E. T. S. C. TRAINING SCHOOL SENIOR CLASS

BY BERNICE MARIE GIST

While sitting in my studio of memories,

I painted them all when we were in 1931.

Think of the things each one has done!

There's Bieve Matthews, president of our class.

And he's a great guy, you know he used to get awful rash.

Now he's coach of North Dame And has won world wide fame.

What a portrait of Margaret Wright!

Isn't it a perfect fright? But now, as Society goes parading past,

Margaret, by none is out classed; There's Kenneth Estes, the class top.

As far as money is concerned, he's reached the top.

With the use of that slick tongue, he's made his money.

You know, he has taken the place of Al Capone.

Remember, Milton Smith said a poet he'd like to be.

Now in her yacht with only one crew,

She has gone out to sea. A gay widow of a millionaire.

There's Mary there is not one thing she wouldn't dare.

Who would have thought Charlene a doctor would be?

But with his old millions, he's a great lawyer, doctor, you see.

"Maid, will you answer the bell?" I'm out, if there's anything to sell.

Why, Wynnell Pratt! What a glorious surprise.

When in the world did you arrive?

Why, you've just established a non-top record?

Say, she's grade with that plack-in in bright red on that written-

Come on, now. Forget your modesty.

And Joe's back in a Majestic Malice.

Say, uhler, could you tell me who's that terribl' noise?

You say it's Carl Decker and his Broadway Boys?

Will you watch Harold Drake play that that organ? Isn't he grand?

Why, listen! Can he play "Desert Song"?

That was composed by one of our classmates too.

J. L. Polk composed that and "The Senator's Adieu."

The old saying still holds true, "A girl in every port."

Here's our last, "See you in jail, Noble old Top."

Wynelle, you know Noble has been meeting at eight-fifty, it now meets at eight thirty.

There follows a class schedule: 1. 2:30. 2. 3:30. 3. 10:20.

11:15. 5. 1:10. 6. 2:05. 7. 3:00. 8. 3:55.

First Period Time Changed

This summer, as usual, the first and second period classes have been moved up twenty minutes. Where the first period class has been meeting at seven-fifty-five, it has been changed to seven thirty-five, and where the second period class has been meeting at eight-fifty, it now meets at eight thirty.

There follows a class schedule: 1. 2:30. 2. 3:30. 3. 10:20. 4. 11:15. 5. 1:10. 6. 2:05. 7. 3:00. 8. 3:55.

WELCOME!

From the walls of dear old P. D. Back to the walks of old E. T. Folks are coming by the hundreds.

They've spent months of strenuous effort Coaxing children to studios by their plodded muddy rural roadways.

They've carried the banner of E. T. Welcome back, you marmas and you boys!

Welcome back! We're glad you're here. So when we meet you on the sidewalks,

Our smile will show you our good cheer. —Arthur McLaughlin

Football Schedule For Fall 1931

Old Bets Going Strong

The Seth Thomas clock in the Silver Cross show window which was started last Friday, May the 22nd, was ticking time Tuesday at 12 o'clock in its effort to select the winner of the Fountain set that is to be awarded to some one of the high school students that are listed on the face of the dial.

Oliver Brown, owner of the drug store on the west side of the square, recently decided to give something to some one of the students, but could not decide which of the student to award the gift to.

Some one suggested that they let the clock make the decision, as a result the clock was placed in the window and has been running since last Friday.

After having asked a number of questions in a quick way it was decided to give $6.00 Fountain set, which seems to be most wished for by the students.

Anyways the clock will stop within the next 48 hours and the name that the minute hand stops on will receive the set free no strings tied anywhere.

Popplel Wealthy City At the time of its destruction Popplel had about $200,000 worth of insurance.

It was a city of wealth and refinement, situated on the Bay of Naples, at the foot of Mount Vesuvius.

It together with Herculaneum and Stabiae, was destroyed by a volcanic eruption August 24, A. D. 79.

Alumni Banquet Held At College

The Annual Alumni Banquet of the East Texas State Teachers College was held in the tastefully decorated dining room of Acker Hall Thursday night. Many of the colorful blue and gold, were evidenced in the festive balloons and beautiful table decorations. The following delicious menu was most efficiently served by the dozen girls under the supervision of Mrs. Walter Acker, director of the Girls Dormitory:

Frank Meads, Chessie Nibbles, Minnie Kelly, Chicken Salad, Tomatoes with Sliced Cucumbers, Potato Chips, Deviled Eggs, Hot Rolls, Beef Meat Tea, Rose Radishes, Olives, Fresh Strawberry Ice and Angel Food Cake.

Prizes were laid for a party of one hundred seventy-five, composed of the present graduating class, sixty-two members of the faculty, and visiting ex-students.

Mrs. Roy C. Owens, competent and charming president of the association for this year, was in charge after it most interesting program was rendered by the class of '31 with Thy Bond master of ceremonies.

PROGRAM
Musie Horace Adams and Emma Pottor.

Welcome—W. B. Stone.
Response—Joe Berry.
Facts were laid—Mrs. Mary Emma Barnett.

EAST TEXAS
Let us sing of our East Texas. Where the stately pine trees grow.

Where the grass is always greener. Where the Indian paint-brush blooms.

Let us sing of our dominion With its winding roads of sand, Through a wild and virgin land. Give praises to this land of ours; Its clear and flowing streams, Its forests deep and shady.

Through which the sunlight beams. Give praises to our heritage From where the Sabine flows Through glades of gum and cypress.

To where the Gulf stream flows. Raise up your voice and tell the world Its beauty and its thrills. From the early morning dew-drops

To the overhanging hills. Give reverence to its greatness To the lowland and the ridge. To the force of loosened Nature. To the alkali and the sand.

Give glory to the hunter. And the Indian-fighter now. But give honor to our fathers Who broke the land to plow. Give courage to its people.

Those sturdy folk so true. They gave an honest welcome. And no school class they knew. Then glory to East Texas! A heritage so dear.

To be happy unsurpassed. And men who knew no fear!

GOLFING

The College is offering to physical education. We have one of the best 9 hole sand green courses in this part of Texas, and the best bunch of fellows to play with, some college students that play golf are: Marvin Fin, Howard Carr, Bo Woolsey, Buttercup Maloney, Monk Galyon, J. O. Wheeler, Lee Clifton, and Maurice Mitchell. Many of the College faculty play golf so come out and meet the faculty on the golf course.

You golfers can improve your putting by using the College Miniature Golf Course.

The golf club here is trying to get a golf team at the college for next year. This is one of the few colleges that does not have a golf team. One thing that puzzles us is how Ho Woolsey, the champion golfer holder can find time to play golf, when he has so many jobs.

Thanks

Tailor Shop Is Improved

W. L. York, who is proprietor of York's Tailor Shop, East of the Main building, has done considerable work toward improving the interior of his establishment. The front part of the building has been repainted in a beautiful shade of light green, and trimmed in a darker green. Midway toward the rear of the establishment there has been constructed a very attractive lattice work with an arched door. The whole effect is a very attractive one.

Kiwanis Club President Has Worn Friendly
 Fives for Two Years

Hendersonville, N. C.—In this fashionable city, "the all year round play-ground", lives a man well-known for his business and civic importance, Mr. J. Allen Rhodes.

The reporter thought he'd drop in on Mr. Rhodes and see what he was doing, but chiefly to discover what he was wearing. Not that Mr. Rhodes was considered a fashion-plate—that's the last thing in his mind—but because the reporter had a pet theory that a leader in such a fine place as Hendersonville probably would be well-dressed in accordance to his station.

And we found Mr. Rhodes wearing Friendly Fives!

Fact was, he has worn them for two years, over several pairs, will have no other kind.

Mr. Rhodes is president of the Kiwanis Club there. We asked him to tell us point-blank his honest opinion. He said:

"I have worn Friendly Five Shoes exclusively for the past two years and have found them to be entirely satisfactory in every way. I therefore feel that I can recommend them to my friends without hesitation."

PRESSURE!

Washington, Ind.—Roy Campton, meter reader in the city here, estimates that his pair of Friendly Fives have absorbed over $500,000 Fives have absorbed in walking his average of 30 miles a day. He is about ready for his second pair.

RADIO ARTISTS
 GET THE AIR

It Takes More Than a Crooner to Make a Program.

The average person who goes through a modern radio studio is impressed with the facilities required to produce a radio program. There are the elaborate, specially sound treated studios, the new condenser microphones, the announcers, the "mixing" console, the "input" panel, the "output control." And they remark that it certainly takes a lot of people and many appliances to produce a radio program.

But they overlook the most important part of the broadcasting equipment and that is the transmitter and the transmitting towers. Usually the transmitter and towers are located several miles away from the studio. It has been found that better reception is had when the transmitting towers are other than electrical facilities.

The "input" operator, shown at right, is located next to the studio. In the picture George Keyser is operating WFM, is shown controlling a program. In some productions it is necessary to use two or more microphones in the same room in "Friendly Five Footnotes" when "Friendly Five Footnotes" is produced at the National Broadcasting Company for broadcasting on a coast-to-coast basis. It is necessary to use four microphones. One is used for Del Lampa and his Friendly Five Orchestra. Another is used for Ted Pearson for his announcements, another for Friendly Fred when he sings and handles in his special tap dance arrangements. The input operator must control the level of all of these microphones.

NOTHING "COUNTRY" ABOUT THIS HOSS!

Officer Willis Coy and his horse Ned of the Louisville Mounted Police.

CITY LIGHTS FOR THIS HOSS!

Ned Got Fed Up in the Country.

Four months ago Officer Willis Coy of the Louisville Police Department was visiting in Simpsonville, Kentucky.

Officer Coy was looking for a boss. Yes, such a real Kentucky horse. And his horse, Ned, was Ned was getting fed up in the city, looking for a master in the city, pasturage of blue grass. Telling him that blue grass made Derby winners meant very little to him. He wanted the city life.

"Ned didn't look so hot," said Officer Coy in telling us the story. "He was shaggy, needed a new pair of shoes. Course, I'd have given him some smart Friendly Fives for his poor old padding in the city. If you all need shoes for hoes," said the officer, who is a steadfast wearer of the famous Friendly's. "But you didn't have any in stock, so I took Ned to the east hills where I had him shod, and we came into the city, to Ned's delight."

"Well, sir, when Ned saw his first street car, he was overcome with excitement. He pranced and reared up. I thought at first he was just showing me how glad he was to be in the city, but I felt him trembling. He was scared as any animal I'd ever seen."

Officer Coy was patient, however. For months he carefully groomed him and daily ventured out on the street. Other than taking care to feed him his complete diet, Ned settled down to city life, a real tribute to the mastery of Officer Coy.

Today Ned will stand unblinded to walk with Officer Coy whenever to the chief from any call bar. Street cars mean nothing to Ned. The only things that excite him is the big city is sugar. He must have his sugar. Officer Coy leaves his boss "parted" in front of the corner drug store and goes in and gets a handful of sugar cubes from the friendly druggist.

One day Officer Coy overtook his time in the drug store. He was making an important telephone call. Ned was waiting for his sugar. He got ready for the sugar feast. He waited and waited, crossed one street after another, but Officer Coy remained inside.

Ned did some calculating, according to the best training of the fine police Department. It was now time for him to do something. So he did it. He slipped right up on the curb in the pavement and was in the entrance of the drug store, pushing the swinging doors with his head. Fed up with the sugar, Ned withdrew to the curb. Some say they saw traces of a broad grin outlining Ned's handsome face.

PAUSE YE, ALL WHO ENTER HERE

The Inside Story of a Broker's Office

On the day of the big crash the scene inside any brokerage office resembled more of a mad house than a dignified office. For on that day, November 12, 1929, fortunes were being lost.

Seated in the office, in a comfortable chair, the customer faces a big black board, at the top of which is a white opening through which passed a moving ticker, lit from behind. On a moving tape appeared the latest quotations from the floor of the New York Stock exchange.

How Does It Work?

All of the large corporations whose stock is owned by the general public

"list" their stock on this exchange. The New York Stock Exchange is referred to as the "big board." It is the central trading post for all sales or purchases of that stock.

The stock is given an initial expedite the speed of the ticker, which is hooked up with every brokerage office in the country and with ships at sea by wireless. In less than two minutes after a sale the price is flashed over the world.

The abbreviation for United States Steel Common Stock, for example, is X. When X comes across the ticker, a single order is placed. For it is one of the accepted barometers of the market. If steel sells at $150 a share it will read X-56.

Why All the Trouble?

People often wonder why the business of trading in stocks is so important and what significance stock prices have on our nation. For it is a simple explanation furnished the reporter, it is something like this: Two men have stock in a company. They build chairs for example. Suppose they each put in $200.00. Each owns one share of stock. Within a year's time they build two chairs. After taking out costs of materials and labor they have a net profit of $100.00. If they sell each share for $150.00, they have each earned $50.00 profit. If they sell each share for $100.00, they have each lost $50.00. If the stock were actively traded in, it might be worth around $400.00 a share, because a big stock is considered worth around ten times what it earns.

What Is An Investor?

If stocks as a whole do not earn any profit or savings taper off, it is a reflection that business is bad, naturally. So people sell stocks, generally on the advice of an expert. Smart traders keep their finger tips on every bit of information that indicates the probable course of earnings of a company's stock. If their news is good, they buy. If their news is bad, they sell. These people lead a colorful life, but seldom come out ahead. It is the careful investor who makes the money. He invests his money in good stocks and keeps it there who makes profits in the long run.

Most widely connected brokerage houses also furnish constantly by wire and commission on that far corners and millers and traders may see the price and sell or buy. Federal Reserve Bank or the Chicago Board of Trade. The "wholesaler" is the most famous of this type of market.

Did you know that in 1928 1,000,000,000 Americans were Friendly Five? The number is growing. There must be a reason!

Photographer's Life Is No Snap!

Louisville, Ky.—W. C. Fisher, prominent photographer, says that he is following, which is of interest to Five Star readers:

"A photographer sure gives his boss 'usable exposure.' 'What a pleasure it was, therefore, to discover that I had been fitted in a size pair of shoes that cost more than five dollars, and that I had to go to a shoemaker to get a new pair. Friendly Fives are a real boon to me.'"

Commencement Services Held at Methodist Church

The commencement services for the class of '31, of the Commerce High School was held Sunday at the Methodist Church during the morning hour. Contemplating a large crowd, many guests arrived before the opening standing room was at a premium.

The graduating class arrived in advance of the Grammar school class and took state in the center of the church. The Grammar school class was seated just behind the High graduates, with the parents of both classes occupying the seats in the rear of both classes.

The High School graduates were dressed in the regulation cap and gown, signifying their position among the many present. Rev. E. A. Maness preached the sermon, admonishing the graduates to be careful of the details of the future. He likened the future to the hunter that, starting out on a hunt with a dog that had no special kind of game to hunt, the dog starting one kind of game, then running into another, still another and others, when finally at the close of the day he had accomplished nothing for himself or his master, meaning that the student that started doing one thing in life, and changing to many others accomplished nothing in the end. He advised them to get their star located and drive to the location.

It was a fine sermon and a beautiful service.

Much Food Stuff Consumed By Incoming E. I. Studies

Hot weather may have a tendency to shrive the amount of suitable bread matter contained in the head of the new student, but it certainly does not seem to diminish his appetite. Students standing in line for books, information cards, opportunities to exhibit vaccination marks and other activities equally eligible to be classed as "red tape" think they know what it means to be in a line. But wait until meal time comes. Stalwart men that fought an axe handle all winter fight with stalwart women who have held long and bitter contests with churn handles. They fight and fight for food. Wringing, panting, and dripping with perspiration, eagerly waiting to satisfy the hungry multitudes. Caravan after caravan pile into Commerce heavily laden with food stuffs. For instance here is the amount of edibles the City Cafe uses each day in trying to fill the mob that charges its tables and empties each meal time: 46 loaves of bread, 21 pounds of meat, 21 pounds potatoes, 12 peas, 10 pounds string beans, 75 pounds chicken, 6 gallons milk, and 3 gallons ice cream.

Merchants Voted At Mt. Vernon

The Commerce merchants base ball club journeyed to Mt. Vernon and defeat Sunday by a score of 11 to 8 in favor of the Mt. Vernon team. The Merchants had a hard day from the start. Jones going into the box for the start, could not get the proper slant on the old pill and was pulled in the fifth inning with the score at 5 to 0. G. Boyer was sent in to relieve the situation and stayed until the seventh when he was sent to the bench in favor of the old standby, Allen Rainbolt.

Rainbolt was at a disadvantage with the score standing on 9 to 3, the Merchants having gathered in 3 scores during the reign of G. Boyer.

Rainbolt finished the game and took the credit for the loss. During his two innings the team picked up five scores, closing with the markers standing with 11 to 8.

In the last inning Harlow for the Merchants slugged one for a home run, bringing in an extra score, the ball landing in a pool in deep center.

Wings of the Morning

Like wings of the morning—free To follow you across the world When you have need of me, Content to brood above a car, Till you outgrow the mar, And strong to lift and soar with you, Beyond a beckoning star.

More than a hundred fine poems are included in "Wings of the Morning," among them "Adrift" which was awarded a place in this department of Editorials of the Month some months ago. It is a very typical of the work of this Texas author are:

shaws
Like me, all nature's women love a shawl.
The feet more womanly with drapery on;
The sea wears morning mit, while mountains fall
Array themselves in shawls of cloud chiffon.
Bliss people trees in shadow shawls delight,
With starlight splashed, and with a blue scene
A black silk lace mantilla drapes the night
Who wears a jeweled comb for ornament.

Of love's flame colored flots my shawl is made,
With sparks for fringe, and glow to keep me warm,
While one who wraps me in its freckled shawl
Declares it needs a radiance to my form.
Dear God that every woman's eye may shine
Let her be folded in a shawl like mine.

Pope Opposes Spain's Act

Vatican City, May 24.—The Vatican will make strong representations to the Spanish republic against last Friday's religious liberty decree, separating church and state, it was learned tonight.

Church officials are said to consider the decree to be a clear violation of the concordat still in existence between Spain and the Vatican.

This question, as well as the burning of church property and the treatment of priests and nuns in Spain, were understood to have been thoroughly discussed by Pope Pius during an hour and a half's audience with the Spanish Primate Cardinal Segura.

The primate was obliged to leave Spain and arrived in Rome last night. He was met at the station by Monsignor Ottaviani, the secretary of State's office and other prelates.

The report which Cardinal

Segura made to the pontiff and any decision which the Pope may have made were kept secret, except the decision to protest to the Spanish government against the liberty decree which had the Pope's approval.

The primate's only public comment so far was a fervent exclamation when he arrived, "pray for Spain."

The future plans of the pontiff were not made public, but he is expected to remain here several days, after to give a full report on conditions in Spain and to confer with officials of the state department regarding the church's course.

Rotarians Hear Fine Address

The Rotary Club enjoyed a treat Friday in the address of Dr. Colby D. Hall, dean of Texas Christian University at Fort Worth. Dr. Hall was in Commerce to deliver the commencement address to the graduating class at the College this morning and the Rotary program committee took advantage of his presence in the city and invited him to speak before the club. Dr. Hall's talk was somewhat of a historical and explanatory nature, dealing with the growth and development of the schools and colleges of Texas and of the South from primitive times to the present high state of attainment. A man who knows something and knows how to tell it is always pleasing to listen to. Dr. Hall is that kind of a man. He introduced Dr. S. H. Whitley of the College. The visitors were Tom Meschen-lan, Lee Clark, Eugene Dinkie and Roger, W. West-ergren and I. C. Abbott of Fort Worth. The latter is a brother-in-law of Aubrey Goff, a club member. Mr. Clark of the Greenville club announced an inter-club Rotary meeting to be held at Greenville Club take on the night of June 12th and invited Commerce Rotarians to attend.

COLLEGE STUDENTS ELIGIBLE FOR $214.50 PRIZE

The stores of Perkins Bros. throughout the Perkins trade territory are taking an especial interest in the event of National Cotton week which starts Monday, June 8th, and with this interest they have involved into the campaign of greater consumption of cotton products by offering prizes in the making of various articles of clothing. The Perkins advertisement will be found in several issues of this paper as well as in the circulars that the stores are distributing over a large area.

Cotton is used more than any other fabric on earth today, the growing of which creates the ways and means of thousands of people in different parts of the world of obtaining a living. The making of the fiber into products that have a commercial value is giving much employment to many other thousands. With the growing of the cotton plant as a producer of fiber, the cotton seed plays no small part in the world's demand on the cotton farmer, in feeding both man and beast. There is a vital need at this time of every one using as much cotton products as they can consistently do so, for the simple reason that the cotton products that are used, the greater the demand, and the greater the demand, the better the price that the grower will obtain for his year's work. The more the farmer receives for his cotton the better conditions will be in every line of endeavor.

The vital question comes down to the consumption of the finished products. Commerce as a whole, if each and every citizen would come out all dressed in cotton materials, would not cut any figure in the consumption of the world's supply of cotton. And on behalf of the cotton farmer it is the desire of this paper that every one give National Cotton Week due consideration by using all the cotton products possible during the week. College students should take part in the contest.

Condensed History of E. T. S. T. C.

(The following material concerning the history of the East Texas Normal College has been obtained from the personal files of Prof. J. M. Bledsoe, who after painstaking care and effort collected much data relative to the founding of this school—Author's note.)

Prof. William Leonidas Mayo was the founder of the East Texas State Normal College. He was born November 3, 1853, in the small village of Prestonburg, Kentucky. Here he grew to manhood and graduated from Central Normal College, Danville, Ind. In the spring of 1887 he came to Texas, and located at Peach Gap, Delta county where he helped to lay out the crop and teach a subscription summer school. Making good in his summer school, he secured the school for the following winter session, and with Dr. J. L. Allen as assistant, taught the Peach Gap school for two years. His success was so marked, his reputation spread to surrounding communities, so the Cooper school board employed him as superintendent of their school, beginning September, 1890. East Texas Normal Founded with larger opportunity and confidence for college were afforded by the Cooper community. Prof. Mayo established the East Texas Normal College in connection with the Cooper public schools.

The college department grew in numbers and reputation until the spring of 1894 when the building and equipment burned. There being no railroad at Cooper, and the further fact that the citizens of Commerce offered ten acres of land worth about $100,000 cash on the first college building, he decided to locate in Commerce. He married Miss Etta Beath while in Cooper.

Opening of the New School
On Monday, September 1, 1911, he opened the East Texas Normal College in Commerce. The building, not being a school, the school was conducted in a small brick store room across from the Commercial Hotel. The property is now located, until January, 1896.

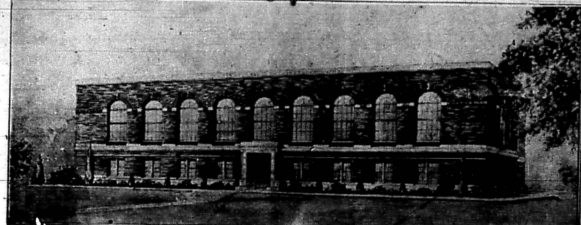

From the first enrollment of twenty students with only one teacher, W. L. Mayo himself, the College had a marvelous growth as indicated by the following figures showing the enrollment for the winter and summer sessions for twenty-three years in Commerce:

L. B. Weston	Com.
1394-95	88
1395-96	137
1396-97	151
1397-98	213

1399-00	299
1900-01	334
1901-02	373
1902-03	783
1903-04	1432
1904-05	1066
1905-06	1060

Incident of the School
Commerce was, at that time, a small town of 1,200 population and had more saloons than grocery and dry goods stores combined. The faculty for the first year was increased. A few of the better known members of this group are: C. O. G. and J. A. Thomas, J. A. Drashed, J. A. Thomas, J. H. Hicks, B. L. Fling, Dr. W. William Trentham, D. J. W. Bowen, Dr. E. M. Clark, D. L. Clark, Dr. W. G. Boyd, and Prof. George.

Buildings on the Campus
The first building to be erected was the Main College Building and had more saloons than grocery and dry goods stores combined. The faculty for the first year was increased. A few of the better known members of this group are: C. O. G. and J. A. Thomas, J. A. Drashed, J. A. Thomas, J. H. Hicks, B. L. Fling, Dr. W. William Trentham, D. J. W. Bowen, Dr. E. M. Clark, D. L. Clark, Dr. W. G. Boyd, and Prof. George.

The second building was a wooden dormitory where the East Texas Normal College had a three-story building and burned in 1910. There was also a brick water supply dormitory just across the street north of it. This was a three-story building located where the college driveway is where the old Training School, burned together with the main building, which housed the school's classes. This building was torn down a few years ago.

THE NEW $200,000 LIBRARY BUILDING

Taken Over by State
In 1917 just as Prof. Mayo led the East Texas Normal College was established as the East Texas State Normal College by an act of the Thirty-fifth Legislature. The school was taken over by the state for the purpose of training teachers. The curriculum was extended and the number of courses increased. Dr. R. B. Blinn was appointed as head of the institution and he remained with the school until 1924. At this time the attendance made a decided drop. After the first year however, the enrollment has steadily increased as is shown by the following figures:

Year	Reg.	Sum.
1918-19	210	294
1919-20	273	353
1920-21	253	421
1921-22	409	660
1922-23	673	910
1923-24	1308	1773
1924-25	1306	1773

Change residents
In 1925 Dr. H. H. Whitley was named as the president of the school. The growth of the school has continued to increase both in enrollment and standards. Recently the State legislature appropriated $200,000 for a new library building which was completed last year.

Recently Dr. Whitley received the honor of having his name published in the 1929 volume of "Who's Who." Following is the information given about him in that volume: Whitley, Samuel H., college president; born in Claiborne, Texas, September 1, 1878, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Whitley, B. L. and B. A. from Trinity University; M. A. S. M. U.; L. B. of Austin College, Sherman, Texas; Positions: President of the State Normal College, 1901-1906; Principal Mexico H. S., 1906-1909; State Normal Teachers College, 1910-24; President same since '24; Married Lucy Brandon Low, daughter of Col. J. M. R. McRae, Austin, Dec. 27, 1904.

There are now located on the campus four buildings, a brick administrative building, a brick building with basement, and three stories, contains administrative offices, auditorium, and laboratories for physics and chemistry. The science laboratories have recently been provided with new apparatus and apparatus.

The Industrial Hall, a 350,000 brick building, is used for science laboratories, departmental offices, gymnasium, shops, industrial arts and library. The state has expended $400,000 remodeling this building.

The new $75,000 Education Building is one hundred and sixty-six feet long from front to back and two hundred and twenty-eight feet deep from front to back. It is three stories high and in it are accommodated the training school, an auditorium with a seating capacity of twenty-two hundred, a gymnasium, offices for the President of the College and the Dean of Faculty, twenty-eight class rooms, and many other offices and store rooms.

The Woman's Building was formerly a dormitory of the old school, but has been rebuilt and refurbished at a cost of approximately $100,000 and is one of the most comfortable homes to be found in this section.

The Story of Your Band

BY C. A. DEONER, Director
A little girl, aged six, when asked how she liked the band concert, replied "I liked the band, glad, stood up in the middle and acted funny."

Since I am the "funny-act'g man" in the band of E. T. S. T. I shall attempt to give you a review of the facts and fancies of the College Band since 1926. I was placed in charge of The Band or what was left of it at the beginning of the Fall Term of 1926. My duties consisted of directing two rehearsals each week. It did not take long for me to realize that the band would not be much of a success with no more instruction than I was given each week. Several obstacles tended to work against the group action which is necessary to the success of any man. John Old, Erman Adams, Henry the group action which is necessary to the success of any man. student body the acme of perfection.

The new organization, "The E. T. S. T. C. Band", took upon itself all the duties of a college band, attending all hall games, giving suitable rally or pep music, giving chapel programs, and later, giving "concerts" for the summer session. The personnel of the band was made up of some of the former band-men, a few of "The Footers", and several of the Training School boys. A total of twenty members: Ed Pratt, Dick Deonier, O. C. Mulkey, Wilfred Pratt, Cyrus Locke, The Wright, Harold Drake, Crawford Cooper, George no more instruction than I was given each week. Several obstacles tended to work against the group action which is necessary to the success of any man. John Old, Erman Adams, Henry the group action which is necessary to the success of any man. John Old, Erman Adams, Henry the group action which is necessary to the success of any man.

that time the student body has had a place in all its activities for the services of the band. True, some few criticized the band for not playing popular music, when as a matter of fact they did not know that only a very few popular tunes are adaptable to the band because of its ponderous tonal quality.

Naturally the personnel of the band is always changing, so in 1928 some of the members left and the following new ones came to join us: Glendon Drake, Hoyt Williams, H. E. Campbell, Scott Bone, Charlie Cate, Sam Berta, Winford Hall, Dade Sparks, Curtis Phillips, Welcome Wright, Alvin Himman, Howard Carr, John Sparks, Raymond Dale, Oscar Adams, James Finley, Floyd Galavin.

The year 1929 was a most eventful one for the E. T. S. T. Early in the Spring Dr. Whitley granted permission for the purchase of a "beginning" for a Band Uniform, namely - a cap and age for each member, and a cap and coat for the director.

It was at the May Fete of 1929 that the colorful Blue and Gold caps and capes and the white uniforms made its first appearance on the campus.

You had heard the expression "all dressed up and no place to go", well, we were "all dressed up and SOME PLACE to go!" We went and brought home with us the loving cup awarded to the second best band in the college of the contest held at the East Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention in Greenville, South Carolina.

In 1930 the change in membership was marked by some members leaving and the following new ones joining us: Shirley Marshall, Ed Peterson, Joel Price, Dennis Speed, Alvin Clifton, James Clark, John Morris, W. O. Sullivan, Preston Harrison, Virgil Mattingly, Raymond Mattingly, J. L. Palko, E. G. Smith, Jr., Arvace Wayne Galt, Frank Patterson, Noble Williams, Norman Hancock, Richard Oldinger, Joe Sumner, Jess Orringer, H. D. Holloway, M. R. Provine, Hollon Allard, and William Beiler.

In 1930 the Student Council voted two per cent. of the Student Activities fund to be given to the Band.

In this year the Band had grown to such proportions and included so many of the T. S. students in its membership that it became necessary to divide it into two organizations. The T. S. Band was therefore organized to serve as a leader for the College Band and is made up of boys from the third grade on through Training School. Some of the older, more experienced students of the T. S. serve in both organizations.

The year 1931 marked the end of a four year period of work for many of the bandmen, and the present organization has only two of the original 1927 members, Dick Deonier, and The Wright.

The new members this year are R. G. Rix Jr., Holene Weaver, N. A. Flippin, James Reed, Gregory Yelvington, James Wright, C. A. Bonham Jr., Marlon Allard, George Johnson, Carl Ross, Jake Anderson, Jess Harrison, Leon Williams, Fred Barnett, David Williams, Robert Wehbit, Beaulle Patterson, Doyce Whitte, Floyd Bone, Bill Hestey, V. L. Owen Jr., William Sparksman, Edwin Godwin.

THE STORY OF...

The outstanding event for the band this year was the concert given Sunday afternoon, May 10. The band has gradually grown and developed into an organization whose membership is made up entirely of college and T. A. N. students.

-LOCALS-

Mr. Dato Sparks, a former E. T. student, and who has gained honors in Texas University, is back in Commerce visiting friends.

Margaret Aakins, who has been attending college in Commerce, has left for Clinton, where she will spend the summer with her grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Garretson, of Midlothan, are attending college this summer.

Ima Jean Bigger, who has been teaching at Bogota, is here for the summer.

Bernice Marie Gist and her Camp Fire Girls went to Greenview to the "mat" recently, but were disappointed to find it closed. They journeyed, however, to Sulphur Springs, and found the same condition there.

Christine Crockett and Katharine Blodson have returned from Pittsburgh, where they spent the week-end.

Miss Gladys Lother, member of the High School faculty, has returned to her home in Austin.

Miss Doughtill, who has been teaching at Clinton, has entered the school this summer.

Miss Annie Lou Shine has returned for school this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bohannon and little daughter, of Pecos, Tex., have arrived in Commerce.

Mary Lee Akren, who has been teaching in Blueridge, is here to attend the summer session of school.

Miss Etile Stewart will enroll in school. She has just finished teaching school in the West.

Neil Myers, former E. T. student, has returned home for the summer. She has been teaching in Rotan.

Jack Moonenham, students of relatives in Tyler last week. This college, visited friends and in three fold purpose:

1. To teach those who desire to play any particular instrument.

2. To create in the student body the desire for and appreciation of better music.

3. To unify the college spirit by furnishing suitable music for all college activities.

Lucille Hall of New Boston will be in school this summer.

Hale Parker is in school this country without a fall.

Miss Annie Lou Shine has returned for school this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bohannon and little daughter, of Pecos, Tex., have arrived in Commerce.

Mary Lee Akren, who has been teaching in Blueridge, is here to attend the summer session of school.

Miss Etile Stewart will enroll in school. She has just finished teaching school in the West.

That was Blood's usual speech before he waded in with his 45 or his Texas Jack.

Have courage to say no! You're starting today on life's journey.

Along on the highway of life! You'll meet with a thousand temptations.

Each city with evil is rife. This world is a state of excitement.

There's danger wherever you go; But if you are tempted in weakness.

The Siren's sweet song may allure you; Beware of her cunning and art.

Whenever you see her approaching; Be guarded, and have to depart.

The Billiard saloons are inviting; Decked out in their tinsel and glare.

You may be invited to enter; Have courage, my boy, to say No.

The bright ruby drink may be offered; No matter how tempting it be.

My boy, have courage to flee, The gambling halls are before you.

Think twice—even thrice—ere you go.

In courage alone lies thy safety; When you the long journey begin.

And trust in a Heavenly Father Will keep you unspotted from sin.

Temptations will go on increasing; Remember...
