LIONS LOSE TO MUSTANGS 42-27 IN OPENING GO EAST TEXAS LOSES TO S. M. U. AS OLD-TIME PAST-BREAKING OFFENSE FAILS TO MAKE APPEARANCE.

Jumping into the lead in the first few minutes of play, the Lone Star team seemed confident of victory Monday night in their first court game of the season when they met the Southern Methodist Mustangs on the local floor, but soon lost the lead and never regained it as their defense crumbled.

Although the Teachers had a chance after a close to sink for tallies, their efforts were to no avail as the shots went wild. Comers seemed unable to recover the ball as it bounced from the basket while the Mustangs got this tip-off at center almost every time.

Seeing irregularities in time and G.O. technique were due to the fact that the boys were playing their first game of the season. Several of the men have been out only a short while and it is especially true in the lone game under the tutelage of Bill Sikes will show the tables leaning tiny Christmas trees and piles of candy.

CHRISTMAS TREE FOR DORMITORY

Following the tradition of the dormitory festive celebration, the girls trooped down the back stairs early Sunday morning to a dining room decorated with Christmas paper and lighted with red candles, where they settled themselves about the tables bearing tiny Christmas trees and piles of candy.

Guests invited to join the girls for the festivities were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Whitley, Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Smith, Mary Lee Whitley, Winnie Lowe, Betty Turnage, LeRoy Beane, Callie Beane, Marjorie Lewis, and Mrs. Acker's daughter, Mrs. Paul Beeson of St. Louis, and her grandson, Bobbie. After the graceful, coral, blue and red, and heavily laden Christmas tree, each girl received a carefully chosen piece of jewelry, a necklace, an earring, a bracelet, or a jewel case. Many were selected to match certain favorite colors and were going back to the gentlemen drew ties from the holiday bounty.

Miss Acker with an evening gown trimmed with lace and geriatric pearls and Mrs. Beeson had given a pair of silk shoes, and another was mailed to Miss Coy.

Mabel Murrill brought another grandchild, young little Acker, to the Christmas tree, and the tractor that he found on the tree proved popular with the girls, that he had difficulty in getting a hold of it.

Wendell Wright, always on the lookout for Lonestar material, got a pair of the new, gray, and blue S. M. U. caps.

Only the Lonestar support club has been invited to the festivities. Further celebration followed church, when the girls were treated to a Christmas dinner.

Miss Christine Carter, president of the Lonestar support club, presided at the home of Mrs. Ben Pickett.

Miss Ruth Moore and Christmas Winkley were Greenville visitors.

SOUTHWESTERN MEMBERSHIP TO BE UNCHANGED

At a meeting of Southwest Conference faculty representatives held in Dallas last Saturday, it was decided that no additions would be made to the list of members in the circuit. Although Comers and Lubbock Tech had applications at the meeting, they were not considered. The reason for not considering the applicants was according to Friday, Dec. 16, Fort Worth was suggested as the place of play but the game to be held either at Greenville or A.H.M. practice impossible.

Greenville To Play Abilene At Abilene

The officials of the Greenville and Abilene High schools, meeting in Weatherford Saturday, decided that the semi-finals in the school football race for the Lone Star State. To those who saw the game at play at Greenville or A.H.M. practice impossible.

Postmaster Young Calls Attention To Mailing Packages

The Postmaster Young calls attention to the fact that Christmas packages for any other packages that go through the mail only have to be placed in a box. Under no circumstances, stated Mr. Young, "address your packages to two or more addressees. When the package is addressed on one side there is a possibility of the package being delayed. The address must be on the side that carries the stamp and no other." Sometimes in the rush of handling Christmas mail when there exist duplicate addresses the stamps might appear on the bottom of the package, thereby delaying the package. It is stated that express packages must be addressed on two sides but not so when the package is sent by mail.

College Aggie Class Visits Many Stores

Professor Rix, head of the department of Agriculture at the local college, accompanied by a group of students, visited the business district Friday morning on a tour of the stores. The object of the class tour was to get first hand information of the manner in which the various fruits and vegetables are packed, the manner of shipping and selling.

The class as a whole took much interest in the manner of packing and the kind of products that were being handled at this season.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pickett, a son, Dec. 10, 1931, in Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. L. H. Pickett, a son, Dec. 10, 1931, in Dallas, Texas.

CAROL SERVICE GIVEN FRIDAY

Carols were sung with much gusto by a huge number of college students and citizens of Commerce Friday evening, December 11, at the College auditorium. A chorus of singers dressed in white followed the lighting of the candles and Christmas tree, with their entrance into the auditorium all the while singing Christmas carols.

Miss Murrill led the congregation in singing the songs, and the words were flashed upon the wall by a projection machine.

The treasurer reported that about $70.00 was realized from the Halloween carnival. The seventh and sixth grades made the greatest sales and were awarded $3.00 and $2.00 respectively.

Carl Smith plunged through center for the extra point after the second touchdown which made the score 14-13. Carl Smith made the touchdown.

The lucky invaders led in first quarter by a 9-0 long run and punted netted the Jacket corners, while steady gains were largely responsible for the McGregor Touchdowns.

THIS WEEK

An accidental scientific experiment was made recently in Room L-100 for relieving the acoustic condition of that room. Those who have classes there know that the acoustics are bad, but accidents are happening in that room and one upper class member, while observing a class in L-100 in Freeman English made an accidental discovery. He noticed that the boy of freshmen had an amusing effect on the right hand side of the floor and ceiling, to the extent that the acoustic problem was comparatively reduced. The conclusions to the experiment are that Room L-100 is set aside for freshmen classes exclusively.

The story is original somewhere. The Dr. Evans is accusing Her Brewer of trying to pull the wrap off of Venus? They both seem to know "Vigilant Victory" pretty well they never forget a face.

We saw Dean J. G. Smith this week, pulling his Whiffy-Knight along with the string trying to make the top of a front tire ring to the bottom so that the bottom would look like the top. We wanted to suggest that he get on the top of an upright pump and take in how many grants it would take to fill his empty tire, but that's exactly what he did.

On a concise bench over by the I-Hall we saw Joe Gallowsy pointing, meditating, thinking, or what you will, and all he could exclaim was "that blue." "Emp" but his girl next him is a General Reeback catalogue!

It seems paradoxical that a person is always away from home when he is homesick. That reminds us that it won't be long now till we'll be going home again. That's what the monkey yelled when he backed into the bar-mover, but the thing we have to do is keep on good terms with the bar-mover, but the thing we have to do is keep on good terms with the bar-mover, but the thing we have to do is keep on good terms with the bar-mover.

Franking has reference something to more than just making a connection. It may be making a conversation supported by two young ladies. (The conversation is of course.) One minister of the gospel, "Who was that girl in the red coat that tried to kick me out of the side walk. She thought," says the other, "that was Lawrence Deane's sister."

Not so very long ago (1918) Mrs. Murrill was in Dallas, and she was with one of his classes reported to be in the college. He was saying to her someone in the whole group that he couldn't

THE READING RACKET

The East Texas State Teachers' College has one of the most beautiful and complete libraries in the South, for the State of Texas has spent some $275,000 in making it one of the best from the standpoint of beauty, utility, and design. These facts are evident without proof.

To secure use of this building and of the others on the campus of E. T., nearly 1100 students have come here from Texas and a few of the other forty-eight states. Attention is being called to the fact that out of that group a small minority is making it difficult for the big majority to realize, to the best advantage and to the fullest, their aims and needs.

Students who frequent the library know that many times they cannot do some necessary reading, or some other necessary activity, and when they are in the library talking and laughing aloud. The noise and racket often become so boisterous that the librarian in charge is forced to resort to disciplinary duties and call the numbers off of them. This trouble is more apparent in the "noisy" corner, but students should be reminded that absolute does not signify exclusion.

It should not be necessary to harp on these things. The library reading room is intended as a place for quiet, thoughtful study, and not a "lounge" or "open house." In view of the excellent addition to this campus, could be a provision for quarters of this kind, but since this is too future to be present, why not make the best of a fair situation and let the library serve its intended purpose?—J. THE TAIL WAGS THE DOG

Significance gives rise to prominence, so the significance which is growing in the changing sentiment for football in the schools of today is certain to make the issue prominent. Colleges are not paying the needed attention that should be paid to the established fact that the national pigskin is over-inflated, but the high schools are beginning to realize that the little end of their educational system is wagging and slapping the heavy end. The newspapers of the forty-eight states are carrying, without comment, the stories of deaths and injuries during the gridiron season, the number of casualties reported from the games over the country was alarming.

It is evident that something is wrong, either in the rules of the game or in the sportsmanship of football teams. Whether it be the relations governing football or not should be determined by the conference held last week and the others to be held. Gridiron authorities have begun to consider means of curbing danger, and eliminating plays involving questionable contacts in the game. Coach at one time taught his players to "take the man out," especially if he were dangerous and obstructive to their victory. That sort of play has been practically eliminated, and today the sort of clean football E. T. plays is the result of that change. This college is to be commended for her clear sportsmanship, and it is regrettable that the schools over the country are not all so well regulated.

High Schools, daily, are eliminating football from their curriculum, in some instances without recourse, and in others to be retained upon the signed approval of the patrons of the school. They are beginning to assert the opposition that has been present almost from the first, but it is lamentable that the life of a player should be necessary to awaken the sleeping Gulliver.

Not only is the mortality rate increasing but the exorbitant fees, admissions, and expenses have likewise grown larger. The Great Depression we are in now justifies in 1932 if we must judge by the football receipts for this year, or so far the football has not proven to be a successful season—and now the season is over. Our charity games have attempted to lay criticism, but the unmitigated facts still stand.

Remove the college spirit from football and it is a dead issue. This year's E. T. Spirit has been more or less a phantom but take the school that overvalues education and over-inflates the pigskin, and one has a clear-cut picture of "the tail wagging the dog." No other one thing gets half the emphasis. High scholarship, educational advancement, and social improvement are left to the few, who still believe in well-controlled football, but who do not forget certain other things of greater value. Who shall the world be still master of his fate and his tail wag the other end?—J. B.

WINCHELL WIT WON'T WORK SO CALLED WONDER

"Whoopie," "Gee," "Reemoteley," other newly-invented words of the water-Winchell variety, have their chance along with "America's greatest gossip" and his breezy chatter, which is disseminated through his writing and radio broadcasts.

Opinions varied from that of Professor H. W. Ward of Col. College, Iowa, who thought "Winchell's many racy expressions and often startlingly new coinages will make a very considerable impression upon our vocabulary," to the indignant pun of Professor J. W. Rabin, of the University of Missouri: "Winch? Hell no!"

At the suggestion, however, that Winchell's best words, concerning a whiff of a diamond, take a sentence or paragraph, are his language, permanent, on the millions of tongues the day after they are coined. Professor "Sad, but true."

Prof. Enjoy "Winchellizing" the language, permanent, on the other hand, who did not concede that "Winchellizing" would affect the language permanently, confessed that to "winchellize" oneself, he would enjoy his praise and a high-banded treatment of the language of Chaucer and the Declaration of Independence. The late of the language, permanent, amusement to anger.

"Unfortunately," says commented Professor Alvin D. Hill, University of Tennessee, on Winchell's "corruption" was the term used by Professor J. H. Chamberlain, of the University of Tennessee. Professor F. T. Baker of Columbia University thought the wide broadcasting of racy expressions like Winchell's gives us a more picturesque language, even if his words are short-lived.

"No one can say that some of the Winchell contributions may not enter into accepted usage," wrote Professor Percy H. Boyton, of the University of Chicago, and in place in the standard dictionaries, but in most, if not all cases, merely as a form of slang, according to Professor Z. W. Coombs, of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Massachusetts.

"Slaps 'Slang-Slingers'"

"The prime trait of slang-slingers is their habit of using words which the words of the language use along a trail and led by them with a total disregard for proper usage," wrote Professor H. J. Tunney of the University of Notre Dame, in a long and entertaining discussion of Winchell's English.

"When Mr. Walter Winchell tells of a mis-matched married couple who have gone to Nevada to become 'one' in the desert, in addition, 'we must, therefore, conclude that is a clever, witty expression—'one'—and it is regrettable that any objection is that Mr. Winchell is too well aware of his wit and wit."

"The English language has been subjected to many vicissitudes in the past," commented Professor Brown of New York University, Secretary of the Modern Language Association of America, and has shown remarkable toughness and power of persistence. My personal opinion is that if we continue without any perceptible effect from the word which Mr. Winchell can do to it."

"Undoubtedly these intellectual contributions to the question of national professional speech reformer Professor Carroll S. Alden, head of the Department of English and History at the United States National Academy in Annapolis, but unless expressions, especially those relating to temporary conditions, will not be found to have anything of the vitality possessed by those that spring from the soil."

"Language is constantly growing and constantly changing," commented Professor Robert Washington Cunningham of Northampton, Massachusetts. "We find words in good olden days which are now obsolete or were once restricted to a trade or profession. I do not imagine that anyone can tell which of Mr. Winchell's contributions... will last or whether any of them will."

Use of Government Motion Picture Films are Offered Free

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A very comprehensive series of educational motion picture films in automobile and allied industries has just been completed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines, Department of Commerce. The various details in the production of coal, petroleum and the refining and treatment of gasoline are pictured. The operation and care of the gasoline motor, the working of the electrical storage battery, the manufacturing and care of spark plugs, the mixing of lubricants and the lubrication of the automobile are also presented.

Special effort was made to have each film authentic in every detail and to be continuously so prepared as to make them really understood by the layman as well as the technical student.

Eighteen reels compose the series. Copies of films may be obtained for exhibition purposes, without charge, by clubs, churches, civic and business bodies and other interested groups, by applying to the Pittsburgh Experiment Station of the U. S. Department of Mines, Pittsburgh, Pa. The only cost to the user is the transportation charge.

DEVILED NUTS

To salt nuts, if nuts with little skins are used, blanch and remove skins. Place nuts in a wire basket and fry in deep fat of oil (300 degrees F.) until distinctly browned. Drain. Remove quickly and sprinkle with salt.

It is a little while to salt more than one kind at a time, as some kinds take more quickly than others. Blight nuts may be spiced by sprinkling with powdered cinnamon and cloves, or may be drizzled by sprinkling with cayenne.

Facts About The Methodist Orphan Home At Waco

GOOD, AVERAGE, ACTIVE CITIZENS

Facts that reveal the value of the training given by the Methodist Orphanage at Waco, Texas: "None of the children who have been raised in 'our orphanage' (over 3,000), is so far as we know, a pauper, has been confined in a penitentiary. Several boys have gained prominent places in the professions. Numbers of our girls have married happily and are making real money in Texas and other states. We have graduate students from Texas Woman's College, Southern Methodist University, Baylor University and Rice Institute. Everyone is working hard and making progress in the line of work chosen for a life's work.

Quite a number of our young men and women have finished from one to three years of college work, and are now teaching or pursuing other studies. In fact, we have one boy and three girls, who were raised in the Home, at our own Home School Faculty, and they are doing splendid work.

In order that you may know the varied fields that our children have entered and are entering, this is a representative vocation list: engineering, law, farming, dairying, plumbing, firemen, police, stenography, oil well supply, industry, athletic coaching, nursing, stenography, accounting, secretarial work, office work, Texas counties, undertaking business, newspaper agency, salesmanship.

Several of our boys have finished, woodworking, ice plant work, owner of filling station, printing, bookbinding, electrical, auto mechanic, electrician, automobile mechanic, railroad engineering, advertising agency, navy, and Home Making. We have one or more representatives in each of these fields of endeavor.

These same boys and girls, now grown to manhood and womanhood, and carrying on their part of the world's work, are going to build an Alumni cottage at the orphanage at a cost of from $25,000 to $30,000, to show their appreciation to the Methodists of the Six Conferences, the good people who helped them get a start in life. These older citizens want to help to give opportunities to the children who are now in the orphanage.

No skeptic could be found that would question the value of the training given to these boys and girls by the Methodist Orphanage. You are glad that you have had a part in directing these young lives along the right road of life? There is not a man or woman present, who would grudge one cent that he or she ever invested in the lives of these young, active, forward-looking citizens of Texas, who were raised in the Methodist Orphanage. You are not sorry that you made the investment? These folks are paying you daily dividends in the lives they are living. Your investments are now paying interest in Christian home-makers of Texas and other states!

THE MONTH OF DECEMBER FOR THE ORPHANAGE

The most pitiful thing in the world is a little child without any body to see that Santa Claus comes or brings the least bit of Christmas joy. Friends, we need your co-operation. This Christmas we have never needed it before. Other days go by as most every one had plenty and to spare. But this year brings us face to face with the fact that many folk are unable to help themselves, and we must expect these people to assist in maintaining our Home. We have no appeal to those who are more able to increase their offering sufficient to care for those who have been helping us. We must do so this year.

CHRISTMAS BELONGS TO THE HOME

You want to do for them so that it will last not only for the day, but for the entire year. Your offerings will be used in keeping the children happy and hopeful throughout the year. We must prepare them to take care of themselves when they grow bigger and stronger. To do this we must maintain our school, provide clothing and food, keep our buildings and household equipment in full repair, give them the supervision of real motherly women for their mothers, and that they have the proper medical attention, and provide spiritual training in the simplest, but the most effective, service possible to the best. This all requires money, and WE NEED YOUR HELP TO CONTINUE OUR STANDARD OF EFFICIENCY. WE ARE DOING OUR VERY BEST TO ECONOMIZE IN EVERY WAY AND AT THE SAME TIME NOT DEDUCT ONE CENT FROM TRAINING AND THE BEST EFFICIENCY IN THE BUILDING OF MANHOOD AND WOMANHOOD. If we miss an opportunity to provide the life of the child today, it will be gone forever, regardless of the DEPRESSION.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS NEEDED

It will require not less than ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS to maintain our standard of training for the children this year. WE HAVE ABOVE $75,000 METHODOISTS within our territory. An average of ONLY THIRTY CENTS per member will provide for our needs and justify an additional building for forty more children to come into our Home.

Christmas is the time for our offering, December is the month, only four Sundays. The Sunday before Christmas may be a bad weather day. Take the offering the very first opportunity and then if the Sunday before Christmas is good, and you have not yet had your offering, bring it with you. What you think is your part, take another offering. Every one working for the Home should be in full at the Christmas time. We promise not to make another call if our Church will close up for Christmas offering in December. THIS AMOUNT PREPARED IN ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS to come from the six conferences—Central Texas, Texas, East Texas, West Texas and West Texas and New Mexico.

WE WILL NEVER NEED YOUR HELP MORE THAN RIGHT NOW!

Mrs. Eugene Bickley Hostess to Ace High Bridge Club Thurs.

Mrs. Eugene Bickley was hostess to the Ace High Bridge Club on Thursday afternoon, December 3rd, at her home on Main Street, Mesquite, Cal. H. Parrow, Lester Hester, Hal O'Neal, T. C. Chaplin and Mrs. Lester Tom of Sulphur Springs, Texas, as guests and club members composed the four tables of auction bridge.

The color scheme of pink and white was very effectively carried out through the decorations in the house, of tall pink velvet baskets filled with white chrysanthemums. The table covers used on the playing tables were pink and blue, tallies being in corresponding colors and individual nut cups filled with mints in pastel shades marked the place of each guest. After several very interesting games of auction bridge it was found that Mrs. Martin Speake has the high score for the club members. Mrs. Harry O'Neal scored high for goals. Delicious refreshments of port-cupule salad, cream cheese and nut sandwiches out to grapes, diamonds, glazed pickles with Russian tea followed by banana split with cream was served by the hostess, also carrying out the chosen color scheme.

Triple L Sunday School Class Was Entertained Mon.

The Triple L Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church were entertained in regular social meeting in the form of a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. W. H. Birdsong, 1407 Law. Mrs. Birdsong and co-hostesses, Mrs. W. H. Birdsong, with the Messrs. Hendrick, Reader, Bird and Kautz as co-hostesses. The beauty of the living room was even more beautiful with the soft glow of many colored lights which were reflected from the huge, pine Christmas tree, particularly decorated with ivory laden with gifts, which centered the living room on the North. The dining room was also decorated in Christmas colors. The table was laid with a centerpiece of hand-dried lavender linen and a large basket of roses.

After the guests were seated, a loud rap was heard at the front door, the door opened and came Santa Claus with his merry misfit and red suit. After he shook hands with every guest, Santa was seated. Miss Mary Sophronia Hendricks read "The Negro's Lullaby" and Miss Ruby Lee Masters read "Hill Past Before." The program was turned over to Santa Claus, who distributed the gifts from the tree to those present.

Mrs. Kautz, the teacher, was presented with a pair of kid gloves from the class. The Santa delivered a box in the dining room and investigated the contents, discovered to each guest a dining room and investigated the contents, discovered to each guest a green sock, stitched with red thread and containing popcorn balls, assorted candies and an apple, the refreshments for the evening. A business meeting was held during which the class decided on plans to complete their charity work for Christmas. A social hour was enjoyed by the nineteen guests; and when they had thanked the hostesses for the evening's entertainment each departed with a deeper and fuller understanding of Christmas.

EIGHT SEMESTER PLAN OF FOOTBALL DISCUSSED PRO AND CON BY DALLAS PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM OFFICIALS

(Editor Note)—Intercollegiate League members are currently making a high school athlete ineligible for competition eight semesters after graduation from high school... The proposed plan would claim to kill high school football if it is passed. Others are convinced it would be a death blow to the two trains of thought as seen by two leading authorities.

Present System Handicaps Normal Boy, Says Official of League.

BY ROY B. HENDERSON, Intercollegiate League Athlete Director.

When any new, slightly rule changed further to regulate high school athletics is proposed the average school man will pause and think. Two things should be considered: "In the first place he will think, why do we have athletics in school? ... The proposed rule offer more participation to the average high school boy than that which is being given athletics in its proper place in the educational program? ... It may be an intellectually sound idea, but it owns a greater obligation to the boy who is in school each year and who completes a normal education of scholastic work or to the boy who is irregular in his attendance or who is intellectually unable to pass through high school in four years."

Rule Helps Normal Boy.

One who believes that our high school teams should be composed of regular average high school pupils will vote for the eight-semester rule. He who believes that the irregular or scholastic work or to the boy who is irregular in his attendance or who is intellectually unable to pass through high school in four years. ... He who believes that the irregular or scholastic work or to the boy who is irregular in his attendance or who is intellectually unable to pass through high school in four years. ... He who believes that the irregular or scholastic work or to the boy who is irregular in his attendance or who is intellectually unable to pass through high school in four years.

Graduate Ten Young.

All over the country from the professor and various other sources as the cry goes out that children are graduating from high school too early and that many times they are too immature to be ready for college or for any regular work. There is no question but what there is a considerable number of high school students who would not graduate from high school within eight semesters. ... He who believes that the irregular or scholastic work or to the boy who is irregular in his attendance or who is intellectually unable to pass through high school in four years.

Proponents and the opponents of the eight-semester rule differ.

The proponents and the opponents of the eight-semester rule differ. The proponents know that the normal, average high school boy needs to be disappointed in his life because he graduates in four years; he makes his scholastic work each semester and as he goes long before the age rule catches him. Furthermore, the proponents believe that the rule should not make it to the athletic advantage of a boy to drop out of school, to fail in his work or to delay his graduation. On the other hand, the opponents of the eight-semester rule stand on the side of one of two groups: either they are in the group with those who want players older, heavier and more experienced than the average high school boy or they are in the group with those who believe that the dull or irregular pupil deserves more consideration than does the normal high school boy. ... The eight-semester rule will have the practice of intention to graduate in order to promote the best interests of the public and in some cases as a greater opportunity to participate for boys who are not qualified to graduate in four years or to reserve some participation because the eight years that they would have to attend they will be able to use them to advantage if the school engages any more.

children should remain in school for as long as nine or ten semesters. Then it seems to me that the self-evident fact that they should have all of the privileges and rights that we have at the college. ... He who believes that the irregular or scholastic work or to the boy who is irregular in his attendance or who is intellectually unable to pass through high school in four years.

Students Deny Many Rules Would Deny Many Rules of Rights, Says Gable.

BY H. C. GABLE, Superintendent Highland Park Public Schools.

Has been said recently concerning "clean athletics," "overemphasis of football," "commercializing sports," "subsidizing players" and kindred topics. Some people seem to be acting under the belief that football is an evil that for some reason or other must be exterminated but cannot be suppressed as possible. ... Cold Weather Brings Results At Wood Pile

Since the location of the Community woodpile was announced last Wednesday, transient or drifters or applicants have been few and far between. Only three persons have reported at chest headquarters and asked for work in order that they might eat. These drifters were told that they would receive a meal if they would cut wood for one hour. They immediately were referred to the wood pile and worked the required time and in return for their work were given meals.

Community Chest officials stated Monday morning that this new plan was considered successful and can serve to good advantage in saving the chest funds for our local indigent. The drifters, after being cut by these drifters, will be distributed during the winter to deserving widows who need the wood and have no means of purchasing any and will also save the Community Chest the expense of securing wood from time to time.

The Community wood pile is located across from the fire station and all citizens are asked to send all applicants to Chest headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce, where proper investigation can be made of all cases. Many drifters hesitate to appear when sent to headquarters as they do not wish to give any information of themselves. This information is necessary if the chest funds be spent wisely, therefore the cooperation of the citizenship is urged.

Well, the Mustang took the first victory from the Lion squad this year. They were just out of their skins...

In the past the dazzling Lion offense was the best defense, but somewhere or other worked it spots Monday night.

Several new men on the squad will have a chance to show their wares after the holidays. Among these is H. M. Lafferty of Pilot Point, who played ball here the winter before last.

Donc Yarbrough was probably the outstanding defensive man...

Time after time he blocked passes all by himself. Dean has his accuracy and experience, but hasn't quite got his court feet yet.

He reached the ball just nearly every time off, which means the East Texas offense, can be brought up to the Stringer standard.

Carlis Stringer played a pretty consistent game, but his hurt expression as the result of penalties didn't keep the folks from counting Stringer will get his men to locking under fire before long.

Smith did some good work and also mopped up various sections of the court.

GREENVILLE HI BEATS CENTRAL IN STATE RACES

LIONS TRAMPLE COW TOWN CREW AS POWER PLAYS PROVE TOO MUCH FOR THE FLEET PANTHERS

Greenville High School emerged from its quarter-final encounter with Central High School of Fort Worth Saturday on the long end of a 31-7 count. Although the Cowtown gang got the jump on Greenville in the first minute of play by running up seven points, the Lions came back and showed as quickly they could. From then on it was a Lion's show for the Hunt County boys...

Arnold, a 190-pounder playing for Greenville, started as he tipped, catching holes in the PL. Wright and plowed his way to four official touchdowns and one which was not counted because of a penalty.

Following their first score in the initial quarter, Greenville took the ball on the Panther 35-yard line. After a couple of plunges, Polk went through the line for eighteen yards to put the ball on Central's 13-yard line. A pass, Beauchamp to Arnold, then was good for the score. Arnold's kick for the extra point was bad.

Second Period. There was no scoring during the remainder of the first period. One touchdown came in the second period—and it was made by Greenville.

Polk of Greenville intercepted a pass on Central's 37-yard line and L'auachamp immediately made 13 yards through the line on a spin-ner.

A couple of plays later Arnold raced off left tackle for seventeen yards to a touchdown, stopping the Central safety man down with his stiff arm. Polk's plunge was unaccounted for the extra point.

Third Period. The Greenville center which came in the third period was made in almost exactly the same manner in which their second one was called. Polk again intercepted a pass on Central's 28-yard line. After darrying the ball to the 16-yard stripe, Beauchamp's pass to Arnold was good for a touchdown. Arnold made an almost impossible catch of this pass. Healer one as he jumped high into the air to wrap his fingers about the pigskin. The kick for extra point failed.

Central's third period. Only twice did Central get within Greenville's 20-yard line, while Greenville pushed the Central zone six times. By the first down, which stood fourteen to seven for Greenville, and general traditions, one should have no difficulty in seeing how the Lions over-whelmed the Centralites.

The starting lineup: Greenville—Ard and Prather, ends; Halmar and May; Backers: Young (captain) and Beauchamp; Coleman, center; Beauchamp, quarter; Boucher and Polk, halves; Arnold, full back.

Central—Tobias and Thompson, ends; Mack and Powers; Backers: Smith (captain) and Lysa; Gumbert, Garret, center; Lafferty, quarter; Deane and Beyer, halves; Christ, full back.

ABLENE WINS FROM LUBOCK IN 13-0 TILT

EAGLES WIN WHEN EFFORTS OF WESTERNERS FAIL TO SCORE SINGLE TOUCHDOWN

After starting in the first quarter a fifty-five-yard drive without loss of the ball, Abilene High School star Jones, fullback across for their first center. With Wyatt and Jones making brilliant runs throughout the day the Eagles had little trouble in conquering their rivals.

The Westerners staged a brilliant show in the second period when a punting duel which Merrill, star Lubbock back undoubtedly won as he consistently placed the ball out of bounds near the Eagle goal line.

Lubbock had two drives broken up when his passes were intercepted, possibly saving touchdowns against Abilene. Merrill opened the final quarter with a 23-yard gain and Britton carried the ball to the 43rd line, and with it fourth down, the Westerners failing to gain. Lubbock got the ball worth on the 21-yard line soon afterwards, but Smith, Abilene center, intercepted a pass on the 25-yard line. Soon thereafter Smith again intercepted a pass on the 33-yard line and started the Eagles' drive.

Down with USHERS Teacher (much exasperated by one pupil): "Look here, are you the teacher in this class?" Pupil: "No sir, I'm not."

Teacher: "Then why do you keep talking like a numskull?"

CORSICANA HI BEATS AUSTIN IN 7-6 MELEE

TIGERS DEFEAT HEAVY TEAM BY HALF ONE POINT MARGIN

Battling desperately to retain their seven point lead which came about through a touchdown made on the first play of the second period, the Corsicana Tigers emerged victorious after seeing their lead cut to one point when the Austin school boys retaliated in the third period with a 23 yard pass. The Tiger pass was a sixteen yard one. The extra point which proved to Maco Stewart of Corsicana kicked the winning one.

Wilson Otters Thirt, Wilson of Corsicana and Beard of Austin were well covered throughout the afternoon. Wilson, however, brought the stands to their feet when he received a punt and raced down the 45-line sixty-five yards before he was brought down by Beard when it seemed he would surely go for a touchdown.

LIGHTER HARLINGEN SQUAD SHOWS MUCH FIGHT DURING THE FIRST HALF

After holding the heavy Beaumont High School grid team to a 12-6 count during the first half and ending the period with the ball in a threatening position, the Harlingen Cardinals weakened before power and weight in the third and fourth period of a hard fought game at Beaumont Saturday and allowed the Export City to pile up a 26-6 score. With trip-hammer precision the heavy Purple team battered the thin Harlingen line to threads and went through for touchdowns after touchdown. The longest run of the day was for twenty two yards when Swenson spun across the Harlingen goal line in the fourth quarter.
