IT HAS BEEN AN ENJOYABLE JOB

An outgoing editor-director of THE EAST TEXAN, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the staff members and the student body for the splendid cooperation they showed in helping me get out a good newspaper. It has been a pleasure, a profitable experience, and an honor to be editor of the paper for me. I have done my best to make it as good a newspaper as possible, and feel that I have succeeded with the aid of many faithful helpers.

My career as editor of "The East Texan" will long be the source of many pleasant memories. I congratulate the new Editor and Business Manager of the paper, and I take this opportunity to wish them success.

JOHN FLEETWOOD, Editor "East Texan"

CLIMBING

The soul experiences emotions through a revealed view of the universe, and these pulsations give the mind a certain freedom. The mind is not a hand of God upon the spirit of the artist, and that spirit flows from the poet's pen or the painter's brush in beautiful words or pictures, and we live in a world of truth and beauty.

SPORIBENESS

The soul is perhaps the most deplorable type of any institution. His attitude does more harm to him than he realizes because it stamps him as shallow. The truly important person is determined not to let his "importance" be a social stigma. One does not have to hold himself aloof from the world, he does not become socially unimportant to achieve a certain respect for himself. If he is worthy of social prominence, he will achieve it through his own merits and not through rattling himself off to the world as someone who is worthy to achieve it. The soul always over rates him.

REMOVED INSINUATIONS

The removal of insinuations is a process through which emotion and selfish desire among the soulless. The Lane Star track meet of Odessa and the Odessa Conference were held in Houston a couple of weeks ago. The question whether or not a social occasion upon such discrepancies has been noted as by The Daily Texan in Odessa. The writer of the "outward glance" that appears next to him.

comment upon the actions of Rice. In our own track meet of the spectators, witnessed an act on the part of one of the two players who had been ordered to leave. Still we have never heard so far as any criticism or backing is concerned, because we do not know the particulars of the situation.

A CHALLENGE

The statement was made the other day that there was no place in our government for an honest man. I would like to see the man who made that statement. I would like to see the man who made that statement. I would like to see the man who made that statement.

We occasionally criticize our government officials. We often complain about the laws that are forced upon us. But there is no determination, no defiance in our attitude. We are weak-kneed in action. Our will power wobbles, and whatever may be the faults of our government at the time, we, the citizens, should shoulder the blame.

There is hardly a country in Europe in which there is not more politics than you find in this country. A prominent English writer remarked that what astonished him most in this country was the lack of interest in politics. That is one of the marks of the American college youth.

THAT TRACK MEET

A conference meet of any kind does not happen every day in the west, and when it does it's worth talking about.

The two-mile run turned out to be the feature event. Davis, of Denton, jumped into the lead and held it for about five laps when a slight yawn from Rowland Nacogoches who could not catch up with him, stopped running and stood around the track until Davis came around again.

Devin really stacked up the points and won the meet. They had a bunch of good men and they deserved to win. Strategically enough, the loving cup, purchased last winter, came in Denton's colors, green and white.

Any way, the boys from North Texas carried off the meet, and against plenty of opposition, too. Scott and Gordon of San Marcos deserve a few bouquets, too. Those two boys were the only ones to break records.

Scott vaulted 12 feet, 6 inches, to topple the old mark of 12 feet 1 1/2 inches, held by Lawton of Canyon. He would have made 13 feet if he saw hadn't knocked the cross bar off. He body had already cleared the beam.

Gordon bettered his old record of 182 feet 9 inches in the javelin throw when he tossed the weight of 2000 feet 9 inches. He has held the 7, 1, 4, A record for the last three years, and now one year in the Lone Star conference, the title his last three years being a good race.

A lot of comment was made about our track. However, the 100-yard dash looked like a turtle race, considering the extra points participating. It was run

Denizens of Today

Birth dates are as yet unavailable but the complete biography has been furnished by local authorities. Mary Tracy makes her debut into E. F. society at a very early age. Her entrance was fraught about by her mistress by a note to the ranch-house food.

At present she has been creating disturbances in her surroundings by a show of extravagance and display. Jimmy came into existence through the convulsion provided by Mother Nature. He is very aggressive and his skill is extraordinarily cured in a preliminary circle. Tendencies to soap with the hair have given him a bad reputation.

question. Any way his owner is at her wit's end to provide for his expenses and discommodities.

From a store, Freshman and Tommy came to Commerce. Nice behavior supplanted in the history of turbulence has been exhibited by these gentlemen. On one occasion, however, Freshman wandered from the well beaten path and ventured upon the road of adventure. A window curtain, however, served him by a gentle, earthquake-like disturbance, furnished means for his transportation to the floor.

The home of these four turtles is in a special place. That is their residence is dirty when it has not been cleaned. From their office is limited and any variety in entrance depends wholly upon their owner or upon such chance diversions provided by Fate, that of chance. Adm.
