EAST TEXANS WIN CLOSE GAME WITH PRINTERS DEVILS

THIS WEEK

By Gene Hobbs

COLLEGIAN BASEBALL CLUB OUT OF FORM

Poor Officiating

Bob Killingsworth, I. C. must not be very high because the other day over in the gym a group of boys were going to choose up and play basketball. Bob and another boy were in a game a number before one came out to see who will be the first choice. After about ten minutes of deep conversation on the part of Killingsworth he said, "Oh, I'll give you about a dozen."

Fred Mr. Hall so loved all of the Government students that he gave most of them "P"s and "D"s that would give them but remain with him this term.

Mr. Hahnquist was quoted as telling his East case 232 last term on the final examination to just pass them papers down to the class and see how many they could get through and also place a placard on each one so that he could correct them all over.

If you will notice it, these girls have been subjected to the cold treatment of a young man who orders his shoes.

Fisher Traylor, an old E. T. student in an old standing A. & C. college seems to be having it hard with these women. He has engaged three lines and each line he sends her has married someone else. Recently the little girl from Greenville, that he has met much, got hitched to another man.

Mr. O'Neil said that her boy, Thomas Martin, would never be able to hold down an office job because he has no money. He said that she was in a spelling class and that he was very well read in vocabulary. He said that she was terrible, he knew practically all the words and she was not. He said that he was very kind. Well, I don't know anything about it, but I think you are right.

They don't seem to appreciate Fisher's ability to write around the issue for raising too much cash, and keeping students from working from the reading room. It is a shame that no one wants to listen to such a prominent and talented student who they have a chance.

"Bopper" Martin would like to publish a little column, well "Pepper" since you want to much recognition from the general public. I would suggest that you do something sensational for the season, jumping off of the roof and landing in the lake. I will assume you that you would get a little publicity for the pep rally as you so much desire.

In a recent article with a certain little girl which H. D. mentioned in his column, it was stated that she was a "D". The following question was asked: "Does Mr. Fisher know who she is?"

MY TRIBUTE TO THE TEACHER

J. W. CRABTREE, Secretary National Education Association. There will be no moratorium on education. A moratorium on education would mean a moratorium on civilization. This is one of the reasons why teachers will continue the school, pay or no pay. The nation, as it becomes aware of the services and sacrifices of teachers and of the great significance of their course and forthrightness, will show the appreciation that it has shown to its soldiers who sacrificed their lives for their country.

In the crisis of the twenties, I was amazed, as a boy, at the sacrifices made by the pioneer teacher of that day. Since then, I have observed that whether in times of famine or in times of plenty, the teacher has lived not for self, but for the children and the community. I have noticed that the selfish man or woman seldom remains long in the profession.

When the terrible days of the World War came, and upon us, who led in food conservation? Who led in the sale of liberty bonds? Who led in collecting food, clothing, and funds for the Red Cross? Who kept the schools going, whether funds were available or not? And what of the teachers of today? They are serving in a worse way than before. Their responsibility is greater. Environment is more destructive in its effect on children. The teacher-lead is almost unbroken. In spite of this, the teacher is again leading in welfare activities. There will be a delay in pay—a month or six months—or the pay may be cut. Who is it that pays? Who comes from the lives of children who come from homes filled with sorrow and suffering because of the depression? Who is it that inspires children to do their best as students? Who is it that teaches them to look forward to better days? Who is it that is saving civilization in these dark hours?

All honor, therefore, to the teachers of this year whose courage and your devotion stand out as the safeguard of our democracy and as the hope of the nation!

SEVEN MEN FOR TENNIS SQUAD FINALLY CHOSEN

With all challenges played and probably the best seven players on the campus appearing daily for practice, the 1933 tennis squad is rapidly organized into shape. The team will consist of seven men: Captain R. E. Estes, Robert J. Hargrett, J. H. Anderson, and Herman Giff.

It is in fact that the tennis squad has been organized into shape. The team will consist of seven men: Captain R. E. Estes, Robert J. Hargrett, J. H. Anderson, and Herman Giff.

"PLAY DAY" WILL BE FEATURE OF LOCAL CHAPTER STUDENTS APPLY FOR SCHOLARSHIP

A letter from H. Trathan of Baylor University, Waco, informed the D. C. chapter of the National Education Association that neither Greek or Latin would be necessary for successful competition for a Thibodeau scholarship at Oxford.

Each individual may register for as many scholarships as he wants to take part in. A small registration fee of 25c will be charged, which will take care of all materials needed for the competition.

Local Control Questioned

All Independent Students Of The Campus

THIS WEEK... "WE KNOW FIRST... YOU KNOW US!"

And It Won't Cost Another Cent!

It has long been the obvious that in this period of stringency extra improvements must be postponed.

It may seem paradoxical, yet in the field of education a certain amount of progress can be made almost immediately that would not cost another cent.

The profitable and the procedure are as obvious as the present vitality of the teaching profession.

The woes of the teaching profession are largely due to the vast array of young high school graduates...

While figures for the different Southern States would vary, recent data obtained from the Annual Statistical Report...

Regulations that are exact foot fees are not always just, and no proposal has been made on behalf of the teachers...

It won't cost another cent to require all newly certified teachers to have a minimum of two years of college training.

It won't cost another cent to wipe out the apparent surplus of teachers, who are in great excess.

It won't cost another cent to discover that trained teachers will be more loyal, more patient, more stable under sacrifice...

One of Mr. E. T. Coe's erstwhile home via the Cotton Belt and before the train had gone far as the Cotton Belt...

Since the depression has started, records show that more marriage ceremonies have been performed in the last four years than ever before...

The admitted inefficiency of rural schools is due in part to the present system of local control.

Out of the essential of a rural school is qualified teachers. But under the present system of local control there is no assurance that this essential will be provided for.

Furthermore, there is an certain expectation that at the end of the year the good teacher will be allowed to carry out his program, or that the poor teacher will not.

But these are other evils resulting from the above conditions, which, so far as I am able to understand, make this problem impossible of solution under its present system.

It has been to be a question of whether in most instances they are probably anxious to do so.

Another item of waste that could hardly be overestimated, is the present system of charging teachers salaries before they have had time enough to carry out any definite plan.

Under local control, questions pertaining to consolidation cannot be impartially decided, because selfish interests are allowed to influence the decision.

It is a question of democracy, the contention is unsound; for the problem of child education is of such importance, and is so far-reaching in its effects, should have in its hands of an inferior group of men.

Local control is responsible for a waste of money. As has been stated, there is no probability that the money is being paid to teachers who are giving commensurate value received.

Now is the time for all the students of the campus that are not club members to begin thinking about such things as the election of the Independents to office.

Our big motive is to name the most qualified man in office and not the one who has the most ardent admirers as has been past practice.

Our non-club organization is the strongest on the campus and will always be such—why can't we run it as we like.

TO 950

Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their school. In this spirit a student's fancy naturally turns to thoughts of the Spring Elections.
