USA Fall Elections To Be Held Tuesday

The United Students Association 1974-75 fall general elections will be held from 8:30 a.m.-6 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 1, to elect senators and class officers, according to Steve Henderson, USA president.

Ballots can be cast at the Activities Desk in front of the USA office, in the foyer of the Hall of Sciences, and in Watson Cafeteria.

The 56 candidates were introduced at the Student Activity Board's ice cream social and "Skogie" concert Wednesday night. After the formal introduction, candidates had the opportunity to meet and talk with students during the social.

The introduction of the candidates was planned by a student government committee composed of the election commission and representatives from the senate and other campus organizations. Bryan Jackson, USA vice president, said the program was planned in order that students might have more contact with the candidates than just through their posters.

Election results will be posted at the USA office as soon as ballots can be counted at the computer center, Henderson said. In previous elections, results were usually available by about 8:30 p.m., on the night of the election.

Newly elected senators and class officers will be installed at the Oct. 2 senate meeting, which will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Board Room of the Student Center, Henderson said.

The senate voted to adjourn this semester until after the election because there were not enough old senators enrolled this semester to manage a quorum.

In the senate election, the freshman class will elect five senators to represent its 25 per cent of the total university enrollment. Sophomores will have three senate seats representing 14 per cent. Junior and senior classes will each elect four senators with each class having 16 per cent of the total enrollment.

Write-in votes can be accepted in the election if the candidate is in good standing with the university, Henderson said.

Total count of candidates in each class running for a senate position is: freshman, 22; sophomore, 6; junior, 13; and senior, 11.

Election Commission Chairman Rick Smith said each candidate is limited to $50 or less for campaign expenses. Each candidate must turn in to the student government offices a notarized list of all campaign expenses within 48 hours after the election or face forfeiture of the election and their $20 deposit required for candidacy, Smith said.

"I am pleased with the number of students that have registered and hope that people elected will be willing to work hard," Henderson said.

Pay Check Procedure Explained by Morrow

All ET personnel will be required to pick up their October paychecks in person, according to Charles Morrow, ET business manager. Morrow explained that the state auditor's office is running a routine employee identification check on ET employees.

The checks for faculty, staff and graduate assistants may be picked up from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 1, and from 8 a.m.-noon, Wednesday, Oct. 2, in the Bluebonnet Room of the Student Center. All personnel must have identification to obtain checks.

Student employees who normally get their checks at the Financial Aids Office will pick up their checks there, as usual.

Morrow explained that this month only, because of the identification check, no checks will be mailed or distributed through departmental offices. The routine check distribution process will resume in November.

ETspo Registration Scheduled Oct. 1

Registration for ETspo '74 will begin Tuesday, Oct. 1, and continue through Monday, Oct. 7, according to Nelson Robinson, assistant director of Student Development.

The annual university fair, sponsored jointly by the Office of Student Development and the Student Activities Board, will begin at 10 a.m. on both Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 9 and 10, in the Student Center.

Robinson said that applications to participate in the fair are in the process of being sent to all university organizations, service areas, and academic departments.

ETspo offers organizations, departments, and service areas an opportunity to exhibit information concerning their activities at no charge.

Spaces will be allotted on the second and third floors of the Student Center to the groups participating, with space assignments being given on a first-come-first-serve basis.

Plans are also being made for movies, free gifts, and special entertainment to be a part of the fair's activities.

Aside from members of the sponsoring departments, the ETspo steering committee consists of students from the Panhellenic Council, Interfraternity Council, the University Service Council, East Texan, and the Inter-Residence Hall Council.

Applications for ETspo can be obtained in the Student Development office, located on the second floor of the Student Center.

Parents To Visit ET Oct. 5

By Jeanie Shanahan and Sharon Massingill

Parents of ET students will be welcomed to the campus on Parents' Day, Saturday, Oct. 5, with receptions, an assembly, free dinner and a football game. The program is being coordinated by the Student Activities Office and the Office of Student Development.

The day's activities will begin with receptions in the residence halls from 9:30-11:30 a.m. Receptions sponsored by the residence hall councils, will be held in Berry Hall, Hubbel Hall, Sikes Hall, Smith Hall, and Whitley Hall.

Lunch will be served from 11 a.m. through 1:30 p.m. in the Student Center Cafeteria. The lunch will cost $1.42 and will officially begin the Parents' Day program.

Registration will last from 1-4 p.m. in the Founder's Lounge of the Student Center. To receive free tickets for the buffet dinner in Watson Cafeteria, parents must register.

During registration, parents will also receive a schedule of faculty and organizational receptions to be held from 3-5 p.m. If a group planning a reception would like it included on the schedule, it should contact the Office of Student Development at 468-23307, according to Barry Mangels, program director.

A general assembly will be held from 2-3 p.m. in the American Ballroom of the Student Center, with Dr. Ruth An White, vice president of Student Affairs, presiding. ETSU President F. H. McDowell will welcome the parents and Dave Walvoord will present a 12-minute multimedia film about campus services, such as health, housing, and placement services.

A general reception, served by the Public Relations Committee of the SAB, will be held from 3-5 p.m. in the Founder's Lounge of the Student Center. "The reception will give parents a chance to talk with the faculty and deans present," Mangels said.

Academic buildings will be open from 3-5 p.m., during the faculty and organizational receptions, to give parents an opportunity to see the campus, according to Mangels. "We are encouraging students to stay on campus during this time," Mangels said.

A free buffet for parents is scheduled from 5-6:30 p.m. in Watson Cafeteria, compliments of ARA Slater Dining Service. Students accompanying their parents and students with full-time meal tickets will also be served. The buffet will be hosted by Alpha Phi Omega, Gamma Sigma Sigma, and Angel Flight, service organizations.

Parents' Day will close with the ET vs. Howard Payne College football game at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. An award will be presented by the Office of Student Development during half-time activities to the parents who traveled the greatest distance to attend the day's program. Tickets for the game will be available at the gate, and are free to students with ET identification cards. Tickets cost $2.50 for general admission, $3 for reserved seats and $1 for children under 12 years of age.

Mangels said that approximately 3,000 invitations to Parents' Day had been mailed to parents. He added that he hopes to have a larger attendance than last year's, which totaled around 400. "It's a good way for parents to get an idea of campus life," Mangels said of the annual Parents' Day.

The Parents' Day program, formerly sponsored by the Office of the Assistant Dean of Student Life, is being coordinated this year by the SAB and the Office of Student Development. The general reception is being funded by the SAB from the program budget, with other general expenses being paid by the Division of Student Affairs.

28 Train for Public Service Careers

By Kevin P. Cox

Twenty-eight students are enrolled in a program offered by the Political Science Department that provides a master's degree in public administration, according to Dr. Richard Feld, political science faculty and program adviser.

Feld said the program, which started two years ago, is primarily designed to train students for careers in public service on the state and local levels. The program is designed for students going into city management and for others who are already employed in public service positions, he said.

Feld said the program's overall aim is to train students for careers in public service who are interested in "something other than academic studies."

Of the 28 students enrolled in the program, four are working as interns with area city governments. King Riley Jr. is working with the city of Dallas and Andrew Perry Adsit is working in Commerce. Thomas A. Nauls is working with the Greenville city manager and Larry Jack Sheffield is working in the city manager's office in Paris.

The internship program, designed for students who have not worked in public service, provides a "supervised transition" for those planning to go into public service.

Students participating in the internship program are required to take 36 semester hours above the bachelor's degree. The internship will count as three semester hours.

The students who have worked at public service jobs or are currently working in that field, are not required to work as interns, Feld said. He said these particular students would substitute one course in place of the internship.

The interns are paid by the city governments and the pay varies with the city, Feld said. On the average, most interns earn approximately $300-350 a month while working with the city governments.

The classes in the program are taught at night and on Saturdays for the student's convenience. The interns and students who hold full time public service jobs would be unable to attend daytime classes, Feld said.

Feld said most internships would last approximately nine months and the interns would be able to "learn the ropes" of running a city government. This semester is the first semester that internships have been filled and other positions will be filled in the spring, Dr. Charles Elliot, political science faculty, said.

The average student would spend approximately 18 months to complete the master's program.

Senate Can Help Students

One hundred and forty-six students have registered to run for Student Senate and class officer positions in the United Students Association fall general election.

Of that number, 56 have offered to serve the students by running for senate positions. The remaining 90 students are running for class officer positions.

These positions are filled every year by students who have campaigned by spending money on brochures and posters. After the ballots are counted and the winners are congratulated, everyone forgets that class officers exist until the next election and the situation repeats itself. It seems only logical that these positions should be abolished or plans made to involve the officers in some worthwhile activity for the university.

However, the senate candidates are asking for a job in which they can work for the benefit of the student—if they are willing. A legislative body of concerned senators willing to use some original and creative thinking could do wonders for the senate's reputation.

For example, at the University of Wisconsin, a wholly student-owned store made over $500,000 last year organized by their student government. At the same school, there is a student's store selling pharmaceutical needs by offering products and prescriptions at prices well below those of local community drug stores.

If change is what you want this year, take the time to talk to some of the candidates and find out who is really interested in systems which could benefit students financially and otherwise.

Veterans Petition Congress

A total of 1,114 signatures had been collected Wednesday afternoon on a petition circulated by the Veterans at East Texas State asking the U. S. Congress to increase the present G.I. benefits to veterans and veteran dependents by 23 per cent.

The petition also asks for a $1,000-a-year loan program, and an increase in the number of months a veteran can receive benefits from the present 36 to 48 months.

According to VETS President Charles C. Gillett, copies of the petition will be sent to President Gerald Ford, Texas U. S. senators and house members, and members of the House and Senate Veterans Affairs Committee. Gillett noted that President Ford favors an 18 per cent increase, with no additional benefits.

Approximately 60 persons attended a meeting of VETS Wednesday, Sept. 18, to hear reports on what is being done in Congress to increase GI benefits.

Gillett, VETS Finance Committee Chairman Jerry McFadden, and VETS members Leonard De Grate and Gerald Crawford will travel to Austin today to attend a conference that will form a constitution for the Texas Association of Collegiate Veterans Organizations (TACVO), a state-wide veterans organization.

The next meeting of VETS will be at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 2, in the Bluebonnet Room of the Student Center, and will include a report on the meeting in Austin, according to Gillett.

Comets Shoot by Ballers, 20-0

By Neal Shepard

With Intramural Flag Football finally getting off the ground, the only problem that was evident was the "failure of the Independent teams to keep up with the rules," according to Barney Iles, intramural director.

Despite rule infractions, the Costa Mesia Comets flew past the Ballers, 20-0, behind the 11 for 23 performance of quarterback Randy Pennington and a defense that stopped the Ballers from in close several times.

Pennington hit Bobby Boles in the first half for a 50-yard scoring shot and came back in the second half with TD strikes to Jay Boshart and Kip Holloway. The Comets made good on only one of their extra point attempts for the final score of 20-0.

Farrell Foster led the Comet defense with two timely interceptions, one returned to the Ballers three yard line.

The Ballers had the first real scoring threat as they picked off a Pennington pass in the first half and returned it 60 yards for a touchdown, only to have a penalty wipe that score out. The Comets scored on the next play.

Iles pointed out that the major rule infractions were coming on punts where the offensive players cannot go down field after the punt, the elimination of any three or four point stance, and that the interior linemen are not allowed to wear flags, unless they keep them in the pockets while on offense.

Iles also noted that this year's officials were "al doing a fine job and that they will get even better as the year goes on. They are all interested."

In other games played Monday the Sky Raiders held off the Berry Hall team, 12-8. Berry did not score until the final 10 seconds of the game.

The Soul Striders topped Sikes, 6-0, and the Delta Sigs defeated Alpha Phi Omega, 18-7.

Tuesday was the first night for the fraternities to see action and in the only games played that night, Alpha Phi Alpha defeated Delta Chi, 19-0, and Lambda Chi Alpha defeated Pi Kappa Phi, 8-6. All other games were postponed due to cold weather and will be rescheduled.

At 6 p.m. Monday the BSU will play the Hubbell Stars on Field One and the Hilltoppers will go against Kappa Alpha Psi on Field Two. At 7:30 p.m. on Fields One and Two, respectively, the Sky Raiders will go at Sikes while the Costa Mesia Comets will play Alpha Phi Omega.

Next Tuesday at 6 p.m. on Fields One and Two will be Omega Psi Phi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon and Pi Kappa Phi vs. Sigma Chi. At 7:30 p.m. on the same fields will be Alpha Phi Alpha vs. Delta Tau Delta, and Delta Chi going against Kappa Alpha.

FRESHMAN DAVID FARRIS (45) hurdled East Central State's W. C. Jones (31) before meeting up with Evans Brown (21) and Clarence Zachery (55) in Saturday's 27-21 win. In his first start at ET, Farris carried 28 times for 154 yards, scoring two touchdowns.

WOMEN'S VARSITY

Badminton Team Opens With Wins

By Holly Cooper

In the second year of participation, ET's women's varsity badminton team started off the season winning the doubles and both singles matches against Eastfield Tuesday, in a home game.

The doubles team, consisting of Debbie Ridgeway and Celeste Faucett, took 15-9 and 15-12 victories over the Eastfield team.

In singles competition, Ridgeway crushed her Eastfield opponent, 11-2 and 11-0, while Faucett won two of three matches, 11-3, 6-11 and 11-2.

"We did a good job against East field and I'm very proud of them," coach Debbie Johnson said.

Working out since early September, the varsity has been running different type of conditioning drills, various fundamental drills and different types of serving drills.

"The women are very dedicated," coach Johnson said, referring to the women having to practice late due to the varsity volleyball practice and the intramural program.

Saturday, the varsity will travel to Huntsville to participate in the Sam Houston Tournament.

Other matches scheduled are the North Texas State University Tournament Friday-Saturday, Oct. 45 in Denton; Eastfield, Thursday, Oct. 10 at 4 p.m. in Dallas; and the zone meet to be held at Stephen F. Austin University, Friday-Saturday, Oct. 25-26.

"Over-all, we looked good for the first game of the season," coach Susan Andrews remarked following a two-win, three-loss battle to North Texas State University Tuesday, in a home game.

In the first game, NTSU took the Lions' first squad, 15-12. Leading scorers for ET were Sharon Sanders and Brinda Lockett, both with four points each, followed by Yalanda Jones with three points and Randi Kerr with one point.

ET came back in the second game to clobber NTSU, 15-4. High scorers for the Lions were Lockett and Becky Strane with four points each followed by Charly Brom with three points and Kerr and Jones with two points each.

NTSU took the third game, 15-2. ET's Strane and Jones scored one point each in the game.

The Lion's second squad took NTSU, 16-14 in the first game but were downed, 15-13 in the second game. Rita Powelson, with seven points, was high scorer for the Lions. Other scorers were Sheila Holland and Lillian Meriwether with three points each, Susie Parker with two points and Debbie McDaniel with one point.

Holland led the scoring for ET in the second game with five points followed by McDaniels with four points, Parker with three points and Marion Kerr with one point.

"Over-all, we can do it but they will have to do it as a team effort," Coach Andrews said, adding, "There were six individuals out there Tuesday night instead of a team."

Saturday, the varsity will participate in the Texas Wesleyan College Tournament in Fort Worth, and Tuesday, they will travel to Dallas to take on Southern Methodist University.

Audiology Courses Offered

The Speech and Hearing Clinic, through the Division of Continuing Education, is offering audiology courses in Texarkana and Mesquite for area hearing aid specialists, according to audiologist Carl McGovern, speech and hearing faculty.

McGovern will teach the course in Texarkana, and Mrs. Bevan Turner, speech and hearing faculty, will teach in Mesquite. Both courses, taught on Monday nights, are expected to draw a total of 35-40 students.

According to McGovern, the course is designed to improve the relationship between audiologists and hearing aid specialists.

Educational and job requirements have caused friction between the two groups, McGovern said. A hearing aid specialist is required to learn from another hearing aid specialist to become licensed. He is then able to test hearing and to sell and repair hearing aids, McGovern explained.

An audiologist must have a master's degree, but can not sell hearing aids.

The course is designed to improve the competency and proficiency of hearing aid specialists in delivering instructions and service to the hearing impaired.

The course program, which began last spring with classes at ET, is in its third semester.

ET To Open League Play

By Barbara Eickenhorst

With two non-conference victories behind them, the '74 Lions will meet the Sam Houston State Bearkats at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28, in Huntsville in an initial Lone Star Conference clash for both teams.

The Bearkats, under the new direction of head football coach Billy Tidwell, will be looking for win No. 1 after bowing to Texas Southern, 17-15, and to Southwestern Oklahoma, 37-14, in previous season play.

Ernest Hawkins' team will be lining up in usual fashion with the exception of a few changes in defensive coach Bobby Fox's "Blue Gang" bunch.

After shutting out Prairie View A&M in the Lions' season opener, the defensive unit barely managed to save the 27-21 victory over East Central last week.

Overconfidence was one of the reasons Fox cited for his unit's poor showing.

Ronnie Gant, Seagoville sophomore, will be shifted from defensive tackle to guard and Charles Swist, 6-4, 230-pound sophomore will move to tackle.

An East Central knee injury will keep sophomore left cornerback Al Jones on the sidelines this Saturday, with Killeen senior Chuck Johnson, a three-year letterman, filling in for Jones.

Commerce junior Ray Hawkins, 6-1, 170, will take Kenny Beamon's left safety spot against SH, Fox also reported.

"We are looking for a real close, tough ball game," ET's head mentor Hawkins said of the LSC grid meet.

Hawkins said that SH's Dr. Tidwell took over the Bearkats at an inopportune time, not coming in until summer.

But, Hawkins added, he will have a well-drilled, well-coached, and very competitive football team.

"His team is playing with a lot of enthusiasm, which I think can mean a lot in a ball game," Hawkins said of Tidwell.

Coaching the Bearkats will not be a new experience for Tidwell, who was an assistant coach for SH from 1955-56.

SH, who finished 2-8 in '73 and tied for eighth in the LSC, will face the Lions with 30 returning lettermen, eight starters on offense and 10 on defense.

Offensively, the Bearkats will be leaning on the running power of sophomore James Oliphant and senior Joe Vickers.

Oliphant led SH on the ground in '73, rushing for 655 yards in 129 carries.

Vickers is an honorable mention All-LSC running back for the '73 season and was the Bearkats' second leading rusher with 556 yards in 113 carries.

Defensive standouts for the Bearkats come in the forms of Fort Worth senior Mike Nelms, who led the club in interceptions in '73 and was honorable mention All-LSC, and 6-0, 200-pound Richardson junior Randy Talley.

Last season the Lions romped over the Bearkats 48-6 in a Parents' Day game at ET's Memorial Stadium.

Soccer Season To Begin

ET's Soccer Club will have its first game of this year at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Intramural Field, hosting Austin College.

The 28 club members finance their game and trips, playing four games last year and coming out with a 3-1 season record. The club schedules games as the opportunity arrives.

Scott Richards is club president and Stephen Boryswicz serves as team captain. Michael Troyan is the team manager.

George Nixon, chemistry faculty, serves as coach and sponsor for the club.

OFF AND RUNNING was junior wingback Bill Carroll (87) for a 31-yard pass reception and run against East Central State Saturday night, which help set up ET's first touchdown in the 27-21 victory. Pursuing was ECS cornerback W. C. Jones (32).

LSC PREVIEW

Unbeatens Headline Schedule

Lone Star Conference play will begin Saturday with unbeatens Abilene Christian and Texas A&I tangling at 7:30 p.m. in Kingsville.

Both teams are 2-0 and rank at the top of conference offensive statistics. ACC tops the passing category with 208.5 yards game average, while A&I is leading the rushing list with 361.5 yards average.

A&I may be better all around, though, leading the LSC in total offense, averaging 493 yards a game, compared with ACC's fourth place listing of 315 yards a game.

In other conference games Saturday, unbeaten Stephen F. Austin challenges Howard Payne in Brownwood; unbeaten ET travels to Huntsville to take on Sam Houston; Sul Ross entertains Tarleton at Alpine; and Southwest Texas hosts Angelo State in San Marcos. All games begin at 7:30 p.m.

The last three minutes of ET's 27-21 win over East Central (Okla.) State, Saturday, put one Lion at the top of one LSC statistical category and took another off.

Tim Collier's 61-yard punt return with 2:50 left in Saturday's game gave him a 32.5 average for his two returns this season and the lead in conference punt returns. Collier's return set up a four-yard touchdown run by Craig Powell two plays later that gave ET the win.

Powell's two runs after Collier's return were the only two of the night, dropping him from the LSC rushing lead to third. An injury kept Powell out of the game until that last series.

Powell has a 96.5 yard average, falling behind Texas A&I's Larry Collins and Angelo State's Melvin DeBose with averages of 137.5 and 102, respectively.

Autry Beamon shares the conference interception lead with Howard Payne's Robert Qualls, each with two. Placekicker Leonard Allen is second in scoring with 23 points, and Richard Akers is fourth in pass receiving with a 52.5 yard game average on eight receptions.

Greek Social Clubs Make Comeback on Campuses

By Louise Cook
Associated Press Writer

Boola boola is back on campus.

The fraternities and sororities that were casualties of the political and social activism of the 1960s are springing back to life, revived by a combination of nostalgia, changing student attitudes, less rigid rules and a desire to save money on living expenses.

"It's no longer passe to be a joiner," said a spokesman at the University of Denver.

An Associated Press survey showed the resurgence generally was greatest in the West and Midwest. Only a few Eastern colleges reported little new interest in Greek-letter organizations.

Students at several schools also noted that the new fraternities and sororities are not affiliated with national organizations which, in the past, set rigid rules for membership acceptance.

Regent Vote 8-0 To Fire UT Prexy

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas regents Wednesday confirmed Chancellor Charles LeMaistre's firing of Dr. Stephen Spurr as president of UT-Austin.

The vote was 8-0 with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson abstaining.

Mrs. Johnson, speaking in a barely audible voice, said she felt she lacked sufficient information on LeMaistre's reasons for firing Spurr Tuesday.

Student leaders met silence when they asked for an explanation of the dismissal. Student body Vice President Charles Parrish said there was a possibility of student-faculty strike to protest the action.

Spurr did not attend the meeting, which was held in public and to which regents chairman A. G. McNeese said Spurr was invited.

LeMaistre read a three-page statement in which he said he had "declining confidence" in Spurr's administrative decisions and had concluded that continuing Spurr in the job "was not in the best interests" of UT-Austin. LeMaistre gave no specifics.

Earlier Wednesday Spurr said he might file a lawsuit if the regents upheld his dismissal.

Anne Hawley, assistant dean of students at the University of California at Berkeley, a center of activism in the 1960s, said 250 girls were pledged to sororities so far this year and the rush hasn't really begun yet. Last year, there were 222 pledges and in 1970 there were only 99.

"We've brought back five fraternities in the last two years and one sorority is in the midst of re-colonizing now," Mrs. Hawley said. "They are really on the upswing."

Students Are 'Joiners' Now

"The students in the late '60s were very much alienated by social injustices. The attitude was very much 'do your own thing.' Students of the '70s openly express a sense of belonging."

The Greek-letter organizations at the University of Wisconsin in Madison were almost wiped out in the late '60s and early '70s. "There's a very definite resurgence of interest," said Lynne Davis, the chairman of the Collegiate Panhellenic Association rush committee, "It's still a far, far cry from those years of long ago when a girl felt her life was over if she didn't make a sorority, but there certainly is a renewed interest."

James Wierzha, chairman of the Interfraternity Council rush committee, agreed. "Freshmen men are showing positive interest. The fraternities are definitely optimistic about the future."

Inflation Helps Greeks

Inflation was one of the reasons cited for some of the new appeal of fraternities and sororities. "Living in the house is cheaper than living in a dorm," said Gary Taylor of Arizona State University.

William Lucy, assistant dean of student activities at the University of Maine at Orono, said every fraternity house was close to overflowing and added that one reason was money: living costs in the fraternity house are from $50 to $150 cheaper per semester than in the dormitories.

Some of the hazing and other antics that gave fraternities and sororities a bad name have vanished.

"The only paddles we have here are on the wall," said Curt Frasier of Arizona State, explaining that initiation procedures have changed, becoming more symbolic and less physical.
