E. T. Sellers Asks For Presidency Of Student Council

Has Served on Student Council, Taken Part in Campus Activities

Having served a complete term as the Student Council President, E. T. Sellers has announced his candidacy for Student Council President. During this year, Sellers has become acquainted with nearly every one of the officers through his work as student assistant librarian and accordingly knows the wisdom of East Texas students. This is his first time to ask for any major office.

Not yet ready to assume a formal position, Sellers intend to inaugurate several ideas which were discussed at the student government meeting held at the Austin Hotel in latter part of February. If elected, Sellers believe that the student body should be divided into the faculty sections of the document annexed.

Sellers has completely worked his way throughout this year and secretaries has found time to preside over the Faculty of the Library, organization of library contributors and workers to serve on the Student Council, and "what not" of the "what not" campus activities. He has not been able to, until this year, to attend every term each year working in Sulphur Springs, his home town, and Commerce, working at Wheeler's Drug Store, two years in an effort to complete his education.

As a government student, E. T. Sellers has gathered a true concept of executive functions. Combined with this, his serving personality and excellent speaking voice make him a logical candidate for the position of President.

The well-known adage, "Beau-tiful but dumb," has reference to Sellers. He has been proved for the past four years at the University of North Texas. From 1932 through 1935 show women students, leaders in scholarship average each year. The records also proved that the student of ten years ago was somewhat brighter than the student of today.

The annual May Day fete will be supplanted this year by a pageant on the twenty-third of May, which will be sponsored in connection with the East Texas homecoming. The pageant, written and directed by Miss Maude Webster, head of the speech department, is a history of the development of East Texas State Teachers College with a back ground of Texas geography.

The pageant will be enacted before the May Queen, Almetra Perry, and her court. Two representatives from each high school in the area are to be invited to attend the court. Miss Perry will be crowned at the beginning of the festival instead of at the end.
