East Texan Has 30th Anniversary

The 30th anniversary of the East Texan is close at hand. Files of old copies of the paper date back to January 4, 1917. This edition is numbered Vol. III, No. I. If this volume number is correct, then the paper must have been published as early as 1915.

It is interesting to note that that the paper has always been called the East Texan even when the college was known as the Mayo Normal School. If the East Texan has had a predecessor by another name, no records or old copies remain. The present copies of the 1917 editions of the East Texan were contril! uter o the Library by J. M. Wilson.

Mail Delay For Men Overseas

Remember that if the serviceman is killed or missing in action, or if hospitalized, due to wounds received in combat, official not: fication is sent FIRST to the next-of-kin. Such notice is also sent when a soldier is hospitalized for any serious injury or illness not due to combat. So, unless you have heard from the Miss Howell Named War Department, do not think that something is seriously wrong with him because you Sec. of C.D.T.L.A have not received mail from him.

Come on Kids, Don't You Want A Yearbook

This year E.T. is trying to do something which the cutest brunette you can find will take the entire support of the student body and facalty members. This undertaking is being backed by the senior class. Yes, you have guessed it; E. T. under the guidance of the seniors is trying to have an annual this ear. It's true that if we undertake such a thing we will have to do it on our own, but after all isn't an annual title struggle on all of our parts? There isn't a doubt in anyone's mind but what students wouldn't like to have one. But, what have you done about it? Have of Commerce, Texas, has been you just sat by and said "Oh yes, I'd like to have an Annual, but students can't do a thing like that. It's impossible so why build our hopes up?" "And so they worship. The poetry of their ritual redeems the prose of their daily toil; the prayers they pray are secret summonses to their better selves; the songs they sing are shout of joy in their refrehened strength. The commandments they receive, through which they can live with one another in order and peace, come to them as the imperatives of an inescapable deity, not as dicts of questionable men. Through these commands they are made part of a divine drama, and their harassed lives take on a scope and dignity that cannot be canceled their undiscourageable life?
