The Campus Eye-View

by the editor

THE ARMY

The WAAC program Wednesday night brought closer and closer the realization that the United States is a nation at war. From the introductory strains of the Women's Auxiliary Corps march to the echoes of their retreating feet, attendees at the program were inspired with a new zeal for living and a desire to further any movement that would help Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

Brig.-Gen. H. C. Holdridge gave a speech of sapience, of interest to all those present. Major Scherchinger gave proper introductions to the high officials of the state; Lieut. Col. Doan was as courteous and as enthusiastic as ever, and Dr. Whitley was his genial self.

MUSIC FOR YOUR EARS will be furnished under the auspices of the Commerce Civic Music Association Tuesday night when the Curtis String Quartet will play at 8 p. m. in the College auditorium. Members and students are welcome.

WAAC Contingent In ET Buildings

Numerous changes in many buildings on the campus are being made in housing the WAAC contingent.

In the Library both ends of the Reading Room have been partitioned into classrooms large enough to accommodate 150 students each. A corridor has been constructed through the museum on third floor. The Cub gym has been partitioned into classrooms holding 150 each.

Under the direction of George Kibler, Industrial Ed instructor, other changes include a room being built in the attic of East dormitory 30 by 56 as sleeping quarters for 40 WAACs.

Three rooms on the women's side of the Whitley gym and the five offices on the north end of the playing field have been converted into WAAC space. Also the playing field on the west edge of the campus formerly used for late afternoon classes and WRA, is now the WAAC drill field.

West dorm is contributing 13 rooms on the first floor including a portion of the living room.

Lieut. C. E. Allen Visiting On Campus

Lieut. Clarence E. Allen, a former student of East Texas State, now of the United States Navy, is home on a 30-day leave visiting parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Allen, and friends before returning to the Panama Canal Zone where he has been stationed.

"Little Doc Allen," as he is familiarly known around Commerce, has just received a promotion to the rank of Lieutenant (j.g.) and for the past few months has been on patrol duty along the South American coast, having visited Ecuador and Peru in line of duty.

On January 14, 1942, Lieutenant Allen, who was graduated from East Texas State in 1940, was married to Florence Marie Berry of Greenville, who also received her degree from East Texas and was a member of the Kappa club while on the campus.

Norman O. Galyon Is Commissioned Second Lieutenant Recently

FORT WASHINGTON, Md. — Norman O. Galyon, of 1510 Washington, Commerce, Texas, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army of the United States after successfully completing a course of training at the Adjutant General's School here.

His letter of appointment was handed to him by Brigadier General H. C. Holdridge, commandant of the school and Director of Schools Training of the Army Administration Schools, at the graduation exercises of Class 13.

Lieutenant Galyon was one of a selected group of enlisted men, drawn from virtually all arms and branches of the service and designated to attend the Officer Candidate School. During the twelve weeks intensive course he received training in the executive and administrative functions of the nation's largest business, the Army of the United States.

Rich In Self Expression Is Service In String Quartet Says Gilbert Waller, Music Teacher

By Gilbert Waller
Members of the Commerce Civic Music Association and the student body at East Texas State Teachers College are indeed fortunate people to have the opportunity of hearing such a fine group as the Curtis String Quartet right here in our own College Auditorium, March 30.

The Curtis String Quartet is one of the oldest of contemporary chamber music families. It came into being in 1927 through friendships formed at the Curtis Institute of Music. Its personnel has remained unchanged—its harmony unbroken—through nearly a thousand concerts.

The four instrumentalists, who have grown up playing together, do not think of the string quartet as an academic thing. The enthusiasm and vitality they bring

Women Demonstrate Fitness To Work With Men In Industry

Gen. H. C. Holdridge Encourages Women Who Prefer Military Life

Women have demonstrated their fitness to work side by side with men in industry and it is right that they be given places in the nation's military forces, Brigadier General H. C. Holdridge, U. S. Army, said Wednesday night in the College auditorium.

General Holdridge addressed the students of WAAC Branch No. 5, Army Administration Schools, at the East Texas State Teachers College. He is director of Schools Training of the AAS and also commandant of the Adjutant General's School, Fort Washington, Md.

WAAC Branch No. 5 is one of six schools authorized by the War Department for the training of 3600 enrolled personnel of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps in general army administrative procedures. Graduates of the schools will be assigned later to administrative duties in the Army, thus releasing able-bodied men for combat service.

"For the first time certainly in the history of the United States," General Holdridge told his audience, "women, in addition to accepting many privileges which they have enjoyed in this country are willingly accepting self-discipline and individual responsibilities."

"For every privilege there must be a corresponding responsibility and it is an inspiring sight to see women volunteers subjecting themselves to discipline necessary to further the national effort."

"When industry was in the home," he continued, "woman's place was in the home. No one questioned her right to spin and weave and sew. In the home after the industrial revolution, and on our frontiers when industry moved out of the home, women

Intimate Glimpse Given In Magazine

A most intimate glimpse into the writing manner of Tom H. McNeal, head of the English department, is published in the March issue of Texas Outlook. Appearing on the page, Books and Branding Irons, Rebecca W. Smith is the author who writes of his characteristics in verse.

"His first full volume, Motley's The Only Wear, and a section in Three Lyric Poets, both appeared last year, marking his long overdue public appearance," writes Miss Smith in her article in which she quotes two of McNeal's selections.

Three Former Students Graduate From Randolph Field

Greenwade, Click, And Caraway Receive New Pilot Rating

RANDOLPH FIELD, Texas. — The Army Air Forces added hundreds of new pilots today for the Spring offensive sweeps over Europe and the Pacific, with graduation of aviation cadets from the ten advanced flying training schools of the AAF Gulf Coast Training Center.

Forty-six states, the District of Columbia, Mexico, Alaska and the Canal Zone contributed members to this class, the largest ever turned out by the Gulf Coast Center. Graduating cadets received silver pilot's wings and commissions as second lieutenants, or in some cases as flight officers.

Some officers already commissioned also received their wings, retaining the respective ranks held before they began flight training.

The new pilots include from East Texas State Teachers College: Lt. Paul V. Greenwade, Jr., Floyd, Texas, 1938, 41-2 (Foster Filed); Lt. James T. Caraway, Van Alstyne, Texas, 1938 (Lubbock Flying School); Lt. Carol W. Click, Sulphur Springs, Texas, 1939-42 (Blackland Flying School).

The graduates formed the Training Center's Class 43-C, or the third turned out thus far in 1943. They will receive further instruction in the types of fighter or bombing planes they will fly in combat.

University of Minnesota's outlay for instruction and research in the last fiscal year was $6,286,439.

One hundred eight recently petroleum engineering graduates at the University of Texas are now in the armed services.

Guess Who??

Does the pensive baby staring gravely at the "birdy" in this picture remind you of someone?

As a child, born and reared in Frisco in Collin County, she stood apart from other children, never running and romping as vigorously as many, and seldom laughing aloud boisterously. Instead, from infancy, she was quietly sedate. As a student in Frisco, she was studious and industrious, and when the time came for her to go to college, she chose C. I. A. at Denton where she took her B. A. in history. Ac-

ian. In 1933, her skill having been capably exhibited, she accepted a responsible position in the library there. In the meantime she obtained leave of absence to get her B. S. in library science at the University of Illinois. At present she is working on her M. A. in librarianship at Columbia University, lacking only her thesis.

No truer statement could be made of the Guess Who character of this week than that "books are her life," for in addition to the great deal of time which she conscientiously devotes to the library, she enjoys as a hobby, collecting books from various special presses. Her favorite writers are Irish. Despite her devotion to her library work, she finds time to interest herself in gardening, being especially fond of roses.

Her friendly grey eyes twinkling graciously, this charming auburn haired woman goes tirelessly about her work in her library never, however, becoming too serious to lose her sense of humor which frequently bubbles over effervescently. A capable librarian, a co-operating faculty member, a friend to teachers and students alike, and a gracious woman — all these descriptions can scarcely do justice to the charms of the one whose praises are being sung.

Now for the $64 question — Guess Who? — Miss Williams.

RETURN, PLEASE

Had rain not fallen so heavily and continuously during the dance that immediately followed the program, neighbors of the gymnasium might have heard more clearly the lilting and jiving strains of the Majors Field Dance Band Orchestra. Led by a peppy sergeant, students, civilians and distinguished army officers nearly danced their feet off—not literally though! The student guests nearly went "hog wild" as the East Texas saying goes, and as time goes by, it flew Wednesday night.

SCOOP

First Lieutenant McCrary, former Education professor, who left for the Army Air Corps recently and is now stationed at Miami, Florida, writes that he hasn't seen a real white woman since his arrival. Wish we had some of that sunshine up here.

INSPIRATION

Theologian students would undoubtedly receive inspiration from the little white church in "The Hollow" which has been holding a revival the past week. The colored folk invite worshippers and ask them to join in their church services. The leader, a nice lady with a melodious voice, has led the group to listen to her teachings by putting them to song. Above the choir chairs is a sign beginning with the words: "Who-soever entereth this church, enter ye not without a spirit of reverence." Others than members of the College Religious Council would probably enjoy attending the sanctuary also.

Comes A Time--

An inspiration for many a lecture has been a passage of Waldo Emerson in his essay, "Self-Reliance." Quote: "There comes a time in every man's life when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance; that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better, for worse, as his portion; that though the wide universe is full of good, no kernel of nourishing corn can come to him but through his toil bestowed on that plot of ground which is given to him to till."

We as students, have no plot of ground to till, but we as the leaders of tomorrow, have a mind to train. We, as thinkers, must realize that ours is a heritage worth fighting for and fighting hard. We, as trainers of thinkers, must believe that imitation is suicide; that the original by ourselves only, is worth the doing. The belief that envy is ignorance, is indeed a worthwhile one; one by which we should base character training by. We must realize that of all the opportunities on the earth, they will not be handed to us on a silver platter; they will have to be won, merited.

Let's be real men and women; let us not envy or be greedy, let us not be ignorant or gullible, let us grow and expand our learning capacity and contents.

Stitch n Time--

The old adage, "a stitch in time saves nine," might come in true before coeds at East Texas State realize it. One stitch by you at the local Red Cross center might save nine for Uncle Sam in the days to come. How about that?

Surely you can squeeze one night or afternoon a week in which you have to yourself; in which to spend the time as you please. The Red Cross would appreciate your aid with them; Uncle Sam would appreciate your assistance; and the boys, women and children on the far battle fronts of nations at war would appreciate your helping elche them.

Working for the Red Cross is not merely sewing a button on or putting seams together, it's helping make something for a war-torn, weary, perhaps freezing person to wear. Its use may save a child's life, or protect another from tuberculosis or pneumonia. Service for the Red Cross is something to be proud of; it can be your part to help shorten the war and ease the pain of others.

How about you? Have YOU done your share?

Cultural Arts

Only two more days remain in the Commerce Civic Music Drive for the 1943-44 campaign; have you joined?

This organization, which annually brings world famous artists to the stage of the ETSTC auditorium, is one of the few cultural promoters remaining intact.

Purchase your ticket now for next season at the Gas Company on the square. Admittance next year will be by membership only to adults and faculty members; students will be admitted by presentation of their school activity tickets.

Just Joking.... In A Lighter Vein!

Father: We have plenty of time for our daughter to think about getting married. Let her wait till the right man comes along.
 Mother: Why should she? I didn't.
 —Drilling.

Alas!
 The sorry world is sighing now,
 The flu is at the door
 And many folks are dying now
 Who never died before.

Traffic Cop: Say you! Didn't you see me wave at you?
 Miriam: Yes, you fresh thing and if Henry were here, he'd paste you one for getting so fresh.

Why do the people of Samoa wear so little clothing?
 Guess it's too hot for Samoa.

All extremely bright men are conceited.
 He shrugged gracefully. "Oh, I don't know; I'm not."

I always do my hardest work before breakfast.
 What's that?
 Getting up.

Traveler: How's the train service here?

Small Town Native: "Wal, they advertise one train a day, but you and me know them advertisements exaggerate."

Laugh and the world laughs with you,
 Smile and you're just a flirt.

She: "Did anyone ever tell you how wonderful you are?"
 He: "I don't believe they ever did."

She: "Then where'd you get the idea?"

The Life
 I put my trust and faith in you,
 I thought I could rely,
 But now I'm disillusioned . . .
 I wish that I might die.
 I made you my ideal, you see,
 And so I copied you.
 I should have copied someone else,
 For now I'm flunking too.

 "Why? Was he broke?"

A Marine's Mother
 There's the sailor and the soldier
 And the aviator keen;
 As fine a group of fighting men
 As one has ever seen.
 But for me I have a soft spot
 For the boys in forest green
 The dashing, gallant Leatherneck,
 The United States Marine.

I never will be a first lady
 Nor grace a magazine
 I'll never be world famous
 Nor will I be a queen
 But I would never change my lot
 With any that I've seen,
 For you see I am the mother
 Of a United States Marine.

TEACHING THEM A LESSON

A Glance At Other Colleges

SEATTLE, Wash. — (ACP)— You won't find them in any directory of educational institutions, but the College of the Aleutians and Kodiak university rank as the two newest American institutions of higher learning.

They are a possibly far-reaching innovation in education of the men at the nation's military outposts.

Captain M. L. Witherspoon, naval recreation and morale officer of the Alaska sector, told of the "newest thing in the navy" on a visit here.

"Courses will be offered in any high school or college subject that three or more students select to take.

"Classes will be held evenings in halls, barracks and special huts.

"There aren't any girls around, and I'm sure the boys will study harder than they would in any other environment."

"Correspondence courses will be offered which will lead toward degrees in any institution of higher learning the student elects," he explained.

"These courses will be available to anyone in the armed forces. They will be called the armed forces' institute."

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (ACP)—Nine new students from Turkey, three of them civilians and the others officers in the Turkish army, are studying engineering at the University of Michigan during the spring term. They bring to 21 the number of students from Turkey enrolled in the university.

Koraltan and Raruk Baysal, traveled by train from Turkey to Lisbon, Portugal, passing through many German-occupied countries of Europe, in order to reach the United States by plane. The other civilian student, Halil Ozbash, made the entire trip by plane, traveling across Africa. All three came from Robert College in Istanbul.

The six officers, all lieutenants, were sent to Michigan by the Turkish embassy in Washington. Five of them have been studying at Robert College. The sixth is a graduate of the Turkish military college and, prior to the war, studied for two years at the aeronautical school in Paris.

LEWISTON, Maine — (ACP)—Burmese beggars, Boston's have-nets, black cats—name the topic and the Bates college speaker's bureau will furnish a lecturer well versed in the subject and eager to speak for no return other than the experience gained.

Usually students choose a subject with which they are familiar through actual experience. Thus a French girl has talked on her school days in France, a Negro student explained what the Negro thinks, and a thumbnail sketch of Burma was offered by the daughter of a missionary who had spent most of her life there.

Should an organization prefer a lively debate on a controversial issue of current interest, the request is promptly filled. Dramatics students give plays, feeling like troupers in a stock company when they arrive on the scene to find no furniture available, exits in the wrong places, no dressing rooms, and the makeshift curtain going up in an hour.

LAS VEGAS, N. M. — (ACP)—A summer session workshop at New Mexico Highlands university for elementary teachers in Spanish-speaking communities of the state has been virtually assured in a communication from Nelson A. Rockefeller's office of inter-American affairs.

This program—first of its kind to be set up in New Mexico—together with special retaining courses for teachers, will make Highlands' 1943 summer session the most important and extensive in the school's history, according to Dr. Edward Eyring, president.

Highlands' summer-school retaining program will include courses for teachers in pre-flight aviation, machines, shop work, chemistry and mathematics, according to Harlan Shinger, director of teacher training. "Plans also are underway to offer work in radio and electricity," he said.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — (ACP)—Wanted: 1,000 sky-gazers. This was the request of Hans H. Neuberger, assistant professor of meteorology at Pennsylvania State college, who is planning to use the students to estimate the shade of the sky: blue.

He expects to find out whether the eyes of the average untrained person can be used as a measuring stick in this type of meteorological study. The aerologist explained that if the large majority of untrained students can agree on the shade of sky blue during simultaneous observations, the usefulness of color estimations would be established.

Weekly News Digest Reveals It!

Ration Calendar

Ceiling Prices on Milk Adjusted
 A second upward adjustment in the ceiling price of sweet milk sold in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas becomes effective March 13, it was announced by Regional OPA Administrator Max McCullough. Under the new regulation, Amendment 133 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14, the ceiling price range for quarts sold low and a 15-cent top to a 13-cent at retail moves up from 12-cent low and a 15 1-2-cent top.

Replacement Rules Issued
 With a warning that it is up to the individual to take the best possible care of his ration books, OPA issued uniform regulations governing replacement of lost stolen or mutilated War Ration Books One and Two. Anyone desiring to replace a ration book or coupon sheet must apply to his local ration board on Form No. R-194. Ten days after submitting his application, the book owner may report to the ration board, which will examine the facts and, if satisfied, may issue the replacement. Where ration books are lost or stolen, the board may require the applicant to report his case to the police.

Appeasement's Child.
 Thomas J. Hamilton.
 Reviewed by Lola Gammill

The first major in the step in the present World War, the total war against fascism that the Spanish begun in 1936, is the main subject Hamilton deals with in his Appeasement's Child.

The first section of the book takes up the establishment and success of the Fascist regime in Spain. This part is written with a shrewd understanding of the crooks and turns taken by the party in gaining power.

Part two is an intimate discussion of the prevailing conditions and popular reaction after the war. Hamilton writes natural, not too philosophical accounts of the suffering the people bear.

Foreign reaction and results are discussed, closing the book. Here Hamilton is helped by his ready understanding of the natural reaction of the globe to what happened in Spain despite his perfect freedom inside the country, it was practically impossible to communicate with the outside.

Who does JOAN ABBOTT love? The red-head from Paris, JOHNNY B. or everybody?

Is it an old Southern custom that the girls call their boy friends several times daily? Some girls think so!

ONA GRACE FRANCIS seems to have some ardent secret admirers, and then there are some who aren't so secret. Why doesn't AUBREY TYER just take up lodging at the Kelly house? You can say that again! Why doesn't AUBREY TYER just take up lodging at the Kelly house?

The WAACs certainly have a knack for catching rides. Boys, maybe you'd better ask for a few pointers.

Nancy Phillips Likes Footballs--

Speaking of the Kelly house, NANCY PHILLIPS just can't make up her mind which of those big, handsome, football players to fall for next.

It's a wonder that the Artema house is still intact with a two-some like POE and WESTER around.

We'll all miss CARLOS SALINOS, when he leaves around April 5. He's one of ET's top track men.

ROYCE CRELIA: Why don't you forget SUE and go with the rest of us for a while?

HENRY BENDLE and MAYBERRY and their usual dates, rather took Texahoma in the other night. They have a salt shaker to prove it.

JAMES GREEN had a cute date at church last Sunday night. Nice going, Green.

Getting down to brass tacks—DWAYNE SETZLER is one more swell guy.

LEON BRAZIL has a way all of his own of making love.

JULIA BENNETT stepped out the other night with KEITHLEY HENLEY. JAKIE, you are slipping!

Some People Can't Tell Time--

Why doesn't JEAN MEDLIN ever wind her watch? Or can't she tell the difference between 4:30 and 6:30? That goes for MARY NAN DAVIS, too. Things we all remember: Jack Oliver combing his hair as he goes across the campus.

Clara Lee Pharr and her red convertible.

Deacon and Brown's version of San Antonio Rose.

Eldon Toler's quest for knowledge.

That torrid romance of Doris Salter's.

Anna Beth Atchinson's Blackland Flying School Cadet.

The current scandal of Billy Johnson's escapade into a certain dwelling: laundry was everywhere. Wasn't it, Billy?

Farris, the College Nurse, refuses to take pills. But boy, can she dish them out!

Is Orena Fleming getting the brush off?

Nelwyn Puckett is cooking with gas when it comes to Billy you are all invited!

If there's the slightest chance that you might wander down to the ping pong room in the gym second period on A days be certain to wear cotton in your ears. PEGGY JACKSON and DORACE CHANEY might be arguing over the score.

MARY JANE OVERALL crashed the reception for DOUGLAS BEATTIE and now she's all a-flutter. Rumor has it that he's married.

There seems to be a joke between BETTY CANOLE and HELEN BRECHEEN about a certain FRANK. Why not ask them just what it is?

Will somebody please find out who is teaching the three A class of history 132?

Ask MARY JO OLIVER and BETTY LOU POWELL about their friend in Austin College, or is she still a friend?

BILL ABERNATHY certainly get around. PATTY BEST one night and MARY LEE HUGHES the next with a few WAACs sprinkled in for good measure.

DOVIE ARP and MARY HOOTEN were seen in Greenville Saturday night being escorted by two handsome soldiers. DAYTON CARPENTER was seen in that vicinity also, with a WAAC.

Is this a new twosome—CLARA LEE FARR and JIMMIE IBBETSON—or is it a triangle???

What certain red-headed ex-resident of the East dormitory has captured BILL HEYLAND'S heart?

ROSA FRANKLIN received a letter from her English flyer last Wednesday. She's waiting for a cablegram now.

Say, "STINKY" are you trying to become a REAL cowboy? Wonder why KAY is so excited? Couldn't be because she may have company this week end?

DOROTHY BRANSON and DENNIS LOWERY make quite a twosome. Her brother FRANKIE doesn't seem to be doing so bad himself.

Did you see the stars in JONNIE JOHNSON'S eyes last week when DANNY was here on a three-day pass?

JERRY PRICE seems awfully lonesome since CLAUDE CLUNEX left for the army. Cheer up, JERRY, it happens in the best of families.

Why does ELLA MAE JACK always turn PAUL JOHNSON'S picture to the wall when everything doesn't go to suit her?

Say, PEGGY TAYLOR, who was that cute Lt. you were with last Sunday?

The romance of DEE McCRAHY and ANN ELL MASON is now a thing of the past. We're all wondering why.

EVELYN MCKINNEY is still loyal to PAT MORRIS. Surely it must be love.

DOROTHY BRANSON and DENNIS LOWRY are on the steady list.

By the way, girls, have you seen that good looking JOHN SMITH from Paris Junior College?

POOLY DOROUGH visited us on the campus this last week end. MARLIN seemed to be quite thrilled over it.

Hambrick
 Lt. (?), ex-graduate of Cornell, is terrific. Just ask the campus women for information.
 F. M. LOGSDON is just as quaint as he can be in French class.

A cub reporter covering a high school play was so impressed by the interest shown by the audience that he decided to make mention of it in his story. He began by saying, "The audience was filled with expectant mothers anxiously awaiting the appearance of their offsprings."

J. Garland Smith, East Texan Editor of 1940-41, is working in the public relations office on the Hawaiian Islands in service of the United States Army. Writing to Miss Grace Quinby, Training School faculty member, Garland wrote:

"While conditions are much the same on the mainland except for rationing, we in uniform in the Hawaiian Islands are doing things differently. Several years ago I did not suspect that I would be serving as I am today. World conditions, however, have not only made this service possible, but necessary.

"Since arriving in the Hawaiian Islands, I have seen many new people, habits and customs. If I ever possessed any radical prejudices, I have cast them off. It is impossible to walk down a public thoroughfare here without accosting a least six differ-

Here's A Description Of A Wedding That You Would Enjoy

Here is the description of an Army wedding, reported in an Army post paper.

Setting off the straight lines of the blouse was a single row of bright brass buttons down the front, with matching individual buttons.

His trousers were straight-cut without cuffs. Cotton socks of olive drab, with harmonizing brown shoes and a contrasting black woolen serge linen handkerchief.

After a luxurious breakfast at a downtown hotel, the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon. For going away, the groom chose a heavy woolen coat of olive drab, with brass buttons, on front and shoulders. ent nationalities—Chinese, Japanese, Hawaiian, Filipino, Portuguese, and Korean. I have seen native festivals and Chinese New Year celebrations. Hardly a day passes without rice being served. I have learned to like the taste of rice, and eat it almost every day.

"My work is similar to regular newspaper work, as my job is to assist the editor, Staff Sergeant Tom O'Brien of Brooklyn, with publication of the Defender, our weekly army newspaper. This task includes writing stories, reading copy and proof, writing and setting heads, and makeup. In addition to this, I go out to the various army units to secure human interest and feature stories. Then, there is the Hawaiian Defender of the Air, a daily 10-minute broadcast of army news especially for soldiers. O'Brien and I take turns in writing the script and conducting the broadcast.

"There is in this vicinity a publisher, John Afong Lee, a Chinaman, with whom I have become intimately acquainted. Mr. Lee has the distinction of being the only living Chinese publisher of an English daily newspaper. After being graduated from Indiana university in 1924, he returned to the Hawaiian Islands to become the first high school instructor of Oriental parentage in this territory.

Mr. Lee owns a beautiful home on the outskirts of town, to which he has carried O'Brien and me several times. On week ends he sometimes reclines in an evacuation house in the country."

Senior Class Play Much Praised

"Too Busy To Work," a three-act comedy, drew a flattering audience Friday night when the 1943 senior class play was presented in the high school auditorium under the direction of Miss Helen Hale.

Back-stage action opened the play, the voice of a young girl singing, as the curtain rose on a well ordered living room, Aunt Susie's living-room, in springtime—provided the site of activities throughout the three acts of the play.

Clark Gifford's struggle to preserve his television station in the little town of Sunnydale and the reaction of his friends and foes, led to situations providing ample opportunity for the various characters to reveal and emphasize their talent for the stage.

So many pretty girls and handsome escorts, their first public effort at love-making, merited a large audience, and they got it. The audience frequently showing their appreciation with hearty applause.

It is sometimes rude to call names, so for the purposes of this report it is sufficient to say that each character, both girls and boys, participating in this senior play merited the applause and appreciation of their friends, and the audience witnessing the play.

Ingredients Given For Military Recipe; East Dorm Loses Dust To WAACs & Provides No Soap; Life Begins So Early

By Mary Myra Ramsey
The WAACs are here! Believe it or not! And I mean here. Watch out girls, those enrollees from Georgia are really peaches—or did you know?

But for the inside story you must go to the East Dormitory to get the gist of things.

To really know them you must meet the first Sgt. of Company B—Rosenkrantz is the name. You will find a slender woman with slightly waving hair, a deep mellow voice, and a pair of very distinctly twinkling eyes. Her state is Pennsylvania but she has spent a good part of her time in New York—city of sights. And by the way, her first love is sculpture.

The East Dormitory has really changed. Dust no longer has its reign. Everything is spotlessly clean. P. S. girls, there is no soap to be found in the soap dish; wonder how the WAACs perform the process of cleaning? You can never tell; those military secrets can really blanket things up.

The beds are the good old army two-decker bunks. Outside of that change, the room remains a bare couched shell.

Here is another for the curious, The girls like the Lone Star State and are really beginning to get into the swing of things—"Deep In The Heart Of Texas."

"You've got to get up—you've got to get up—you've got to get up in the morning." And for the WAACs its 5:45. What an hour! Reville is at 6:15 and breakfast at 7:05. As for classes they are from 7:45 to 11:45 in the morning and 1:00 to 4:20 in the afternoon. At 4:30 they have drill and dinner at 6:05. From then on time's their own—that is until 11:00 when bed check is made. Lights go out at 9:30.

Heinz Canines Provide Rare Excitement For ET

Emphasis was added to the mad dog scare on the campus Saturday morning when Librarian Jewel Kennemer undertook to rid the library building of Heinz canines (You know, 37 varieties), that have been patronizing the three floors of the building and the offices of the WAACs.

With the aid of five or six small boys and a malevolent looking bottle of Carbon Disulfide, known to most unscientific people as hi-life, Mr. Kennemer let it be known to all dogs that they definitely were not desired in the library.

Kennemer stated that the dogs actions were blamed for several humorous incidents that happened on the campus; the major one occurring when one lady faculty member almost had to climb a tree to get out of the path of one departing dog.

A trio of dogs made their exit from the east door of the library simultaneously and reports are that their first jump was concluded on the front porch of the WAAC headquarters building 100 yards away. With considerable disturbance there, the dogs lamented on their status before continuing on toward Paris, Texas.

Mr. Kennemer requests that

Well, I won't hold you any longer except to include a recipe from Ft. Sheridan that really supplies a military dish: "Take one draftee, slightly green. Stir from bed at early hour. Soak in shower or tub daily. Dress in olive drab. Mix with others of his kind. Toughest with maneuvers. Grate on Sergeant's nerves. Add a liberal portion of baked beans and corned beef. Season with wind, rain, sun, or snow. Sweeten from time to time with WAACs. Let smoke occasionally. Bake in 110 degrees in summer heat and let cool in below zero weather. Serves 140,000,000 people.
