Considering Errors

A newspaper is always receiving complaints of one kind or another. Either the paper does not print the news or it prints too much of the news.

However, every newspaper makes mistakes, usually innocently enough. An item slips into the best of papers at times containing an error or an apparent reflection on someone's character which neither the copy readers nor the proof readers caught.

When a paper prints an item which has read into it by people who are looking for trouble meaning which never once has entered into the mind of the staff, the newspaper cannot be expected to do anything about it.

What They Are

The WAVES is an organization of women whose job is to replace Navy men at shore stations. The SPARS is an organization of women whose job is to replace Coast Guard men at shore stations.

And you'll hold the same shore jobs that are now filled by men. At Navy and Coast Guard bases throughout the continental United States, WAVES and SPARS do all types of office work.

Whatever your work, wherever you go, you can be sure that you are performing a very real, very vital service for your country. It won't be any picnic.

Life in a Putty Knife Factory by H. Allen Smith
Reviewed by Lola Gammill

Some people are sublimely happy when they're doing something whacky. Being such a person, this H. Allen Smith, who parts his name on the side (by his own admission) should be in heroes of happy abandon.

Frankly you'll like it only if you take the language. This group of extremely informal essays, some of which come without their shoes and some with nothing but their shoes on, cover Smith's hap-hazard career as a newspaperman.

Some of the essays including this man's mind, are just hilarious. Be sure you try Flight from the City Room, Hugh Troy Escapades, and Taking Pride in My Profession.

When you finish the book you'll probably vaguely nod assent when the author suggests that "don't we all have head murmurs?"

But as Miss Ruth Walling, Reference Librarian, said, "Nothing can be funny forever."

Texas U. Has Own Playright; Dry Milk Is Used In Experiment

AUSTIN, Texas. — (ACP) — University of Texas student actors are getting used to the idea of having original plays written for them since Theodore Apstein of Mexico City came to town.

Apstein, born in Russia and reared in Mexico City, is a graduate of the University drama department and is still in school taking graduate work. He has written several plays that have won awards both at the University of Texas and the University of California.

PULLMAN, Wash. — (ACP) — The only baking laboratory left in the nation whose primary function is to experiment with use of dry milk is located at Washington State College.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — (ACP) — Development of a modernized hypodermic cabinet cutting in half the cost of drugs used in hospitals and saving two-thirds of the time previously required in preparing hypodermics is announced by Katherine J. Densford, director of the University of Minnesota school of nursing.

NEW YORK — (ACP) — Development of a new plastic called "thermocast" which is expected to revolutionize airplane manufacturing and increase airplane production by 50 per cent was announced here by Prof. James M. Church of Columbia university.

OBERLIN, Ohio — (ACP) — The student body of Oberlin college elected Kenji Okuda, 20, a Japanese-American, to the presidency of the student council in annual school elections.

LAS VEGAS, N. M. — (ACP) — By enrolling for a special concentrated course to be given in June at New Mexico Highlands university, science teachers will be prepared to teach pre-flight aeronautics to hundreds of boys in their high schools next fall.

University of Kentucky college of agriculture and home economics recently offered two short courses in sheep shearing in an effort to alleviate the shortage of helpers in the state's big wool clip.

This Collegiate World

The nightmare of every generation of University of Oregon freshmen—ducking in the campus millrace—has been laid to rest, but not because of the efforts of yearlings.

Dr. Michael Bernreither, instructor at the University of Kansas school of medicine, once threw a 32-ounce beer stein at Adolf Hitler—and missed.

Recently he joined the army medical corps as a captain, still seeking a chance to destroy the fuhrer.

In 1922 as a medical student he sat in a Munich beer hall listening to a thin-voiced political speaker named Hitler.

"Apparently," he sighed, "it missed Hitler."

Did You Know?

That professors always pick pre-holiday periods to give tests? That the co-op has re-opened in the West Dorm?

That the WAACs are going to open a beauty parlor in the main building? That Anna Frances Eade's lister was heard on KPLT last Sunday?

That many of the coeds are craving introductions to the unmarried lieutenants? That the former Dr. McCrary, education professor, is now studying in the Army under Lieut. Leon Rutland, Jr., one of his former students?

That Wanda Bennett has three brothers in the service, and one of them, stationed at Kingsville, near the Lower Rio Grande Valley, is her twin brother?

The East Texan advertisers always win profits? Before restrictions were ordered, laboratory supplies were being ordered by colleges at a rate which threatened to soak up more equipment than manufacturers could produce in two years.

With The Exes

"Whizzer" White, football hero of '38, '39, and '40 is now a Lieutenant and is stationed in San Antonio.

James "Lanky" Wilcox, graduate of '40 is a civilian instructor in aviation mechanics at Sheppard Field. His wife, the former Frances Saunders, '42 graduate, was president of Toan-oooves and in '42 appeared in "Who's Who."

Mary Beth Mason, most popular girl of '42, is now secretary to the dean of S.M.U., where she is attending school.

Mabel Burson, graduate of '38, is now teaching English in Valley View.

Dorothy Moxley, graduate of '41, is teaching art in J. J. Wooten School in Paris.

Ruth Williams, graduate of '42, is teaching the fourth and fifth grades in Merit, Texas.

Charles Churchill, graduate of '40, is now a Lieutenant in the Air Corps and is stationed in Nebraska.

J. L. Wortham, Army Air Corps Lieutenant, is stationed in North Africa. The ex-student who was injured recently in battle, has a younger brother, A. W., attending E. T.

Twelve University of Texas naval ROTC students will win their commissions in the navy in June—first products of the three-year-old unit's speed-up program.

Books In The Flames

WASHINGTON — (ACP) — Books are a symbol. The college library and its books are the heart of every campus. The insignia of many a college shows an open book signifying light, learning and the wisdom only man can pass from mind to mind.

The other day monitors for the Federal Communications Commission picked up a Berlin broadcast praising Adolf Hitler, he of the impenetrable prose style, as a lover of good books.

"To read a lot is equivalent of a good education," the radio voice said. "It was Adolf Hitler who promoted this idea in Germany."

The voice went on to say Hitler sponsored "not only books on National Socialism but books on German poets" and until he died "there were no good books in Germany!"

On May 10, the world will remember how well Hitler loves good books. On that date in 1933, 25,000 good books burned in the square before the University of

Extension Classes Galore Being Offered To "Would Be" Students

Seven extension courses now being offered by East Texas State is proving successful. Teachers in surrounding territories who are anxious to complete work on their degrees and at the same time retain their teaching positions are showing a great deal of interest in these courses offered by the English, education and history departments.

Every Tuesday afternoon, Dr. D. C. Butler of the English faculty treks over to Texarkana to instruct approximately 16 students in English 418, Biblical Prophecy, from 1:00 until 3:30 at the Junior College there.

Dr. J. E. Franklin contributes every Thursday evening from 5:00 until 7:30 to the teaching of Education 522, Psychology of Reading, to approximately 15 teachers from the Greenville area. This class is held in the Court house and, being composed largely of teachers and a few rural teachers, give consideration to the teachers' problems.

Spring Retreat Planned By BSU For Friday, 7th

The BSU Spring Retreat, a "streamlined" combination of social and inspirational activities, is scheduled this year for Friday, May 7th.

From the Science building, where the group will meet at 4:30 those present will hike to Welch's Lake, two miles west of Commerce, where various games and outdoor sports will be participated in, and supper will be served, from picnic lunches.

The Camp Fire service will be led by the Rev. Robert Fling of Troup. The four phases of the occasion will be discussed by guest speakers. Rev. Fling will present "I dare you to be your best spiritually." Mrs. Fling will chose the social topics for discussion; Miss Margaret Schmitz will talk on physical fitness; and Dr. J. E. Franklin will address the group on mental fitness.

This occasion will climax a week of study for members of the new council for the coming fall and spring semesters. Installation of these new officers will be presented Sunday evening, May 2, in the church services of the First Baptist Church.

Audrey Marshall, J. R. Stocker, Wed

Miss Audrey Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marshall of Dallas, formerly of Commerce, became the bride April 10 of J. R. Stocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stocker of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. The wedding ceremony was read in the home of the bride's parents, 5243 Vickery street, with the Rev. A. M. Roper officiating. Only the immediate family and close friends attended.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue suit, with white blouse and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and carnations. She was attended by Mrs. S. D. Marshall and Miss Beneva Marshall, sister of the bride and former student of East Texas State.

Mrs. Stocker was graduated from East Texas State and the ETSTC Demonstration School. Mr. Stocker, United States Marine Corps, is now stationed at College Station.

Most Charming Of WAACs Is Lt. McRee, Georgia Professor

"A more definite role in the war effort and the excellent training offered by the WAAC made enrolling in the corps more important than my personnel work on the staff of the University of Georgia; so I enlisted." Thus Second Officer Margaret McRee explained her being stationed in Commerce with the WAAC School No. 5 as an instructor in military correspondence and classified communications.

A native of Valdosta, Ga., with a genuine Georgian accent, delightful to Texas ears, Lieutenant McRee has her A. B. from the University of Georgia, a master's from Columbia, and work at the University of California at Berkeley. While at Columbia, she was the only student from the deep South in International House, a campus center for goodwill toward foreign students and showing them the better side of the U. S. A.

Having done war work in '41 and '42 at the University, Lieut. McRee in the summer of '42, took examinations for officer's candidate school and was sworn in at Ft. McPherson as a reserve officer. Released on leave of absence from the University, she, in September '42, went on active duty in Fort Des Moines for basic training. After receiving her commission Christmas Eve morning, Miss McRee attended the Adjutant General's school in Fort Washington for three weeks.

"People, books and travel fascinate me." "Hobbies?" "Well, horseback riding, driving and dancing are perhaps." Because a neat, smiling utterly charming little college professor down in Georgia decided she wanted an active hand in the war, Commerce and ET are the gainers by having her as an instructor in the WAAC school.

President Joseph A. Brandt of the University of Oklahoma has appointed a committee of seven students to form a "war rumor clinic."
