Millard Massey Flabby Title

Millard Massey, 112-pound halfback for the Lions, is causing quite a sensation in football circles this year. Massey is playing his first year of varsity competition and has already made a name for himself for his brilliant ball carrying. In one play he carried 75 yards. Massey is a hard man to stop.

Here's More Lions You Must Meet

GEORGE GILGUS
HAROLD NEAL

Here's the tackle that has been called a pain to all opposition for the past year - George Gilgus, 160-pound line letter man. Gilgus has been hitting hard for a long time now, and all the competition trembles when George is the man who plants their teeth. George plays "loosey" football, and when he hits them, they stay hit.

Extet Band Swings At Fish Game

Twenty-eight East Texas Lions took to the road early this afternoon for Houston where they were scheduled to take on the Sam Houston Beakrats Saturday afternoon in such a second round Long Star Conference game. The Lions are crippled in one department and many of the members are expected to be able to begin. It is doubtful whether Beakrats will be able to start the game. And Morris Green definitely will not see action. The team's publicity man who was outstanding in last week's effort, suffers a leg injury received in the Houston game. He may not be sufficiently recovered to play.

Band and Yell Leaders to Go To Sam Houston
