TROY CRENSHAW SCHOOL PARTY
COLLEGE VISITOR PEPPIEST YET

Troy Greenash visited the many friends here on Friday of last week. He holds an B. A. degree from this institution and is one of the many boys who have graduated from the school in Colorado during the past year and to one of the men who are pushing the interest of the East Texas State Normal at the present time. He is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. Mr. Greenash was a member of the debating team while a student here and took an active part in many of the school activities. He is a native Texan, coming here from Floyd, Texas.

WHAT DOES "PLEASE" MEAN!

What on earth do the signs "Please mean?" We see them stuck in the ground all around the buildings, but no one seems to know what they mean. During the arm and leg exercises, a poor fish saw the sign "Please" and thinking it wasn't complete, wrote the word please under it making the sign read "Please please." "Honest," I don't

What "Pleasant" means. Sky told me he thought they wanted the students to learn to spell pleasant. Mary Lee says, "I don't know anything about it." She means but she doesn't know anything about it. She really does know any one in this college have the least idea as to what the little signs mean! No, they are just little pieces of wood with the word "Pleasant" on it. Probably the day left to be only a few days. The world was really known what they would. But, do not ask him, Pleasant.

METHODISTS REACH

GOAL OF 1000

Superintendent W. D. Alquist, in the Methodist Sunday school, reports 1948 period at Sunday school Sunday morning. This church has been working toward this goal for the last few Sundays and went over the top Sunday, the highest record for Sunday school attendance this city ever witnessed. The greatest gain was in the class taught by J. D. Dillard, Texas, with 212 present. Dick Hunter's class, with 190, was second.

The class taught by Prof. Flowers had fifty-two members with other classes in proportion.

BLED SOE'S ADDRESS BRINGS COMMENT

Among the many favorable comments on the address delivered by Prof. J. M. Bledsoe, before the class of High School seniors of the East Texas State Teachers College on Saturday, May 20, the following communication has just been received from Dr. H. T. Musselman, Editor of the Texas School Journal:

Dallas, Texas, June 9, 1925.

Type of postal service. The establishment of a convenient sub-postoffice is a fitting climax to the slogan of the College Store, "Watch Us Grow." Commerce is one of the four towns on its side to set a sub-postoffice and the management of the local postoffice and the citizenship of Commerce have just cause to be proud of this improvement in postal service.

My Dear Mr. Bledsoe:
I thank you for the Commerce Journal. Have just read in full your splendid address to the High School

The State Fire Insurance Commission has an interesting exhibit in the north hall of the new Education Building at the second floor, "Education and Fire Prevention." BOWIE CO. CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The students of Bowie county met in the Main building Friday night and perfected the organization of the Bowie county club. Twenty-five men were present and unusual interest was shown in the meeting. The following members were elected: N. rank. There are yet a few volumes of the Locust left for local distribution. These may be had by those who are entitled to them by seeing members of the staff within the next day or two and getting the book.

at the outdoor arenas are planned and the entertainers urge that every student should be present. The students will enjoy the summer with one of the live-stock clubs in this school. There are many more Bowle county people here and they should line up with us for a pleasant summer's work.

Can you imagine how nice a good rooey, well ventilated gymnasium would be during the coming basketball series? Let's have a basketball summer. Make your contribution now. Make it your best investment:

Let our Monday evening Miss Ruby Wall entertain a few friends at her home on Central Avenue with a two-o'clock party honoring Miss Harrison of Rosewood, Texas.

The following were present: Miss Alice Mayberry, Treneise Youngblood, Norma Howard, Mrs. Laura LaRue and Hazel Arrington; Clara Mathis, Milton Binnick, Clyde Toad, P. V. Patrick, J. D. Alexander and Troy Atkins.

Let your ladies keep a record of the summer—flowers & fun.

President

The selection of a president for M. C. College is expected to start soon. The faculty has been asked to seek a successor to Dr. W. R. McQuinn, who has been asked to resign, well, whose resignation becomes a possibility. The faculty has elected as well the president of Oklahoma State University. There are a number of applicants for the position. Among those mentioned for the post are Dr. W. R. McQuinn, Dr. W. R. Marquis of Texas A. & M. College and Dr. W. R. Marquis of the University of North Texas. State Teachers College of Denton, who has just been re-elected president of the National Education Association. Dr. W. R. Marquis is not a candidate for the position, but would likely give the matter some thought in case he is tendered the position.

THE LIBRARY

Many of the students seem to possess the idea that the library is a convenient meeting place, for social purposes; such is not the case. The library is maintained for the use of those people who are desirous of looking up references, studying special assignments, etc. It is a chance for any serious student to be handicapped by a crowd of idle conversationalists, who have no regard for the time and ambitions of other students. If you go to the library for any purpose other than conscientious study you are interfering upon the legitimate rights of some other person and are limiting their opportunities. Consider this, if you have nothing to do, please consider those of your friends who do have special study in the library and show them the respect and courtesy due them by at least keeping quiet. The management has provided ample opportunities for pleasure and social development other than making of the library into a gossip shop. Realizing that our library facilities are limited, each student should complete his work in that department as rapidly as possible, in order to make room for others who are entitled to its use.

COUNTY ORGANIZATIONS

At present there is a great deal of interest being manifested in the organization of county clubs. The Inter-Collegiate Press Association promises give the gladiators involved an opportunity to show their skill as every indication points toward the hardest fought series in the history of the summer leagues. Several of the county teams are practicing regularly and are showing wonderful form and enthusiasm. (See below) has a strong team and is likely to be the runner for the championship. Wood county has perfected its organization and has a fast team of experienced men. Fannin is showing some real pep. Lamar-Rice River combine and offer to take a great part of the game with a heavy, fast team of local experience.

These organizations are one of the best means of promoting a real county school spirit and their organization is encouraged. They offer a means of increasing the student body with clean, wholesome sport and at the same time afford the morale of the student body.

The competition between the various counties is very keen and great things are expected during this summer's games.

Success

Success is not a secret, neither is it new, nor is it a miracle.

Success is a remuneration meted out commensurate to the amount of tact, energy and intuition expended on the part of her recipient.

Man in his zenith never held a fairer hand.

The Sun on his journey through the heavens never was more consistent.

The success is her indiscriminate way stands a veritable exponent to man's best endeavor.

Yet if you were cast upon a sea of blood in a boat of stone with leaden sails and oars of iron, with the wrath of an avenging God for a gale and Hell your nearest port.

You'd stand a better chance of entering the portals of heaven on the morning of that day of judgment.

Than you will of achieving Success through any channel other than the consistent application of an indomitable will to win.

Success is an once price virtue, she knows not flattery sales or bargain days.

She has one true, equitable and standard value—a sincere manifestation of our very best is her price. She says accordingly.

THE BOOSTER

We can not over estimate the value of being a booster. Nothing really worthwhile is ever accomplished by knocking. The booster is a constructive spirit, possessed of a vision, a hope for the future and it desire to be in the lead. On the other hand the knocker has nothing to do but to do every thing that which is good, by harmful methods. Man can never be expected to accomplish anything without a strong desire to overcome the obstacles which retard any worth-while progress, along the line of constructive endeavor. If your neighbor is an ass to you tell him about it. He will be a better man for the trouble. Booster any good cause is like helping government with a sure of commendation. American accomplishments have startled the world, but lack of every great feat that the indomitable spirit of an undisciplined, careless, boisterous by a boisterous friend. A man is never down as long as he is boosted by a loyal friend. Booster one's friends is a virtue and should be encouraged.

THE CAMPUS BEAUTIFUL

Many of the students make a practice of cutting across the corners of the campus lawn, instead of following the walk. This practice should be discouraged. It is impossible to keep our campus looking its best when some thoughtless person makes a practice of tramping over the first and second corners. Let us follow the walk, even though it slightly lengthens our journey, from one building to another. Everybody realizes what a beautiful campus means to any institution. We can do a great deal toward keeping the campus green by keeping on the walks—what about it? Would you enjoy attending a school where the campus was as bare as the Sahara desert? Then you would not, then why persist in making the campus a similar spot?

THE EVOLUTION CASE

The last case now being tried before the Tennessee Supreme Court is not very disturbing to the broadminded citizens of the "Gilded States." The legislature and legislature that four and half million will be made thoroughly ridiculous before the trial ends. But the question will not be settled as to whether man descended from animals or that he was of divine origin. Neither will it be settled the question as to whether man was made from the rib of man, thus starting the humbug.

The serious difficulty of this monkey trial is the fact that it shows a hatred of science, a fear of knowledge, and a will to enslave man in the name of religion.

The greatest hindrance in the field of scientific research, the scientist has to blaze new trails, open new channels of thought, and pay the penalty for his efforts by having every possible obstacle placed in his path. We must be capable of expressing a fair and just opinion of that which has little or no knowledge of.

THE FIGHTING SPIRIT

Somewhere on the frozen Wastelands of the far North, struggling against nature to live, a small group of men possessed of the true fighting spirit. That spirit which prompts men to leave the comforts of modern homes, loved ones and the luxuries of civilized people to search for the ideal existence in a land of advanced, progress, hamed and new fields exploited by men of this type.

Now the Americans deserve a place in our hall of fame. His adventures are some the most fearless and deserve equally a place in our hall of fame. Americans deserve a place in our hall of fame. We are looking back at the adventures of our spirit of our Nordic forefathers! A spirit that has established and fostered the high ideals we honor and cherish today.

GETTING READY FOR DISTRICT FAIR

Secretary V. E. Conway of the Chamber of Commerce states that work has started toward making the District Fair here September 3, 4, 5 and 6 inclusive the best in its history. Today men with teams were busy bringing to level grade the inside dirt floor of the Exhibit Hall. Time has proved that in many cases the floor as it was sometimes became soggy and damp, a condition which will be relieved when the present work is completed.

It is thought now that arrangements will be made to have individual or company teams for the display of automobiles, farm machinery and other exhibits, and that all space in the Exhibit Hall will be reserved for booths and exhibits that cannot be placed on the outside. Already many applications for exhibit space have been received indicating that the Fair this fall will be on a much larger scale than heretofore.

Superintendent of departments have been named as follows: Live Stock—H. H. Smith, who will name his own livestock. Swine, Sheep and Goats—J. K. Priddy. Agriculture—A. J. Hoff and W. J. Clinton. Poultry—Claude Lindsay. Cattle—W. W. Goldworthy. Fine Arts Department—Mrs. W. B. Dineen. Textile Department—Mrs. W. F. Thomas. Culinary—Mrs. Harry McIntyre. Floral—Mrs. Jim Tuttle.

Secretary Conway states that from now on work will go forward as usual, getting everything in shape for the opening day of the Fair. Purposes in the surrounding community have been reminded to begin now getting things in the exhibit of town and district as Community Exhibit. Exhibitors are that this department will be unusually good this year.

OLD CUSTOMS SAVED SAYS SCHOOL MEN

The cloud of uncertainty which to certain extent obscured school customs of four years standing as an aftermath of the ruling of an Austin court last week in holding that children of rural school districts residing near public schools could attend those school if qualified and without the payment of tuition has been cleared away according to the opinion expressed by the local school officials today, following the action taken by Austin late Saturday in suspending the judgment entered.

In holding that rural school children of scholastic age could transfer to city schools local officials pointed out that if the ruling held it would mean a heavy burden on the Greenville public schools who would not only have to accommodate the growing demands of this city, but the surrounding territory as well.

Not only did the court suspend the judgment of last Wednesday but advised attorneys in the case it was considering the question of dismissing the appeal.

For, Harry was pointed out that if the decision was made final it would necessitate adjacent county districts to remove their school tax and transfer to the city schools, as no cost would attach—Greenville having.

REVIVAL CLOSED, GREAT SUCCESS

Last night's service marked the close of one of the most interesting and far-reaching revivals ever held in the history of the First Baptist church of Commerce. It continued two weeks with Pastor Heger doing the preaching and Evangelist Heger Virgil Reynolds and wife of Denton directing the singing and music. The attendance was unusually large during the entire meeting. Ninety-seven responded to the call of Christ, and seventy odd were added to the church by baptism, letter and restoration.

A remarkable feature of the revival was, that not a single call was made to the lost without a response—they came forward in numbers to the call of salvation. Middle aged men and women, young men and women, boys and girls made the surrender and lined up with God's people.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds did great work among the lost and rendered some of the best music and singing we ever heard in any revival. So well pleased with their services returned that on last night the congregation unanimously voted for them for the next revival. Over $100 was raised during the revival for expenses and offerings. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds and Pastor Heger were presented with liberal donations.

The effects of the revival has been felt mightily in the town and community. The Christian people have been greatly revived and the working power of the church has been strengthened and the joy of service restored to many.

There was an overflow crowd as the closing service last night, but in many respects it was the best service of the meeting. The singing and the sermons were great and quite a number were born into the Kingdom. It was announced last night that the baptismal service would be held next night at the church.

The Y. W. C. A.

Friday evening at 8:45 o'clock the Y. W. C. A. held its first meeting for the summer session in the pavilion. First members on the program consisted of songs, "Follow the Gleaner," being the last song on the program. Miss Alice Lewis read a clever little poem showing how boys and girls ought at the age of eight, at twenty, and then at thirty.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the meeting. Much enthusiasm was shown concerning the plans for the summer's work. Miss Mary E. Johnson will lead the Bible discussions for the summer. Many other interesting things are planned.

Thursday evening of each week has been chosen as meeting time for the regular meeting which is called at 8:45. The president, Miss Margaret Miller, introduced her cabinet members to the meeting and expressed the hope that every girl in the College would join the Y. W. C. A. and take an active part in the work of the term.

Notice!

All students expecting to receive degrees, diplomas, permanent certificates under the old law, or permanent first elementary and four year high school certificates under the new law upon the completion of second year of college work or sophomore year, must be in room five, Main building, at five o'clock Friday afternoon June nineteenth.

BAND GIVES MUNDEN IVORY BATON

Band director, H. G. Munden, of the T. N. G. held a 14th birthday party for the band. The party was down town early Wed. morning telling his friends of the good fortune that came to him Tuesday night when the T. N. G. boys presented him with an exquisite ivory baton, mounted in sterling silver. This is appreciation of his excellent service as band director. Paul James made the presentation speech.

Tuesday night was regular drill night. Things proceeded as usual as all near the close of the drill period when Paul James asked for recognition. Granting the request, without a breath of suspicion as to what was coming, "Mr. Paul James" always has something of interest to say to the boys at every drill. Director Munden turned to arranging his music for the next number but soon came up, facing forward like a startled deer surprised in words, when it started upon him that James was directing his talk to him, the director. In a very few presentation speeches which soon had tears glistening in Munden's eyes, James presently drew from beneath a coat sleeve the beautiful, slender baton leather case which held the ivory baton. This is presented to the director to the accompaniment of cheers from the band boys. Munden's acceptance speech is said to have been one of those "face to face, heart to heart, laying all the cards on the table face up" kind of speeches too sacred for the curious stare of the public.

The baton is perhaps the finest ever brought to this city and those privileged to see it this morning were impressed almost as much with the straightness of the recipient, who was affluently with enthusiasm and appreciation, as they were with the handsome gift itself.

In speaking of last night's event, Director Munden was brought abruptly to attention by the slow measured tones of James when it became evident "was springing a surprise on the band director. Munden said cautiously, "Did you, you could have knocked me down with a feather—I didn't know what was coming, but when I didn't dream of a thing like this and now, I fear I will be unable to use it for the dread of dropping it and hurting it."

Prefessor Munden has been band director in Commerce for the past twelve years. During that time he has trained dozens of musicians who are now making good. The College band under his direction is one of the best in this section of the state. The T. N. G. Band has gained enviable recognition for itself. Recently Munden accepted the additional responsibility of directing the band at Cooper and will assume this relation at once.

MAIN STREET

Where Style Is Supreme

Can You Imagine—

A man being bigger than Otto Bradford, when driving his little Ford truck?

Don Patrick wanting to town?

Sam Carson being a flapper?

Henry Scarborough being an athletic dancer?

Robert Kyle being a snob?

Hill Brooks being fuzzy?

Sam Bryant walking slow?

Katherine Draper talking fast?

Jewel Davis without a supply of paint?

No Girls Allowed

Recently in a down-town barber shop where no girls were present the men were discussing, pro and con, the subject of no girls. The barbers were for the girls and said they believed that the girls should do as they pleased with their hair. After a few minutes a well known and highly respected unmarried college professor crossed his legs, took a long draw at his pipe, and said rather slowly and thoughtfully, "I have an objection to girls cutting their hair if they want too, but I do with someone would put up a girl's barber shop or else put up one for men alone. I intend to enjoy cutting around a barber shop and talk to the corner and coars, but I can't say more since half the chairs are always occupied by some College flapper. I've almost decided to put in a barber shop here, have it for men only and put up a sign which reads, 'No Girls Allowed.' As he finished his eloquent speech on men's rights he began sniffing at his pipe again in a self-satisfied sort of way and seemed to enjoy life very much at the present. Commerce has no such sign and we are expecting the professor will carry out his plan or if the men of Commerce will continue to gossip at the drug stores.

Be Your Best

If you can't be a pine on the top of a scrub in the valley, but be the best little scrub by the side of the hill. If a bush if you can't be a tree, if you can't be a bush, be a bit of the grass. Grow highway to happier make. If you can't be a muskie then just be a bass. But the liveliest bass in the lake.

We can't all be captains, we've got to be crew. There's something for all of us here, There's a big work to do and there's a lesser to do. And the task we must do is the near. —THE DOTTED LINE

The Teacher

We have before us a beautiful poem by an unknown author. This unknown person has put the influence of the teacher into words so beautiful that we must read them on.

As teacher builded a temple. He wrought it with grace and skill. Pillars and groins and arches. All fashioned to work his will. And men said as they saw its beauty it will never decay. Great is thy skill, O builder. Thy fame shall endure for aye.

A teacher builded a temple. With loving and infinite care. Planning each arch with perfection. Laying each stone with prayer. None praised his unceasing effort. None knew of his wondrous plan. For the temple the teacher builded. Was a child's immortal soul.

None is the builder's temple. Crumbled into the dust. Few live each stately pillar. Food for consuming rust. But the temple the teacher builded. Will last while the ages roll. For that beautiful unseen temple. Was a child's immortal soul.

PRES. WHITLEY GOES TO AUSTIN

President Whitley spent the latter part of the past week in Austin where he attended a meeting of the Board of Regents and the heads of the various teachers' colleges. Mr. Whitley is well pleased with the prospects for the coming year and looks forward to the greatest regular annual institution has ever known for the coming year.

Gems of Ignorance

Women are the Food deers, you have to slam 'em to shut them up.

The flapper expression, "smooth as a marble slip," is to be replaced by a more fitting one, "brasier than buck skin."

The old-timer who called for his beer at the bar has a son who also drinks from the village drug store on week days and tops off the sabbath with a swill from the neighborhood bootlegger.

Most married men define an ideal wife, as one you never get. A friend is a fellow who borrows your rate coat during a downpour; returns it during a dry spell, borrows your umbrella in the spring keeps it all summer and returns it at the beginning of football season without any apologies.

A girl is your friend one day, your sweetheart a year and your sparring partner from marriage until death.

A jolly bean is a cross between a fumbler and two pairs of trousers.

Home is where we change our clothes, wash the car and shave.

Modern geography should teach strange locations as well as all the modern man carries out, geographically speaking.

Printers is a profession, as "the ad" making an impression upon a surface; any process, on which basis some of the flappers we know have old How's printing press beat by miles for lasting impressions of the two-color type.

Some of the modernist think heaven is a new car and plenty of gas.

Ignorance is like crocodile paint easily detected and hard to destroy.

The training must be done by some of the so-called younger set could easily be applied with a cynical slight.

No man is afraid of that which he is well acquainted, fears are based upon lack of confidence or ignorance. The man who made the statement!

That "nature balances all things," hadn't noticed the poor wretched peasant man who had married a three hundred pound wife.

Jokes

Radio Fan: "I got Japan on my radio last night."

Skeptic: "Quotidian kidding."

Radio Fan: "No kidding, but I scraped it off and put vanilla on instead."—Army and Navy Journal.

Pat was forced to share his bedroom with a negro. During the night his friends blacked his face. Next morning after being awakened by the landlady, he looked into the mirror, and exclaimed, "Bismillah, an she's called the wrong man."

Los Angeles, Calif. Davies.

Miller: "Hello, Carl, did you hear about the new attachment on the auto my dad bought?"

Carl: "No."

Miller: "Well, when a green light appears you are going twenty-five miles an hour; when you are going fifty and red light appears, and when you are going 115 miles an hour a music box plays 'Swear My Dad to This.'"

3,112 Take Course At Denton Colleges

Three thousand, one hundred and twelve students are now attending the College of Industrial Arts and the North Texas State Teachers College in Denton, according to college authorities.

The Teachers College has enrolled 1,211 and the C. I. A. about 900. Students will continue to enroll for several days yet, for the first six weeks' term of both summer schools, and quite a number of others will be here for the second six weeks' term.
