Committees to Care for Entertainment of Students Have Been Appointed

The Student Council has inaugurated plans and has begun making arrangements for the "Halloween" All College Party to be held on the campus next Wednesday night, according to Buford Williams, President of the Student Council.

According to announcement being out from the party to be a progressive affair, it will be held in the Gymnasium with plenty of excitement on the part of the students.

Mr. Johnson, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, has announced that there will be a vaudeville show and carnival in the gym, ten o'clock having been prepared in connection with the party, to be followed by Mr. Johnson will definitely realize that this affair will be well worth seeing. "We plan to make this the finest 'Halloween Party,'" declared Roy.

Although the event will not be strictly a "Halloween" affair, even the name is requested to wear a mask, and those who have costume should appear in them, to help give the night its proper atmosphere.

Admission will be ten cents, to help cover expenses of the party.

At present about fifty people are working on the plans that have been set down, including arrangements for entertainment, refreshments, decorations and advertisement. "These people are putting forth a real and earnest effort to make the party a success. The work is being directed by chairman of the committee, who are as follows: Roy Johnson, Entertainment; Hal Adams, refreshments; Ed Myrick, advertising; Robert Whittington, decorations.

The Halloween All College Party, something of a tradition with E. T., usually turns out to be an affair that is always remembered by the students. Everyone is requested to be present, in masks.

ROBERT W. WHITLEY WORKING ON PH.D. IN NEW YORK U.

Mr. Robert L. Whitley is in New York University this year where he is working on his Ph. D. degree. Mr. Whitley received a scholarship from New York University made possible by the Department of Commerce in that institution. There were seven scholarships awarded to the University to research work in the field of Sociology.

Relative to the work which these young men will do, Whitley states that E. Brown, of the University said "The $30,000 gift which made the fellowship possible by the Dept. of Commerce was contrived last year by the Bureau of Social Hygiene of New York, which of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. is president and Lawrence B. Dunsen is executive director of the Bureau are John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Colonel Arthur Wood, Raymond B. Foulke, Westrop W. Africh and John D. Rockefeller, Jr."

These fellowships are being given for the first time, and are available for a three-year period to senior and graduate students who are interested in participating in this study and in receiving a degree in the field of educational sociology. The appointments are made for one year only with the anticipation of renewing appointments to successful candidates who show ability in this type of research. Selection was made on the basis of the applicant's record in academic work or research and recommendations presented from competent sources. The stipend of $1,600 for the eight tuition scholarships was contrived by the College of Education of the University.

The New York Times in a recent issue has this to say relative to Mr. Whitley: "Robert L. Whitley, A. B. in Education, Texas State Teachers College, A. M. in sociology; Texas State University, Biological training; Southwestern Texas State Teachers College, Sam Maroon."

RAMBLERS PLAY IN CHAPEL THURSDAY

Through the courtesy of Charles Hinton, at Greenville, the Ramblers Orchestra of Greenville presented a most entertaining program in chapel Thursday morning.

The program opened with E. T. song and the student body of the University, who are very enthusiastic reception of the piece. Then followed a number of pieces which they played with the ready with their applause to the very end of the program.

Girl suggestions for all occasions: The Pergola.

The newest one about the absent-minded professor: he thanked his wife and kissed the dog.

WHITLEY RETURNS FROM DEDICATION AT CANYON

President S. H. Whitley has returned from Canyon where he attended the dedication exercises for the West Texas State Teachers College. The program was rounded Friday and Saturday, October 19th and 20th. The Education Building dedicated 1920 be used for the training school of the Teachers College.

Relative to the "new" building, the exercises dedicating it, President Whitley upon his return, said: "The West Texas State Teachers College and the officials of that institution are to be congratulated on the completion of such an excellent education building to be used for training school purposes. It is one of the most complete training school buildings to be found anywhere in the United States. In fact, it is probably the finest building of its kind in the United States that is built especially for training school purposes."

These buildings were erected at Springfield, Missouri, some years ago and the other at Ypalliti, Michigan.

"The building at Canyon is considered upon what is known as the unit plan of training school work. This plan means that each grade in

E. T. WARRIORS READY TO GIVE WEST TEXANS DECISIVE THRASHING

LINEUP USED AGAINST A. C. C. WILL, LIKELY RESPOND TO FIRST WHISTLE TODAY

By E. T. Sports Representative

Evening gridiron warriors will be in the "E" lineup when the referee signals for the kickoff between the Buffs and the Lions of Beas to open Saturday afternoon on the College lot.

The Buff Texans are extremely desirous of administering the "well-known Commerce branding iron" to the hides of the Canyonites and send their back west robbing and growling from electric lightning. The Lions are nursing a heavy grudge against Western football combinations in general, due to the fact that they were thrashed by the Abilene Christian College Wildcats last Saturday afternoon by a score of 17 to 5. The Lions and Christians meet no more until 1925, so the "E" boys have decided that the best they can do in a revengeful manner is to kick the Abilene club's closest conference neighbor around the block.

There is a full roster galloping around the T. I. A. race track to the effect that the Commerce team has nothing but an overhead attack. It is true the Commerce game is resorted almost entirely to "forward passing" in the Christian encounter, but they had a sound reason for doing so. The game was played on a field of loose dirt and line players would have not been able to advance. Besides being unfertile, one section of the grid could have easily passed for a "hog wallow."

More than likely the same lineup will be entered against the Buffaloes that lifted the contest against the A. C. C. club, in Abilene last week. Gardner, will play a double role in the skirmish. He will officiate as signal announcer, and also perform in the punting department. Myrick and Hodges are favored to start at halves, with "Spence" Regland filling in at full. Dunaway and Wright can easily handle the outer positions, while J. M. Johnson, Ford, Scarborough, and B. Smith can be counted upon to complete the interior section of the forward wall. "Big Foster" will serve as the center cog in the Abilene-Commerce match and with the Buffs' attack at half back, mentioned above surrounding him the Commerce line should be almost immune from enemy thrusts and punctures. Fifty of reserve material can be had if needed and it might be well to mention that Coach Acker has reserved members of his class "A" variety, for inclusion in the Christian encounter, but "Signals" Slade, "Coke" Tompkins, and many others.

PICNIC ENJOYED BY A. B. C. CLUB SENIOR CLASS

The Agricultural Boosters Club were entertained by a picnic Tuesday evening at the City Park. About 150 agricultural students met on the campus at 6:00 and from there went to the picnic grounds, where an excellent supper of wafers, hush-baby, fruit, marshmallows, and hot java was had. After supper games were had that drove off the chill of a cool night. Later Raymond Dale and Jewel Kenimer were called upon to tell of their trip to Florida last summer, which they did in a very interesting manner, having been warned up to the subject by a great bon-fire that had been built. After a most enjoyable evening, the picnickers returned home, thanked Mr. Rix, the Club sponsor, for affording them such an entertaining evening.

RAYMOND MATTHELY RECEIVES BURNER NOSE IN SCRIMMAGE

Raymond Matthey, one of the "E" team's most promising line-men, received a broken nose in his scrimmage Monday afternoon. Raymond was playing at center when he plunged through and somehow got the injury.

He is doing very well and will possibly be back in action within a few days.

CHOOSING RINGS

The rings which have been chosen by the Senior Class of 1923 are true to the tradition of the school, having been adopted some six or eight years ago by the Student Council and Senior Class. At the time the rings were chosen, it was expressed that the succeeding classes would continue to adopt the same ring. In order that the "E" T. student might be identified with a consistency or attempt at deviation have been adopted the opposition of E. T. alumni of the school, who feel that something of the tradition of the college is lost when a change is made.

The rings have for design the wealth characteristic of the Texas Seal, the initials of the College, initials of degree received and the initials of the institution. The initial of the owner of the ring.

This year's class is to be compared in following example of the Class of '23 in choosing the ring, which has been used by classes of the past six or eight years and which has become almost as much a part of the previous classes and school traditions as the former student's themselves.

"PLAYING WITH FIRE" GIVEN BY BUSKINS

The Buskin Club presented "Playing With Fire," a one act play by Percival Wade, Tuesday evening at 8:15 in the old auditorium.

The three characters, Nora, Madge and Phanny, were played by Lucille Marshall, Gine Erwin and Mildred Erwin. Each character was well portrayed. Miss Mildred Erwin taking the part of the boy, Danny.

The next play to be presented by the Club will be "Poor Madeline." Farette will be played by Miss Dickson, Perrot by Valerie Davis, and Bum Booby by Olive Erwin.

Those interested are again invited to the meetings of the Club.

DRIMORTY GIRLS PRESENT NOVEL CHELSEA PROGRAM

Mary Kemington, co-chairman, presented a very interesting program in chapel Tuesday morning. The program was a revelation of dramatics. It was a novel, realistic, but somewhat austere, being presented as it was, by dramatic girls.

"Farette" will be played by Miss Dickson, Perrot by Valerie Davis, and Bum Booby by Olive Erwin.

Those interested are again invited to the meetings of the Club.

Notice Baptists

Beginning Wednesday night, October 31, the Prayer Meeting Service will be devoted to 500-lectures, delivered by a party pastor, Rev. J. R. Hickerson.

Attendance at these lectures will be rewarded by B. Y. T. diplomas sent. Besides the fact that these lessons will be of great cultural benefit, they will also fray our study course weakness in our B. Y. T. reports.

These lectures may be cancelled, even in taking advantage of this opportunity to better inform yourselves regard to your church doctrine.

A special section is reserved for students, and our goal is 200. Come and hear your friend.

Correction

In last week's East Texan the score for the game with A. C. C. was given as 14-7. This was a mistake, and the East Texan takes this opportunity to correct it. The score was not 14-7, but 14-0. We are sorry our readers' pardon for this error.

YES?

Is the campus a place wholly surrounded by students who believe that the boundary of the athletic field is the end of the world? Has this narrow span taken its permanent set in college? For too many people complain that their worthy son or daughter cannot see beyond the confines of the college world upon graduation. True, the transition from college to the work a day world is great, but it is the fault of the student himself.

Upon spending four years in a college, does this change the man or woman to look at the world through a pair of mirror eyes that cannot see the outside? There is a great opportunity for the student to allow himself to think in terms of college and not in nation-wide status. Perhaps this is the fault of the education system. But it is a bit too true to be pleasant.

The adage goes, that there is no such thing as a free lunch on young shoulders. But such this statement be wrong? If the present-day scholars were taught to take this attitude by the curriculum of the modern college then it is time that the curriculum of the colleges be changed.

But if it is the fault of the student, then it is time that the student be given a chance to get out and see a bit of the world. For requirements of entrance for a school of college there should be a standard that the man who is to take a certain course prove that he has had one to three years' experience in that line of work in the outer world. Then the aspirant to a degree will have a broader view on life for which he is preparing himself. It will have a better idea of what he needs and then will apply himself to the courses which are pertinent to his work.

The trend of colleges is slowly and surely working its way to this end and some day this plan will take the place of modern-day standard of education. For the main purpose of education is to teach and not to idealize.—The Oredigger.

HONESTY A THING OF THE PAST?

The attention of the Editor has been called to an incident that took place in the College recently, that, while insignificant on the surface, is generally indicative of the attitude of the student body, at least in part, must have. A boy found a purse on the campus with a considerable amount of money in it. It would have been very easy for him to have taken the money out, thrown the purse away, and never have said anything about it. Evidently, he would have been better off. But he did not do this. Instead, he delivered the purse to Dean Wray's office, where it was recovered by the owner.

We are reminded here of Shakespeare's delectable lines: "He who steals my purse steals trash." We cannot agree literally with the Bard of Avon in this, his philosophy, leaving to count our pennies as money of us, but going on with the observation, and finding the price takes that which enriches him not." If he takes another person's good money, it may be seen that a person may destroy his own name as well as another's, thus making himself poor indeed. A good name, as well as a well filled purse, is always convenient and quite desirable. Sometimes it seems that not everybody can succeed in being possessor of both.

All of which lends up to the very true but very true observation that HONESTY IS A NECESSARY FACTOR IN SOUNDNESS. MANY INFESTIONS MUST BE COMBATED BY AN HONEST BASIS AND CONSEQUENTLY A SOUND ONE. The fact that honesty and right attitude exists with the student body has been demonstrated by this one individual.

There is nothing praiseworthy about fairness.

THE AIR OF PERSPECTIVE.

If you are getting "late" and think you are about the most wonderful person who ever lived, take an airplane ride. Perhaps your father owns the whole town of Squashville and you, his only son, will inherit all that money, and property and prestige. But anyway take an airplane ride. Profans that will also add to your egoism and connect as you feel the people looking at you as you soar away and leave the ground. Then when you are far above the earth and the fields and fit the squares on a massive checkboard, you are in position to forget your importance and all the land you own and all of the importance you attach to the right of heir of Squashville.

The boys are but tiny dots with arrows and acres of fields and timberland. Man has done but little on the whole scene as yet. The country, the natural form, the gullies, the hills are yet the works of someone higher than man and no man, even the son of Squashville, deserves credit for it. From the air you get the correct perspective. You realize what a tiny part of the whole scheme one man is and how much depends on the natural resources rather than on his own creations. Has he created anything, after all?

When you walk along the street, like the tiny dot on the earth that you appear when others see you from a plane, you are prone to look at the buildings yonover, or the car you possess and because other men on the ground with you seem to

Tossers Of The Spherical Pill Have Begun Night Training

The call for basketball practice was made about two weeks ago. Practice has started a little early in this order that the team may be in good shape when the season opens.

The boys will work under a slight handicap this year because of the new raising in the T. A. A., which makes freshmen ineligible for college sports. However, other T. A. A. teams will be handicapped as much as the Lion team. The ruling will go into effect January 1, 1933.

There are about twenty men out for positions on the basketball squad. In the number are several old letter men: Angelo Cruce, James P. Gardner, Buford Williams, Gordon Smith, Russel Duncan, and Wesley Wright. Duncan was not in school last year but had lettered in years previous. Wright has not yet reported for practice, but will be ready to go when the season opens. Several men from last year's squad are back again to add their strength to the team. These players are: McKinnin, Brook, Carr, Boy, and Pounds.

Parker, a former training school player is showing up well and will probably see lots of action this year. The squad is working on an average of two nights a week. Fundamentals are being stressed now, and more points being added at each practice.

Prospects for a winning club this year seem good, with five letter men back and several new ones, some promising new material that is showing up well. The freshman rating will doubtless hurt the team some, but even at that the Lions will not be as badly crippled as some of the other T. A. A. teams.

At present the work is lighter than it will be when football season is over. Several of the boys from the football squad are working out for the basketball team, and consequently the workouts are rather light.

WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB REORGANIZED

A group of geography students met on Thursday afternoon, October 9, 1932, for the purpose of reorganizing the World Affairs Club. Mr. Cates was elected temporary chairman, and Ola Williams Secretary. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution. It was decided that the members should be selected by the executive committee.

On Thursday, October 18, 1932, the Club met and adopted the constitution. The following officers were elected: President—E. W. Wright; Vice-President—Hubert Leslie; Secretary—Ola Williams; Corresponding Secretary and Reporter—R. M. Heaster; Mrs. T. T. Branin is the faculty sponsor.

Members of the executive committee are Miss Howell and Fred Covin. The purpose of the World Affairs Club is to study questions of international relations for developing world citizenship. The Club is very enthusiastic about the work and with interesting problems always at hand intends to be one of the liveliest organizations on the campus.

Junior-Senior League

One of the most delicate affairs of the season was the picnic given by the Junior Class in honor of the Senior Class Tuesday evening.

In spite of the fact that there had been some talk, the spirit of the crowd was not dampened, and the party went to the gymnasium. Here Katherine Eskand entertained with several popular numbers on the piano.

The real fun began when Mary Powers suggested a game of "crans questions and crooked answers." Following the game lunch was served piggy-wiggy style, if you know what that is. Although Mr. Duck had declared that he was on a diet, there was not much to eat left when he finished.

The Seniors thanked the Juniors for this most enjoyable affair.

1st voice on phone: This is Jack. Do you love me, Peg?
2nd voice ditto: Of course I do, dear.

1st voice: You two—time; this is not Jack, it's Paul.
2nd voice: You double croaker! This is not Peg, it's Mary.

acquiesce to the idea that you are important, you decide that you have done a lot in this old world.

But alimb into a plane and soar up and up until the earth stretches away beneath you like the sea. And then try to pick up the holdings of the heir of Squashville, and should you find them, and you are not too much of an egoist, you will wonder at the small amount of space they cover.

And when more and more people fall flying as a matter of fact and see 50 miles at a single glance instead of a few blocks and begin thinking of greater scenes and enlarge their pleasure trips to hundreds of miles where they now number in tens, perhaps they may broaden their thinking accordingly and diminish the number of gossip, hovers, egoists, and products.—Daily Texan

WHITLEY RETURNS FROM EDUCATION AT CANYON

The training school has a part of the building set aside exclusively for its use. This consists in general of a class room, a work room, a teacher's office, a store room, a lavatory in each unit up through the fourth grade. The building at Canyon is constructed upon this plan so that each grade, especially in the primary section, occupies its quarters all day without any interference from any other grade or group of people.
The building in three stories high is constructed of reinforced concrete and with a gray hueders stone finish. In addition to class rooms for all the grades from the kindergarten through the high school, the building has in it an auditorium that will seat five or six hundred people, a gymnasium sufficient to take care of the needs of the training school, a library room for both elementary and high school students, and rooms to be used for boys' and girls' social work.

The program was one of the strongest rendered at any Teachers College in the history of the State. Prominent educators both in the State and out of it took part in the program. Among the distinguished educators of the State who were invited President P. W. Horn, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas; President J. M. Hubbard, College of Industrial Arts, Denton, Texas; President T. O. Watson, Agricultural College, Mesquite, Texas; President H. Y. Benedict, University of Texas, Austin; President R. L. Marquis, Teachers College, Denton, Texas; President H. W. Morlock, Teachers College, Abilene; President R. Cousins, Teachers College, Ingallsville, Mr. Homer B. Wade, Manager, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Mr. A. P. Bourland, President, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. J. J. Hughes, Director of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, who is now President of the Texas State Teachers Association. Governor Moody, as well as Doctor Bruce R. Payne, of Peabody, and Doctor J. O. Standifer, of Simmons University, found it impossible to be present.

"The out of State educators taking part in the program were President W. P. Morgan, Teachers College, Macomb, Illinois, and Doctor John W. Withers, Dean of the School of Education of New York University. The addresses of Doctors Morgan and Withers were able and very interesting. Doctor Morgan discussed the place of the Training School in the Teachers College and the sum and substance of his address was that no college should undertake to train teachers that is not provided with an efficient and complete training school. Doctor Withers spoke on the place of the Teachers College in the system of American education. He showed very clearly that if we are to have a sane, safe, and democratic government in which people will have normal reactions in intellectual efforts, moral efforts, and spiritual efforts, we must have the services of efficiently trained teachers.
"Ten members of the Board of Regents spoke at the dedication exercises. Mr. J. O. Guilke, of Amarillo, spoke on the value of the West Texas State Teachers College, and only to West Texas, but to the entire State and Nation as well, and emphasized the importance of efficient teacher training. Mr. Henry Pauline, of Yukon, Texas, reviewed the history of the establishment of the institutions at Canyon. He highlighted some landmarks of progress that the institution has made since the establishment from 1910 up to the present time.
"President Hull is to be congratulated," concluded resident Whitley, "upon the realization of this most excellent program."

BIG WEINER ROAST

A lively bunch of Juniors and Seniors assembled in front of the Education Building Tuesday afternoon and prepared for a picnic. When the picnic ground, John Knight's pasture, was reached, the crowd set about preparing a big bonfire.
"Flock" time demonstrated the art of bull-fighting when those animals ventured to close. He threw three apples at them. The crowd, led by Mr. Wilson and E. W. Duch, engaged in some childlike games. After several pounds of weiners were laid out, the party started back toward home, food were hot happy.

"JUST A LITTLE BETTER SERVICE"

"I want you to sing for me in Dallas," said Arthur Stone, popular radio announcer. "What are your terms?"
Roy Johnson named his fee for a series of concerts, a colossal sum. The announcer gasped "Why that's more than we pay the president!" he exclaimed.
"Well, you don't you get the president to sing for you?" was the ready answer.

She: I believe that a dog knows more than a horse.
He: I don't.
She: Well, I wouldn't be bragging about it.
The Optimist.
Fowler Blahk: When ever I get to feeling good, always break into it.
Dale Deaher: If you'd meet the dog, you wouldn't have to break in.

"THE STORE THAT EXCELS"

Education Department

If H. J. Fling, L. L. R. M. A., head of the Education Department in E. T., began his career as a teacher at the age of 15, in a one-room schoolhouse in the mountains of West Virginia. The place was called "Widened."

Later he read an advertisement in the newspaper to the effect that there was offering a scholarship examination. He took the examination and won the scholarship.

From Peabody he came to Cookeville, Texas as a teacher in the city schools, and while there he organized an independent preparatory college for the benefit of the boys and girls in that community.

However, the advantages of the institution were such that the number of boarding students soon grew to 60. Since then he has taught for nine years in high schools ten years in summer normals, and has been Professor of Education in E. T. for the past 14 years.

He took his L. I. Degree from Peabody College in 1895; B. S. from the University of Nashville, in 1896; M. S. from Peabody in 1909, M. A. in 1910, and has done one year of graduate work in S. M. U.

E. H. Watson, B. A., M. A., has been connected with E. T. since 1921, at which time he was elected Professor of Education.

He began teaching in Cherokee county in a one-teacher school. He taught there for two years, and went to Jacksonville, where he taught Latin in the High School. He was also connected with the Alexander College at that time, as an instructor in Latin.

After leaving Jacksonville, he came to Hunt county, and taught for 12 years in various high schools. He was elected Education Professor in E. T. in 1921, and was made Director of the Training School in 1923. He graduated from the Alexander College in 1906, received his B. A. from E. T. in 1906, and received his M. A. from S. M. U., in 1928.

Arthur C. Ferguson, B. A., M. A., Dean of the Faculty, taught his first school in Erath county, near Stephenville, Texas. He was superintendent, teacher and janitor. He taught there for two years, and entered the academy at Stephenville as principal, in which office he served for four years.

Upon leaving the Academy, he entered State University as a student, went to Temple, as head of the English department, where he served for two years.

He was elected Principal of the Martin High School, and three years later was made Superintendent. He served as Superintendent there for twelve years before coming to E. T. as an instructor in Education. Four years ago he was made Dean of the Faculty of this institution.

Mr. Ferguson is co-author of a number of books, among them: "Merkeley and Ferguson, Composition and Rhetoric," "Language Services," published in 1918; and "Spelling Series," published in 1923. He received his B. A. from State University in 1907, and his M. A., ibid., in 1908.

Miss Anne Workman received her A. B. degree in Whitworth, S. C., later attending Columbia. Teacher's College, N. Y. She received her M. A. degree from George Peabody, Nashville, Tenn.

For several years she was rural supervisor in Wake County, N. C. After that she took the position of City Supervisor in Roanoke Rapids, N. C. She taught for two years in the demonstration school at Peabody and later became Principal of the Training School in Archdale, Calhoun Co. She has taught in the University of North Carolina and in Texas Christian University.

For three years Miss Workman has been Supervisor in the Training School at E. T.

Miss Marian Phillips has for the last nine years been Supervisor in the Training School here in E. T. She received her A. B. degree at George Peabody College. Later she received her M. A. from Nashville Teachers College. Miss Phillips taught several years in the public schools at Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Vera English received her A. B. degree from Mayo College with the class of 1919, which class was the second to leave Mayo College.

She later received her M. A. degree from Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee. For two years she served as Supervisor of Rural Teachers in Nashville. With the exception of various leaves of absence, Miss English has taught in E. T. at C. T. C. since 1917. At present she is doing work on her Ph. D. in the Extension Department of Southern Methodist University.

Mrs. Etha Carroll Wright attended Peabody Teachers' College where she received her A. B. degree in 1917 and her M. A. degree in 1918 while doing her work in Peabody. She taught English in the demonstration school. Mrs. Wright had also had considerable experience in public school work, having taught six years in Breakham High School, acting as Principal part of that time.

In 1918 Mrs. Wright accepted a position as English instructor in the Mississippi College for Women, where she also acted as dean. In 1920 Mrs. Wright came to E. T., where she has been teaching in the Education Department for the last five years.

He: Fifty miles per hour! Are you sure?
She: (swallowing pounds of dust). Yes, dear. I'm just full of spirit.
