Miss Lutz Enplanes Today for France

Miss Eustalia Lutz, french department head, in company with her mother, Mrs. H. C. Lutz, flew from Love Field at Dallas today on the first lap of a trip to Paris, France.

They will meet Misses Josephine Garza and Mary Jo Bell, French students, in New York this afternoon and together the party will leave Idlewild Airport on the second lap of a Parisian study and holiday.

Students left Monday leaving Commerce Monday by bus the two young ladies reached New York City Wednesday. Fred Tarpley, former editor of the East Texan, who is on vacation in New York, met the travelers Thursday and undertook to show them the sights including a trip to the Statue of Liberty.

Miss Lutz said they would reach Amsterdam, Holland 9 a.m. Saturday morning, and would spend the day with friends of hers, who will direct their sight seeing while there.

Final flight will be Sunday when they leave Amsterdam for Paris.

Misses Garza and Bell will attend classes at the Sorbonne for four or five weeks. Miss Lutz plans on some study although she says her mother's main interest is to attend the fashion shows, and she will be with her.

Meet In Paris
A reunion with former East Texas State students and a fellow member of the faculty will highlight the Paris trip.

Gene Edwards, a ministerial student in Switzerland, Robert Jones and William Bowen, with the U.S. Army in Germany, and Miss Gertrude Wurmack, head department of physical education for women, plan on meeting them.

Miss Wurmack will go to Paris after attending a Scottish workshop for coaches, leaders and teachers in health education to be held in Edinburgh July 19 to August 2.

Due to a happy coincidence, Miss Lutz said she and Miss Wurmack found they had reservations at Paris hotels "just around the corner from one another."

Oil, Chemical Co. Look for Workers

Joe Kelly, employed by Pan-Am Petroleum company at Texas City, and Fred Rolater, with Victor Chemistry company at Mt. Pleasant, Tennessee, were visitors on the campus last week. They both were looking for chemistry graduates for their companies, stated Dr. L. D. Parsons, head of the chemistry department.

Both Kelly and Rolater are graduates of East Texas State.

Pope Selected Judge

Curtis L. Pope, instructor in speech, will be judge of the queen of watermelons at Naples. The event will be held next Saturday.

Navy Announces Regulation Change About Personnel

Certain naval officers who have been released to inactive duty since June 25, 1950 may re-assign. Announcement was made by Navy Personnel, Washington.

Officers eligible are those 35 or over, who performed active duty (including enlisted service) of 90 days or more between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 3, 1945, who have subsequently maintained continuous membership in the naval reserve and have been released to inactive duty since June 25, 1950.

However, time served in government-sponsored training and educational programs may not be counted to fulfill the active duty requirement.

At the same time, the Navy announced that regular or reserve personnel, officer or enlisted, released or discharged from active duty since June 25, 1950, who become members of the organized reserve, shall not again be ordered to active duty involuntarily except in time of war or a national emergency hereafter declared by Congress.

English Conferences Slated for Early Fall

State-wide plans for the fall English workshop-conferences are being announced by Dr. Margaret Lee Wiley, professor of English.

As chairman of the Texas State Joint Committee on the Integration of the Teaching of English, High School and College, Dr. Wiley is general director of the conferences.

Sponsored jointly by the Texas State Teachers Association and the Conference of College Teachers of English, the English workshop-conferences will be held in the eleven TSTA districts early in the fall. The subject for the meetings will be "The Teaching of Grammar and Composition at Elementary, Secondary and College Levels."

Subjects listed for discussion include teacher-devised tests, a definition of functional grammar, the relationship of grammar to punctuation and the correlation between a knowledge of formal grammar and usage.

Teachers in the schools are being asked to come prepared to participate in the discussions at their district meetings.

Registration Schedule Released by Registrar

E.T. Students Get Air Base Principles

ROTC cadets from E.T. have been busy learning just how an air base operates. While doing their month of summer camp at Biggs air force base, Texas, several cadets have done outstanding work.

Dee Wheatley III, senior of Commerce, served as group adjutant during the first week of camp. The group is made up of two squadrons and six flights.

John Walker of Breckenridge served as cadet commanding officer of Squadron B the first week, and Garland P. Smith served as flight leader of Flight Five.

Robert F. Ault, transfer student, from Henderson State Teachers college, Ark. was flight sergeant of Flight I. Ault took part on a national broadcast from Biggs air force base recently. On the program he helped explain purpose of the summer encampment and its operation.

Serving as adjutant for Squadron B was J. K. Woodall.

team and ROTC band the past year and taught courses in general technical air science. He has been assigned to the ROTC unit here the past year.

All in a Day's Work

The Industrial Education department has just turned out two stock trailers. Either would be the envy of any manufacturer of farm equipment.

Made from second hand automobile running gears they are capable of hauling up to eight mature cattle each but are evenly balanced they can be handled with ease.

Book Collection Villed Library

A collection of books and pamphlets from the library of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lutz has been donated to the East Texas State college library. Lutz was professor of chemistry and Mrs. Lutz once served as dean of women at East Texas State.

Left through the will of Mrs. Lutz, the collection includes 311 books of 287 different titles and is composed chiefly of chemistry,

Registration for the second six-weeks will begin Tuesday at 8 p.m. Students may register for only two courses each six-week term, plus one activity course in physical education and either basic ROTC or one-half semester hour course in music.

Those who are planning to graduate during the summer who need a maximum of fifteen semester hours may enroll for an extra three-semester hour class during one six-week term. If they have at least a B grade average.

Following Monday's orientation for new students, the registration schedule is as follows:

8:00-8:10	Fresh and Soph.	A through L
8:10-9:00	Fresh and Soph.	M through Z
9:00-9:10	Juniors and Seniors	A through Z
9:10-10:00	Juniors and Seniors	M through Z
10:10-10:20	Graduates	D through Z
10:20-10:30	Graduates	A through Z
11:00-1:00	Graduates	A through Z

Classes will begin Wednesday and the following Friday will be the last day to change schedules for the second term.

E.T. Journalists Edit Bonham Daily

Nine East Texas State college journalism students spent Wednesday editing the Bonham Daily Favorite.

A staff members of the newspaper, students chased local papers, visited city and county officials for interviews, wrote stories and headlines, read copy and proofs and had charge of the layout for the daily edition.

One of the assignments included a personal interview with Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and coverage of the talk in which the Congressman opened his campaign for re-election.

During the day Jim Lloyd, editor of The East Texas State newspaper over the radio station operated in conjunction with the Daily Favorite.

Making the trip were Ann King, Jan King, Mrs. Eva Thomas, Mildred Juniger, Imogene Scogin, Sue Russell, Charles Scott, Lloyd, Guy Horton and C. Rick. Mr. King, instructor in Journalism.

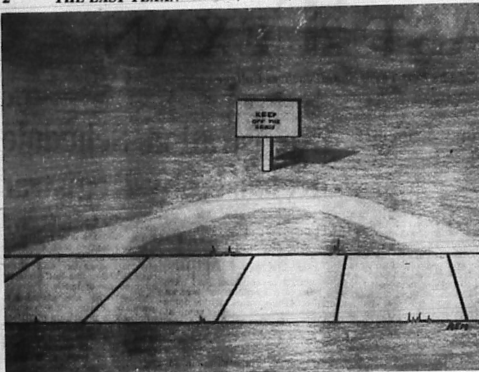

A similar project was handled by students last year.

Pres. Gee Tours Air ROTC Camps

Dr. James G. Gee, president of the college, returned yesterday from a tour of three air force bases where cadets of the ETSOTC ROTC are camped.

On his tour Dr. Gee visited cadets at Luke Air Force base, Phoenix, Ariz.; Biggs Air Force base, El Paso, and Williams Air Force base, Chandler, Ariz.

Minor Illnesses Send Students to Hospital

Summer school students have kept the college hospital crowded this term, Dr. C. G. Allen, college physician, said Wednesday. A majority of the patients have been treated for respiratory and ear infections; a few for pneumonia.

Women receiving treatment outnumber men 10 to 1. In the long term the ratio is 2 to 1, the physician added.

Dr. Allen attributes the large number of patients to the fact that many summer students taught the past year and entered school this term tired and, in some cases, exhausted.

Free Services Given
If "tired" students had consulted the physician upon entering college, irregularities such as low or high blood pressure, malaria or anemia could have been discovered and, in most cases, corrected, Dr. Allen said. The hospital staff gives free shots for typhoid, undulant fever, paratyphoid (parrot fever), typhus and malaria and rechecks tuberculosis x-ray reports. The Wasserman test is also given free. Blood specimens are sent to the state laboratory in Austin for testing.

Equipment Modern
Equipped with a modern x-ray and fluoroscope, the hospital is prepared to take care of any emergency or first aid day or night. No charge is made for the service or for emergency surgical work. A student is entitled to 16 days of free hospitalization and medical attention.

Miss Ola Farris, registered graduate nurse, is in charge of the hospital. Assistants are Mrs. Pearl Johnson and Miss Laura Matkin, state licensed nurses.

Edmonds To Teach

Millie Edmonds, graduate assistant in the department of physical education for women, will teach swimming the second six weeks' term.

She will be in charge of the classes of Miss Gertrude War-mack, head of the department, who will study in Scotland.

What Do You Think?

Fellow Citizens: I had not intended to address you on this momentous question, and would not attempt it on his important occasion. If I did not feel the necessity of once more throwing myself in the breach to save my beloved people and myself, especially the last named individual.

I feel that my honor is imperial. I am unwilling that what little I have toiled for shall be taxed to educate other people's children. I am not willing to pay taxes that will be used to benefit anybody but myself.

I hurl it back as an insult to my manhood to say that anybody else shall pay for the education of my child.

No, fellow citizens, this pay an opposed to being taxed to educate the poor man's child, or the widow's child. If a widow have to say that he helped pay for the education of my dear boys and girls, I do not only intend that no other man shall pay for the tuition of my children, but I do not expect to pay for it myself.

No, sir, never! I may have been accused of putting up at hotels and never paying my bills; it might be justly said that I never paid the shoemaker for making my shoes; and it might even be truthfully spoken that I declined paying a poor editor for my subscription to his newspaper. But, fellow citizens, no school teacher shall hurl it into the face of my children in after years, that I ever paid one cent for tuition. I am opposed to such proceeding on principle, and I never act against my principles.

For these reasons, my fellow citizens, I am opposed to the tax. I do not intend to vote for anything that would be giving countenance to such an outrage as paying a school teacher. Let the school teacher teach without pay. A man that would not teach poor little innocent children without pay, is not worthy to be called a school teacher. That is the sort of a free school I want.

But if I vote for this tax, then they can make me pay for it; and this would be doing that in a round about way what they cannot do now, for this very tax would go to pay school teachers.

No, fellow citizens, I always vote again taxes (and I will be glad when the day comes that we can live in a free country where everything will be owned in common; when goods, groceries, tobacco, and whiskey can be had without paying for them. This taxing and debt paying is contrary to my nature.

I would not only refuse to vote for a school tax, but I would vote to abolish it. I would like to see a tax to build the Tyler Tap Narrow Gauge Railroad to Heaven, if every man in the world owned a home in heaven and these thousands of only six were had a free pass to ride on it. I

Selective Service

Q's & A's

Q—Do you think the college qualification tests have been successful on the whole?

A—Of course, we can't say the tests are solely responsible for present college deferments. Class standings and other factors are considered by local boards.

Q—How do college deferments compare with industrial and agricultural deferments?

A—In Texas, local boards currently have granted twice as many deferments to college and university than they have to farm and other civilian workers combined. And this does not include college deferments directed by statute.

Q—Are as many men taking the college qualification tests as was first anticipated?

A—On May 24, 1951, the Director of Selective Service estimated that "more than 400,000 college students" would register to take the 1950-51 tests. Actually 380,000 applied and 339,000 showed up to take them. It's interesting to note that, of these three groups, only six were thrown out for cheating.

Shirley Hanson Gets Bathing Queen Title

Shirley Hanson, junior business administration major of Commerce, was named first place winner in the bathing revue held at City natatorium July Fourth. The revue was climax of a long festivity at the city park. Miss Hanson represented the Commerce Rotary club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hanson of Commerce.

A prize of $25 went with first place honors. Prize money was given by the Chamber of Commerce.

Ruth McClellan, entry of Security State bank, took second place and a $10 award. Shirley Stollon, representing Kiwanis club, placed third and received $5. Both are commerce residents.

Judges for the contest were Jack Ehney, Leo Hackney and E. A. Newsome, all of Greenville.

Ten girls were entered in the contest.

Other feature of the day's activities were a softball tournament and a diving exhibition preceding the revue.

East Christian church of Dallas took first place prize money of $50 in the softball tournament after outlasting four teams. Dr. T. Kink's Old Folks team garnered second place honors and $35 in prize money. North Hopkins grabbed third and $25. Other teams entered were Sulphur Springs National guard and Lambert cleaners.

Diving exhibition was put on by "Chuck" Holding, Larry Lamb, and Alex Kibler.

In square dance competition, two squares divided $15 prize money. One group from Labonia and the other a mixed group from Greenville and Commerce.

Harper Smith and his band of Celina provided the music.

Jesse Hawthorne was in charge of playground activities; S. R. Scarbrough handled the bathing revue and diving exhibition; Eddie Moore arranged the softball tournament, and Dr. R. C. Cozart was chairman of the square dance committee.

Bill Rust announced the revue and exhibition.

Kappas Hear Talk On Communication

Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, met last Wednesday night in drawing room of East dormitory. Curtis L. Pope, instructor in speech, was guest speaker.

Topic of Pope's talk was the place of communications in the general education trend. This was the fourth in a series sponsored by the Kadelphians in aspects of the general education movement.

Pope is a member of the E.T. faculty committee studying the movement.

Guests included Dr. W. J. Bell, professor and head of department of communications and Dr. Jesse Hawthorne, professor of physical education. Edwin C. Strohecker, sponsor, was present.

After the meeting, pineapple sherbert punch was served.

Welfare Group Needs Workers

Charles C. Gardiner, director of the Merit System Council, Austin, announced Monday that the State Department of Public Welfare is in need of employees in clerical and professional positions and that competitive examinations have been scheduled for Aug. 26.

The director said there is a continuing demand for qualified workers for career jobs in state service and urges interested persons to make inquiry at the local office of the Welfare department.

Examinations will be offered for typist, clerk, stenographer, intake receptionist, senior child welfare worker and child welfare field supervisor.

Gardiner stated that applications may be obtained at any office of the State Department of Public Welfare or by writing the Merit System Council in Austin. The address is 510 W. 11th St., P. O. Box 671, Austin 64, Texas.

Closing date for accepting applications will be July 26.

People's Magazine Prints Pictures, Story by Teacher

A three page article by Otha C. Spencer, assistant professor of journalism, is included in the current issue of People's magazine.

Discussing "put your best face forward," the story is illustrated with three groups of photographs. Pictured are the author, his wife and Billy Bedgood, journalism graduate of 1928.

A former commercial photographer, Spencer shows how a person may have a best side to his face. Photographs by Spencer carry out this thesis.

Successful Season Marked by Murals

More than 1200 women took part in intramural sports during the long term just completed, states Miss Elizabeth Huggins, assistant professor of physical education for women.

More than 760 coeds, members of the six social club teams, took part in various sports throughout the year while the Independent teams had approximately 470 participants.

The greatest interest was placed in badminton where 324 contestants were entered.

Marjessa social club had the greatest number of entries with 170 students. Baptist Student union placed more participants in the independent league with 127.

Named head football and basketball coach is Don Short of Throckmorton, who is doing graduate work this summer. A 1924 graduate of East Texas State, Short lettered in football in 1922 and 1924.

Short will come to Commerce from Throckmorton, where he was head football and basketball coach the past two years. Prior to his going to Throckmorton, he was head coach at Burk Burnett.

Ex-Student Co-Edits Book on Comanches

A book co-authored by a former history major of E.T. has been released by the University of Oklahoma Press. "The Comanches, Lords of the South Plains" is the title of the story.

The article features a complete story of the Comanche Indians and their way of life. Written by Ernest Wallace and E. Adamson Hoebel, the account is based on studies made in the last 20 years and data gathered by French, Spanish and Anglo-Americans as far back as 1700.

The Comanches were named by the Ute Indians. In whose language, the term Comanche means "Those Who Want to Fight Us All the Time." Later the name was adopted by the Spanish and by the Anglo-Americans. Hospitable, compassionate, trustful, treacherous and cruel according to mood and
