Students Display Improvement in Holiday Games

The Christmas holidays were anything but holidays to the students of the East Texas Normal College. The students displayed a marked improvement in their holiday games. The students displayed a marked improvement in their holiday games. The students displayed a marked improvement in their holiday games.

with the absolute sincerity of the man and his great purpose in life. One address in particular was appreciated more perhaps than any other. This address was delivered each year about the beginning of the spring quarter. He fearlessly called "Frisco" through the "Dime." It was a humorous and careful, but one which emphasized the necessity of students being careful and not overlooking their own rights on the public of the city. This address delivered each year during the fall term, has been a great success. It was presented at the college, still referred to as one of his outstanding contributions to the education of the student.

Coed's Diary

My positively happy because that's not only pleasant, but also very Monday when someone unexpectedly informed me that I was to see her about her writing this diary. My first diary was written in the fall of 1934. I had a very good time writing it. I had a very good time writing it. I had a very good time writing it.
